senting the entire interest of her mother, the said Catharine, under the will of Andrew Popplein, deceased, the said Lauretta being one of your petitioners.

B. Your petitioners, Abigail L. Sloan, Elizabeth M. Huppman and Ella R. Huppman, daughters of George Huppman, deceased, Mary Virginia Huppman, widow and administratrix of Nicholas A. Huppman, deceased, and Nicholas M. Huppman, infant son of said Nicholas A. and Mary V. Huppman; the said parties representing the entire interest, which was of their late father and grandfather, George Huppman.

C. Elizabeth R. Briscoe and James Briscoe, infant children, and James Briscoe, their father and surviving husband of Anna Briscoe, deceased, daughter of Valentine Huppman, also deceased. The said parties being also entitled to their share of the interest of Nicholas Huppman and George Schull, both of whom are dead without issue.

D. Mary E. Popplein, Andrew Popplein, whose wife is Jessie H. Popplein, George J. Popplein, whose wife is Oregon A. Popplein, Susan M. Kingsland, (widow,) Nicholas Popplein, John T. Popplein, (whose wife is Matilda C. Popplein,) Joseph Popplein, Franklin Popplein, Laura Bell Popplein, Annie Popplein and Margaret P. Hall, wife of John W. Hall, all of whom are children of Nicholas Popplein, deceased, who left a widow surviving him, Susanna Popplein, to whom letters testamentary upon his estate have been duly granted and issued.

E. That the daughters and grandson of George

Huppman, deceased, (who are of your petitioners,) to wit, Abigail L. Sloan, Elizabeth M. Huppman, Etta R. Huppman, and Nicholas M. Huppman, an infant, as well as the infant children of Annie S. Briscoe, deceased, who was the daughter and sole heir of Valentine Huppman, deceased, whose said children (to wit, Elizabeth R. Briscoe and James Briscoe, by their father and next friend, James Briscoe, and of your petitioners,) are respectfully entitled to shares in the interests which were of Nicholas Huppman and George Schull, deceased, both of whom died intestate and without issue.

8. That letters testamentary upon the estate of Margaret, or Margaretta Huppman had been duly granted to Andrew P. Popplein and George J. Popplein, executors of her last will, which has been duly admitted to probate in the Orphan's Court of Baltimore City.

9. That there has been no administration upon the estate of Annie S. Briscoe, deceased, the daughter and sole representative of Valentine Huppman, deceased, it is submitted that none has been down to this time necessary; the Receiver being in possession of all the estate from which the surviving husband is entitled to receive the rents and profits during his life.

10. That as your petitioners believe, and are advised, thirty one hundred and eight parts ($\frac{30}{108}$) of said estate are now vested in your petitioners, Laurett B. Gibson; the same share ($\frac{30}{108}$ parts) in the eleven children above named of Nicholas Popplein, deceased;
