Was Beating His Wife

William Royal Again Before The Justice.

ARRESTS FOR SELLING RUM

William Swallis And John Smith Up To Their Old Tricks Retailing Whiskey On The Sly.—Arrested.

William Royal, colored, is well known in this county by the sheriff and his deputies, having been called before the bar of justice more times than once. Last Friday night he was caught by Constable Loockerman beating his wife in Graham's alley. Royal was in a drunken condition and was flaying his wife unmercifully when caught. The woman's screams attracted the attention of the people in the neighborhood who came flocking to the house, while some ran for an officer. Constable Stoops, being in the vicinity, heard the screams himself and hurried to the house and arrested Royal. He was kept in jail until Saturday night when he was tried before Squire Hubbard. The Squire fined him $6 and costs. It is said that beating people is a favorite pastime of Royal's when he is drunk.

Royal is the same man, who, some time ago ran away with John Seemer's team on Point road and smashed the carriage by running into Mr. Seymour's team while out hunting for him.

Constable Loockerman, arresten John Smith, colored, Sunday afternoon for selling whiskey. Smith had a little place on the "Hill," and it is said, did quite a nice business. He was put in jail until Monday evening when he was taken before Justice Hubbard. The case was laid over until the November court and Smith released on $200 bail.

If one should stop to count the number of arrests made in Easton alone among the negro population in one year the number would amount to considerable. Not only is the local option law violated by the men, but the women as well. The question arises, how many more of them are carrying on this trade.

Deputy McHale arrested an old offender of the local option law Saturday night in the person of William Swallis, colored. He has been for a long time a member of all the colored speak-easies, and is said to have drummed up considerable trade for them. But recently, however, he has become more ambitious and started out in his own responsibility, and sold considerable whiskey.

Deputy McHale arrested him in Graham's Alley and lodged him in jail where he awaits his trial. He has been arrested on the same charge several times before and frequently sent to the House of Correction for it.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Interesting Items Concerning Our Different Churches.

Easton seems to afford a good field for the camp meeting committees of the shore to select ministers to preach at the opening of campmeetings. Last Sunday both Dr. Avery and Rev. Mr. Poisal were absent, filling the pulpits of different meetings. There was no church at Calvary M. P. Church, but Dr. Avery's pulpit was filled by Rev. Mr. Bell, in the morning and the Women's Christian Temperance Union held a service in the M. E. church at night.

Services at Ebenezer M. E. Church tomorrow at the usual time. In the absence of Dr. Avery the pulpit will be filled by Rev. Robert Todd of the Maryland Bible Society, of Baltimore and a former pastor of this charge, Mr. Todd will preach both morning and evening. The evening subject will be "The Bible."

The Ocean Grove, N. J. campmeeting will open on August 19th and hold daily sessions until the 29th. A great number of Eastonians attend the camp meeting every year, and this year, it is expected that even a larger number will be present.

The Epworth League services on Sunday evenings at Ebenezer M. E. Church, are not held in the lecture room at 7 o'clock, but during the warm weather, are held in the auditorium at 7.30 to 8 o'clock.

Dr. George C. Sutton, of Trinity Cathedral is spending his vacation at Cape May, N. J. He is expected to return about the last of next week.

At Baptist Mission S. School 2.30 to 3.30 p. m., preaching, 3.30 p. m., pastor, Rev. W. H. Savage. Subject, "The Saved Man God's Property."

The Sunday school orchestra of the M. E. Sunday School, composed of six pieces, now plays every Sunday at the sessions of the School.

Services at SS. Peter and Paul's Church tomorrow are Low Mass at 10 a. m.; Benediction at 8 p. m.

REGARDING THAT CYCLE TRACK.

The Talbot Fair Association Make The Avon Cycle Club An Offer.

The Avon Cycle Club of Easton has been agitating the question of building an athletic park, and have been circulating a petition for stock holders.

The cost of such a park as is proposed to build would be about $1400, and with the view of saving the club that sum, and promoting their own interests at the same time, the Talbot Fair Association made a proposition to the club that they build a quarter mile cycle track inside the half-mile racetrack at the Fair grounds.

This plan is much favored by many of the club on the ground that if such was done no money would be expended for grand stand, judges stand, training quarters, and other necessary buildings.

The club acted on the matter Tuesday night, but rejected the proposition of the Fair Association because of some of the agreements thereto. But there is no doubt but what the club will eventually build the track at the Fair grounds.

A Handsome Interior.

The scaffolding in the auditorium of Calvary M. P. Church was taken down this week, and the new metal ceiling, in all its exquisite beauty, can be seen. The design of the ceiling is beautiful and is painted in light, restful colors. The walls are now being worked upon. These correspond to the ceiling and are of relief work, similar to that seen in the Farmers and Merchants Bank. The walls are as beautiful as the ceiling, and when all is completed the auditorium will be one of the handsomest, as well as most modern on the shore. A new chandelier has been put in the center, which takes the place of the three previously used.

The Acreage Much Smaller.

The canning factories of Talbot county will open in a week or so, when the tomato crop is abundant. In most cases only tomatoes and corn will be put up, but some few peaches will be packed. Even the pack of tomatoes will be much smaller than last year, which fell way below expectations. The production this year is smaller because of the fact that last season some of the growers complained that at the prices paid there was no money in growing them, and consequently the acreage has been greatly reduced.

A Large Execution.

The Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad Company through Hon. Geo. M. Rasin, its counsel, obtained a judgment against the Queen Anne's and Kent Railroad Company last May in the Circuit Court for Queen Anne's county for the sum of $241,267.-10. A few days ago Mr. Rasmin ordered the writ of execution to issue, which is for the largest amount of money, so Chief Deputy Clerk Dumbraco reports of any previous execution during his long service as Sheriff Bailey, who is supposed to get quite a large fee for poundage.

The July term of court which was adjourned until Monday next on account of the sickness of Judge Stump's father. The session will convene Monday, when the usual business of the term will be taken up.

UNSOLICITED testimonials by thousands like this tell why Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills secure a large sale wherever introduced.

SOMEWHAT PERSONAL.

The Names of Visitors Here and at Other Points.

Miss Maggie F. Waldron is visiting her parents in Pottsville, Pa.

Miss Nellie Hartnett is visiting friends in Dover and Philadelphia.

Dr. Chas. Leslie Rumsey of Baltimore, was the guest of Dr. Garrison last Sunday.

Mr. Arthur R. Swann of Washington is visiting at the residence of Mr. Henry Shreve.

Miss Lizzie Harris of Baltimore is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. H. K. Shannahan, on Bay Street.

Miss Mattie G. McDonald and Miss Carrie Burnlite spent Tuesday of this week in Baltimore.

Miss Mary Budd, of Smyrna, Del., is visiting her sister Mrs. James H. McNeal on Harrison St.

Dr. J. E. M. Chamberlaine has been visiting his son, Joseph Chamberlaine at Belvou, Dorchester county.

Miss Neva Parlett has just returned from a six weeks' outing, having spent most of her time at Chattolanee, Md.

H. N. Fell, general agent for the Mutual Life Insurance Company, at Wilmington, Del., recently spent several days in Easton.

Mr. Jas. M. Robinson, of Kansas City, formerly of Easton, is making a visit to his parents and other relatives of this county He is accompanied by his daughter. Mr. Robinson has many warm friends here, having been for years in the mercantile business with Mr. Higgins, and his residence in the far west has not obliterated the esteem in which he is held here.

Rev. T. F. Waldron is in receipt of an invitation to attend Solemn Pontifical Mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, August 7th, His Excellency Mgr. Statolli, Apostolic Delegate, celebrating, Most Rev. J. P. Ryan, Archbishop of Philadelphia to deliver the sermon; the occasion being the Silver Jubilee of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union.

Mr. M. B. Nichols, on last Thursday tendered Mrs. Amelia Wright a check and courteous letter of appreciation for her faithful services to him during the ten years of their business relations. This was a great surprise to Mrs. Wright and as much appreciated by her as it was merited. Mr. Nichols is very apt to do little things of this kind.

RAISED QUITE A CONTEST.

The Place Of Private Nightwatchman in Easton Greatly Sought After.

The night watchman whose duty is to parole Washington street from the Easton National Bank to the postoffice, and Dover street to the Hotel Avon is paid by private subscription from the merchants on these streets. The place was filled for many years by Mr. Burrows, who died recently, and was resigned by him, and James Satterfield appointed in his stead.

Mr. Satterfield filled the place acceptably for several years, during which time he performed valuable service to the town by discovering fires before much damage could be done. Mr. Satterfield died last week, and it was to fill his office that such a contest was raised.

There were about a dozen applicants for the place, and to settle the matter fairly it was decided to hold an election among the contributors to the fund.

Accordingly, on Monday afternoon the election was held in W. P. Chaffinch's store, and for a time things were quite interesting.

Mr. Thomas Covey, who lives on Bay street, was the man chosen, his majority being a large one. The other applicants were: Messrs. Richard Cheesum, Sol. Covey, Albert Shannahan, Samuel Collins, Millbourne Colburn, M. L. Wroten, James Poole, Clinton Denny.

The place is quite an inactive one, paying on the average of about $14 per week, all of which is by private subscription.

A DAY AT BAY RIDGE.

Calvary M. P. Sunday School Excursion An Occasion Of Great Pleasure.

The annual excursion of Calvary M. P. Sunday School was given on Thursday of this week to that delightful Bay resort, Bay Ridge. The excursion left Easton at eight o'clock in the morning on the R. C. & A. R. R., which conveyed them to Claiborne, where the steamer carried them across the Chesapeake to Bay Ridge, arriving there at 11.30 o'clock.

The return was not made until 7.30 in the evening, and Easton was reached shortly after 10 o'clock. It was liberally patronized, nearly seven hundred people availed themselves of the only opportunity this year to visit this charming resort. The day was perfect and many were the cooling breezes that fanned the brows of the happy excursionists.

At Bay Ridge each one sought that pleasure which appealed most to their fancy. Some immediately procured bathing suits and enjoyed the delights of bathing. Others found pleasure in the dancing pavilions, while the children were content with the flying horses, the electric road, the switch back and the new ferris wheel. Some posed in painful attitudes before a man with a camera. All the attractions were visited and appreciated, but one of the best was the new toboggan slide, which projects over a hundred feet into the Bay.

General Crop Report.

The crop report for last week for the Eastern Shore and Delaware is as follows:

Corn was greatly benefited by the recent rains, and a good crop may confidently be expected. The oats harvest is about over and thrashing is in progress. The yields of both wheat and oats is fairly good, the latter crop turning out in places, as high as fifty bushels to the acre. Tomato blight is reported, but the crop are generally good. Potatoes are improving, and the yield, so far has proven very satisfactory. Contrary to expectations fruit will be fairly abundant. Apples are ripening, smooth and fair; facilities are needed for the preserving or drying of the surplus. Peaches that are now being marketed are better than the earlier varieties shipped, and berries are still firm.

Observer Shreve has this to say for Talbot county:

Fine growing weather has prevailed. Showers have interrupted thrashing. There has been some complaint about leaf blight on the tomato plants. Potato yield is proving very satisfactory.

New Justice-of-the-Peace.

Thomas C. Nichols was appointed on Wednesday by Governor Brown, Justice-of-the-Peace, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Squire N. E. Nicols. The appointment is regarded as a good one and general satisfaction is felt at it. It was thought that the Governor would not make the appointment for some time, and when the news reached here it caused considerable surprise. Mr. Nichols lost no time in preparing himself, being sworn in shortly after the appointment was received.

Another Excursion to Ocean City.

On August 14th, Trinity M. E. Church, South will run their regular annual excursion to the ocean. A large crowd, a long day at the Ocean and a pleasant time. If you have been there once, you will want to go again. Make a note of the date and govern yourself accordingly. Train leaves Easton 7.29 a. m. returning, leaves Ocean City 5.25 p. m. Round trip $1, children under 12 years, 50c. Tickets for sale at Easton only. Train connects with D. & C. R. R. at Easton.

Six weeks ago I suffered with a very severe cold; was almost unable to speak. My friends all advised me to consult a physician. Talbot Fair Preparations

The Board Extends Thanks To The County Press.

THE JUDGES APPOINTED.

The Wye Mills Cornet Band Engaged. Arrangements Being Made To Have A Number Of Cycle Races.

The Fair Associaton is now hard at work on the preparations for the coming Fair, and the Board of Directors are holding meetings every week.

The Board met on Tuesday and transacted considerable business, among which was the engagement of the Wye Mills cornet band.

The judges of the different departments were appointed, but the names of them will not be made public until the secretary receives the acceptance of them.

Constable Lockerman was reappointed chief of Police, and his deputies were also named.

The Board realized its indebtedness to the county press for the notices and attention shown in its proceedings through their columns, and a motion was made and carried that the secretary be instructed to prepare a resolution of thanks to the papers.

The resolution has not yet been made public, but will be presented to the papers in a short time.

Among the racing attractions of the coming Fair will be a number of crack bicycle races, which will be prepared and run under the auspices of the Avon Cycle Club of Easton.

A number of the leading wheelmen of Baltimore and Philadelphia will enter the races as well as riders from all over the peninsula. The arrangement of the races are left to captain Patchett.

The tenth annual Premium list of the Fair is now before the public, and all persons desiring one can procure one from the secretary.

THE TALBOT ART LOAN EXHIBITION.

Will Be Held in Easton August 27, 28 and 29 Under Auspices of Mercantile Library.

There was an interesting meeting of the Mercantile Library held Thursday night of last week, as well as one held at same place on Thursday evening last. The literary features were of an interesting and instructive character. It was proposed to make provision for more room to accommodate the members who assembled for these literary treats, and accordingly a suscription list was started to raise funds to rent a larger room for the meetings. With what success will be reported in the future.

At the last meeting held, Mrs. Senator Gibson read a highly interesting paper upon the Servant question and addressed to housekeepers. There are some valuable suggestions in it as might be expected from her pen, and the GAZETTE will give the same in full next week. Miss Powell read a scholarly paper upon the progress of mankind, and Mrs. Norris read one of Miss Nannie Cox's charming little stories entitled The Unfinished Game of Cards, after which Mrs. Betts recited that inimitable toast given by Mark Twain to the Baby.

At a meeting of the ladies' committee on Thursday, it was decided to hold the Art Loan Exhibition on Aug. 27, 28 and 29 at Mrs. Todd's, Railroad Ave., hours from 10 to 12 a. m. and from 5 to 10 p. m. Refreshments will also be served and music and other attractions will be added. A small charge will be made at the door and all the proceeds will go toward the Library which is in much need for ready money. The citizens of Easton should not permit such an organization as this to suffer for want of support. On next Thursday evening there will be another literary treat at the library rooms.

ALL READY FOR WORK.

The Queen Anne's Railroad Organized And Active Steps Taken To Begin The Work.

Formal steps were taken Wednesday towards the construction of the Queen Anne's Railroad. Sufficient capital has been subscribed to build the line.

Contracts will be awarded for building the road in sections. It is proposed to let the contract for the first section extending 23 miles from Queenstown east to Denton, within the next ten days. For this purpose a committee, composed of Messrs. John S. Gibbs, Wesley M. Oler and Henry C. Matthews, was appointed to examine bids and award the contract.

The new road will put Baltimore within about eighty-five miles, by water and rail, of the ocean and will pass through a rich and growing portion of the State. Queenstown will be its western terminus and Lewes, Del., fifty-five miles distant, the eastern terminus. A short branch will be built from Lewes to Rehoboth Beach. From Queenstown a line of steamers will connect with Baltimore.

The road will traverse Queen Anne's, Talbot and Caroline counties, in Maryland, and Sussex county, in Delaware. On or near it will be Queenstown, Wye Mills, Hillsborough Denton, Ridgeville, Georgetown, Greenwood Ellendale, Milton, Lewes and Rehoboth Beach.

General Assembly of Maryland.

The General Assembly of Maryland is composed of 117 members—26 Senators and 91 Delegates. At the election next November all of the Delegates and fourteen Senators are to be elected. This body will elect a U. S. Senator from the Eastern Shore to succeed C. H. Gibson, whose term will expire March 3, 1897. Thirteen of the State Senators to be elected this fall will take part in the appointment of the Western Shore Senator in 1898 to succeed Mr. A. P. Gorman, whose term will expire March 3, 1899.

One of the State Senators to be elected, that from Harford county, is to fill the unexpired term of Mr. J. Baker, who resigned. This Senator will serve but a single term.

The State Senators elected in 1893 who will sit in the session of 1898, are as follows: Sloan of Allegany, Bruce of the second district of Baltimore city, Smith of Caroline, Crothers of Cecil, Carrico of Charles, Johnson of Dorchester, Ravenscroft of Garret, Talbott of Montgomery, Bowie of Prince George's, Wilkinson of St. Mary's, Tilghman of Talbot, and John Walter Smith of Worcester. Of these twelve Sloan, Ravenscroft and Wilkinson are republicans.

Products of Our Waters.

The diamond-back terrapin (Malacoclemmys palmatus), in colonial times fed to cattle and swine, but now the delight of epicures, is found in salt water along the entire eastern coast from New England to Texas. It is most abundant and of greater delicacy, however, in the lower half of the submerged country fringing most of the sounds and tidal rivers of the Chesapeake bay. The terrapin, of which there are many species, is at home both on land and in water and the turtles are also plentiful. The oyster which holds the premier position of the water products, gives ample proofs of the fertility of the Chesapeake bay. Many hundred million bushels of oysters have been taken from the waters, and this inconceivably vast amount of delicate, nutritious food has been a natural harvest, and one yielded without the aid of man. The Indian knew of the oyster and appreciated the flavors of those found on different sounds and in the several rivers, and the oyster roasts and clam bakes are but a survival of the feasts over which presided Uttapoinga ssinean, the first emperor of all the Indian tribes inhabitant of the Maryland colony.—News.

Maryland Day.

Maryland has made application to President Collier of the Cotton States and International Exposition for a special day for this State. A commission for Maryland has been appointed by the Governor of the State, and the Maryland people will be on hand en masse at the Exposition. Baltimore is actively pushing the matter, and will demonstrate to the world at the Atlanta Fair the varied manufacturing enterprises that have made her the great city that she is.

Trinity's Garden Party.

The ladies of Trinity M. E. Church, South will give a garden party on the evenings of Thursday and Friday of next week, Aug. 8 and 9, on the lawn of the Hotel Avon, Dover street side. Refreshments will be served for the benefit of the new church. This effort should secure the support of the community. During the evenings music will be rendered by an orchestra.

Built A New Stable.

Mr. John Seemer has erected a large addition to his livery stable on Harrison Street which now gives him abundant room for the conduct of his business. The addition is about as large as the origional stable, two stories high and fitted with water and electri light.

TALBOT'S SUMMER VISITORS.

Many Of The Water Site Farm Houses Filled With Guests.

One of our Delaware exchanges wants to know why the farmers of that state do not follow the practice of their Maryland neighbors in taking summer boarders.

This is something of which Talbot is justly proud. Many hundred visitors are now enjoying the pleasant cooling breezes, the healthful food, and general advantages of our waterside towns and farms.

Talbot is having an unprecedented number of summer boarders, from Baltimore and other points who find fresh country air, milk and vegetables just to their liking and the simple country life in healthful contrast to their usual habit of life in the city. And the farmers and their wives find the innovation a very profitable one.

There is no more beautiful section of the country than that surrounding Easton. There are pretty and comfortable homes, thrifty housewives and good cooks, and the well to-do city residents seeking a place of of rest, could scarcely find a more delectable spot to bring their families for a month or two.

To be sure many a farm house home is filled with visitors all summer but not of the paying sort. The city cousins with their pretty airs that they often befuddle the plain farmer lad, are not generally very profitable summer guests, and the farmer's wife who has a hankering for a bank account, cannot afford to be too hospitiable.

There is many a tired man or woman who longs for just the life to be found here, and would pay any reasonable price to get away from the maddening crowd, and rusticate on a farm. The farms are here, with every other good thing belonging to them, "yellow legged chickens" not the least of them, and our farmers, who find crops unsatisfactory, might do well to try this.

A DAY AT RATCLIFFE.

Picknickers Enjoy The Hospitality Of The Shades of This Ancient Place.

Through the kindness of Senator and Mrs. Gibson, Trinity Cathedral Sunday School and congregation were entertained on the lawn of "Ratcliffe" Wednesday.

Quite a large number were present, each one receiving great attention from the Senator and Mrs. Gibson.

Mrs. Gibson is indeed a charming hostess. She was kind in showing the interesting house. It was built over, a hundred and eighty years ago, and many pieces of the handsome furniture are two hundred years old.

The rooms are all so quaint and as nothing has ever been altered in all these years, an air of "ye olden times" pervades it. Mrs. Gibson has so many pieces of unique and handsome brie-a-brac, even to a dainty little cup and saucer used by the father of our country and his family so many years ago.

The set that the cup matches is in a glass case at Mount Vernon. Every one present enjoyed the daily bathing, rowing and sailing was indulged in to the utmost and refreshments were welcome whenever served.

At six o'clock p. m., nothing but the remains of the feast were left, and everybody departed feeling greatly indebted to their kind host and hostess for a day so delightfully spent.

WYE CAMP MEETING.

Opened Tuesday Evening Many Prominent Ministers Assisting.

Wye campmeeting was opened Tuesday evening of this week by Rev. W. K. Galloway, Rev. J. W. Easley, of Centreville Methodist Episcopal Church, is the pastor in charge. He will be assisted by the following ministers: Revs. Alfred Smith, E. S. Mace, C. K. Morris, Albert Chandler, J. M. Lindale, W. O. Hurst, F. E. Carpenter, I. L. Wood, E. H. Hynson, M. Hurlburd, L. W. Layfield, R. T. Coursey, Thos. Bell, Geo. W. Burke, C. W. Prettyman, Edward Norris, J. T. Timms, W. P. Compton, W. E. Avery. Rev. R. T. Coursey will be musical director, with Miss Rosa Hall organist, and Geo. W. Burke, jr., cornetist.

A large number of Eastonians go to Wye Camp every season, and this year will be no exception to the rule.

It is expected that fully a hundred and fifty will go from Easton tomorrow. The liverymen have had teams engaged for weeks ahead.

The bussmen will take parties for one dollar the round trip, and many wagon parties have been arranged.

The adventuresome wheelmen will make the trip on their bikes, and in fact, every possible means of getting to Wye, will be used tomorrow.

The journey is a long and tiresome one, and the way to escape the heat and fatigue is to start early and thus arrive before the heat of the day.

Camp Meetings Last Sunday.

Chilton's Methodist Protestant campmeeting in Caroline county, was largely attended Sunday. Rev. W. M. Poisal, of Easton, was the preacher of the morning; Rev. Dr. T. H. Lewis, of Western Maryland College, in the afternoon, and Rev. J. L. Straughn, of Harrington in the evening.

Concord Methodist Episcopal camp-meeting, probably the largest camp on the Peninsula, was largely attended. The meetings began Saturday evening. Revs. W. J. Dubaday, D. A. Foard and G. R. Neese had charge. Those who assisted during this week are Revs. W. E. Avery, D. D., W. L. White, C. W. Prettyman, H. C. Turner, E. F. Carpenter, L. E. Poole, E. H. Collins, Dr. Williams and B. H. Adams.

Bicycle Song.

Oh Bessie has bought her a bonnet of red,
And started afoot for the ball;
And never was minding a word that I said,
Or looking about for my call.
Quit mourning, quit mourning, good Mother, I say;
She maybe will linger to talk on the way
I'll follow the truant as well as I may,
And catch her whatever befall.

Oh Bessie has bought her a bonnet of blue,
And started to ride to the ball;
She's taken the speediest horse that she knew,
The swiftest that stood in the stall.
Quit mourning, good Mother, it might have been worse;
There's many a mount that is better than hers;
I'll follow her closely with saddle and purse,
And catch her what ever befall.

Oh Bessie has bought her a coat and a cap,
And started to wheel to the ball,
With only a bit of a skirt for a lap,
And bloomers distressingly small!
Keep mourning, good Mother: your sobbings repeat;
For whether her going be tardy or fleet,
I never should know her, if her I should meet;
We're lucky to catch her at all!

NIAGARA FALLS.

$10 Tours via Pennsylvania Railroad.

In all the wide range of creation there is nothing which approaches Niagara Falls in magnificence or grandeur, nor any other object which inspires the beholder with such awe-inspiring wonder. One must see the great cataract in order to form any conception of its vastness or secure a proper appreciation of its majesty.

The series of tours arranged by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, leaving Philadelphia July 18, August 1 and 15, September 7, and October 8, and Washington and Baltimore July 25, August 8 and 22, September 7, and October 8, affords an excellent opportunity to make the trip at a remarkably small expense.

The rate for round-trip tickets, good for ten days, is $10 from Philadelphia, Washington, and Baltimore, and proportionate rates from other points.

A special train of Pullman parlor cars and day coaches will be run on each of the above named dates, and a tourist agent and chaperon will accompany each tour—in fact, everything will be done to make the trip attractive and pleasurable.

The tickets will also permit of stopoff at Watkins and Rochester in each direction, and at Buffalo on the return trip.

For specific rates and time of trains application should be made to ticket agents or to Tourist Agent, Room 411, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

My little boy, when two years of age, was taken very ill with bloody flux. I was advised to use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and luckily procured part of a bottle. I carefully read the directions and gave it accordingly. He was very low, but slowly and surely he began to improve, gradually recovered, and is now as stout and strong as ever. I feel sure it saved his life. I never can praise the Remedy half its worth. I am sorry every one in the world does not know how good it is, as I do. —Mrs. Lina S. Hinton, Grahamsville, Marion Co., Florida. For sale by H. Roberts, Easton, A. D. Harrison, St. Michaels, J. F. Sisk, Cordova.

First Shown In Talbot.

The Original Harvesting Machine In 1836.

WAS EXHIBITED AT EASTON.

Used On The Farm Of Tench Tilghman A Committee Of Talbot Gentlemen Passed On Its Merits, Etc.

It is a fact known to but few that the first original reaper made was in Hagerstown, and exhibited for the first time at Oxford and Easton. This fact is recalled by a recent article republished in the Hagerstown Herald.

A few people may still be living who remember that the Hussey Harvester was made in Hagerstown as early as 1837. Obed Hussey, the inventor, who lived at Cincinnati, appears to have come here himself to give his personal attention to the manufacture of the machines, says the Hagerstown Herald.

In the issue of the Herald of April 20, 1837, appears an advertisement by Hussey and a report of "The Board of the Maryland Agricultural Society of the Eastern Shore" on the machine. It recites that the Board had furnished the motive power, and the report says that they worked it with as much ease as if it were "a drag harrow."

In its essential features the reaper has changed but little since these exhibitions were given in the harvest of 1836, and the description of the machine given by the highly intelligent committee would pass for a description of the reaper, as it now exists, except that the self-binder with its various attachments has been added.

The report is signed by gentlemen who were prominent in their day and generation including Robert H. Goldsborough, Samuel Stevens, Samuel T. Kennard, Robert Banning, Nicholas Goldsborough, Samuel Hambleton, Sr., Michael Goldsborough, E. N. Hambleton, Horatio L. Edmondson and Tench Tilghman.

The fame of this wonderful machine rapidly spread and Talbot county received a name and reputation for progressiveness that has never left it.

We have in our possession an analque book published in January, 1304. It is called Monitors' Instructor and was edited by one Jas. Iddings. It was written to aid the young in mastering the science of Geography in connection with an outline map. The following is taken from the chapter on Maryland and will give to our readers some notes for comparison.

It speaks of Easton and Talbot in flattering terms and brings to notice that it was here that the first harvesting machine was exhibited.

High up Third-Haven, in its prong,
You see the town of Easton rise,
Increasing fast in trade and size.
Easton's the largest town we find
To the peninsula assign'd.....
A flourishing and lively place,
And clothed with elegance and taste,
A capitol presents to view,
And spacious, elegant and new.
The stores in thick succession stand,
Along the street, on either hand....
With merchandize assorted well,
Best calculated here to sell.
With beef their market's well supplied....
With foul.....and num'rous fish beside.....
If fond of crabs in any way,
Be sure be here on market-day.....
Here's roast and boil'd, and some that crawl,
To suit the various tastes of all.
Among the people of the place
We see a pleasant, modest grace.....
Here's many a cheek with rosey die,
And lily breast and speaking eye.....
Who need no paint to recommend,
Since nature's generous, skilful hand
The form it made has painted fair,
Exceeding art, with all her care.
By physical and other aid,
The best whereof may here be had,
Those few complaints of local kind
That've latterly somewhat declined:
Here's men of a protracted age,
As well as youth upon the stage,
Who look as well, in gen'ral, too,
As those of other places do,
'Tis here that also may be seen
That well-constructed, grand machine,
For threshing out the golden grain:
And tho' but recently disclos'd
It answers well the end propos'd.
All ye successful farmers, who
Your interest moderately pursue,
In this machine ye need not fear....
'Twill, nearly, save its cost per year.
If our small treatise it would suit
To be a little more minute,
We might particularly state
Its simple process and the rate,
But, not to vary our design,
Must hence conclude the thing in fine;
And first, to estimate your gain,
You almost save each single grain,
Clean is your straw and chaff to use,
You scarce a single atom loose.....
Its expedition, and its force
So great ...you save much time of course.
'Tis not a guess in miniature,
But realized, ...the thing is sure.
If interested you'd know,
To Dr. Moore and Yarnal go...
Proprietors, as we may say,
For chief of the peninsula.
'Tis here we too in gen'ral find
Affections open.....generous.....kind;
Where jealousy's dark clouded brow,
Grac'd with a stiff and formal bow,
But seldom here, as passing by,
Affectedly, salutes the eye;
And sect'ries of a diff'rent class,
Ne'er jostle other as they pass,
But on life's stage, in friendship's band
Together travel, hand in hand.
His faith I love, if, when practis'd,
True charity is realiz'd.
They mostly trade with Baltimore,
Across the bay on th' other shore.
Two rivers small as Miles and Wye,
We'll barely name, and pass them by.
The next, from hence not very far,
Another comes from Delaware,
The Chester River this we call,
Which in the Chesapeake doth fall.
Not quite as far its waters run
As Choptank the last mention'd one.

New York Fashion Letter.

Madame La Mode displays a tendency to revive the fashions of Louis XVI. These fancies appear in the redingote gowns with the fronts cut away to show a vest of flowered fabric. Old fashioned fichus and wide brimmed hats complete the gowns copied from this epoch. All varieties of Louis XVI. coats appear, made of satin, silk, flowered velvet and lace. Costumes of white alpaca will be much worn during mid-summer at the seashore and mountains. Evening silks with Pompadour colors are exceedingly popular, and for afternoon gowns figured lawn and India muil, trimmed with insertions of yellow lace are decorated with chiffon boas and fancy girdles of ribbon and flowers. Wash costumes this season are more in vogue than ever. Beautiful morning dresses are made of French gingham, fancy linen duck and pique. The large collar over the shoulder is seen everywhere. It constitutes the regular collar of the cotton tailor gown and outing dresses. It decorates in an adjustable form fancy silk bodices and is seen also outside of heavy cloth jackets. Its material is varied, ranging from tulle and lace to grass cloth, duck, silk and velvet. Many of the new skirts are box pleated and accordion pleated, and all the sleeves voluminous.

Yellow lace is used upon every costume of whatever style or color. It trims the yoke, sleeves, collar fichu, and in some cases the skirt. Of all the Fashion Magazines at hand we find the popular McDowell Journals most replete in practical information.

Watching a Big Steam Plow.

The coming of a large steam plow engine into the town of Catonsville Monday was greeted by hundreds of the residents. The engine was placed at the lower end of the town and the work of plowing up the pike for the electric railroad was begun. Crowds of small children, men and women, gathered about the sidewalks and lounged on the grass, watching the progress of the work. The centre of attraction was the large iron plow used to cut up the pike. Eight large colored men were employed to hold this plow in the ground while the engine did the pulling. Frequently the plow struck a large boulder in its course and then all eight men were pitched up in the air. Every time this happened the crowd of onlookers applauded. Rapid progress is being made by the men working on the city end of the line. The track has been laid for 400 feet.

ITEMS FROM TRAPPE

And Interesting News Letter From Our Enterprising Correspondent.

The "Lexow" committee, having succeeded to a great extent in purifying New York, should give Trappe and possibly other parts of Talbot county, the benefit of their experience. As an instance of the need of such an investigation we quote the following: "A certain democratic office-holder, who has the disagreeable habit of getting "crooked," is engaged in the mercantile business here. It became known to the proper officials some time since that he was conducting the said business without a license, and a search of the resources showed that he had neglected this slight formality for the past two years. As yet he is allowed to go on undisturbed, and we ask why it is. Has he a "pull" with "Tammany?" A firm doing business here has threatened to prosecute the officer whose duty it is to look into such matters, but these threats fall lightly upon him. We simply give these facts, which are known to everyone here, to show what class of men the democratic voters are asked to support this fall.

We had intended to pay our respects to both the "Ledger" and "Democrat" for their excellent and accurate report of the convention last week, but space forbids. Probably the "Ledger" reporter was disgusted because his suggestions as to officers of the convention were not acted on. The "Democrat" "wanted to give a fair and accurate account," but we suppose changed its mind and "howled" because the "Ledger" did. Nevertheless the ticket nominated is one that every Republican can consistently support and elect next November.

Mr. Jno. F. Turner, of this town, is a candidate for Judge of the Orphans' Court on the Prohibition ticket. Mr. Turner is now known as "Judge", and says, if elected, he will—but wait till he is elected. Before the convention we called the attention of the Prohibitionists to the fact that the Republican ticket, straight through, was composed of strictly temperate men, and suggested that they endorse it and save the trouble of nominating a ticket. But very few people will take good advice.

We notice that the Trappe correspondent of the "Democrat" says that Editor Highley is an applicant for the position of collector of taxes for this district, in the event of the election of Mr. R. J. Dawson as commissioner. Mr. Highley says it is news to him, but well, we guess he wouldn't decline it. Still he would not lie awake at night figuring up his commissions, as Messrs. McNeal, Trax, and Thompson will manage county affairs for a few years, and probably will not appoint him to succeed Mr. Dawson.

The Baltimore Dredging Co., will finish the government work here in a few days and leave for Seaford. The greater part of the work has been done near the wharf and there is ample room now for the large steamers. Before leaving they will complete some work for Jenkins & Kirty, who have built a substantial and roomy wharf at their canning house.

Miss S. M. Leonard and Mrs. W. H. Messick are spending some time at Ocean Grove. During the camp-meeting there Trappe will be represented by Mr. Jno. F. Mullikin and wife, Mr. Chas. F. Mullikin and wife, Mrs. Mary A. Jenkins, Miss Ella Armstrong and Miss Phoebe Jenkins.

Quite an enjoyable dance was given by the young men of the town in the hall Friday night, in honor of a number of visiting ladies. Music was furnished by Easton talent.

A scrub nine of this town played the Oxford club a game of ball on Sunday afternoon. Four innings were played and the score was 22 to 21, in favor of Oxford.

Miss Ardie A. Barnes, who has been quite sick for the past week is able to be up. Her sister, Mrs. Mrs. H. B. Bruce is no better.

Miss Laura Sullivan expects to leave this week for a month's visit to the family of Rev. W. L. Dolly, in Virginia.

Mr. T. A. Lloyd, Baltimore, spent Sunday in town.

Mrs. Mary A. Mullikin has returned to Baltimore.

Mrs. Margaret Jones and daughter Miss Lulu Jones are visiting Mrs. Susan Schuyler.

Rev. E. S. Fooks, M. P. Church, Mardela Springs, Va., gave an instructive sermon in the M. E. Church, South, on Sunday evening.
