AN OPEN LETTER TO THE DEMOCRATIC STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE, THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE PROHIBITION PARTY, AND A SIMILAR COMMITTEE OF THE FARMERS' ALLIANCE OF TALBOT COUNTY.

It seems to be a fact which no one thinks it worth while to attempt to conceal or deny that the buying and selling of votes at our elections is practiced to an alarming extent in our county.

To such proportions has this evil grown that our elections are considered farces and the reputation of our county is becoming seriously impaired. This condition of affairs is deplored by all who have the welfare and fame of our county at heart, and we think the time has come when all good citizens should unite in an earnest effort to break up this nefarious practice.

We therefore invite you as the representatives of your party to co-operate with us in bringing about this result and to meet us at the Court House on Saturday the 17 inst. at 11 A. M. to devise some plan by which those who violate the law at the coming election either by the purchase or selling of votes may be detected and punished.

Please notifiy us if this invitation is accepted.

M. M. HIGGINS, GEORGE H. TRAX, H. CLAY DODSON, R. E. WELSH.	Republican StateCentral Com. of Talbot County.

MESSRS EDITORS:

THERE is no doubt in the minds of all men that F. G. Wrightson kept his part of the compact entered into by Maj. Stewart, E. H. Roe and himself for the purpose of defeating Col. Hughlett at the late democratic primaries, he agreed to carry the two lower districts and he did so, and he would have kept his agreement had it cost him every dollar he possessed. But how about Stewart and Roe?—Before Messrs. Harrington and Bateman withdrew they boasted of having 23 delegates out of the 25 in the Convention solid for Wrightson. It looks rather fishy now that they were not able to secure a single delegate from either Easton, Chapel or Trappe, after Messrs. Batemen and Harrington two very strong regulars, had thrown up the sponge in their favor. While they were able to carry all three of these districts while Bateman and Harrington were fighting against them, yet they were not able to elect even a single man from either of these districts when Bateman and Harrington and all their friends has ceased fighting. Nice [illegible] way to keep a compact with a man [illegible] F. G. Wrightson. We wonder if it [illegible] occured to either of these gentlemen after it was agreed that they should [illegible] on the ticket and were safe enough that Col. Hughlett would be a stronger man at the head of the ticket than Mr. Wrightson? "See anything green in that eye?"

INNOCENT.

"RING" and "anti-ring" is the fight now on hand. The "bosses" against the people is the issue; whether this country shall be run by a few self constituted managers in the interest of a clique, or by fairly selected representatives for the welfare of all the people.—Democrat June 6.

PLENTY of little devils about, just now, with many suggestions and promises and nothing to give.—Democrat June 6.

THIS contest is really whether pure, clean methods shall triumph or whether the democratic party shall be controlled by a very small ring of political Pharisees, who keep in power by the most iniquitous manipulations.—Democrat of May 30.

THE Ringsters will start all sorts of rumors; the Bosses are proficient in sordid means, and always appeal to the baser passions of men. Don't believe any of their reports; they are desperate, and they will not hesitate to injure honest men that stand in their way. They (the Bosses) have misruled the people so long as they think no man has a right to oppose them.—Democrat June 6.

MANY years practice have given C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of Patenst, at Washington, D. C., unsurpassed success in obtaining patents for all classes of inventions. They make a specialty of rejected cases, and have secured allowance of many patents that had been previously rejected.—Their advertisement in another column will be of interest to inventors, patentees, manufacturers and all who have to do with patents.

WE note the frantic effort being made by the Democrat to reinstate its two candidates, Stewart and Roe into the good graces of the "bosses, their satellites and henchmen." But we optine that it will take more work than it can do between now and election day to efface the vile abuse it heaped upon the present managers in its issues of June 6th and 13th.

THE farmers who depended on their peach crop in this section to bring them out of a financial distress are sadly disappointed.

WITH each succeeding moment the qualms of despair under which the bosses are writhing become more and more destinct. We must be prepared for them however for they will not die without a final struggle.—Democrat June 6.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C. Oct. 5, '91.

The President does not have quite so many callers, or rather, there are not so many prominent men among his callers since the announcement was semi-officially made that none of the important appointments were likely to be made until after the Fall election. Whatever the reason for this decision it is universally considered to be good politics on the part of the President, besides it gives him time to look after some other important matters that are pressing.

There is a very marked difference in the manner in which republicans and democrats here talk of the out look in New York. The democrats invariably start off with an "if" which they admit to be necessary to Flower's success. On the contrary the republicans grow more enthusiastic every day and will not admit that there is even a possibility of defeat for Fassett, and the reports from private sources which reach here from New York are constantly adding to the republican confidence.

The President has taken a hand in the Chinese question and he has spoken with the same earnestness which characterize his instructions to Minister Egan last week to demand satisfaction from the Chilian junta for affronts offered him as the official representative of the United States. A Chinaman who recently entered the United States through Canada was arrested and ordered deported to China. The British Minister, because the Chinaman claimed a residence in Canada, requested the President to pardon him and allow him to return to Canada. To this the President replied through the State Department "that if this were a single case it would give this government great pleasure to show its consideration by complying with the request, but there is involved in this case, in my opinion, the whole question of the success and enforcement of our exclusion acts. I have therefore directed the Secretary of the Treasury to send this man back to China."

The first payment on account of the sugar bounty was six thousand eight hundred dollars, and it was paid to the Chino Valley Sugar Company, of California, for the production of three hundred and forty pounds of beet sugar.

As it is now certain that Secretary Blaine will not be in Washington on the date set for the conference between himself and the President and the Canadian Commissioners on the subject of reciprocity, October 12, the British Minister has been notified of the necessity for postponing the conference. No new date has been set for the conference, and there are many people who doubt whether it will be held until there shall be a change of administration in Canada.

Secretary Tracy is considering a report made by a commitee of Naval officers which recommends a revolution in the personnel of the service which would practically amount to an entire re-organization of the Navy. If approved the Secretary will probably incorporate the recommendations in his annual report to the President.

Senator Dolph, of Oregon, says the Farmer's Alliance is trying to obtain a foot hold in his state but have so far been unsuccessful. Senator Wolcott, of Colorado, says the Alliance cuts no figure in his State.

Hon. Jefferson Chandler, of Mo., a democrat who wanted to succeed Vest in the Senate, but whose name was some how lost in the shuffle by the democratic legislative caucus, is here. He says the only hope of the democrats next year is to come out squarely for free coinage. It is needless to add that he is not going on the stump for his party in New York or Massachusetts.

The fight against Gen. Raum is again raging here, and those who are conducting it seem determined to keep it up as long as he remains at the head of the Pension Office. Gen. Raum has gone to Illinois on a fifteen day's absence and his enemies insist that he will not return to Washington as Commissioner of Pensions, notwithstanding his having said just before leaving that much as he might like to lay down the harassing duties of the office which he did not seek he would not resign while under fire. These men insist that Secretary Noble will not dismiss the three employes of the Pension Office who have made affidavits charging Gen. Raum's son with Office Brokerage, whose discharge Gen. Raum has asked for. It is a nasty business altogether, and Gen. Raum has the sympathies of all who have taken the trouble to ascertain that politics is the only basis of the fight against him.

The number candidates for the single democratic vacany on the Inter-State Commerce Commission continues to increase at the rate of three or four a day, and they are mostly from the South since it was announced that only those from that section would be considered.

Men and Their Ties.

It is tolerably safe, in these days of variety in dress, to judge a man by the necktie he wears. It gives a glimpse of character to the observant student of human nature. Look around in a Fulton street car and notice the different styles of men and the different styles of ties. Without looking above the chin of any of the men you can size him up correctly nine times out of ten. If he wears a very large and very red scarf over a very loud checked shirt, with a fourteen carat chandelier diamond putting the sunbeams to sleep all about it, you don't hesitate in pronouncing him a young man that would sooner fight than eat. See?

And if he wears a little bit of a black ribbon, tied in a very tight and slender sailor's knot that hangs straight down over a soiled shirt bosom, from the meeting place of the two ends of a turn down collar—why, you know without looking further that there's a thin, weazened face above it, with bright, beady eyes, whose glances glide stealthily and quickly from one point to another—eyes which are restless, hard, greedy. You know that man is as stingy and ugly as the tie he wears. In contrast with this is the big, loose, white puff, with a small gold pin shoved carlessly through it from the side. There it lies on an immaculate linen front, as handsome and careless and captivating as the hearty, generous, whole souled fellow whom it adorns.

Then there's the man who wears the white bowknot in the daytime; look out for him. He's a hypocrite or worse. And the man with the same four in hand that he's worn for a week, soiled and crumpled—he's either very rich or very poor, head over heels in business or slovenly and mean, one or the other. The pale tinted tie is a sign of conceit. The polka dot is worn by the young man who don't care much for girls, but who takes to boating and swimming. Solid black signifies a docile disposition, satin finish means vanity of the worst type, and a checked tie—well, the man who wears a black and white check will steal chickens.—Brooklyn Eagle.

A HAUNTED CONSCIENCE.

The Terrible Sensation That Follows the Taking of Human Life.

"It is a dreadful thing that human life must be sacrificed," said Major C. O. Bates in the rotunda of the Lincoln hotel the other evening. There was an ominous look between him and Colonel Bob McReynolds as the latter spoke. Somehow it had just leaked out that there was some unwritten history as to the Nebraska militia upon the frontier. A word or two of kindly condolence elicited the following from Colonel McReynolds, who has kept very silent heretofore.

"It was very nearly 3 o'clock when Major Bates and myself left Pine Ridge agency. All day Indians had been swarming about the agency like so many bees around a hive. Each one was armed with a Winchester, and had on his person no less than 100 pounds of ammunition. The wildest excitement had prevailed all day, so that when we left the agency at that late hour en route to Rushville you can believe we were on the alert.

"From Pine Ridge the road led over a plain for nearly five miles. Then began the range of mountains known as Pine Ridge. The major and I had spurred our horses for a couple of miles out of the agency, then drew up into a walk. We were following a circuitous road that led over these Pine Ridge mountains, when suddenly from behind the rocks ahead there confronted us two Brule Sioux, with Winchesters ready for action. Major Bates instantly uttered an alarm. This caused one of the enemy to skulk behind the other, both with Winchesters leveled upon us.

"I was fairly panicstricken myself, and scarcely knew what I was doing, but Major Bates, with his cool headedness, drew his Winchester to his shoulder and fired. The report echoed up and down the valley, and when the smoke cleared away, there were two forms motionless upon the brow of the little hill ahead. My horse, frightened at the report of the gun, was struggling in a frightful manner, and it was all I could do to restrain him. Finally, when I got him quieted, I rode to Major Bates' side. He was pale as a sheet of paper, yet firm and composed as a soldier should be. His first remark was, 'Oh, God, this is awful!'

"The single shot from his Winchester had killed them both. They fell upon their faces, their hands tightly clenched about the weapons they bore. We looked for others, but none were in sight. Then I rode within a few feet of the bodies and picked up a war club. Their blankets and ghost shirts were swarming with vermin or I would have taken them along. The major divested one of the dead Indians of his war bonnet, placed his scalping knife in his belt and remounted.

"As if by some strange fascination I lingered on the spot for a few moments. Those bronze forms, motionless, lay with face to the earth. Human life had perished there. The cold, snow covered hills, resplendent with their wintry beauty, brought naught but chill to the soul. Two forms, clad in their red blankets, lay silent in death. They meant harm to us who would not have harmed them. The winter's sun was fading beyond the chill blue hills.

"I rode from the spot and joined the major on the crest of a hill. His voice was husky in tone when he said, 'Let us get away from here.' The road led over a mountainous country for the next seven miles, then we came to the outposts of the Nebraska militia at Jarchow's ranch, where, after admission within the picket lines, we met General I. W. Colby, Colonel J. P. Bratt, of the First regiment, and Colonel J. C. Bills, of the Second. Major Bates here, true to his soldierly qualities, told of the fate of the two Brules. General Colby's face wore a vexed look when the affair was recounted. He seemed to think we should have waited until we were fired upon. Observing this, the major answered, 'I have done so, and this is my explanation.'

"I wish the affair was effaced from memory," continued Colonel McReynolds. "The picture of those Indians lying there so still, the snow covered hills and silence of the hour, will long dwell in my memory, and I know that with all justifiable action of Major Bates, it must forever remain to him a nightmare which can never be forgotten."—Chicago News.

A Mohammedan Marriage in England.

The first Mohammedan marriage ever celebrated in England took place at the Moslems' meeting place in Liverpool, the only mosque in England. The bride, an English lady, not being a Moslem, the ordinary marriage service was previously gone through in an Episcopal church in Camberwell. The bridegroom was the son of a Nawab of India.—London Tit-Bits.

If the cover of the kettle is lifted, the boiling water seems to be covered by a cloud of white steam, but this cloud did not exist before the cover was raised; it has been formed by the sudden cooling of the vapor. In a glass boiler which is either completely sealed or provided with only a narrow outlet for the vapor, the space above the water is perfectly transparent and apparently empty.

The Daughters of Israel is a society recently organized in Baltimore, modeled after the Kings' Daughters. Several hundred young ladies have been formed into bands of ten for the purpose of "doing little deeds of kindness" at home and in the neighborhood. Each member will wear a medallion or decoration with "Love thy neighbor as thyself" inscribed in Hebrew letters.

At only five points can we just touch each other, and all that is—and that only by the function of our poor senses—from the outside. In vain we rack them that we may get a little closer to the best beloved and most implicitly trusted; ever in vain, from the cradle to the grave.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly.

For the information of voters and applicants for registration, the following extract from Section 15 of said Chapter 573, is herewith given, and the careful attention of all persons who may be supposed to come under its provisions is called to it.

"All persons who prior to the passage of this act shall have vacated or removed from or have gone with their parents from the place of their actual abode, domicile, dwelling place or habitation within this State, and shall have taken a domicile, dwelling-place abode or habitation out of this State, shall be conclusively presumed to have thereby intended to abandon their legal residence in this State, and to have surrendered their right to registration as legal voters in the State unless within thirty days after the passage of this act they shall go in person before the clerk of the circuit court for the county from which they shall have so removed or before the clerk of the superior court of Baltimore city, if their removal shall have been from said city and make and acknowlege before such clerk an affidavit that when they so removed they did not intend to change their legal residence within the State but that they had a fixed purpose to return at a definite time, and that they intend to return to this Sate and to take up their actual domicile and habitation therein, on or before six months next preceding the Tuesday after the first Monday of November, eighteen hundred and ninety-one;

* * * * * * * * *

and unless the persons respectively making such affidavits shall actually return to this State and shall actually take up their abode, domicile or habitation therein six months before the Tuesday after the first Monday in November, eighteen hundred and ninety, they shall be conclusively presumed to have lost their legal residence theirin and shall not be entitled to registration therein as legal voters, and the officers of registration shall strike off their names from the registry, if they be entered thereon; and after the passage of this act all persons who shall vacate and remove from the place of their actual domicle, abode, dwelling-place or habitation within this State and shall take up a domicle, abode, dwelling-place or habitation out of this State shall be conclusively presumed to have lost their residence in this State, and shall in consequence thereof become disqualified to vote, unless at or about the time of such removal or within ten days thereafter they shall go in person before the clerk of the circuit court for the county from which they shall so remove, or before the clerk of the superior court of Baltimore city, if such removal be from said city, and shall make and acknowledg before him an affidavit declaring that notwithstanding such removal from their domicile, abode, dwelling place or habitation, they do not intend thereby to change their legal residence but that they have a fixed and definite purpose to return to this State on or before six months preceding the next succeeding election in November;

* * * * * * * * *

and if the persons making such affidavits shall fail so to return and take up their actual abode, domicile, dwelling-place and habitation in this State on or before six months next preceeding such November election, they shall be conclusively presume to have abandoned such declared intention and shall thereupon become disqualified to vote in this State, and the Officers of registration shall refuse to register them as qualified voters, or shall strike off their names from the registry if their names be entered thereon; the clerk before whom such affidavit shall be made, shall retain, index and record the same, and shall be entitled to demand and receive for each acknowledgement the sum of thirty cents, and for indexing and recording the affidavits and acknowledgements thereto, the same compensation as is allowed by law for indexing and recording deeds, such costs to be paid to said clerks by the commissioners and mayor and city council of Baltimore respectively; such affidavits shall not be admissible in evidence as evidence of the right of the persons making the same to registration, unless they are recorded within five days from the date of the acknowledgement thereto, and a duly certified copy thereof shall be receivable in evidence in the same manner as a certified copy of a deed; false swearing in any such affidavits shall be deemed to be perjury, and shall be punishable as perjury is by the Code of Public General Laws, article twenty-seven, title "Crimes and Punishments," sub-title "Perjury;" said officers of registration shall require the production of such affidavits duly recorded, or a duly certified copy thereof in all cases where they shall have reason to suspect that the person applying to be registered as a qualified voter has lost his residence by reason of his removal from the State as hereinbefore mentioned, and they may also in such cases put any question which they may deem proper to such applicant, concerning the place where he dwelt in the county or legislative district before such removal out of the State, his occupation before such removal and since, the time when he so removed, and when he returned, and all other pertinent facts and circumstances touching the right of such person to be registered, and they may require the truth of the answers of all persons to such questions to be corroborated by independent evidence if in their discretion they shall think proper; and if in answer to their questions or upon testimony produced before them it shall appear to their satisfaction that the person applying to be registered had left the State without any intention of returning, or with the intention of returning at some indefinite time in the future he shall not be entitled to be registered as a legal voter."
