THE EARTHQUAKE AT CUMANA.—It was stated under our telegraphic head yesterday that on the 15th ult. a severe shock of an earthquake was felt at Cumana, which destroyed a number of houses, and over three hundred persons were buried in the ruins. Cumana is the capital of the province of Cumana, in Venezuela. It stands on a sandy plain, on the east bank of the Manzanares, near the mouth of the Gulf of Cairaco. Its population is about 12,000 or 15,000. It has suffered greatly at different times from Earthquakes. It is the oldest European city on the new continent, being built by Diego Castleton, in 1523. In 1776 it was almost totally destroyed by an earthquake, on which account the houses since built have been generally low, but many of the buildings are quite handsome.—Sun.

A SOLITARY VOYAGER.—The schooner Empire, Capt. Barker, arrived at Boston on Saturday from Darien, Ga. During the voyage, all the crew, consisting of two sailors, a cook and boy, together with the mate, died of Southern fever. The last man died on the 9th inst., since which time Capt. Barker has been obliged to navigate the vessel, and bring her into port alone. He himself had been sick, but had recovered. He was for six days alone on the ocean.

DIED,

In this town, on Tuesday morning last, Mrs. MARY WILCUTT, in the 57th year of her age.

In Baltimore city, on Saturday, the 23d July, JOHN ROSE, eldest son of Wm. Rose, Esq., aged about 29 years.

Mr. Rose was a young man of great promise, and his death has brought deep sorrow upon a wide circle of friends. He was a native of Talbot, and formerly resided in Easton for a year or two, in which time he endeared himself to our citizens by the many evidences of a virtuous and elevated character. Afterward he went to the city of New York, engaged in mercantile pursuits, and gained many firm friends and a high reputation in business. Two years ago he returned to his native State, and became a member of the flourishing house of Orem, Hopkins & Rose, in the city of Baltimore. Endowed with a vigorous and active mind; prompt, decisive, and indefatigable, he soon placed himself among the first business men of his own age and vocation, and gathered around him the hopes and affections of a numerous friendship. In social life his courteous and honorable bearing, united with the greatest generosity of disposition, secured him the regard and admiration of every associate. In the dearer relations of life also—as a son, brother, husband, and father, his tender devotion, and a kindness and munificence unselfish and unbounded, made him the idol of his family. Industry and perseverance were fast crowning his efforts with success; but his physical constitution was unequal to the labour imposed upon it by the high ambition of a vigorous and ever active mind, and his health yielded to the burden of mental and bodily exertions too constant and severe.

He fell a victim to consumption in the prime of early manhood, when his abilities and endeavors were stamping their impress of usefulness upon the sphere in which he moved and was loved. A noble and a braver spirit never warmed nor honored the breast of man. Even amid the weakness and suffering of a rapidly waisting disease, with the consciousness of death at hand, he looked the stern visitor calmly in the face as a friend, and was not afraid of his rude grasp. Only when he pressed tenderly to his bosom for the last time his young and lovely wife, and his children, and bade them farewell, did his manly heart fail him and swell with sorrow—but it was but for a moment; his spirit rose superior even to this overpowering sadness, and his own lips spoke to the dear ones at his bedside the consoling fact that he was ready and willing to die. With his mental faculties undimed, and without an expression of murmuring or pain; cheered by the recollections of a life well spent surrounded by those he loved most on earth, and sustained by the christian's hope and faith, that robbed the grave of all its terrors; as calmly as sinks the summer sun behind the west, sweetly as floats the swan upon the streamlet downward to her nest, happy as the infant smiling in its sleep, he sank to rest in the bosom of his family, and breathed his spirit out to God. Blessed be his memory. P.

Rheumatism and Other Pains.

THE LINIMENT prepared and sold by the undersigned, for several years past, has performed many and important cures of Rheumatism and pains in the limbs. A number of cases have come under the special notice of the subscriber, and many others have been reported to him. The last and most remarkable cure was that of Mr. J. T Hand, in the Kent News office, who had such a severe attack of Rheumatism as to prevent him from walking. By the application of "Perkins' Liniment" he was restored in a few days, and has been well and active ever since.

He continues to prepare the article at his residence in Chester Town, at the old price of $1 per bottle. SAMUEL PERKINS,

This certifies that I was suffering under a severe attack of Rheumatism which caused me to move with the greatest difficulty and pain, and that after using one bottle of the above Liniment I was restored. JOHN T. HAND.

Stove, Tin, and Sheet Iron MANUFACTORY,

THE subscriber takes this method of informing the citizens of Talbot and the adjoining counties, that he has opened in the room under the Sons of Temperance Hall, in the town of Easton, an establishment for the manufacture and sale of all the various articles appertaining to the TIN and SHEET IRON business, which for cheapness, quality and workmanlike finish, cannot be surpassed in either country or city. He respectfully solicits the liberal patronage of a generous public, and particularly those who buy to sell again, promising to make it to their advantage to deal with him. Roofing and Spouting, to which branches he pays particular attention, done at the most moderate rates, (costing little more than good shingles) in the best manner and satisfaction ensured or the money refunded. The attention of persons purposing to build is called to the fact that while metallic roofs cost but very little more, they make a much neater and safer covering and are much more durable than shingles; taking this into consideration, I solicit a call from all purposing to build, feeling assured that I can give them satisfaction.
