Mrs. Chas. H. Gibson.

One of the most gallant and handsome society men in the Senate is Gibson, of Maryland. He is a typical Southerner in bearing and speech. His wife is immensely popular and deservedly so. She is handsome, vivacious and endowed with tact and magnetism. She is one of the most untiring of society women. Hardly a day passes without a dinner invitation, and she is at all the teas, suppers, balls, theatre parties and card parties going. Her receptions are always crowded, and one is sure to find there the most delightful people of the purely Southern contingent. She is a great worker, and enters into social or charitable affairs with enthusiastic fervor and always finds success perching on her banner. She has a lovely home on the eastern shore of Maryland, where she dispenses the liberal hospitality so loved by Southerners. She has been busy getting up a cook book, in which the dishes indigenous to her native state receive full and particular attention. She also gives menus which have not been gathered into form before, and how to serve every meal. She is a practical housewife, and knows thoroughly what she is talking about. The cook book will be a great assistance to housekeepers new and old, especially to the ruralists, who are always a little hazy as to which wine by rule accompanies each course, and the many little niceties which go to make up a perfectly served meal.—Table Talk for October.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflamation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by Harry Roberts, Easton; A. D. Harrison, St. Michaels.

HE READ THEM THE LAW.

Holders of the Nickle-in-the-Slot Machines in Trouble.

For some time past Easton has been infested by a number of nickle-in-the-slot machines to use which, Maj. Stewart, State's Attorney, says is a violation of the gambling law, and he has ordered them removed several times, but, it seems, without effect, as the machines are still in use.

Wednesday the State's Attorney ordered the operators of the machines to appear before him, together with some of those who used the machines, and read to them that section of the law forbidding gambling houses. The Attorney claims that the machines are gambling devices and who ever keeps one and runs it thereby keeps a gambling house, and is liable to arrest.

The machines are unique arrangements, one is a card machine, another a dice machine, and the third a money prize arrangement. They are tightly screwed down to the floor or counter and thus made immovable. The last order of the State's Attorney has closed the machines.

INCENDIARISM AT OXFORD.

The Riverview House Set on Fire by Unknown Parties.

A month ago Eastford Hall, one of the two big hotels in Oxford, was burned. Last Friday night, the other hotel had a narrow escape. About the time the Steamer Joppa left her wharf on her trip from Easton to Baltimore, it was discovered that the parlor of the the Riverview was afire, and with much trouble it was put out without any further damage than destroying the carpet and furniture. A big coal oil lamp lights the parlor, which at this season of the year is not much used. Circumstances, it is said, indicate that somebody extinguished the lamp, poured the coal oil over the carpet and then fired it, as the lamp, which was well filled, was empty when found after the fire, and evidently had not exploded.

Sample Copies.

Persons receiving sample copies of the GAZETTE need not fear to take same from the office when the word "sample" is printed on wrapper. The law only holds the person responsible who allows the publisher to continue the paper under the assumption that it is wanted and will be paid for. The GAZETTE is as careful to discontinue a name as to place on list, if the subscriber makes his wishes known and his paper is not in arrears. But the GAZETTE does not insult a subscriber by removing his name the very date of expiration if same subscriber is presumed to wish to continue. It does frequently remove names though, when it finds out the parties are defrauding the paper, wilfully and knowingly.

Free Pills.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These Pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of Constipation and Sick Headache. For Malaria and Liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from all deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25 cents per box. Sold by J. C. Henry, druggist.

A newspaper in Illinois recently brought suit against 73 men who would not pay their subscriptions, and obtained judgement in each case for the amount of each claim. Of these, 28 made affidavit that they owned no more than the law allowed them, thus preventing attachments. Then under the decision of Supreme Court they were arrested for petit larceny and bound over in the sum of $300 each. All but six gave the bonds. The postal laws made it petty larceny to take a paper and refuse to pay for it.

M. B. Nichols completed the arrangements for his cloak opening on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week in New York and Philadelphia.

IN THE BOTTOMLESS PIT.

President Cleveland informed Congress and the people, through the Catchings medium, that he would not permit himself "to be separated from my party." No he will not. He will sink, first and head first, into the bottomless pit that he has been digging for Democracy during the past 18 months. They will all sink together. There will be no separation.

EASTON WASN'T IN IT

IN THE FIVE MILE TEAM RACE.

But it Won Seven Races Out of Ten. Nearly a Hundred Wheelmen in Town on Thursday.—The Races Were Close and Exciting. Elmer Davis Rode, Etc.

The races held under the auspices of the Avon Cycle Club of this town at Idlewild Park on Thursday afternoon proved a success in every sense of the word. The day was perfect, cool and delightful without a particle of breeze and the track was in a splendid condition. About seventy-five wheelmen were present from all over the lower part of the peninsula and also several from Baltimore. The Cambridge Cycle Club was represented by about twenty-five wheels and the Federalsburg Club had about twelve. A parade was formed at half past one on Market Space and all the principal streets were traversed. By actual count over sixty-five wheels were in line, and the parade covered three fourths of a block. It was the largest turn-out of its kind ever seen in Easton. At the conclusion of the parade the wheelmen rode at once to the Fair Grounds and made preparations for the real sport of day—the races. Quite a large crowd was present, but not so large a number as the management felt justified in expecting. Over four hundred were present, and this number was a goodly incentive for the boys to do their best. No betting was allowed and it is thought that none was practiced. While the Easton boys are greatly disappointed at not taking the honors in the team championship race, they are nevertheless highly elated at the speedy riding done by a number of their members whom they had not thought capable of such.

Mr. George Duncan won three races, Howard Norris one, Joseph T. White one, Arthur F. Grace one, Frank White one. This gives Easton the honor of winning seven races out of ten, which is certainly a most flattering record.

The races began promptly at 2.30 o'clock.—The first race—Novice race, 1 mile—had eight entries, and but six starters, they were as follows, named in the order in which they crossed the line: 1st, Joseph T. White, winner; 2d, W. Harry White; 3d, W. L. Hull; 4th, Authur F. Grace; 5th, Roger Covey; Claud Lee, distanced. The time was 2.58¾. Jos. T. White as winner, received the Center Vace donated by M. M. Wright; Harry White, 2d, received the Pocket Manicure Set, donated by Walter C. Hughes.

The second race—2.45 class, 1 mile had seven entries and but three starters. They are named in order of winning: 1st, Howard Norris, winner; 2d, Joseph White; 3d, Wm. L. Hull. Time, 3.09. Mr. Norris received the Gent's Hand Satchel, donated by M. B. Nichols.

Third race—For club championship had six entries and six starters. They are named in order of winning: 1st, Frank A. White; 2d, Howard Norris; 3d Jas. A. Spence; 4th, Harry White; 5th, Arthur Grace; 6th, Wm. L. Hull. Time, 3.05¼. F. A. White, as winner, received the silver medal and holds the honor of the club championship for the second time having won it first last year.

Fourth race—Nearest to 4 minutes, 1 mile, had thirty entries and but eighteen starters. George Duncan, of Easton, won this race, his time being the closest to 4 minutes, 3.55. He received a bicycle sweater donated by J. C. Godwin Company.

Fifth race—2.30 class, 1 mile, was the prettiest race of the entire program and was hotly contested. There were eighteen entries and only eight starters. They are named in order of crossing the line: 1st, George Duncan, Easton; 2d, R. W. Messenger, Federalsburg; 3d, G. T. Chambers, Federalsburg; 4th J. R. Charles, Federalsburg. Remainder behind the time allotted. Time 2.53½. Duncan received a silk umbrella donated by W. P. Chaffinch.

Sixth race—Team race, 5 miles, for the championship of Talbot, Caroline and Dorchester counties was the most important race on the program. The starters were: Easton, R. Harry Patchett, F. A. White; Cambridge, W. W. Phelps, W. S. LeCompte; Federalsburg, W. A. Morse, H. B. Messenger. The racers were paced the entire distance except the last half mile by Easton riders, a new pacer going in at every half mile. Messenger of Federalsburg was fouled on the 7th clip and returned to the judges' stand, though through no fault of his. This threw Federalsburg out entirely and the race was then between Easton and Cambridge. Phelps came in first, LeCompte third, Morse second, Patchett fourth and White fifth. This gives the championship to Cambridge the second time. Time 14.07.

Seventh race—slow ½ mile was won by Arthur Grace. He received the bisque satchett donated by Harry Roberts.

The eighth race—2 mile, open to Talbot county—had ten entries, and only five starters. They are named in order of winning: 1st, George Duncan, winner; 2nd, Frank White; 3d, W. S. Harrison, St. Michaels; 4th, Stewart Benson, Royal Oak; E. T. Valliant, St. Michaels, distanced. Time 6.46. Mr. Duncan received a handsome lamp donated by Griffith the grocer.

Ninth race—1 mile, open to peninsula, had eight entries and three starters, all of Federalsburg, R. W. Messenger came in first; H. B. Messenger, third; W. A. Morse, second. Time, 3.01½. R. W. Messenger received a handsome silver card receiver, donated by the Shannahan & Wrightson Hardware Co.

The tenth race—½ mile dash had thirteen entries and only four starters. They are named in order of winning: W. A. Morse, Federalsburg, 1st; H. B. Messenger, 2nd; R. W. Messenger, 3d; Harry Patchett, 4th. Time 1.12¾. Mr. Moorse receives a silver medal, donated by O. F. Sturmer and H. B. Messenger, 2nd, a medal donated by J. Harry Covington.

Elmer Davis concluded the program by giving an exhibition half mile dash in fast riding. The half mile was covered in 1.09½.

The races were ten in number, and with the entries in each event were as follows:

FIRST, NOVICE RACE, 1 MILE.

Arthur F. Grace, Howard E. Norris, Wm. L. Hull, T. Roger Covey, Claude D. Lee, W. Harry White, R. Herbert Martin, Joseph T. White, all of Easton.

THEY HOPE FOR THE BEST.

The Farmer's Packing Company may not lose.

It has been published that the Farmers Packing Company lost about $7500 worth of goods through the absconding of one member of the firm to whom they were consigned. It seems that the goods were shipped to Percival LeRoy & Co., Baltimore, and stored in warehouse as belonging to the Farmer's Packing Co. and not as belonging to the consignees. If such can be proven by the attorney employed by them the loss will rest upon the warehouse company for releasing the goods. Steps were taken to replevin yesterday but with what result is not yet ascertained. There were 5000 cases in all. Several other concerns were caught by the same party, but there is strong ground to hope that the Easton Farmer's Packing Co. have a chance of being made whole except certain costs to be maintained in the suit.

Six Months for Ten Cents.

A young colored boy named Isaac Harris, who is prominent among the colored light-fingered gentry, was arrested by Deputy McHale last week for stealing ten cents from the money drawer of Mr. Henry Nicols, the butcher. A hearing was had before Squire Nicols Monday morning and the young thief was sentenced to the House of Correction for six months. Harris has taken several similar trips of this kind, and it it is said of him that he will steal anything that is not chained down.

DIDN'T MAKE A RECORD.

DAVIS RODE ONLY NINE HOURS

But he Covered Over One Hundred and Twenty Miles in That Time. Several Falls and a Punctured Tire Disgust Davis and Cause Him to Give up the Job.

Elmer C. Davis, of Baltimore, the champion bicycle rider of the State, who holds the Maryland 24 hour road record, came to Easton on Saturday last, and immediately began preparations for breaking the American 24 hour road record. The Avon Cycle Club of this town, had charge of the affair and furnished all the pacers and timers, and every requisite necessary.

The course selected was Miles River road, beginning at the lane leading to Hammondtown and ending at Todd's store near Tunis Mills, a distance of six miles. The start was made on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and Davis was to have ridden until 2 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, but about 11 o'clock Tuesday evening he stopped.

At the time he stopped, Davis had made over 120 miles and had he ridden until two o'clock, at which time he would have consumed half the time—12 hours—he would have ridden considerably over half the 311¼ miles which is the American 24 hour record.

As the run was across Miles River bridge it had to have planks laid across because of its roughness. There were several bad holes in the road on the other side of the bridge, which caused Davis several falls. His tire was punctured also by the carelessness of his pacer. These mishaps caused him to loose time. On his eighth round trip, Davis cut the course in half and rode only to the bridge, the frequent turns thus required caused more lost time and on the thirteenth trip he stopped in disgust.

The first six miles were covered in 21 minutes and the first 12 miles in 42 minutes. The second twelve were covered in 43¼ minutes, the third twelve in 49 minutes. In seven hours he made ninety-six miles. During this time he had rested an hour. Twenty-four miles were made on the short course in 1 hr 53½ minutes, allowing 14¼ minutes for delay when Davis refused to go further.

He was paced by some of the fastest riders in the Avon Club, among whom were Frank White, Harry Patchett, Howard E. Norris, Wm. L. Hull, Benson Biery, George Duncan, and others. The pacers and timers were changed every six hours.

Word was received at club headquarters on Tuesday morning that complaints had been made to the county commissioners by residents of Miles River Neck that their horses were frightened at the bicycles, and that the boards laid across the Miles River Bridge were a nuisance. Things looked dark for the record breaking ride for awhile, but the commissioners afterwards gave their permission.

Mr. Davis is still confident of breaking the record, and said he would do it inside of two weeks. What exact time and place will be selected is not yet decided; but it is certain that Mr. Davis will not make the attempt on any Talbot county road.

CHOPTANK SUIT WITHDRAWN.

Partial Settlement Made of Claims Against the Company.

The injunction and receivership proceedings instituted by the James Clark Machine Company against the choptank Steamboat Company, and the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Transportation Company were suddenly withdrawn Monday by Messrs. Joseph B. Seth and Harry E. Mann, attorneys for the James Clark Company. This, of course, wipes out the temporary injunction issued by Judge Wickes. The receiver asked for had not yet been appointed, the hearing on this part of the petition being set for November 14.

Mr. Mann says that a partial settlement of the claim against the Choptank Steamboat Company has been made, and the present proceedings are withdrawn pending renewal negotiations for a full settlement. Proceedings, however, in possibly a new form may be begun again in case a complete and satisfactory settlement cannot be made.

The James Clark Company, in bringing suit now withdrawn, claimed that the Choptank Steamboat Company owed it $4110.15 for work done prior to the sale of the Choptank Company to Mr. Nicholas P. Bond, representing the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Transportation Company; that the Choptank Company was not only insolvent, but practically dissolved, and that its only property was a balance of unpaid purchase money due it from the company that bought it; that if this balance was paid over to the Choptank Steamboat Company, the James Clark Company might never be able to collect its bill.

A receiver was therefore asked for the Choptank Company, and an injunction restraining Mr. Bond and the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Transportation Company from paying the balance due the Choptank Company, from disposing of the effects of that company, or contracting any debts on its account.

HAS A SUNDAY NURSERY.

Novel Improvement Made by Dr. Wilson in his Church.

Rev. J. A. B. Wilson formerly of the Wilmington Conference, and of this town, and now of the Eighteenth Street Methodist Church, New York, preached last evening on "The Poor Man's Sunday." He called attention to the fact that to his church poor persons of all kinds were welcome. To make it easy for mothers who had no one with whom they could leave their small children, a private room of the building was reserved and young women were in attendance, who would care for the children while their mothers attended the service.

"Some one sneered at one of our trustees," he said. "I see you are turning your church into a Sunday nursery.' Yes, thank God we are doing that thing, and it has become necessary to put racks and books into the gallery pews to accomodate those who come to the Sunday nursery. God bless that young lady whose happy inspiration it was to suggest the Sunday nursery idea."

"Shines" Across the Continent.

A colored bicycle rider has crossed the continent on his wheel and blacked several hundred pairs of boots on the way. He is Boyd Gray, whose home is in Yonkers, N. Y. He set out five months ago and traveled 60 miles a day. Wherever he stopped he blacked boots and earned enough money to pay his expenses.

James T. Anthony, of Queen Anne's county, the candidate for Congress and W. F. Tucker, of Baltimore will discuss the issue of the day at the Court House tonight. Ladies are especially invited to be present. 1t.

M. B. Nichols' immense cloak opening will begin on the 26th and continue four days. The prices will be within the reach of all, and equal to city prices.

A SAD DEATH.

Henry A. Clark Died of Diphteria at Cordova on Wednesday.

CORDOVA, OCT. 19th.—Died in Cordova of diphtheria, Oct. 17th, 1894, Henry A. Clark, age 20 years.

This community is saddened by the sudden removal from our midst of one of our most popular and promising young men. But a few days ago he went in and out among us with a cheering smile and encouraging word for everyone and now he is not, for God has taken him.

"Harry," as he was called by all, came to Cordova nearly two years ago as assisiant Railroad agent and telegrapher, his home being Kenton, Del., where resides a widowed mother, and his sisters, who with his brother, N. E. Clark of Easton, compose his immediate family relatives.

At the age of eighteen he displayed proficiency in his business and manly qualities equal to those of more advanced age. He soon became a general favorite in social circles and his life bore witness to high moral training from his youth up.

Having been previously connected with the church in the home of his family, he became more actively interested in religious work in the autumn of last year, since which time he has been Sunday School Superintendent in the M. E. Church, South, of this place. He was an honorary member of the W. C. T. U. An uncompromising advocate of the temperance cause personally, socially and politically and had he lived would doubtless have weilded a grand influence for this noble reform.

At the Union Sunday School Convention held in Cordova Aug. 25th and 26th last he manifested great interest reading an admirable essay on the topic, "The Sunday School versus the Saloon." At this convention he was elected secretary for the Union in Talbot county.

Bro. Clark was united in marriage by the pastor, June 20th, to Miss Nellie, youngest daughter of Mrs. Jane Warner of Cordova. After a tour North they made their home with the bride's mother, with every prospect of health, happiness and usefulness, but in less than four months he was seized with that malignant disease, Oct. 9th, which proved fatal in eight days.

So becomes his bride a widow before the frosts have killed the flowers and the grasses of the season, and so grief has come to the hearts of those who knew and loved him well.

But the sorrowing have this comfort, that he was noble, manly, pious and that "Though early called how blest are they who wait in Heaven their harvest day." Being dead he will yet speak by the memory of a consistent life. May the Great Giver of the life so ended, in the mystery that we comprehend not, afford His own grace and consolation to those who sorrow, yet hope to meet again.

A FRIEND.

News from Cordova.

Christian Endeavor and Gospel Temperance Meetings are held alternately in the Baptist and M. E. Churches every Friday evening.

A chapter of the Epworth League was organized at Matthews Thursday evening, Oct. 11th with the following officers: President, Charles Pearce; Vice President, Miss Ida Wood; Secretary, Miss Anna Boothe; Treasurer, John Henry. This organization has already 35 or 40 members, and will doubtless greatly interest the young people of King's Creek community in christian work.

The Chapter of Cordova M. E. Church was reorganized Sunday evening, the 14th inst. J. M. Lindale, pastor, President; J. F. Sisk, Vice President; R. L. Hicks, Secretary, and Ellis Stack, Treasurer. Preaching services are held in this church every Sunday, alternately morning and evening.

The oyster supper and festival given by the ladies and friends of the Chapel M. E. Church on the 12th and 13th inst., was an enjoyable affair to those who were present, and fairly successful financially, though the rain on Saturday somewhat affected the result. The proceeds were applied toward church expenses.

Bishop Adams will preach, it is announced, in the Chapel at Cordova, Sunday afternoon, the 2?th inst.

Miss Grace Dixon, for some days the guest of Mr. J. F. Sisk and family, has returned to her home at Preston.

Miss Nannie Harrison, of Tilghman, is visiting the family of Rev. J. M. Lindale.

Mr. Walter Jackson, of Chestertown College, came home on his wheel Friday and returned to Chestertown Monday morning.

Mr. Edwin R. Jump, principal of the upper school on Tilghman's Island, paid a short visit to his parents and friends at Cordova on Saturday and Sunday last.

The public school at Cordova has been closed for a few days on account of dyphtheria in the village.

Why He Prospered.

A certain man was hanged, that he died. And he left two sons, honest men.

Now one of the sons was a blacksmith. But the other became a physician.

And after that their father had been taken from them these brothers made their homes in other lands.

And the blacksmith would have prospered. But it befell that one asked him how his father made end. And the blacksmith, looking angrily upon him, answered, "He was hung." For the blacksmith was an honest man.

Howbeit, presently, when a horse was missing, men gathered and hanged the blacksmith, saying, "This man must take after his father." So the blacksmith did take after his father, but whether he caught up with him the tale telleth not.

And at the same time, in his own city, one inquired of the physician by what means his father died. And the physician covered his face and wept.

But while he wept he considered, saying within himself: "If I say, 'He was hanged,' then shall I shock this man and give him pain, and it is my office to relieve pain. Nevertheless I must tell the truth."

He said therefore, "My father died of heart-failure." And again he wept, the questioner weeping with him.

Then, this being told, men said, "Doubtless, since his father died of heart failure, this good physician and loving son hath made study of kindred diseases." So they resorted unto him.

And the physician became a specialist. And he looked at them who came and coughed once and sneezed twice and demanded $100. And they gave gladly, for the physician was an honest man.—Kate Field's Washington.

THE DREDGING SEASON

BEGAN ON MONDAY MORNING.

Fifteen Hundred Vessels Directly Engaged in Gathering the Oyster Crop of 1894.—The Culling Law Beneficial.—An Industry Which Employs 30.000 Men.

The season for dredging and scraping for oysters in Maryland waters opened last Monday morning and hundreds of vessels are already sailing on the Chesapeake bay and its tributaries searching for bivalves. Packers and shippers of oysters in Baltimore have made extensive preparations for the season and the prospects are that a large volume of business will be transacted.

Commander Howard is of the opinion that the season will be a good one and does not expect any serious trouble on account of vessels dredging on illegal grounds. The vessel-owners have carefully instructed their captains regarding the location of the various beds and rather than run the risk of paying a heavy fine and having their vessels confiscated the oystermen will endeavor to comply with the laws.

The time fixed for the opening of the season for dredging this year meets with the approval of the oystermen and packers. Under the old law the season opened October 1 and at a time when the packers had not finished the fruit season. On this account the first arrivals of oysters brought low prices because the packers could not find time to buy the cargoes and attend to the packing.

The culling law, which has been in force for the past two seasons, has already demonstrated the wisdom of returning small oysters and shells to the oyster rocks. By this means, when the dredgers are at work, all small-sized oysters and shells brought up in the dredge are dumped overboard. The small oysters are given an opportunity to increase in size during the season and the beds are kept in a profitable condition.

More vessels are engaged in the oyster business this season than for several years, and the failure of the fruit crop is expected to create a good demand for oysters. The entire fleet engaged in dredging will number 1500 vessels. Each vessel will employ on an average of eight men, and 1,200 men will be employed in the business until April.

This number does not include the tongers, and in the counties 7000 men are engaged in tonging. The packing houses in Baltimore and at points on the Eastern and Western shores employ about 10,000 people.

A careful estimate recently made by a prominent packer places the number of persons interested in the oyster industry at 30,000.

The total catch of oysters will amount to millions of bushels and shipments are made throughout the West and Europe.

One of the unfortunate features of the oyster dredging business is the system of "shanghaiing" men on board the vessels and compelling them to endure the hard-ships of a dredger's life for a paltry sum. For the purpose of aiding the dredgers in securing employment and collecting their salaries the State shipping commissioners will enforce the law which makes it a misdemeanor for any master to ship men who have not been properly registered before the commissioners.

Under the law all men shipping as dredgers are compelled to sign the vessel's articles in the presence of a commission before the vessel sails. When the men return to port they are paid off before a commission.

The season ends April 1, and with the exception in Dorchester and Talbot counties on account of the law which prohibits vessels of over ten tons measurement from dredging in their waters, there is every evidence that the dredging business will be unusually good.

Licenses to dredge for oysters in Maryland waters are granted only to persons residing in the State, and anyone caught violating the law is liable to a fine of not less than $50, nor more than $300.

News from Trappe.

Jenkins & Kirby's canning house closed down last week after a fairly successful season. This firm's goods are first class and have already established a reputation. Two vessels loaded at the factory last week with about six thousand cases. One goes to Philadelphia from which point consignments go to the various manufacturing towns through Pennsylvania. The other vessel goes to Baltimore. Mr. Swing, of Easton, is superintendent. The firm proposes to go into the business on a larger scale next year.

Mr. L. A. Lathrop, of Camden, Del., has been here for the past ten weeks putting down drive wells. He has driven one at Mr. Powell's house and also at his farm. He will commence one shortly for Mrs. Emily Bowdle. He has also contracted with the town commissioners to drive one for the town near the present town pump. This will be a great protection to the business block in case of fire.

The Misses Kemp have rented the store room next door to the drug store and will open up a fine line of notions there in a few days.

E. A. Powell's house, which is now nearing completion, will be one of the finest in town. The plasterers are now about through and the painters and paper-hangers will soon take their place. Mr. Powell expects to move in early in December.

Rev. G. W. Hines began his extra meetings at the M. P. Church Sunday night. Rev. F. M. Totten, of Trinity M. E. Church South, expects to commence early next month. He will be assisted by the noted evangelist, Rev. J. W. Lee of North Carolina.

The colored people are making preparations to have their emancipation celebration here on Nov. 1st. They will have a parade and in the afternoon will be addressed by speakers from a distance.

The prohibitionists of this district opened their campaign with a meeting in the town hall Wednesday night. Rev. Alfred Smith was the principal speaker. Music was furnished by the Oxford Glee Club.

Mr. Robert H. Slaughter, a prominent farmer of Island Creek Neck, and Miss Emma Parrott were married on Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. W. T. Marvel near town.

The storehouse and lot of woodland belonging to the estate of late R. H. Kemp were sold at public sale last Saturday. The storehouse was bought by the widow, and the woodland by George W. Tarbutton.

His mind conceives vast schemes and spans
The nursery floor with railroad plans.
He sails brave ships in childish play
To Ceylon's isle and far Cathay.
No land remote or unconfessed
Lies hidden from his viking quest;
No castle tower can e'er withstand
His tin clad soldier's fierce command.
His knights in tourney never fail;
His prince must win the holy grail.
Beforehand it is understood
He'll wake the beauty of the wood,
And all the giants' heads will fall
Before his sounding bugle call.
