8th X Did he give you a marriage certificate?

Ans. No, sir.

9th X Did you see a notice of your marriage in the city papers?

Ans. I could not say whether I did, or not.

10th X. Can you say that you did not?

Ans. It might have been there, but I do not recollect of ever having read it.

11th X. Who is John E. Kirby, that lives at 303 E. Pratt st.?

Ans. My son.

12th X. What time in 1874 was it that your father-in-law came and asked you for money for taxes?

Ans. About October, as near as I can recollect.

13th X. What was the condition of your father-in-law's mind on the 24th of October, 1878; did he seem to be able to know what he was talking about?

Ans. No, sir, he did not, for I brought some things to his mind that happened shortly before that, he could not remember; he understood what I was talking about, but he had no memory of what had happened.

14th X. What was the condition of his mind on April 27th and 29th. 1877?

Ans. Very changeable; could not say; one day he would do something, and next day he had forgotten he had done anything; one time you think he was rational; again you would think he was not; he leads you to believe he does not understand you.

15 X. How long since you first observed this condition of his mind?

Ans. In July, 1877, he was sick—produced by the sun's heat; then he was quite deranged, and attempted to commit suicide during that sickness.

16 X. Was he quite sensible between the 20th and 25th March, 1878?

Ans. I could not say; I was not paying particular attention to him at that time; he knew taxes were to be paid on his property;

(the several years he came to you for money;) oh, yes, he knew that yet, he came to me for money to pay the taxes only a few weeks ago.

17 X. Did he know the amount to be paid?

Ans. I suppose he did; all he talked about was money; he knew how to talk about that.

18 X. When he asked for money for taxes, did he ever name any amount?

Ans. No, sir; he never mentioned any amount; I said, have that house separated on the bill; he said, I have it on my bill, but you can give me the money.

19 X. Were you housekeeping in Washington?

Ans. Yes; north side of G street, between 5th and 6th, and on the south side opposite; I could not say how long on either side.

20 X. When did you come from Washington?

Ans. Fall of 1864.

21 X. Did you see any of the bills for the repairs done on premises in question during 1864, 1865, 1866, 1867?

Ans. Yes; I saw 1867—not the rest, for nothing was then done.

22 X. Your husband has stated you took charge of the bills, did you put them away without examining them?

Ans. No, sir; I knew what they were; I picked some out the waste basket, and put them away; many have been lost.

23 X. Did you make any repairs in 1865?

Ans. No, sir; I did not go back to that house until 1867.

24 X. Did you make any in 1866?

Ans. No, sir; was not in the house.

25 X. What became of the six original bills of C. K. Tumbleson, copies of which your husband has filed?

Ans. I suppose they are destroyed; Mr. Tumbleson furnished duplicates when the bills were paid.

27 X. When did you obtain the bills from C. K. Tumbleson, marked "C.
