First. I direct the payment of all my just debts and funeral expenses.

Second. I give and bequeath my old silver tea set, (the same that belonged to my father-in-law, William Patterson) consisting of one coffee-pot, two tea-pots, one small waiter, used with one of the tea-pots, one sugar-bowl, one slop-bowl, one creampot, six old tablespoons, six or seven teaspoons, six or seven egg spoons, to my son, James Wilson Patterson, for his life, and after his death to his children, and in the event of his death without leaving a child or children surviving him, then I give and bequeath the said silver to my son, William Patterson, and my daughter, Alice Patterson Harris, absolutely, in equal portions, share and share alike.

Third. I give and bequeath all the rest of my silver to my said sons, James Wilson Patterson, (Mary L. Patterson) and Wm. Patterson, and my daughter, Alice Patterson Harris, to be equally divided between them, share and share alike.

Fourth. I will and direct that all the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, real, personal and mixed, wherso-ever situated, and to which I am in any manner whatso-ever entitled, shall be divided into four equal parts.

Fifth. I give, devise and bequeath one-fourth of the said rest, residue and remainder of my estate, divided and set apart as aforesaid, to my son, James Wilson Patterson, for and during the term of his natural life, and from and after his death I give, devise and bequeath the rest, residue and remainder of said one-fourth to such child or children as he may leave surviving him; if but one, to take all, if more than one, to be equally divided between them per sterpes and not per capita; and the descendant or descendants of such child or children of his, who may have died in his lifetime, to take the share to which the parent would have been entitled if living, absolutely and in fee simple; and in the event of the death of my said son, James Wilson Patterson, without leaving a child or children of his, or the descendant or descendants of a child or children surviving him, then I give, devise and bequeath the said rest, residue and remainder of the said one-fourth to my children then living, and the descendant and descendants then living of such of them as may be dead, absolutely and in fee-simple; if but one, to take all, if more than one, to be equally divided between them per sterpes and not per capita; and in the event of the death of my said son, James Wilson Patterson, without leaving a child or children, or the descendant or descendants of a child or children surviving him, nor either of my children, nor the descendant or descendants of either of my children surviving him, then I give, devise and bequeath the said rest, residue and remainder of said one-fourth to my right heirs according to the now existing laws of the State of Maryland absolutely and in fee simple.

And in the event of my said son, James Wilson Patterson, receiving any other part of my estate, by reason of the death of one or more of my children or descendants, by vertue of any of the provisions of this will, I hereby will and direct that he shall hold and enjoy the same only during his life, and from and after his death the same shall descend and vest as provided for the one-fourth interest devised and bequeathed to him for life by this item.

Sixth. I give, devise and bequeath another one-fourth of the said rest, residue and remainder of my estate, divided and set apart as aforesaid, to my son, William Patterson, for and during the term of (Mary L. Patterson) his natural life, and from and after his death I give, devise and
