of the same, and thereby all his interest and estate in the aforesaid fund devolved on his aforesaid surviving brothers, the said Nicholas Huppman and George Huppman, and his sister, the said Margaret Schull, who is now the wife of Ludiker, of the City of Baltimore, and that the said Margaret Popplein has intermarried with the said Nicholas Huppman, and that the said Nicholas Popplein has administered on the personal estate of the said George Popplein, deceased, and that the said Nicholas Huppman has obtained administration on the personal estate of the said Mary Popplein, deceased, and that the said Nicholas Huppman has obtained administration on the personal estate of the said Valentine Huppman, deceased, and your orators are advised that the said administrators, as such, are proper parties to this suit.

And your orators charge, that they have frequently applied to the said surviving executors and trustees for an account of the aforesaid estates in their hands and under their control, and also for payment over to them of their shares of the income and profits of the said estate received by the said surviving executors and trustees, or by one of them, with the ~ an assent of both of them, your orators charging that there are in the hands of the said surviving executors and trustees large sums of money, the income and profits of the said estate, undistributed and unaccounted for. But these instances have been utterly disregarded, and your orators are advised that they are wholly without redress save only by the aid of this Honorable Court.

Wherefore, and to the end that the said surviving executors and trustees, and all other defendants hereto, may answer the premises, and especially that the said surviving executors and trustees may, under oath, in their said answers, set forth and disclose a full and particular account of all and singular the monies, properties and effects, both real and personal, of their said testator, which have come to the hands and possession of the aforesaid executors and trustees, or any one or more of them, and of their administration, appropriation or disposition thereof, with the time and times of such particular receipts and acts of administration, and also a schedule or (or) particular of the monies, properties and effects now forming the fund or estate of the said deceased, and that an account may be taken under the direction of this Court of said fund or estate, and of the administration thereof, and that the surplus, income and profits of the said fund, or estate, now in the hands and under the control of the said surviving executors and trustees, or either of them, may be distributed to and amongst your orators and the other parties entitled thereto, according to their several and respective rights and interests, and that order may be taken for the due investment and administration of the said principal fund or estate by the said surviving executors and trustees, (or if it shall appear in the progress of the cause that the said surviving executors and trustees have abused their
