Gover and Company in your name, or the name of your wife?

118 X answer. No.

One hundred and nineteenth cross interrogatory. Well, now, do you mean to say, that George McCullough got money from you, for any purpose that he misapplied?

119 X answer. I never doubted George's words at all, and if he was living I believe everything would be right.

One hundred and twentieth cross interrogatory. Was the lottery money handed to George McCullough while he was at the counter of Gover and Company?

120 X answer. Yes sir; but in his hands.

One hundred and twenty-first cross interrogatory. The money was put in his hands at the counter of Gover & Company?

121 X answer. At the office; I can't say whether it was at the counter or not.

One hundred and twenty second interrogatory. Did not George McCullough account to you for every dollar of that money, and is there not an account on the books of Gover and Company, showing what was done with it?

122 X answer. I don't know, as I never asked him.

One hundred and twenty third cross interrogatory. When you gave him your notes for three thousand two hundred dollars at the time that you and he settled, was not all the accounts between you and him, embraced in that settlement up to that day, and did you not say so in answer to a cross interrogatory on the last day you were here?

123 X answer. That is the way I understand it.

Re-examined for Complainant.

Twentieth interrogatory. State if you remember the price for which the property bought by Mr. McCullough, for your wife, was bought?

(Objected to.)

20 answer. It was seventeen hundred and twenty, or seventeen hundred and twenty-five dollars somewhere along there, as well as I recollect.

Twenty first interrogatory. Was that the price for the whole property, or for the three fourths parts, or interest which were conveyed at that time?

21 answer. The whole property.

Mary Ann Everist, of lawful age, the complainant in this cause, appearing before me, as a witness, on behalf of the complainant, being by me first duly sworn on the Holy Evangely of Almighty God, being examined on the following interrogatories to her propounded in that behalf makes oath, deposeth and saith as follows, that is to say:

(The respondent's solicitor excepts to the competency of the witness to testify, she being a party to the suit, and the other party to the contract being dead.)

First interrogatory. Where do you reside?

1 answer I live at No. 74 South High street.

Second interrogatory. Do you know the parties to this suit?

2 answer. I do; I am the complainant.

Third interrogatory. How long have you resided in the house where you now live, No. 74 South High street?

3 answer. I think it is between twenty-four and twenty-five years.

Fourth interrogatory. What relations existed between you or your family, and George S. McCullough deceased?

4 answer. He was my husband's first cousin; I used to see him about once a week, sometimes oftener.

Fifth interrogatory. How frequently was George McCullough in the habit of visiting your house?

5 answer. There never was a specified time; sometimes
