fully into effect the objects, trusts and purposes designed and intended by this my will and testament, hereby revoking, annulling and making void all former wills by me made, and declaring this to be my only one.

In witness whereof, I, the said Andrew Popplein, have hereunto subscribed my name and affixed my seal on this eighteenth day of August, in the year of our Lord, eighteen hundred and thirty one.

Andrew Popplein, (Seal.)

Signed, sealed, published and declared by Andrew Popplein, the above named testator, as and for his last and testament, in the presence of us, who, at his request, in his presence, and in the presence of each other, have hereunto subscribed our names as witnesses hereto.

Jacob Albert,
John R. Moore,
John Herdebaugh.

I, Andrew Popplein, do make and ordain the following as a codicil to the aforegoing last will and testament:

First. Whereas, my nephew, Andrew Popplein, has departed this life, it is my will, and I direct that the share of my estate bequeathed to him and his children or descendants, shall be deemed and disposed of as part of my entire estate, and that my said estate and the dividends, income and interest therefrom, shall accordingly be apportioned into nine parts, instead of ten parts as now limited by said will, and that my legatees, Nicholas Huppman, George Huppman, Valentine Huppman, Margaretta Schull, George Schull, George Popplein, Nicholas Popplein, Catharine Bodman, Margaretta Popplein, and Mary Popplein, in said will named, and their respective children and descendants, shall have the same proportional parts relatively of said nine parts, as my said will limits to them respectively of said ten parts, and subject to the same terms and provisions; and I further direct that in case of any of my legatees aforesaid dying before me without children or descendants, the share of my estate, or benefit thereof, bequeathed by me to such deceased, shall be disposed of as is now directed in regard to said Andrew's share, it being, however, my will that the children or descendants of any of said legatees dying before me, shall have the same share and interest in my estate that they would have had if such deceased had survived me.

Secondly. Whenever after my death any of my above named legatees shall die, and the principal of the dividends, income or interest enjoyed by him or her, shall or may be immediately or ultimately payable to children or descendants of himself or of other of said legatees, and it shall appear to such deceased under any peculiar circumstances of such children or descendants, or any of them, as they may be judged by such deceased, that such children
