over a road which shall be laid out over my land, which road shall be laid out and the boundaries of the chapel lot defined by my trustees within twelve months after my decease; to be held by them forever, in trust that they will permit the said chapel and chapel lot, with its appurtenances, to be used and occupied for the purposes aforesaid, by the members of any Evangelical denominations of Christians of which my said trustees may from time to time approve, and for so long a period as they may think proper.

It is my intention to apply to the next Legislature of Maryland for an Act of Incorporation of certain trustees, for the purpose of more effectually carrying out the objects of this trust. In case I should die before such an Act can be obtained, I direct my said trustees to apply for such an Act, and after it shall be obtained, to convey said chapel, chapel lot and it appurtenances (to be defined by them as aforesaid) to the corporation which shall be created by such Act, to be held by it in trusts similar to those above mentioned, that is to say, to be held by said corporation forever, in trust that it will permit the said chapel, chapel lot and its appurtenances, to be used and occupied for the purposes aforesaid, by the members of any Evangelical denomination of Christians of which the trustees appointed by or under said Act, may from time to time approve, and for as long a period as they may think proper.

(James Wilson)

(6.) Sixth. Whereas, Elizabeth Carmichael and Lucretia Carr have lived in my family many years, and have rendered faithful services during that time, I leave to my said trustees one thousand dollars of city six per cent. stock; one-half the interest which may be received thereon to be paid to each during her natural life. Whenever either shall die, one-half of said city stock shall fall into the residue of my personal estate, and on the death of the other, the remaining half shall fall into said residue.

(7.) Seventh. In a former will made by me, now cancelled, I left to my late son, James, the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars. This amount I direct shall be lent to my son, David S. Wilson, if he shall survive me, to be paid to him within one year after my decease, and to be lent to him for the term of five years from the time of said payment to him, without interest, and without requiring any security for the same, and after the expiration of that term, then said sum of twenty-five thousand dollars is to be divided in the same manner and proportions as I have hereinbefore directed as to said sum of three hundred and sixty thousand dollars above bequeathed by me, and is to be transferred to or held on the same trusts in trust for the same persons, who, according to my will, shall at the end of said five years, be entitled to said sum of three hundred and sixty thousand dollars.

If my said son, David, should survive me, but should die before the end of said five years, then the said sum of twenty-five thousand dollars is to be divided in the same manner and proportions as I have hereinbefore directed as to the said sum of three hundred and sixty thousand dollars, and is to be transferred to or held on the same trusts in trust for the same persons, who, according to my (James Wilson) will, shall, on the death of said David, be entitled to said sum of three hundred and sixty thousand dollars. But the executors or administrators of my said son, David, in the event of his dying before the end of said five years, shall have one year after his death to pay said sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, and during said year shall not
