DUTY to self is a high trait of character but duty to one's neighbor is a higher.

PROF. ALEX. CHAPLAIN in this issue calls upon the colored teachers not holding certificates to be examined.

ATTEND the primaries to-dey ye Republicans who desire to be represented by worthy men at the County Convention, next Tuesday.

IF you have a desire to bring anything before the public let it be made known through the columns of the GAZETTE.

THE prohibitionists make their ticket two weeks from to-day, and on next Tuesday the Republican county ticket will be named.

JERRY SIMPSON says that Springer is the second choice of Alliance members of the House for Speaker. Poor Springer! What has he done to Jerry?

NOT a day passes but something happens within the local circulation of this paper that would be a morsel for its readers. Friends, send in the news.

THERE have been many good names mentioned for honors on the Republican ticket and no doubt the Convention next Tuesday will do its work carefully.

THE Gorman Presidential boom seems to have struck a snag, or it may be that it is temporarily lost in in the shadow of his immensity, Grover C.

A LEADING Democratic newspaper prints a half column editorial headed "Tin plate as a demoralizer." That is a more damaging confession than we expected so soon.

A STRONG effort will be made this year by the Democrats to control the registration. It will take unusual vigilance on the part of the Republicans to get fair treatment.

To judge from appearances the Republicans never had a better chance for carrying New York than they have this year; the party is thoroughly united while the Democrats are split into several fighting factions.

IT is worthy of note by those not familiar with American laws that President Harrison had to pay for a license to shoot reed birds in New Jersey, just as any ordinary man, citizen or foreigner, would have had to do.

IT is now claimed that it is possible by artificial methods to prevent frosts. In the onward march of science a means may yet be devised to alleviate the sufferings of politicians on the "cold day" which defeat at the polls always brings to them.

THE State's Attorney has been reading the school law and discovers that the State Board of Education is prescribing studies without authority, and that more money is charged for books than is necessary under the law.

THE first copy of the Salisbury Sentinel is upon our table. It is a respectable looking 32-column sheet and bids for a fair show of success. It is published in the interest of the independent voter, or anti-democratic-ring party, by Lemuel Malone, former editor of the Advertiser. We wish it more success than it expects to receive.

"MOSES" is a dangerous name to travel with in Russia, as Major Moses P. Handy of the World's Fair booming committee discovered in that country, where he was compelled to prove that he was not a Hebrew before he could get his passport vised.

THE United States has had all sorts of Presidents, from the father of his country to the dude, and finally the sportsman.—Star.

'Dude' is not altogether inappropriate, but we hardly think Grover will relish the term.

OUR subscribers are usually prompt when called on, and fortunately many do not wait to be called on, but unfortunately for us we cannot call on everybody, especially distant ones except through these columns and by mail, and they are apt to be delinquent.

AFTER everybody has tired of guessing the name of the Secretary of War the President will take up the question and decide upon the man, and there is not the slightest reason to believe that he will make a mistake or that he will find it necessary to ask the assistance of the opposition press in making the selection.

THE "McKinley price" lie has broken down because every man can tell for himself whether prices are higher than they were eighteen months ago or not. Every man knows prices are not lower except for sugar, and the removal of the tax on sugar leaves $1,000,000 a week in the pockets of the people, where it belongs.—Press.

MR. GEO. W. RAUGHLEY, of Caroline advertises his superior peach nursery stock in this paper. Mr. Raughley makes a specialty of peach trees and grows nothing else. His reputation as a peach grower is excellent, and if any farmer of Talbot will send to him at Denton a list of farmers in his neighborhood who expect to put out young orchards or could be induced to do so, Mr. R. will compensate him amply with choice young trees.

THE race is not always to the swift nor the battle to the strong, but if straws show which way th' wind blows surely there are strong hopes in favor of the Republican victory this fall.—Let the primaries be well attended, let the convention be made up of representatives of the people, annihilate every semblance of clique, make a strong ticket and half the battle is won on the start. Then on election day a glorious victory will be ours and fairly, too.

IT has been thirty years this month since the first petroleum well was opened in Pennsylvania. Since that time a wonderful revolution has taken place in the matter of illumination. Great fortunes have been made out of the petroleum business. He is not a very old man who can remember the days when there were no coal oil lamps, gasoline stoves, no benzine, no carbolic acid, and many other things that are now common every day articles.—Douglas (Kan.) Tribune.

THE Democratic fight against Representative Crisp's aspiration to become the Democratic candidate for Speaker of the House is becoming vicious. There is no need for Republicans to take any part in this fight. Let it go on and the people will soon be convinced, as many of them already are, that no Democrat yet mentioned has the qualifications to make a good Speaker, and we have no hesitation in predicting that long before the adjournment of the first session of the Fifty-second Congress this fact will be practically demonstrated, no matter who may be elected.

THE remark is very common that newspaper writers have small regard for truth; yet most persons are as eager for a flattering notice from the press as if its every expression were as true as the Gospel. The fact seems to be that those who write for the papers are just what those for whom they write would have them be. The most highly colored statements that appear in the columns of our public journals are generally prepared at the solicitation of persons who have some schemes on hand for "doing" up the people.

THE Democrats in Caroline County have made their ticket—and something like the trouble Talbot experienced in the same party, two of the districs were nct represented in Convention. The ticket as made, though very objectionable to many in the lower districs has for Clerk of the Court—Luther H. Gadd. Register of Wills—James B. Steel. State's Attorney—Henry R. Lewis. Judges of the Orphan's Court—Robert Jarrell, George H. Moore and E. Madison Towers. House of Delegates—Wm. Massey and A. Sisk. County Commissioners—M. V. B. Heather, W. A. Wilson and W. A. Noble. Shriff—Henry Cade. Surveyor-Ruben Garey.

NOWADAYS when people think very much as they choose, and dress and act in just as free a manner, it behooves them to be rather chary of the way in which they criticise their neighbors. It is a good plan, before we begin to throw up stones, to look about our own premises and make sure that we have no large sash exposed through which some neighbor could easily drop a rock, to our discomfort. One will be surprised to notice in any gathering where promiscuous conversation is indulged in, the number of times people are summed up as "a splendid person, but a little off in some things," and perhaps the very ones who thus sum up another in as brief a fashion may in turn be handled the same way.

OIL was poured on the troubled waters last Tuesday when the party cry for a new ticket in the Democratic field caused several gentlemen to excuse themselves from the ticket and have others named in their stead.—This has been anticipated by the Republicans who have seen for some time that certain ones would be forced off. The ticket was prematurely made—and like forward fruit, could not ripen properly. It was not left to drop in November but plucked in time, they hope, to save the branch from which it sprung. The gentlemen who resign are in every respect worthy the confidence and esteem of the party and it simply shows by this wholesale resignation that the ticket was poorly planned to bring harmony to a chaotic party. The changes are as follows:

Sheriff, J. B. Fairbank, in place of Geo. T. Graham, declined; judge of the Orphans' Court, Ormond Hammond, in place of Frank A. Benson, declined; county commissioner, J. E. McDaniel, in place of Louis W. Trail, declined; county surveyor, John W. Gibson, in place of Joseph A. Robinson, declined.

IN recent editorials the London Times says that Europe has a sincere respect for the American dynamite cruiser Vesuvius, whose armament is supposed capable of blowing the British ironclads into the depths of Neptune's kingdom, and the result of the experiments made with the great twelve-inch gun at Sandy Hook Point is such as to demonstrate that a cruiser armed with one of these weapons could go through the fleets of Europe fearlessly. Each shot of this new and most formidable weapon of defense weighs a ton, will carry a distance of twelve miles, and will then do its work of wholesale destruction. Emperor Wilhelm's great Krupp guns are children's toys in comparison, as his ironclads are mere antiques by the side of the Newark and Boston.

OUR roads are good, our climate salubrious, our crops plentiful, our schools excellent, our waters broad, our soil rich, our railroads busy, our steamboats and sailing craft laden, our oysters luscious, our fruit perfect, our churches progressive, our blessings, bountiful. Good citizens are welcome, and those who locate among us are invited to identify themselves with our interests and become one of us. The time for inviting those not to the "manor born" to leave our borders or shut up is past. We invite intelligence, we invite honest criticism, there is room for improvement and we are not too blind to wish to improve. While this section is a garden spot agriculturally, we do not object to its being noted far and wide for its intelligence, hospitality, morality and good management of public affairs.

IT is pleasing news to learn that Postmaster General Wanamaker's experiment of extending the free delivery of mail matter to small towns is likely to prove successful. At some of the places where the experimental service is being tried the increase in revenue has been considerably more than enough to meet the increased expenditure and at all there has been an increase, and Mr. Wanamaker is now at work upon a comprehensive scheme for free delivery in all the small towns and villages which Congress will be asked to adopt. This is an improvement that is much needed, and one that any official might be proud of having originated. Of course the Democratic Congress, with its accustomed policy of obstruction, may refuse to provide for this improvement. If it does it will only by its refusal furnish another argument for the election of a Republican House of Representatives as well as a President, next year.

THE most inconsistant jargon about which a real live, kicking Democratic editor can prattle is the old savory theme, just before election, of Republican equity towords the colored people. The morsel is sweet, though the bone is dry and fossilized, and when the editorial writer of the Ledger, (something after the style of the Dover Index only more symphonic and not so classical) dips his pen in ink and puts on a smile of "happy thought" "something is going to be did" and right off.

"The Republican leaders in Talbot dare not practice equity towards these people" says the Ledger. Will the editor enlighten its readers as to the meaning of "equity." He evidently is feigning to be ignorant of the term and trys to force the idea that it means "on the ticket." If that is true, where is equity practiced among the Democrats? Admit that the colored vote is usually Republican, then in the same proportion the low-bred, ignorant white class is democratic, because it is only that class of white citizens who hate the negro with venomous hatred and will not vote with him without he is made drunk or bought—then and only then is he companionable and fit for their standard of the privilege of the elective franchise. If equity is naming them on the ticket, where have the democrats shown equity with the Bambury Rats—the lounger—the drunkard—the tramps—the ignorant, all of whom they claim?

No, they place upon their ticket after long and loud clammoring, the men most likely to win, and because the Republicans do the same, then is equity not practiced. The reading, thoughtful colored man knows that "color" does dot alienate him from political honors. When he stands the peer of and above his white competitors then will the democrats be as ready to name him as the republicans, if they are satisfied that he will save for them the loaves and fishes.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C. Sept. 14, '91.

The President, when he returns to the White House to-morrow, will find all the members of the Cabinet, except three—Secretary Blaine, who is still in Maine, but who is expected to return to Washington inside of three weeks; Secretary Proctor, who has gone on a tour of inspection of the military posts in the West, and Secretary Foster, who has gone on a little ocean fishing trip—at their desks.—Owing to the President's nearness to Washington and his keeping almost constantly at work during the Summer, there has been no large accumulation of routine business in the Government departments during his absence. The field therefore is clear for him to devote his attention to the more important business of selecting a successor to Secretary Proctor and possibly one also for Attorney-General Miller, it being very generally believed here that Mr. Miller will be one of the nine justices of the new Circuit Court, all of whom must be decided upon before Congress meets; the filling of a number of other important vacancies, and the preparation of his annual message to Congress, which for various reasons will be an unusually important document this year. It will readily be seen that the President has a very busy season before him.

Treasury officials are trying to devise some means of keeping the expert accountants at work on the books of the Keystone National Bank at Philadelphia, the funds ordinarily available for such purposes having been exhausted, and the examination temporarily stopped just at a most interesting stage. It is thought to-day that the matter can be arranged so as to complete the investigation, but it is first necessary to get an opinion from the legal advisers of the department.

It is said that Senator Gorman was asked to accompany the Democratic show which left here yesterday bound for the Pacific Coast in a special car which will stop for exhibition purposes at various important points between Chicago and the coast and that he replied: "No, thank you, I have not yet reached the prize ox stage of political existence." He may have used the language, but he could not have safely gone no matter how great his desire may have been, as he has a fight for political existence on his hands in his own State that will leave him no time for side shows during the next six or seven weeks.

A gentleman who is in a position to be conversant with the plans of Secretary Proctor says that he will not retire from the Cabinet until his Senatorial term begins and that he is certain that the President will not give any serious consideration to selecting his successor until he has had an opportunity to confer with the party leaders both in and out of Congress and get their suggestions.

There is no disguising the fact that the harmony of the recent Republican State Convention in New York and the undisputed strength of the ticket nominated and the platform adopted has badly frightened the democratic leaders, and it may smash the millionaire Flower's boom, as he has never been regarded as a strong candidate. Republicans from New York who have been in Washington since the Convention are enthusiastically confident of carrying the State.

Secretary Tracy has issued an order which puts in practice in the navy the method adopted by Secretary Proctor for the Army more than a year ago, of ascertaining periodically the fitness of officers for their various professional duties, in order that they may be by the department designated to perform the duties for which they have the most natural apitude. This is done by a series of questions embracing about everything concerning an officer's official life which are to be answered in writing, by those immediately above and in contact with them, twice a year, in June and December. Secretary Tracy is making one of the best heads our Navy Department has ever had.

The new Windom $2 silver certificate which is to take the place of the Hancock note which has been so extensively counterfeited will be put in circulation Oct. 1. It is, by artists, said to be the handsomest note ever issued by this or any other Government. Upon it the big brown seal which has been used on all United States currency will be replaced by the small red seal which has been used exclusively for national bank notes. The ugly brown seal is to be entirely discarded.

Secretary Tracy has decided to have the Neipsic, the Adams and the Bangor, wooden vessels, repaired at once, and the necessary orders have been telegraphed to the Mare Island navy yard, where they all are. If it were not that the need of more vessels in the Pacific is imperate these old boats would probably have been condemned instead of being repaired.

MANY years practice have given C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of Patents, at Washington, D. C., unsurpassed success in obtaining patents for all classes of inventions. They make a specialty of rejected cases, and have secured allowance of many patents that had been previously rejected,—Their advertisement in another column will be of interest to inventors, patentees, manufacturers and all who have to do with patents.

Coffee in France.

Thevenot, the French traveler, on his return from the Orient in 1658, treated his guests to after dinner coffee. To Parisians this was merely an eccentricity, that would not have become fashionable but for a similar example set by Soliman Aga, the gallant Turkish embassador, in 1669. He enlisted the enthusiasm of court ladies in favor of the black and bitter liquor. Philosophers and litterateurs gladly gave in their adhesion. Boileau, La Fontaine, Moliere, Voltaire and the encyclopedists, together with the chess players, found inspiration in the coffee houses, which thenceforward assumed conspicuous position in the social life of Gallic cities. "Racine and coffee will pass," is a prediction of Madame de Sevigne as yet most unlikely of fulfillment.—Richard Wheatley in Harper's Weekly.

Electric Burnishing Machine.

An interesting application of electricity has been made in the electric burnishing machine for giving a gloss to the bottoms of shoes. The shoes are painted with a dye, after which a cake of specially prepared wax is placed against a rapidly revolving brush, which absorbs just enough to yield a coat of dressing to the shoe bottom. The sole, hitherto a dull black, is speedily polished by a wheel worked by an electric motor. This wheel consists of a rubber cushion inflated with air, covered with cloth and fixed on a grooved pulley. The reduction in the cost of the process is remarkable, as from 600 to 800 pairs of heels or soles can be burnished daily by the new machine.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

A Tragedy in Buttons.

Little Johnny West, of Detroit, is now in good condition to play "Button, button, who's got the button?" His mother gave him half a dozen horn buttons to hold while she threaded a needle and got ready to sew them on his clothes. Master Johnny swallowed the buttons, one and all, and doesn't know why he did it. As a walking button box he seems to be a complete success.—Detroit Free Press.

"Oh, My! That Toothache."

Toothache, caused by a cold in the facial nerve, may often be relieved by wringing a soft towel out of cold water and sprinkling it with strong vinegar. This should be laid on the face like a poultice, and will often be followed by a refreshing sleep.—New York Journal.

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other.

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." MRS. ELLA A. GOFF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.
