REPUBLICAN PRIMARIES.

The Republican voters of Talbot, county, Md., are requested to meet in Mass Meetings at the usual places of holding primaries at 3 o'clock p.m. on SATURDAY, AUGUST 18th, 1894, to elect delegates to a County Convention to be held in Easton, Md.,

TUESDAY, AUGUST 21st, 1894.

at 12 o'clock M.

The County Convention will consist of 35 members, apportioned as follows:

DISTRICT NO. 1.

1st and 2nd precincts jointly, Easton, 5 delegates.
2d Precinct, Unionville, 2 delegates.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

1st precinct, St Michaels, 4 delegates.
2d " Royal Oak, 2 "
3d " Bozman, 1 "

DISTRICT NO. 3.

1st precinct, Trappe, 5 delegates.
2d " Oxford, 2 "

DISTRICT NO. 4.

1st precinct, Cordova, 7 delegates.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

1st precinct, Wittman, 5 delegates.
2d " Tilghman, 2 "

The business of County Convention will be to elect four delegates and four alternates to represent Talbot county in the Republican First Congressional District Convention to be held at Ocean City, Md., on Wednesday August 29th, 1894, at noon to nominate a candidate to fill out the unexpired term in the 53d Congress, made vacant by the death of the Hon. R. F. Bratton, and also to nominate a candidate for the 54th Congress.

ISSAC A. BARBER, H. CLAY DODSON, GEO. H. TRAX, R. E. WELSH. } State Central Committee for Talbot County.

AT the Republican Convention soon to meet at Ocean City on the 29th inst. the names of quite a number of prominent gentlemen will probably be presented for nomination. Kent county will probably present Mr. Wescott's name, Queen Anne's, Mr. Mallalieu; Caroline, Mr. Russum; Dorchester, Mr. Goldsborough; Somerset, Mr. Dryden; Wicomico, Mr. Graham and Worcester, Mr. Barnes. There seems to be a general desire that Dr. I. A. Barber allow the delegates from Talbot to present him for the nomination for the long term.

BLAINE'S PROPHECY.

"I love my country and my countrymen. I am an American, and I rejoice every day of my life that I am. I enjoy the general prosperity of my country, and know that the workingmen of this land are the best paid, the best fed, the best clothed of any laborers on the face of the earth. Many of them have homes of their own. They are surrounded by all the comforts and many of the luxuries of life. I shudder, however, at the thought that the time must come when all this will be changed, when the general prosperity of the country will be destroyed, when the great body of workingmen in this land, who are now so prosperous, will hear their wives and children cry for bread; that the day must come when the great factories and manufactories of this land will shut down, and where there is now life and activity there will be the silence of the tomb. And the reason why this must be is this:

"The great southern wing of the Democratic party is determined to establish the doctrine of free trade in this land. They will be assisted by their northern allies. The fight is now on. There is a great body of visionary but educated men who are employed day by day in writing free trade essays and arguments in favor of that doctrine, which find their way into every newspaper in this land. The great body of our people have never experienced themselves the sufferings which always result when the protective principles are laid aside. Poisoned and excited by the wild statement of these writers and the demogogic appeals of Democratic speakers, the result will be that in the near future these forces, which are now working, will be strong enough to defeat at the polls the party advocating the doctrine of protection.

"It must inevitably follow that uncertainty and doubt will ensue. The business men of the country, fearing the destruction of the principle of protection, will decline to engage in business, consequently mills will be shut down and the workingmen will be thrown out of employment. The people will then see, as they have never seen before, that they cannot be as prosperous and have work while this principle is threatened. In the midst of their sufferings they will learn that the only way they can be prosperous and happy is to vote for the party that has built up the industries by which they have gained a livelihood, because they will then see clearly that when the manufactory is shut down there is no demand for the only thing they have to sell, and that is their labor.

THE ANNALS OF GROVER.

The "Wild and Wooly West" is prolific in quaint, comical and cutting criticisms of the Cleveland administration. It was the West that originated the prayer to the great Grover which had such a run in the press of the country a few months ago. Chronicles of Grover" have much of the same Western Breeziness, and are so expressive and suggestive that we give them a place in the columns of The GAZETTE.

CHAPTER I.

Now it came to pass in the last day that the followers of Grover the great surnamed the goldite, the same which begat Ruth and Esther and the panic and the Hawaiian trouble, were vexed with vexation exceeding, inasmuch as they listeth not to the locality where they abideth at.

For behold, in the beginning they girded up their loins and went before the people crying with a loud voice. Verily we say unto men that we are Groverites from exceeding far back and woe unto ye who forget.

And verily, we hold in exceeding great detestation that which the children of men call the tariff, for is it not a thing fashioned for our enemies? The same thing has licked the everlasting stuffin out of us from generation to generation.

Yea verily, this same little protective tariff it buildeth furnaces in the valley and smokestacks on the mountain; it turneth the wheels of progress, and causeth the desert to blossom like unto a green tree.

Wherefore do we of the tribe of Grover the great, despise the same as a curse and abomination in the sight of men.

And behold, in the great and terrible day of the ballot, when the army of voters be gathered together, shall we arise in our might and smite our enemies into mince meat.

Yea, we shall lay them out cold on a platform of free trade, and cover them over with the planks of tariff reform.

Our enemies shall be scattered to the four corners of the forest for like unto a potter's vessel, the which has been smitten by the dipper of youth, and then shall the end come.

For in that day shall our banner be planted on the outer wall of the great citadel of the nation, and we shall bow down unto Grover, our deliverer.

And we shall reign for four years, and he shall shower good times and fat offices and special messages and free raw material upon us in rich abundance forever.

And the black smoke of industry shall no longer obscure the noon-day sun, and the farmer shall wear pants woven in foreign parts, and socks from the isles of the sea.

And it was even so. And after a space of time, Grover, who was a mighty fisher, girded up his lines and his chattels and his cabinet and went up and pitched his tent over against the capitol which is in the land of Columbia, and the band played, "Behold the eat hath come back."

CHAPTER II.

Now when Grover was crowned king of the Nation, it came to pass that he has puffed up in the pride of his heart and his viscera, inasmuch as his raiment became several cubits too small to contain his job lots.

And he shook himself by the hand which is after the manner of his tribe and spake well upon himself saying.

"Ha, Ha! Behold I am monarch of all I can get. Four more years of Grover; four more years of clover.

And when they heard the psalmists many hired kickers and others tore their hair, and all the inhabitants of the nation said damn.

And it came to pass that the storms came and the panic descended and the children of darkness lifted up their hands and wrung them in great lamentation, saying:

"Wherefore art thou, Grover, our deliverer, and wherefore are the good times?" And a mighty voice came back from the wilderness, saying: "The President is fishing and must not be disturbed."

"But now I have you on the hip, and ye are confronted with a condition, not a theory, for behold I will rule or ruin ye.

"Yea Verily, to commence with, I will brandish my great silver sword, and all who believe on me and do my will shall be saved, and all who don't shall be broken.

"And I will call my soothsayers together and they shall tinker at the tariff, and when they have finished their tinkering, McKinley, the father of the the factory, will not recognize the same.

"And it shall come to pass that all ye who harken unto the sound of my voice shall have sewing machines from Glasco at cost and ten-off, and corrugated copper caskets from the ends of the earth.

CHAPTER III.

After a space of time it came to pass that when the shepherds took off the firstlings of their flock and sheared them, and went up to the city to exchange their fleeces for pieces of silver, and the wise men of the city said unto them:

"Not this season' some other season. Yea Grover is great. He is all wool and a yard wide, but the slump in wool is several cubits wider."

And the shepherds marvelled exceedingly and some of them, yea, even they which had harkened unto the voice of Grover, smote their breasts and went up and down with bent heads crying to one another.

"Behold if thou wilt kick me I will do even so unto thee."

And when the diggers of the earth went up with their silver and lead and precious stones and said to the money changers, "Give us food that we may eat and clothing that we may dress up." the money changers laughed little cold, hard laughs and sang songs of great sacrilege, saying:

"Grover, Grover, four more years of Grover, we would buy your lead, but times are dead till four more years are over," and other psalms.

CHAPTER IV.

And it came to pass that the children of the dessert, yea even the remnant of the tribe of Grover, buckleth on their armor and cuttest a wide swath.

And they lifed up their voices, crysng, "Behold, a mighty tribe are we, a mighty man is Grover, yea a mighty phrophet, and has promised us mighty good times if we but remain faithful and uncomplaining and obedient and faithful to the end.

"And behold, we are his children and it behooveth us to obey our great father, for it is not written that obedience shall be sacrifice and to hearken than the fat of rams?

"Wherefore will we cleave unto Grover and his notions through thick and thin, through weal and woe, through poverty and distress and financial ruin even unto death, forever and ever, amen."

CHAPTER V.

And the next November it snowed.

THE NEW CLASSIFICATION.

Forty Populists, Three Democrats and Two Cowards In the Senate.

In the senate of the United States at the present time there are 40 Populists. Their names were disclosed by the vote against striking out the Populist income tax sections of the tariff bill:

Wm. V. Allen, Neb.	James K. Jones, Ark.
Wm. B. Bate, Tenn.	James H. Kyle, S. D.
James H. Berry, Ark.	William Lindsay, Ky.
J. S. C. Blackburn, Ky.	A. J. McLaurin, Miss.
N. C. Blanchard, La.	John Martin, Kan.
Calvin S. Brice, Ohio.	Roger Q. Mills, Tex.
Donelson Caffery, La.	John H. Mitchell, Or.
J. N. Camden, W. Va.	Samuel Pasco, Fla.
F. M. Cockrell, Mo.	Wm. A. Peffer, Kan.
Richard Coke, Tex.	R. F. Pettigrew, S. D.
John W. Daniel, Va.	T. C. Power, Mon.
C. J. Faulkner, W. Va.	M. W. Ransom, N. C.
J. Z. George, Miss.	W. N. Roach, N. D.
C. H. Gibson, Md.	G. L. Shoup, Ida.
John B. Gordon, Ga.	H. M. Teller, Colo.
H. Hansbrough, N. D.	G. G. Vest, Mo.
J. G. Harris, Tenn.	W. F. Vilas, Wis.
Eppa Hunton, Va.	D. W. Voorhees, Ind.
J. L. M. Irby, S. C.	Patrick Walsh, Ga.
T. J. Jarvis, N. C.	E. D. White, Cal.

Forty Populists! Socialism is making headway toward anarchy!

In the senate of the United States at the present time there are three Democrats—namely:

David B. Hill, N. Y.	E. Murphy, Jr., N. Y.
James Smith, Jr., N. J.

And in the senate of the United States at the present time there are two cowards:

A. P. Gorman, Md.	George Gray, Del.

There are other cowards whose names might go with these. But these cowards are conspicuous—so conspicuous that they deserve to stand alone.—New York Sun.

Bottling Them Up.

THE SOUTH IN THE SADDLE.

Look Forward, Not Backward, and Prepare For the Coming Victory.

Seven southern senators and congressmen, with one northern senator of southern sympathies, have been intrusted with the industrial destinies of 70,000,000 of people. Jones, Wilson, McMillin, Turner and Montgomery come from villages with less than a combined population of 10,000. What can northern industries expect from these men? Not one of them knows anything of the needs of labor and industry, and yet they are to shape a tariff bill that must overthrow our whole splendid network of industrial activity and progress. And where lies the blame? With the northern Democrats who in 1892 voted for Grover Cleveland and a Democratic free trade congress.

The lesson must be learned, and it will prove a bitter experience. It is too late to look back. We must look forward and repair the wrong as soon as we can. It must begin at once and labor incessantly till the bill which seems destined to become a law is replaced by a law of protection. Our country must recover, our laborers must be idle, our mills closed, our savings withdrawn and spent, our splendid progress national and individual, checked, but by November and again in 1896 we can right the wrong, and we must do it so emphatically that the Democratic party will not again come to the front for a generation to come.

Another English Aviser.

The Liverpool Mercury comments editorially upon the position of affairs in the United States and says, "The shackles of protection were strengthened to an unprecedented extent by the McKinley tariff." With this opinion we cordially agree, and if it were to apply this one fact to the case of our recent labor troubles it would find that it was the very fear of the loosening of "the shackles of protection" that has resulted in the unfortunate condition of our "tens of thousands of men" who have not yet been ground down to a condition of mere existence, bordering on starvation, such as can be found in European countries, but who have been accustomed to live in comfort and prosperity under the belief that America was for Americans and not for foreigners.

An Object Lesson In Free Trade.

O God, look down with pity on the broken heart of mine
And send some work to save me from the open path to crime.
For ten long months I traveled in sunshine and in rain
In search of some employment, but my efforts have been vain.
For many long and happy years I have earned my daily bread
The rents to keep dear grandma. I hope to keep regularly.
Then all went right, were happy, we had money, clothes and homes,
Our song of joy was drowned by the music of the sea.
To the old mill every morning we marched in gay phalanx,
Planning for the dinner hour to play our girlish pranks.
But early in the summer we heard the sentence passed
The free trade plague is coming; we must shut down at last.
The savings I had treasured from the wages I had made
I have paid out as a tribute to the nation's assuring, free trade.
My clothes are in the pawnshop. I am now compelled to meet
In the happy hours of daylight the friends I used to greet.
The home that I had furnished with many a fond devices—
The free trade scourge has robbed me of that humble paradise.
I have nothing now to live for but a duty to fulfill,
My hopes in life were buried with the closing of the mill.
But I cannot leave dear grandma. She took and nursed me in my infancy when my own dear mother died.
The purpose of free traders now to wreck our lives is plain,
Our liberties shall be the sacrifice, our honor will remain.

—Jennie Farrell.

Republican Versus Democratic Wages.

Twenty-six Republican states pay an average of $1.53 per day in farm wages. Eighteen Democratic states pay an average of 87 cents per day in farm wages. This is from a report of the agricultural bureau of agriculture in 1890. Could the south see their folly in remaining Democratic, could they only put aside the old sectional feeling, become Republicans, adopt protection and develop their resources, wages of farm hands would be as high as in the north, and wages of laborers in other industries would be much higher than now. There are vast opportunities in the south as soon as they throw off the shackles of Democracy and free trade. The farm flourishes with the factory. Each helps the other, and when factories are running at full time the farmer will get good prices for his products and his hands good wages for their toil.

"Worse Than Four Years of War."

Senator Hoar of Massachusetts has plainly and tersely described what the effect of the proposed tariff will be upon the country, as follows:

"In the cost in money, the destruction of property, the ruin of trade, the misery, the starvation of men accustomed to work for the comforts of life, this bill is twofold worse than four years of war."

Every Republican senator who in any way aids by his vote or countenances by his presence the enactment of such a bill will be contributing to a disaster "twofold worse than four years of war." The north must prevent such wanton wickedness; the north must defeat the south in the forum as well as on the field.

Buy American Silks.

Why should your wife buy an imported Japanese silk dress? There are American factories that are making silks just like the Japanese patterns. The Japanese men work for a few cents a day. The Americans cannot do so. There is no difference in the price or quality of the two different silks, so why not encourage the American silk industry by buying a dress pattern that was made in your own country? By doing so you will help to give work to an American and make an American home happy.

The New York World vehemently denies that the Democratic tariff bill is sectional. Perhaps not altogether so, because Besides protecting the south it protects the collars and cuffs industry of Troy with a very large protection.—Philadelphia Press.

ORDER NISI.

Elizabeth Pratt, vs. Wm. B. Attix, Amy Hubbard, Edna Hubbard, Carlton Attix. } In the Orphans' Court for Talbot County. In Equity.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain property in Easton, Talbot County, Md., of which Mary H. Attix, late of Talbot county, Md., died, seized and possessed, for the payment of her debts. The bill states that the said Mary H. Attix was in her life time indebted unto Elizabeth Pratt of Wash., D. C., in the sum of $130 on her open accounts, dated January 18, 1882 and March 10, 1882, that the said Mary H. Attix being so indebted to the said Elizabeth Pratt, and also unto other persons in several sums of money, and having real and personal Property of considerable value, departed this life on or about July, 1882, intestate, and leaving her husband, William B. Attix and her three infant children, viz., Amy Hubbard, and Edna Hubbard, who reside in Talbot county, Md., and Carlton Attix, who resides with its father, Wm. B. Attix, in the State of Delaware. That letters of administration were granted by the Orphans' Court for Talbot county, upon the personal estate of the said Mary H. Attix, to the said Wm. B. Attix that said personal estate is insufficient to pay and discharge all of the debts due and owing by the said intestate, at the time of her death and that any deficiency thereon ought to be supplied by the sale of her real estate or so much thereof as may be necessary for the payment of her just debts.

It is, thereupon this 28th day of July, A. D. 1894, ordered by the Orphans' Court for Talbot county, in Equity, that the plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Talbot county once in each of four successive weeks before the 28th day of August, A. D., 1894. Give notice to the said absent defendants of the object and substance of this bill, warning them to appear in this court in person or by solicitor on or before the 4th day of Sept. next, to show cause if any they have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

ORDER of PUBLICATION.

Elizabeth Pratt, vs. Wm. B. Attix, Amy Hubbard, Edna Hubbard, Carlton Attix. } In the Orphans' Court for Talbot County In Equity.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain property in Easton, Talbot County, Md., of which Mary H. Attix, late of Talbot county, Md., died, seized and possessed, for the payment of her debts. The bill states that the said Mary H. Attix was in her life time indebted unto Elizabeth Pratt of Wash., D. C., in the sum of $130 on her open accounts, dated January 18, 1882 and March 10, 1882, that the said Mary H. Attix being so indebted to the said Elizabeth Pratt, and also unto other persons in several sums of money, and having real and Personal Property of considerable value, departed this life on or about July, 1882, intestate, and leaving her husband, William B. Attix and her three infant children, viz., Amy Hubbard, and Edna Hubbard, who reside in Talbot county, Md., and Carlton Attix, who resides with its father, Wm. B. Attix, in the State of Delaware. That letters of administration were granted by the Orphans' Court for Talbot county, upon the personal estate of the said Mary H. Attix, to the said Wm. B. Attix that said personal estate is insufficient to pay and discharge all of the debts due and owing by the said intestate, at the time of her death and that any deficiency thereon ought to be supplied by the sale of her real estate or so much thereof as may be necessary for the payment of her just debts.

It is, thereupon this 28th day of July, A. D. 1894, ordered by the Orphans' Court for Talbot county, in Equity, that the plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Talbot county once in each of four successive weeks before the 28th day of August, A. D., 1894. Give notice to the said absent defendants of the object and substance of this bill, warning them to appear in this court in person or by solicitor on or before the 4th day of Sept. next, to show cause if any they have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.
