by them as aforesaid.

17. Your orators are advised that should it be held that Mary L. Patterson did not exercise the power of disposition vested in her by the said wills of James Wilson and Mary Wilson, then your orators are, by the said wills of James Wilson and Mary Wilson, constituted and appointed trustees for any one of the issue of said Mary L. Patterson, who may be an infant or infants at the time of her death, and that the said Anna St. Clair Patterson, infant grandchild of the said Mary L. Patterson, being an infant under the age of eighteen years, your orators are in such event authorized and required to retain and administer such portion of said estate and property as may be properly devisable to the said Anna St. Clair Patterson, under the said wills of James Wilson and Mary Wilson.

18. Your orators are informed and believe, and also charge, that all the persons interested in the said property and estate devised and bequeathed to the said Mary L. Patterson, by the said will of her father and mother, and all interested under the said will of Mary L. Patterson, desire that the said wills shall be construed, and it shall be determined whether or not the testatrix, Mary L. Patterson, intended to exercise, and did exercise the power of distribution conferred upon her by the wills of her father and mother as aforesaid.

19. Your orators represent that the persons interested directly and remotely, or contingently, in the construction of the said will, are the children and the grandchildren of the said Mary L. Patterson, and the husbands and wives of such as have married, to wit: James Wilson Patterson and Margaret S. Patterson, his wife, William Patterson and Emma W. Patterson, his wife. Alice P. Harris and W. Hall Harris, her husband, and Mary P. Harris. J. Morrison Harris Jr., and W. Hall Harris, Jr., children of the said Alice P. Harris and W. Hall Harris, and Henry Patterson and Alice Patterson, children of William Patterson and Emma W., his wife, and Anna St. Clair Patterson, child of the said deceased son, Arthur Melville Patterson, and the said James Wilson Patterson, William Patterson and W. Hall Harris, executors as aforesaid, and the said William Patterson, as trustee for Anna St. Clair Patterson as aforesaid.

20. That your orators are embarrassed, and know not which of said claimants are lawfully and rightfully entitled to the said property and estate in question, and your orators being prepared and anxious to discharge the functions of their trusts, are desirous to pay and turn over the said estate to the parties entitled to receive the same.

21. To the end, therefore, that the said James Wilson Patterson and Margaret S. Patterson, his wife, William Patterson and Emma W. Patterson, his wife, Alice P. Harris and W. Hall Harris, her husband, and Mary P. Harris J. Morrison Harris, Jr., and W. Hall Harris, Jr., infant children of the said Alice P. Harris and W. Hall Harris and Henry Patterson and Alice Patterson, infant children of the said William Patterson and Emma W., his wife, and Anna St. Clair Patterson, infant child of the said deceased son, Arthur Melville Patterson and the said James Wilson Patterson, William Patterson and W. Hall Harris, executors as aforesaid, and the said William Patterson, as trustee for Anna St. Clair Patterson, may answer this bill, and that the said wills may be construed by your Honorable Court, and your orators may be directed by decree of this Court to whom to pay over and transfer the said property and estate, and that this Honorable Court may decree the estates which shall be taken and be held by the respective parties, who, by such decree, shall receive said estate from your orators; and that your orators may have such other and further relief as
