-son John Cassard, Mrs. M. Keyser, Wilson Keyser, Joshua Levering and Martha W. his wife George B. Chase, Samuel Eccles and Amanda E. Eccles, Sebastian Brown, William E. Bausemer, William A. Hanway, Thomas P. Stan, B. Dorsey Armstrong and Helen K. his wife William J. Hiss and Anne A. his wife, William J. Hiss Executor and trustee under the last will of Edward B. Ames deceased, William W. Coleman and Ellen E. his wife Samuel I. Soper and Sarah A. his wife, Thomas B. Israel and Elizabeth R. his wife, Guernsey H. Hunt Matthew J. Foley and J. W. Hunter trading S. J. Foley & Company Captain James Myers Samuel J. Lanahan Romulus B. Griffith and Alverda his wife Wilson R. Trexell, Naomi E. Trexell, Gerard E. Morgan administrator of the personal estate of J. Asbury Morgan deceased, Mrs. E. A. L. Shaffer, Mrs. Mary E. Robbins Gerard H. Rau Theodore K. Miller the Baltimore Equitable Society Henry A. Cole, Samuel Black Roger C. Luckett, Lewis Turner Samuel Black, William T. Hall all of the City of Baltimore and John F. Wilson of the City and State of New York, and that said persons if they or any of them are or is entitled really to any parts of said land and premises as they pretend and the children and grand children of the said testator other than your Orators and oratrixes are entitled amongst them to the residue of the same land and premises except as to the share or portion thereof devised to said Eliza Balfour by the said testator by his said last will in which your Orators and Oratrixes are entitled as aforesaid to there due and proportionate from the time of her death as aforesaid and your Orator and Oratrixes are also entitled to their due proportion of the rents and profits accrued on their

interest and estate in said lands and premises, since the death of their said father and since the said Eliza Balfour respectively according to their titles aforesaid in said land and premises.

15. And your Orators and Oratrixes further show that said part of land and premises hereinbefore described is incapable of an advantageous division specifically amongst those entitled thereto and cannot be divided without loss or injury to the parties interested therein and that it will be for the interest and advantage of all parties interested or concerned therein to sell the aforesaid lands and premises and to divide the proceeds of sale amongst the parties entitled to the proportions in which they are so entitled and particularly that a sale thereof will be advantageous to the said hereinbefore named children and descendants of said Amelia Jane Worthington and all other parties concerned therein.

To the end therefore that the defendants hereinafter named may answer the premises and that it may be declared that your Orators Oratrix the original complainants are entitled since the death of their said father either legally or equitably to four fifths parts of one undivided sixth part of said land and premises and that your Orators and Oratrixes the added co-complainants hereto are entitled in like manner to seven ninth parts of one other undivided sixth part of said land and premises hereinbefore mentioned absolutely in fee, as tenants in common, and that it may also be declared that your Orators and Oratrix are entitled to their due share or proportion of the share or part of said land premises devised in and by said last will to said Eliza Balfour deceased and that a decree may be passed