You Wear a Hat!

Of course you do. Do you wear one that becomes you—feels comfortable on your head and costs you a mere song? No! Well surely you have not bought one out of the new lot we have just opened, for if you had done so you would declare that we fill all the requirements. Our hats are up to date in style, quality and price, and we can say the same in every particular

About Our Footwear.

We have this advantage in our business which others do not possess—ALL OUR GOODS ARE ENTIRELY NEW, and consequently the styles are of the newest too. Now about our SHOE Department, we have but this to say—favor us with a call and examine them, and we will prove your benefactor.

All Well Dressed Men

Are particular about their Neckwear, they can't be suited with the ordinary run of ties found in country towns. We have recognized this and have received a fine line of beautiful SCARFS, TIES, etc., which were made to order for us. The styles this Fall are very decided both in shape and color and to be appreciated must be seen. Remember that we are headquarters for Men's and Boys' Furnishings.

Wedding Near Easton

Mr. A. Leondas Gardner and Miss Ida F. Swartz, both of this vicinity, were quietly married at bride's home near Easton on Tuesday evening by Dr. Walter E. Avery, pastor of the M. E. Church to which the bride and groom belong.

The wedding was a surprise to all but the intimate friends of the couple, it not being known until after the ceremony had been performed.

Mr. Gardner is a popular young man, well known in Easton, having been connected with the firm of J. F. Shannahan for many years.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. Leonard Swartz, a prominent farmer residing a mile or so from town, and is much loved by all who know her. She is an earnest worker in the M. E. Church and all its branches. The party took the boat for points north.

ON THE DEATH ROLL

One Of Easton's Most Estimable Ladies Passes To Her Eternal Rest

Mrs. Deborah Cornelia Dawson, wife of the late Mordecai Dawson, died late Friday evening last at her home on Dover street. Mrs. Dawson died of bronchinal pneumonia, after an illness of nearly three weeks, and was in the 73d year of her age.

Of six children, two, Miss Josie P. Dawson and Mrs. Wm H. Adkins, survive her. She also leaves two grandchildren, O. Kenneth Byerly and Leonard Dawson Adkins, and two sisters, Mrs. Susan H. Dawson, of St. Michaels, and Mrs. Josephine Owings, Baltimore.

Mrs. Dawson was universally known in Easton, having been engaged in many charitable works and enterprises all her life. She was the Precident of the Union Dorcas Society, whose numerous good deeds are so well known, and was one of its original members. She was Vice President of the Home for Friendless Children, for a number of years its Corresponding Secretary, and one of its managers ever since its institution. She was an ardent member of the congregation worshipping at the Cathedral, and an active and earnest worker in the various enterprises connected with it. Those who knew her best, loved her most; and to many she was another mother, for her large mother heart was ever ready to respond to the calls of the afflicted and distressed.

Mrs. Dawson's funeral took place from the Cathedral Monday, at 12 o'clock noon, the Very Rev. George C. Sutton, D. D., Dean, officiating. The service was largely attended by the sorrowing relatives and friends, and her mortal remains were taken to Spring Hill Cemetery and interred by the side of her husband. The pall bearers were Dr. J. E. M. Chamberlaine, Dr. J. A. Johnson, Messrs. R. B. Dixon, Wm. R. Martin, P. B. Spring and Dr. Martin.

Mrs. Wilson Seriously Hurt.

Mrs. Mary E. S. Wilson, widow of the late Dr. W. G. G. Wilson, met with a painful accident Sunday night at her home near Royal Oak, which nearly resulted fatally.

She is a good horsewoman and has heretofore successfully handled fractious animals. One which she has been driving recently is a young mule. Sunday afternoon she went to the stable and the mule became enraged for some cause and attacked her with its fore feet. She was knocked down, and when found a quarter of an hour later by a member of the family, she was unconscious and remained in that condition for about 12 hours.

Dr. S. C. Trippe was summoned, and it was found that both bones of her left forearm were broken, her jaw bone was fractured, and there were other bruises and cuts on the head and face.

The Reason Why.

For some weeks past we have received complaints from some of our Easton subscribers that they had not received the GAZETTE and we were at loss to explain the matter, as the greatest care is taken in the distribution of papers to the proper persons.

Last Saturday an early riser saw a colored woman going down Washington street and take the papers from the doorways, having a number under her arm. He reported it to the office and measures were at once taken that the matter should not occur again. The woman, whoever she was, evidently did not know that the papers belonged where she found them and perhaps thought they had been blown about the streets and therefore took possession.

Any reader not receiving the paper will confer a favor by promptly reporting it to us.

Chesapeake Bay Yacht Club.

The Chesapeake Bay Yacht Club, which was reported in certain Easton papers some time ago, as about to move the club headquarters to the old bank building on Dover and Harrison streets, have re-rented the same rooms that they have occupied since its founding, over W. C. Hughes's drug store. In addition to that the rooms over Dawson & Jenkins' have been rented and connecting doors put in. A billiard table will be placed in one of them. Workmen have been repairing the building inside and out, and the club is now most comfortably situated.

Commissioners Lost the Case.

The Caroline Court adjourned Tuesday afternoon and Judges Wickes and Stump left for their homes. The jury which was, on Saturday last, empaneled to try the damage case against the Commissioners of Talbot county on Tuesday returned a verdict for the plaintiff, Mrs. Anna Lee, for $1,000. The counsel for the commissioners, ex-Comptroller Turner and ex-State Treasurer Brown, immediately made a motion for a new trial and argument was heard.

Amusement For The Winter.

Plans are being discussed by members of Avon Cycle Club for a series of entertainments for the amusement of the club during the winter. An orchestra will probably be formed, and a literary and entertainment committee appointed to arrange debates, etc.

This plan is a good and commendable one and will doubtless be adopted at the next meeting.

Democrats Bowed the Knee To The Great "Pue."

GORMAN'S VILLIFICATIONS.

Good Democrats Turn Away Disgusted With The Powwow. Hurst Reads His Speech.

On last Saturday the Gormanites held their mass meeting in Easton. The weather was not of the finest, but still quite a number of the worshippers of the boss came to town to see their idol. Indeed whilst some came on business, and some came to eat at the barbecue, yet the great number seemed to have come only to get a sight of the man who drove and whipped them wherever wished. They had never seen him before and wanted to see what manner of man he was.

And they saw and they heard.

But the boss did not speak first himself as everyone expected. He put up "his man Hurst" who is NOT to be the next Governor of Maryland. And Mr. Hurst made a speech: it did not last long; there was'nt such an enormous display of enthusiasm, and the speech which was all written out and read by the speaker, was the same old story he has been telling all over the State, the kind which has had the effect of making the bosses loose their heads, so the Sun says.

After the gubernatorial aspirant had finished his little speech, ex-Senator Butler, of S. C., took the stand. It will be remembered that this is the same man who was so badly beaten for reelection last year by Gov. Tillman, the Populist, and he will not return to the Senate again; rather a bird of ill omen to the Gormanites.

Be that as it may, however, the Senator got up and although Gorman is not an issue in the campaign, and although this is not the time to down Gorman, so Gorman says, yet Senator Butler devoted all his time to eulogizing the boss and telling how Gorman had saved the country from ruin and disaster, how Gorman had not delayed any legislation, how Gorman had always the interest of the people at heart, and how Gorman didn't like sugar at all.

Indeed the picture that Butler drew of this great good and virtuous boss, who was being so unmercifully persecuted and so much wrongly abused, was enough to draw tears from a rock. Having thus prepared the way the speaker sat down, and the junior senator from Maryland was so affected by the vindication that he could not refrain from rushing across the stage to congratulate Mr. Butler. And the Senator reached the height of self sacrifice when he said that all the trouble in the Senate ought to be laid at his door and that he would bear the burden if the people just would'nt accuse Gorman.

And then came the climax—the Boss himself.

The people did expect something great from the great boss in the way of a speech. He looked so dignited, so meek and so humble. To be sure they had been disappointed a few nights before when another U. S. Senator, not a hundred miles from here, had essayed to speak, but they did not expect his tory to repeat itself so soon.

But lo and behold. Instead of a dignified, intelligent discussion of the issues of the campaign, this great(?) man so far forgot himself and his position to indulge in vituperation and abuse of the very party to which in earlier days when there was something in it for him, he had belonged. And then he (forgetting that he was not an issue in the campaign) condescended to explain and apologize and entreat the people not to believe ALL the bad things the people said about him.

He assured his hearers that he was all right and promised them, with a look that bode no good to the purity of the ballot this year, that he'd see that Maryland went Democratic this year.

But this did not suffice, he must needs appeal to race prejudices, and spoke of the "Black Republican Party" and "Lowndes' Black Brigade" and sneered at the colored race, when he (Gorman) did not deem it beneath him to hold office under Abraham Lincoln, who had freed them. And so he went on, lowering himself in the eyes of men who had some little respect for him before, touching upon no question of government, contenting himself with a speech which was more worthy a cross roads politician than a U. S. Senator.

He forgot that the war was over and went to the "grave-yard of dead issues" and dragged forth the corpses he found there and shook the bones in the faces of the people of this county. No wonder they were disgusted: no wonder that intelligent democrats came away sickened by the talk they had heard; no wonder the speech lost the Gorman ticket votes; no wonder that intelligent democrats characterized it as "rot" and used only to deceive the ignorant; no wonder republicans were delighted and smiled broadly, and want the little man to come down and talk to us again.

When he got through Mr. Crothers attempted to talk, but it was no go. The crowd had had enough of beef and Gormanism for one day, and with one accord went sorrowfully home.

And thus the great Gormanite powwow closed in Easton.

THE NEW RAILROAD.

The Depot In Easton Will Be Located Just Back Of Music Hall.—Some Particulars.

The Report of the Queen anne's Railroad, now in course of construction, a branch of which will run to Easton, has been issued, and in addition to a map of the route of the road, it contains descriptions of all the towns and villages through which it will pass.

It is a complete resume of the country, physical condition, cost of road and traffic for the line. Its description of Easton is as follows:

Easton, the county seat of Talbot county, situated about one mile from the Tred Avon river, is the centre of the richest section of the Eastern Shore, the land lying high and affording perfect natural drainage.

The assessed value of property is $2,500,000, and the population numbers more than 4,000.

It is in the midst of one of the richest fruit growing sections of the Eastern Shore, and with quick railroad facilities a large trade can be established with Baltimore.

The live and progressive character of the place is marked by all the modern improvements; the streets and many of the business houses are lighted by electricity, while an excellent system of water works, in connection with the fire department, gives ample protection to property.

The streets are macadamized with shells and the sidewalks well paved with brick.

It possesses, also, many excellent schools, both private and public; eight churches, four newspapers, a first-class hotel, two banks, and many large manufacturing plants, three large canning factories, employing 400 hands two phosphate, three carriage, shirt, ice and broom factories, three flouring mills, a large creamery, and the Peerless Machine Works.

There are also at this point some of the best equipped mercantile houses south of Baltimore, and the jobbing and retail trades centering here make it the most important place on the peninsula.

A Board of Trade with a large membership including many of the leading merchants of the town, is a marked characteristic of its wealth and importance.

The town itself, however, is distant from the steamboat landing about one mile, which necessitates a transfer by "bus" at a charge of 50 cts. a round trip. The depot of the proposed railroad will be located within two blocks of the Town Hall.

If your children are subject to croup watch for the first symptom of the disease—hoarseness. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse it will prevent the attack. Will Be The People's Day.

When The Next Governor Will Be In Easton.

NEXT TUESDAY AFTERNOON

The State Candidates And Other Distinguished Orators Will Address The Meeting, Etc.

Next Tuesday will be the day of all days in the history of political meetings in Easton. The grand Republican Mass Meeting will be held on that day in the Easton Opera House, at 2 o'clock. A brass band will be in attendance and furnish music.

HON. LLOYD LOWNDES,
The next Governor of Maryland.

This meeting will most assuredly attract a large attendance of anti-Gorman voters, both Republican and anti-Gorman Democrats.

Some of the very best political speakers in the State will be present, and will be chosen from among the following eminent Republicans: Hons. Henry V. D. Jones, Wm. H. Marine, W. W. McIntire, Geo. M. Russum, Henry Stockbridge, George R. Gaither, Chas. T. Westcott, and P. L. Goldsborough.

Hon. Lloyd Lowndes, candidate for Governor, will be the principal speaker, also Hon. Robert P. Graham candidate for comptroller and Hon. Harry M. Clabaugh, candidate for Attorney General.

The general interest in the defeat of the ring ticket will cause many to come out to hear these speakers and at the same time get acquainted with the next Governor of Maryland.

This event will be well worth a trip from the remotest parts of the county.

Mr. Lowndes is greeted by large crowds wherever he appears throughout the State. The people are interested in the coming Governor.

Mr. Lowndes and his associates on the State ticket will speak at St. Michaels in Harrison's Hall, Saturday evening, the people of that town almost in a body asking that the future governor visit them and expound the truth.

While the candidates are at St. Michaels at night a number of prominent orators will speak in Music Hall in Easton at 8 p. m.

Seats will be reserved for ladies.

A BIT OF QUAINT HISTORY.

An Interesting Letter Written in 1771, And Now in Possession Of Col. Oswald Tilghman.

The custom of Governors and other dignitaries and candidates attending county fairs and races is not of very recent origin in Maryland, says the Baltimore Sun.

In June 1771, there were races at Oxford, this county, and following is an exact copy of a letter referring to them and to the fact of Governor Eden being there, written by Matthew Tilghman, who was then a plain county farmer in Talbot, but who afterwards became the celebrated revolutionary patriot, his daughter, Mrs. Carroll, wife of Charles Carroll, barrister, of Mount Clare, who was then in London. The letter is copied in its entirety, as it is all interesting.

June 15, 1771.

"My Dear Child: We have had the satisfaction once to hear that you were spoke with at sea and all well, and we have the pleasure of being fully persuaded that you are now safe in London, where I hope you will meet with every advantage and every enjoyment you may have in view. Dick and Peggy are comfortably, if not advantageously, fixed at Tuckahoe, where we have all been to see them, and we have been at Oxford races, which were honored by the company of the Governor and Mrs. Eden and Miss Darby. Our la dies gazed, but except a very few did not approach. W. H., (William Hayward), J. D., (John Dickenson,) H. H., (Henry Hollyday) and W. Thomas had the pleasure of entertaining the grandees, and much bustle there was. Nanny and I made a short visit to W. Hayward's, and are to be honored the next time of coming over as much as we could expect.

"In a letter we shall be expecting to hear from you. I wrote Charles by way of Philadelphia Coffee to a report about Lloyd, but he has since a letter from Annapolis; my wonder the report was groundless. Thank God we are all well and join most heartily in prayer for your health and happiness. I pray God prosper you, and remain, with the greatest tenderness, your aff. father,

"MAT. TILGHMAN."

"Mrs. Margaret Carroll, in London."

This letter is in the possession of Colonel Oswald Tilghman, of Easton. Mrs. Carroll is buried in St. Ann's church-yard, Annapolis, a quaint sarcophagus marks her grave.

Governor Eden was a man of striking personal appearance, tall, handsome and of exquisite manners. He entertained royally and was very popular in the colony until, when the spirit of Independence swept the State, his loyalty to the King of England made him obnoxius to the Maryland patriots, and he was hustled from the executive chair. The county seat of Caroline county had been named for him. Edenton, but after the Declaration of Independence the E was dropped to show the aversion that was felt to the loyalist course of the Governor, and it became plain Denton, as it has since remained.

THE OCTOBER EGISTRATION.

It Is Almost As Large As The September Sitting.—An Array Of Figures

In the first and second precincts of the Easton District there were 71 newly registered, white, and 48 colored. In the two precincts, there are 56 white removals and 50 colored removals. In the third precinct of Easton District there are 21 white newly registered, and 7 colored newly registered, and 9 white removals and 7 colored removals.

In St. Michaels District, first, second and third precincts there are 63 white newly registered. 23 colored newly registered, and 18 white removals and 11 colored removals.

Trappe District first and second precincts has 58 white newly registered and 45 colored newly registered. In white removals the figures are 35 and 22 colored removals.

Chapel District has 45 white newly registered and 41 colored newly registered. In removals there are 35 white and 15 colored.

Bay Hundred District, first and second precincts there are 40 white newly registered and 7 colored newly registered. There are 11 white removals and 3 colored. In the second precinct there are no newly registered colored voters.

Wedding At Trappe.

One of the prettiest weddings seen in Trappe for a long time was that of Mr. Percival Mullikin and Miss Ardie Barnes, which was celebrated on Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at St. Paul's P. E. Church, the Rev. J. W. Chesley officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Joseph Barnes Esq., of Cambridge Ferry, and is well and favorably known throughout the county by a large host of friends. Mr. Mullikin is an ex-postmaster at Trappe, and was an assistant postmaster in Easton under the last administration. He is a most excellent young man, and won many friends by his kind and courteous manner to all.

Dr. L. D. Kelly of Easton was the best man and the ushers were Dr. J. L. McCormick, of Baltimore, Dr. W. S. Seymour, C. H. Kemp and Harry Sewell of Trappe.

The bridal party took the afternoon train for a tour north, and will return on or before the 21st. when a reception will be held at the home of the brides' parents.

Unionville Item.

At a rst rally the congregation of St. Stephen's church collected $268.87, and paid off the mortgage. The people of Unionville are a willing and industrious people, their watchword is ever "forward" and whatever their hands find to do they do it with all their might.

They have now finished paying for their church which was begun under the leadership of Rev. J. B. Warner in 1892. The said property cost 1,450, which has all been paid.

They are thankful to their friends for their contributions and extend to them a cordial invitation to come and worship with them under their own "vine and fig tree."

They are now preparing to have a Jubilee the last Sunday of this month, which is the 27th. There will be special services all day.

Up To Their Old Tricks.

This Time It Is The Registration Books.

HAS MANY ILLEGAL NAMES.

Democratic Officers Refuse To Remove Illegal Names.—Will Be Taken To The Court.

The Republicans of Talbot county have again made a stand for their rights, and propose to fight the democratic ring proceedings to very last.

This time the trouble is with the registration which is filled with many names that do not belong there, and of persons who do not live in the county and have no interests, but come here every election day and help pile up votes for the democracy. Many of them are Federal employees, and there are many others who are not.

The Democratic officers of registration have kept them on the lists as voters right along, but this year the Republicans will take the proper steps to remove them. They are no longer residents of the county, the Republicans say, having moved with their families, and have lived away from here, some of them, for a number of years, and hence they have not the right to vote here.

The Republicans have fully determined that the registry books this year shall be cleared of all the illegal names, and, if no other means will accomplish it, they will ask the Circuit Court to take a hand in purging the lists.

During the registration just closed the registers were asked to remove them, but the request was declined. A similar request will be made on October 21st, when the registers sit for revision, and if the objectionable names are not stricken off the Republicans will petetion the Circuit Court to take a hand in the matter.

A number of the leading Republicans got together this week and considered this new action practiced by the Democrats, and it was decided to fight them for their rights, and they propose that the objectionable names should come off.

It has been the boast of the Democratic ring here in Talbot that they would get the best of the Republicans on the registration, but it would be well to remind them that the Republicans have also a claim regarding the election officers, and when the Republicans appealed to the court, which took prompt action in their behalf, they were only too glad to swallow those boasts, disagreeable as it was.

TO BE PRESENTED IN EASTON.

The Cantata "Geraldine" To Be Given By Local Talent For Benefit Of Mercantile Library.

The forthcoming rendition of the Fairy Cantata "Geraldine" under the composer and author's. Dr. Lowrie's direction, will doubtless enlist the good will and interest of all lovers of music and of all lovers of children.

The cantata "Geraldine" is the Doctor's latest work and music. It is a very pretty and enchanting story told in rhyme, with delightful music, interesting dialogue, beautiful tableaux and splendid drills. The "dramatic personae" will comprise at least twenty-five persons with an auxiliary force of 75 to 100 children and young people. The costumes are elegant and the "tout ensemble" such as to enlist the admiration of the most misantropic.

The cantata will doubtless be given for the benefit of the Mercantile Library.

Rehearsals will be arranged on Saturdays, and every care will be taken that other duties are not interfered with. We know we have children and young people, adults who can fill the bill, and as the Doctor gets 'round amongst our people he will find all the talent he desires. The date of its performance will be announced later on.

Dr. Lowrie is a cultured musician and is also a composer and author. He comes to us, hopine to find a pleasant location, where he may make his home and sufficient encouragement to make that location permanent.

The Doctor is a New Yorker and has spent most of his life in the art he loves. He teaches pipe organ, reed organ, piano, violin and all stringed instruments, cornet and all wind instruments, and with vocal culture teaches elocution.

It is hoped that our people will join with the Doctor in arranging this beautiful cantata. The cause is a worthy one.

AN APPRECIATED LECTURE.

Rev. L. E. Barrett, D. D. Speaks on "The Open Door Of The 20th Century" At The M. E. Church.

As announced in this paper last week the Rev. L. E. Barrett, D. D., presiding elder of the Wilmington District, lectured at Ebenezer M. E. Church Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Epworth League.

A large number of interested listeners gathered to hear him, nor were they disappointed. The Doctor's lecture was a very scholarly and learned one, and was replete with much that served to plant a thought in the hearts of his congregation.

The choir was in attendance and sang several beautiful selections, and after the conclusion of the lecture, an invitation was extended to the audience to the lower room, where the Entertainment Committee had prepared refreshments.

This was a pleasant surprise and many accepted the kind invitation, while the ladies and gentlemen of the committee served ice cream, cake, and afterwards coffee and chocolate, the Sunday School orchestra played several selections. The orchestra, though not as yet thoroughly trained, played splendidly and received warm applause.

On the whole the evening was a very successful one, and will be followed monthly by similar ones during the winter.

Anecdotes Of The Absent-Minded.

Another "absent-minded man" item has been received. This one refers to Ampere, the famous mathematician, who was noted for his absent-mindedness. On one occasion it is stated that while walking down the street he mistook the back of a cab for a blackboard, and as a blackboard was just the thing he needed at the time, to solve a problem which had been vexing his mind for some moments during his walk, he made use of it. Taking a piece of chalk out of his pocket he proceeded to trace out a number of algebraical formulæ on the cab's back, and followed the moving "board" for the space of a quarter of an hour without noticing the progress of the conveyance. As to whether the cabman charged him by the course or by the hour, or even at all, the item does not inform us.

From the same source we have the following item: They have a good joke at present on a well-known lawyer who is noted for his absent-mindedness. He went up his own stairs the other day, and seeing a notice on his own door, "Back at two," sat down to wait for himself.—Harpers Round Table.

Petitioned For A New Road.

The county Commissioners have this week, been petitioned to appoint a commission to examine as to whether the public convenience does not require a new road from the terminus of the Landaff road extended at the Oxford Neck road through the land of Reynolds, McDaniel, Mullikin and others to the Island Creek Neck Road. The petition is signed by Geo. M. Jenkins, A. Rigby Hopkins Sol. S. Hopkins, Jno. F. Mullikin, E. A. Powell, Jas. S. Chaplain, E. W. Hopkins, Nicholas Willis, Dr. T. W. Greenley Alfred Kemp, J. H. Caulk Kemp and John K. Caulk.

The Darlington, Wis., Journal says editorially of a popular patent medicine: "We know from experience that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is all that is claimed for it, as on two occasions it stopped excruciating pains and possibly saved us from an untimely grave. We would not rest easy over night without it in the house." This remedy undoubtedly saves more pain and suffering than any other medicine in the world. Every family should keep it in the house, for it is sure to be needed sooner or later. For sale by H. Roberts, Easton; A. D. Harrison, St. Michaels; J. F. Sisk, Cordova.

This Makes Six.

Another Democratic paper has made its appearance in Easton. It is called The Reflector and is an eight 11x15 inches page sheet published and edited by Wm. C. Meintzer. It is a very neat little paper, and although advocating a mistaken cause, may possibly succeed. It is published bi-weekly.

GUTTERS RAN WHISKEY.

BARRELS OF IT POURED IN THE STREETS OF EASTON.

W. H. Hassinger Buys The Corner Drug Store, And Threw The Liquor In The Streets.

The sight of several barrels of whiskey and jugs standing in front of a store on Washington street with the contents gushing out and running in streams down the gutters is a somewhat unusual sight in this town, but such was the case Thursday afternoon at the corner of Dover and Washington streets.

Mr. William H. Hassenger, formerly of Cambridge, on Thursday morning purchased the corner drug store and announced his intention of running a temperance drug store, and to show that he meant it he carried all the liquor in the store out in the road and knocked the heads in, allowing the contents to pour all over the road and run down the gutters.

A great crowd soon collected there and cheers were given with a will at the action of Mr. Hassenger.

The Prohibitionists and temperance people were elated, as were all good citizens, and many declare that it is a great good for the cause.

When the matter was known through the town crowds hurried to the store and stood around in groups talking the occurrence over. Many went inside and personally thanked Mr. Hassenger for his good deed. All in all it created more excitement here than anything has for some time.

Mr. Hassenger is from Oxford, where he has been in the drug business for some months. He is a prominent Prohibitionist, and has been in the drug business for thirty years and never used a drop of liquor.

THE SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

For the Cotton States And International Exposition, Atlanta, Ga.

The Southern Railway operates nearly five thousand miles of road in eight of the Southern States and its lines enter Atlanta Ga., from five different points of the compass. Washington D. C., is the Northern or Eastern terminus of one of its lines, which is operated in connection with the Pennsylvania Railroad "the standard railroad of America," between New York through Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, D. C., Lynchburg and Danville, Va., Greensboro and Charlotte N. C., Spartanburg and Greenville, S. C., Atlanta, Ga., Montgomery and Mobile, Ala., and New Orleans, with connection at Salisbury for Asheville, Hot Springs; Knoxville and Chattanooga, at Charlotte for Columbia, Augusta, Savannah and Jacksonville, and at Atlanta for Birmingham, Memphis, Macon and Southern Georgia. Solid vestibuled limited trains, with through day coaches, Pullman Drawing-room Sleepers and Dining-cars. Time between Washington and Atlanta, eighteen hours, without change of cars of any class.

The Southern Railway is the only line which enters and lands passengers in the Exposition Grounds, and no effort or expense has been spared by the management in the improvements of its roadbed, increasing the number of its coaches and inaugurating its own dining car service preparatory to handling expeditiously and comfortably the heavy travel to and from Atlanta during the Cotton States and International Exposition, which opens September 18 and closes December 31, 1895.

On Tuesdays and Thursdays, from September 17 to December 24, inclusive, excursion tickets will be sold from Washington, D. C., to Atlanta, Ga., at $14, good for return 10 days from date of sale.

Excursion tickets will be sold every day from September 16 until December 15, inclusive, from Washington at $19.25, good for return 20 days from date of sale, and excursion tickets for the entire Exposition season with final limit of January 7th, 1896, will be sold from September 16 until December 15, inclusive, $23.25.

Map folders furnished and Pullman Sleeping Car reservations made upon application.
