THIS issue was ready for press at usual hour, but since we had inficient stock on hand to print it mplete, and our supply was on the ain that was snowed up, we conclud d it best to await its arrival not sup posing it would be but a few hours behind. But days have passed, and at this writing, Monday, there is little prospect of communication with the outside world before the middle of the week. Hence we issue the two local pages for the benefit of the home circulation and hope to have a complete paper and full account of the terrible storm in next issue.

The high and impassable drifts on all the approaches to Easton have cut f all communication with the coun y. The streets of town are now pen (Monday) and the calm weather s brought out the sleighs in abund ce. The work on opening the ilroad is progressing as rapidly as ossible but no telling at present hen through traffic will be estab shed.

THE true explanation of the finan l trouble is to be found in the re urns of the election of 1892.

WHY is that the very name "imported" seems to add as much to the beauty and intrinsic value of a garment to most feminine eyes as it does to its price mark. The thing may not be a bit prettier or even more stylish than could have been achieved by one's own dressmaker; indeed it may be positively ugly from an aesthetic point of view, but the fact that it hails from foreign shores is enough to make it a thing of beauty to most feminine beholders.

DR. EDWD. M. HARDCASTLE was elected Principal of the Easton High School by the Board at last meeting, vice E. D. Murdaugh, resigned. This gives general satisfaction for none higher stands in the community in general fitness for the position than the Doctor. Prof. Murdaugh has formally assumed charge of the Institution of which he was made President.

A COURT in Minnesota has given $10,000 damages against a telegraph company that forwarded and delivered an anonymous insulting dispatch. The company should at least have secured the name of the sender, "not necessarily for publication, but as an evidence of good faith." The punishment is well deserved. When slanderers will not sign their slanders it is safe to assume that they seek to inflict injury without incurring risk of punishment. Those who assume the risk for them ought to suffer in their place:

THIS thing of spending the winter South must be getting very fashionable when New England January comes to this county to spend February. We have entertained our northern guest quite as long as we care to already and will be pleased to see him return to his own home. But somehow he acts as though he were in love with our country; and especially with Talbot and who can blame him fer that? He has been hearing of us so long he concluded he would come and see for himself just what we looked like and perhaps he will be satisfied now and stay away in the future.

FOR a matter of record, because it is a well-known fact now, a Manitoba blizzard with Siberian proclivities scooped down upon us on Thursday night, February 7th, 1895 and immediately knocked the bottom out of our thermometers (they being unused to such treatment were not prepared to drop as they should have done) and sprinkled a white dry powder called snow so profusely, that by the aid of said blizzard, all communication with the outside world was cut off. Friday dawned clear—windy—cold. Drifts blockaded the highways and stopped trains. The matter of keeping warm was the only thought, and but few could do it. At this writing it is impossible to forcast the suffering, which must be intense among the poor. The average house here is built on the summer plan and with rattling windows, open floors and feeble opportunities for comfort, the poorer classes suffer intensely, and those of even more comforts have all they can do to keep themselves and their own from perishing.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, Feb 4, 1895.

When Senator Lee Mantle, of Montana, took the oath of office the democratic majority in the Senate disappeared—let us hope never to come back again. The Senate now consists of 85 members 43 democrats, 38 republicans and 5 populists. When the republican Senators from Wyoming and Washington take their seats the Senate will be full for the first time in several years, and 45 will be a majority. The only change made by the accessions to the Senate, from a financial point of view, is to strengthen the silver men, who already had a majority. As an answer to appeals which have been made to them to join hands with the administration and pass a financial bill; several republican Senators have made a careful canvass of the Senate and the result is that 47 Senators are for the free coinage of silver and 39 against it. The free coinage men will have 49 votes when the Washington and Wyoming Senators arrive.

There is a hitch in the administration's program for a new issue of bonds. While it is given out that the administration is waiting to see if Congress will wait upon Mr. Cleveland's gold bond recommendation, it is well known that the delay has been caused by the demands of the capitalists who are expected to subscribe for the new bonds. Orders have been issued to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing to print $500,000,000 of 4 per cent. thirty year bonds authorized by the specie resumption act of 1875, but what amount will be [illegible] is not yet known. Mr. Cleveland is said to favor advertising for bids without stating any specified amount and accepting all satisfactory bids, but the Cabinet is understood to be divided on that idea. The question may be settled at the Cabinet meeting to be held tomorrow.

If the generally accepted version of the cause of the resignation of Solicitor General Maxwell, that he resented being censured by Attorney General Olney for having consented to getting the case involving the constitutionality of the income tax advanced by the Supreme Court, be true, the Attorney General's resignation ought to quickly follow. The people do not understand that it is the duty of the Department of Justice to throw obstacles in the way of getting speedy decisions upon any question involving constitutionality [illegible] law, whenever the Attorney [illegible] shall be afraid that the decis[illegible] will injure his political party. [illegible] contrary, they expect [illegible] right to, that this de[illegible] as the ate Solicitor [illegible] use all due diligence to [illegible] decisions, regardless [illegible] ared effect. To carry [illegible] General's ideas [illegible] pt by the executiv[illegible] government to encroac[illegible] prerogatives of the judicia[illegible] ch. The failure of its numerou[illegible] cent attempts to control the legis[illegible] ive branch should be warning eno[illegible].

The House will this week decide what shall be done with the Cleveland gold bond bill, the committee on Rules having decided to report an order setting aside Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday for its consideration. If this order is adopted by the House the final vote will be taken next Thursday, but there seems a probability, notwithstanding the extraordinary efforts of the administration to prevent it that the order may meet the same fate as the order for the consideration of the Carlisle currency bill—be rejected by the House. So far as the final result is concerned it does not make the slightest difference what disposition the House makes of either the order or the bill, as the latter cannot possibly get re[illegible] the Senate, even should it [illegible] House.

[illegible] sent the Reilly Pacific [illegible] bill back to com[illegible] vote of 177 to 106. Op[illegible] the bill say that, instead [illegible] votes against it, the circu[illegible] sent to Washington by Mayor [illegible], of San Francisco, charging the Huntington lobby with buying votes for $20,000, made votes for the bill.

Through the instrumentality of Senators Frye, of Maine, and Dubois, of Idaho, Senators Chandler and Gallinger, of New Hampshire, have resumed amicable relations with each other, much to the gratification of their republican colleagues. Previous to their reconciliation the two Senators had not spoken to each other for some years.

HAVE YOU READ
THE PHILADELPHIA TIMES
THIS MORNING?

THE TIMES is the most extensively circulated and widely read newspaper published in Pennsylvania. Its discussion of public men and public measures is in the interest of public integrity, honest government and prosperous industry, and it knows no party or personal allegiance in treating public issues. In the broadest and best sense a family and general newspaper.

THE TIMES aims to have the largest circulation by deserving it, and claims that it is unsurpassed in all the essentials of a great metropolitan newspaper. Special copies of any edition will be sent free to any one sending their address.

TERMS—DAILY, $3.00 per annum; $1.00 for four months; 30 cents per month; delivered by carriers for 6 cents per week. SUNDAY EDITION, twenty-four large handsome pages—168 columns, elegantly illustrated, $2.00 per annum; 5 cents per copy. Daily and Sunday, $5.00 per annum; 50 cents per month.
