George W. Horner, a witness produced on the part of the objector, deposes and says:

My name is George W. Horner; age about 54½ years; reside at Finksburg, Carroll County; my occupation general merchandizing; I hold real estate in Finksburg; I know the Condon property in question, sold by Mr. Maynard, assignee of mortgage, on the 4th of March, 1889; in my opinion said Condon property ought not to be worth less than $40.00 per acre; I heard that Condon had given $10,000 for it.

Cross-Examination.

Taking into consideration what lands are now bringing at public sales, I cannot say what any land would bring, considering the price of one, the Griffee property, that was sold at public sale, and one, the Buckley property, that was offered and sold, but the purchaser did not comply, and considering the location of the Condon farm, I believe it ought to bring $40.00 per acre.

I do not know anything further.

William H. Stocksdale, a witness produced on the part of the objector, deposes and says:

My name is William H. Stocksdale; I am a farmer; and live near Finksburg, Carroll Co.; I know the parties to this suit, and have for years; I know the Condon property in this case; it is situated near Finksburg, in Carroll Co.; it is a good farm and among the best in the neighborhood; as to the condition of said farm, it is like the rest in the neighborhood; from outward appearance I think the improvements are very good; it is hard to arrive at the value of land at the present time; said property ought to bring about $40 per acre at the present time, I think; I know the Buckley property; it was knocked off at a bid of $24.25 per acre, as far as my memory serves; taking it all together I would suppose the value of the Condon property at $40 per acre was as cheap as the Buckley property at $24.25.

Cross-Examination.

Land has not been selling very well for the last year or two; very little has been sold in our neighborhood; I understand that Mr. Edward Bynch, as trustee, received a bid for the Buckley property of $37.50 per acre at private sale about a year ago; he was holding it at $50 per acre; at public sale he got a bid of $33 per acre last Fall, which he declined to accept; this Spring he knocked it off at public sale to John Buckley at $24.25 per acre, but the purchaser did not comply with the terms.

Re-Examination.

I have heard it talked more or less since the making of the deed of trust that the Buckley family would have a law suit about it.

I don't know of any thing further.
