October Term 1882.

and I asked her if she had told Mr. Goodwin; she told me she had told Mr. Goodwin, and that he said he was marrying her, he was not marrying her property?

6. Do you know James L. Goodwin; if so, did you ever see him at Dr. White's - your father's house in Baltimore?

Ans. I know Mr. Goodwin, and have seen him at my father's house, in Baltimore?

7. Were you present at a conversation between Mrs Julia Disney and James L. Goodwin, at your house, in Baltimore, about this land; if so, did you hear the whole conversation between Mrs. Julia White and said Goodwin; if you state the whole of it, as far as you can remember?

Ans. I was present, and heard the whole conversation that took place on that occasion; he asked aunt Julia if she would not give back the land to his wife; he said he had been to see Mr. Bannon, and that Mr. Bannon said the deed was of no account; he told aunt Julia that she was a rogue, and that she had swindled Mary Maria out of her property, and that it was a penitentiary act; he said that Mary Maria did not tell him about giving the property, and that he never believed that if she had told him, that he would not have had her; he said that if he owned property and gave it to his brother John the lady he intended to marry would have thought he had stole it; aunt Julia said she would see Mr. Bannon, and that is all the satisfaction she gave him; she did not say she would give her back the land; when he said she was a rogue, it was a penitentiary act, aunt Julia said, well, you have a brother in the penitentiary, and you think if you can get Mary Maria's aunt there, then the family will be on an equality.

October Term 1882.

This defendant was then cross-examined by the complainants, as follows:

1. Were you in the parlor with your aunts, when Mr. Goodwin first came in?

Ans. No, I was not; my aunt Julia called me.

2. How long was he in the house before you came in?

Ans. I don't know - only a few minutes.

3. What information had you that he was in the house.

Ans. They told me he was there.

4. How do you know that he was not in the house some time before you came in?

Ans. I was already in the house, but was not in the parlor; I heard him ring the bell, and saw him when he came in the parlor.

5. Did not your aunt Julia follow Mr. Goodwin to the door, and invite him to come back again as he was about to leave?

Ans. I don't think she did; I don't remember her doing so; I think Mr. Goodwin shook hands with me at the parlor door; I know he did.

6. As you shook hands at the parlor door, his parting with you must have been friendly was it not?

Ans. Yes, sir, with me; I can't answer for her; he invited me to come and see her.

7. Did he not invite your aunt Julia also to come and see them?

Ans. I do not remember.

Mrs. Julia A. White, at her request, was recalled and deposed as follows:

I desire to correct my answer to the 4th cross-interrogatory, and I now say as an answer thereto, that I did not
