—A physician, who spent some time in the countries bordering on the Gulf of Mexico, found a curious body of men among the natives called Curodos de Calebra, or the safe from vipers. Having been inoculated with the poison of the serpents they were proof against their venomous bites. The inoculation was made with the venom tooth of a viper and the bulb of a native plant called mano del sapo (toad's hand). The preventive inoculation has been an old custom among the natives of that region.

—The desirability of care in expression can hardly be too forcibly impressed upon those who write advertisements, circulars and public announcements of all sorts. Competition in these two contests open to citizens of the county only."—Youth's Companion.

For Over Fifty Years

Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup."

It is sweet to live, but oh! how bitter—to be troubled with a cough, day and night. Dr Bull's Cough Syrup, however, is a sure remedy. 25 cents.

"I cannot sing to night! My throat is sore." "Of course you havn't tried Salvation Oil?" "No." "Then get it and you will sing like the birds."

A Large Meeting of the ladies of Talbot county is expected at Music Hall to-day at 11 A. M. to perfect arrangements for the grand Fair and Festival to be held at the same place —May 16th to 21st inclusive—for the benefit of the Talbot County Fair Association. It is expected that Gen. Jos. B. Seth, Hon J. F. Turner, Hon. Ormond Hammond, Wm. R. Martin, Esq., and Major Wm. E. Stewart will address the meeting. We bespeak a large turn-out of ladies.

Stockholders' Meeting.—The meeting of the stockholders of the Nickerson Fertilizer Company was held in Easton at the office of the company on Tuesday. The directors were re-elected, namely, C. C Nickerson, R. B. Dixon, E. H. Roe, J. B. Harrington, C. R. Wooters. The organization will be the same as last year.

Petitioners at Work.—Petitions are in circulation to get the legislature to pass a high license law for Talbot County in place of the Local Option Law now in force. Also petitions are being signed to keep the Local Option Law on the statute books. Another petition wants to prohibit the sale of cider in quantities of less than two gallons and to suppress the drinking of cider on the premises where sold, as the Local Option Law now in force is frequently violated under the cider pretext.

Death of Mrs Richardson.—Mrs. Lillian M. Richardson, of Brooklyn, daughter of Mr. Trustin Pippin of Caroline and sister to Mrs. Harry Patchett of this town died on Tuesday morning last at her late home and was interred in Greensborough.

Mrs. Richardson was young and a general favorite with her friends. She married Mr. Charles Seigler of Ridgely, where they lived happily together until death separated them. In the course of time she became the wife of Mr. Richardson of Brooklyn, but made frequent visits to her old home in Maryland and kept ever green the attachments of her circle of friends who will learn of her demise with sorrow.

Perhaps It was A "Hi-Galy-Gumber."—The Every Evening speaks of a negro being arraigned before the Municipal Court of Wilmington, in whose pocket was found a long, slim finger, evidently that of a colored female, with the finger nail intact. The finger had been taken off at the first joint and was wrapped up in a piece of paper. The man refused to explain how he came by the grue some object.

This might have been a "hi-galy-gumber," but perhaps the police were not educated to that "high" point of the mysterious art of keeping away bad luck, or the thought would have suggested itself at once. Dave Smiler and some others of Dave's caliber in Easton always carry in their pockets a "hi-galy-gumber" to keep off spells. But there is no evidence that tapering fingers are fashionable among them.

A Great Council Fire to be Kindled in Matapeake Wigwam.—The Great Sun Council fire of the Great Council of Maryland, Improved Order of Red Men, will be kindled in Matapeake wigwam, hunting grounds of Easton, on the 17th Sun, Snow Moon, G. S. D. 401, (or in the language of the pale face, February 17th, 1892) in accordance with a resolution adopted at a council held in Balto.

Matapeake Tribe, hunting grounds of Easton at a council fire kindled in its wigwam, resolved that on Wednesday's Sleep, 17th Snow Moon, at the 10th run, setting of the sun G. S. D. 401, (Wednesday night, 17th of February, at 10 o'clock, 1892) it would give a Banquet in honor of the occasion at Music Hall. Covers will be laid for three hundred; two bands of music will be in attendance; the banquet hall will be handsomely decorated with flowers, evergreen and potted plants; the invitation and menu cards are in a high style of art, and the great hunter S. A. Meintzer has been selected to procure the oysters and game, the corn and venison, the turkeys, the sweet breads, the peas and tongues, the luscious wild ducks from the Chesapeake, besides ices, fruits, tea, coffee and chocolate and the pipes and the lordly plant, our native tranquilizing weeds.

Invitations will be sent to to the Representatives of the Great Council of the United States and to the tribes of adjoining reservations. Some of the order to whom invitations have been sent and who are well known in the hunting grounds of all reservations as doughty chiefs are Grover Cleveland, Frank Brown, F. C Latrobe. We are assured of the presence of Great Incohonee Thomas K. Donnelly, Great Chief of Records Charles C. Conley, Great Keeper of Wampum, Joseph Pyle, Past Great Incohonee Judge George W. Lindsay, and Past Great Sachem William Louis Schley, of the Great Council of the United States. Many pale faces from our town and county will be present and help entertain the visitors, a feast of reason, a flow of soul, wit, wisdom, and a glorious time may be expected.

Matapeake Tribe regrets that the absence of the squaws, wives, papooses and pale face maidens must bd mourned, but it is unavoidable. At first the Tribe intended to have a full dress ball, but on account of the short time that the visitors would be in Easton and the extra trouble of bringing dress suits, this was abandoned. For the satisfaction of all lovely squaws, wives and maidens (and it must be a satisfaction to all true women) we are authorized to say that no fire-water, wine or intoxicating liquors are allowed at any banquet given by any Tribe of the Improved Order of Red Men. This is a binding Decree and he who violates it does so at his peril.— So if the banqueters are late getting home the squaws the wives, the maidens and papooses will possess their souls in patience.

The Committee on Arrangements is Chas. E. Morris, Chairman, Maj. W. E. Stewart, J. Y. Todd, Samuel A. Meintzer, Owen F. Framptom. The Banquet Committee is Col. J. C. Mullikin, Chairman, I. N. Elston, S. H. Willey, J. C. Davis, Walter Hubbard, D. F. Gamby, Thos. R. Tarbutton. The Reception Committee is Albert Lowe, Chairman, C. H. Leonard, Jas. Pfifferling, Eli Pratt, Charles Stoops, Samuel Glanville, L. P. Moore, Saml. Saxton.

Talbot County Teachers' Association.—The public school teachers of Talbot county met in Easton last Saturday and transacted routine business. The inclemency of the weather prevented a full attendance. The programme that had been prepared at the last meeting was dispensed with on account of absentees. On motion a committee was appointed to take into consideration the matter of a summer school in Easton. Professor Chaplain was named as chairman of the committee and Miss Welby, Mr. Pattison, Mr. Farring and Miss Anthony, associates. Miss Daisy Welby was elected musical director. The meeting adjourned to March 12th, next. Following is the programme:

Music.

1. How shall we get elementary science into lower grades?—Prof. Crouse, open discussion.

2. Review. "A pot of green feathers,"—Miss Weedon.

PART SECOND.

"Swett's Methods," chapter V, page 150, paper by Miss Wilson; leader, Prof. D. Melvin Long.

Lane's Family Medicine Moves the Bowels each day. Most people need to use it.

The great question of the day is: "How to keep the Irish dynamite excitement in a manageable condition." Easy enough. Give each man a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price 25 cents.

The triumph of the age—Salvation Oil, a first-class liniment, for twenty five cents.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles!

SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itchin and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cts. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia.

Personals.—Mr. F. H. Sweet, agent for the Yale Time Lock Co., Boston, was in Easton on Monday and examined the lock of the Easton National Bank. He makes a visit every year to see that the locks are working to perfection, as this one has always done.

Mr. John M. Mason has been quite ill at his home this week.

Mr. Walter Hughes has gone on a trip to Georgia and Florida. He will return in about two weeks.

Mr. W. P. Chaffinch has bought the corner lot on Brooklet Ave and Harrison St. and will erect a dwelling opposite to Mr Parlett.

Mrs. John C. Henry gave a pleasant card party to about a score of invited guests, Tuesday evening, at her residence on South street.

Rev. C. E. Buck was given a surprise on Wednesday night by his devoted parishioners who carried him many of the good things of this life.

Senator Dawson, of Caroline county, who has been sick at his home for about two weeks with gastric fever, is again out and at Annapolis.

Oswald Tilghman, assignee, sold at public sale on Tuesday the Ben Townsend property, on Goldsborough street, Easton, to Alex. Herron for $7[illegible].

Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Smithers gave a tea to a number of friends Saturday evening. Among those present were Bishop and Mrs W. F. Adams, Rev. and Mrs. Charles E. Buck, Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Adams, Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Trout and Rev. C. D. Harris.

Cards are out for the marriage, on Thursday the 11th inst., of Miss Elizabeth L. Hunt daughter of Col. Thomas H Hunt, of Ellicott City, to Mr. Joseph Y. Bratton, in the office of Mr. Charles O. Scull, general passenger agent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Our old friend, Rev. J. A. B. Wilson, has had his trial. It was all about a dog which remained on his premises. They could not prove that the dog belonged to the reverned gentleman and he was acquitted. Whenever tried he will be acquitted on every charge preferred against him by his enemies.—Leader.

Mr. J. E. Tylor, junior editor of the GAZETTE, was appointed Assistant Deputy Surveyor of the Port of Baltimore on Wednesday last, and entered on his official duties that day. He will frequently be in Easton to attend to unfinished work, and all business for him left at this office will receive immediate attention.

Mr. W. T. Stitchberry, an aged citizen of Talbot county, while passing into the Court House grounds at Easton, through the main gate on Tuesday, struck his foot against the iron cleat to which the big gates are fastened, and was thrown down, falling heavily on his face on the cement pavement. He was severely hurt, his nose being broken and a gash cut in the face that a surgeon had to sew up.

Mr. A. Bernhard, our practical watchmaker and jeweler, will leave Easton on Monday the 8th inst., on a business trip to New York, Providence and Philadelphia. Mrs. Bernhard, who is visiting friends in New York, will join him in Philadelphia, where they will attend the Third Annual Banquet of the National Retail Jewelers' Association, of which Mr. Bernhard is a member. Mrs Bernhard will return home on the late train Friday the 13th inst.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by his motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. NOYES, 820 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. 25jully

For Malaria, Liver Trouble, or Indigestion, use BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.

JOHN T. RATHELL HAS REMOVED TO HIS STORE ROOM ON MARKET SPACE, (OAK FRONT), Adjoining Samuel Norris. YOU ARE INVITED TO CALL.

The Gazette Not In It.—In referring to the Maryland Democratic Editors the Balto. Sun of Thursday eulogizes them in two columns of space in which it speaks of our Easton editors as follows:

Of the press of Talbot county the Easton Ledger, published by Mr. Geo. E. Haddaway, is a good example and creditable to a thriving town and a prosperous county. Mr. Haddaway has published the Ledger for a number of years and there are none more capable of performing the work of an editor whether with pen or scissors. He is an able writer, a graphic correspondent and a good reporter. In addition he knows how to handle news matter and do good work in and out of the office. He has trained his sons to journalism.

The Easton Democrat was founded by Paul Winchester in 1888 as an independent democratic paper, and it was sold the following year to Mr. John Y. Todd, who is its present editor and a member of the association. Mr. Todd is pushing his business with great activity and success, and has secured a large circulation and a good advertising patronage. He is an ernest democrat, opposed to all machine politics and other nudemocratic methods, and advocates what he considers right and condemns what he considers wrong.

The Easton Star is the oldest paper in Talbot county and has always been distinguished for its adherence to the democratic principles. Mr. T. K. Robson was editor during the war. The paper was suppressed at the time and Mr. Robson was sent South. The present editor, Mr. Charles G. Wright, is a member of the association. He is particularly friendly to Mr. J. Frank Turner, but not hostile to any other democrat. Mr. Wright was deputy clerk of the Circuit Court for Talbot county, and purchased the Star upon the death of Mr. Robson a few years ago.

Public Business.—Orphan's Court met Tuesday.

John F. Mullikin, administrator Jacob Campher, colored, presented account of sales. Passed.

Martha Johnson, administratrix James Johnson, colored, presented account debts sperate, and first and final account of administration. Passed.

County Commissioners.—Board of County Commissioners met on Tuesday.

The receipts were:

W. T. H. Lee, collector 1890,	$250 00
T. H. Lloyd, " 1890,	256 00
W. H. Williams, bailiff Oxford, J. P. fines	10 00

The disbursements were $765 88.

Bill of Wm. P. Tonry, chemist, for $300 was filed for chemical examination for poison of stomach, liver and heart of Thomas Smith, of St. Michaels. No action taken.

Perry Trusty filed a bill of $25 for digging up the body of Tom Smith. The bill was cut down to $15, and that amount was paid Trusty.

At the special meeting on Friday Jan. 29 the board examined the bridge on Aurora St extended, near the creamery, and concluded to repair the same.

John T. Saulsbury was appointed supervisor of the road from the mouth of Edmondson's Neck to Peach Blossom bridge, vice W. T. Elben, declined.

The session was spent in hearing appeals and ordering transfers and abatements.

Fertile Land in Talbot.—The peninsula embracing the Eastern Shore of Maryland, the Eastern Shore of Virginia and the State of Delaware, bounded on the west by the Chesapeake Bay, on the East by the Delaware Bay and the Atlantic Ocean has been justly styled the Eden of America. Talbot county is located in the very heart of this favored region, being the center of one of the nine counties of the Eastern Shore of Maryland. It is bounded on the three sides by navigable salt water, and embraces some of the finest farming and fruit lands in the world. The land is high, gently undulating, and entirely free from stone and rock, as well as from marshes, swamps and sands, which characterize the water coast of the Atlantic.

It is a most remarkable fact that almost every farm in the western part of the county is situated directly on navigable salt water, for the Great Choptank and Miles Rivers, and their tributaries penetrate every section of the county. Not a single farm is over three miles from navigation, and inasmuch as the Eastern Shore is thoroughly penetrated by railroads in every county, the farmers have the double advantage of both water and rail transportation to great commercial markets of Baltimore Philadelphia and New York.

Talbot county is unsurpassed by any on the Peninsula for fertility of soil, being principally composed of red clay loam of a superior quality. It is easily tilled, retentive of manure and readily brought to a high state of cultivation. The land is admirably adapted to the growth of wheat, corn, potatoes, clover, timothy, etc. as well as peaches, apples, pears, plums and various small fruits, which finds a ready sale, not only in the large cities, but at the large canning and preserving establishments in the country.

This county is noted as being one of the finest wheat growing sections in the United States. The bulk of wheat sold in Baltimore as Southern wheat comes from the Eastern Shore, and some years ago in London samples of wheat were obtained from all parts of the world for the purpose of analysis, and it was determined that Talbot county wheat was the best.

It is well known that the great Peach Belt is located on the Eastern Shore, south of the line drawn from Havre-de-Grace to New Castle, Del., and this luscious fruit is claiming the special attention of the farmers and fruit growers of this county. The early season for this fruit, as well as for the various small fruits and vegetables gives them a decided advantage over sections north of Talbot. The vicinity of the sea has a powerful influence in determining the climate of a country, and this peninsula lying between the Delaware and Chesapeake bay and contiguous to the ocean, has a soft and moderate climate not found in more inland regions. The spring is therefore much earlier, and good weather lasts longer in the fall, consequently the growing season is much longer, and Talbot has only from 6 to 8 weeks of winter and plowing is often done in January and February. The climate is almost a sure cure for asthma, and statistics show that there is a smaller percentage of deaths from consumption on the Peninsula than any other section of the United States.

Easton, the largest town in Talbot, is located on Third Haven river, with steamboat landing at Easton Point and within three miles of landing on St. Michael's or Miles river. It is a fine local market for this and adjoining counties, having two large canning establishments, and since the completion of Delaware and Chesepeake Railway, is rapidly increasing in population and importance. In 1890 the population was 2,939.

The incorporated towns are Easton, St. Michael's, Trappe and Oxford. Cordova, Royal Oak, Tunis Mills, Hambleton, Wittman Longwoods, Matthews, McDaniel, Wye Mills Skipton, Sherwood and Island City, are thriving villages. Oxford and St. Michael's with their shipyards, railways and oyster industries, are prosperous when times are good but being situated on peninsulas, with no back country, the mercantile business is restricted. Trappe has large and wealthy section of farming country to draw from, and can show a business of $150,000 a year.—Baltimore American.

THE SALOON AS AN OBSTACLE TO REFORMS.

There is not now and there cannot be in the future a reform of any kind worthy the name that does not find the political power of the saloon a bar to its success. This does not merely happen so; it is a necessary result of the business. To it gravitate the corrupt forces of politics as naturally as slugs and centipedes gather in the heart of a rotten log.— The saloons as an organized political power are to-day bossing the bosses. It is this fact that makes this issue such an urgent one.— Seward once said that a nation has just enough public virtue to save itself. We are fast coming to the point—indeed, we have come to it —when the political salvation of the country requires the throttling of the liquor power. Is there a single reform that has not seen its chances in the past go to pieces on this rock of stumbling? How many municipal leagues, and citizens' movements, and reform clubs have seen their best efforts, backed both by intelligence and wealth, balked at every point by the forces generated and manipulated in the saloons? Municipal misgovernment has become too often a hissing and a by-word; and in each case the dominant force can be traced to the grogshops. Whatever reforms are to be accomplished by changes of law find themselves under the necessity of appealing to Legislatures whose members are in large part the corrupt creatures of the saloons, on whom all argument is lost that is unaccompanied by a bribe or a club. Theodore Roosevelt, a few years ago, when he instituted a careful investigation of the character of his fellow-legislators at Albany, concluded that 60 par cent. of them could not be depended upon to resist a bribe. The dethronement of the liquor traffic, as a political power, becomes under such circumstances an essential prerequisite to the success of any reform worthy the name. The modern legislator is, as a rule, subject first to his party's dictator, and next to the influence that will bid highest for his vote. Legislators change, party bosses change, but the power of the saloon continues. The only hope of redemption from the political thraldom of Nation to its most unscrupulous elements lies in the success of a party that is emancipated, in fact and in act, from the liquor power and free from all political obligations thereto. There are enough citizens of America, who are by conviction and inclination the foes of the saloon and of corruption, to render the success of such a party immediate and overwhelming. Why shall this thing not be done?—N. Y. Voice.

MY STORY, MARM?

My story, marm? Well, realy, now, I have not much to say;
But if you'd called a year ago and then again
 to-day,
No need of words to tell you, marm, for your own eyes could see
How much the Temperance cause has done
 for my dear John and me.

A year ago we hadn't flour to make a batch of bread.
And many a night these little ones went supperless to bed;
Now look into the larder, marm—there's sugar, flour and tea;
And that is what the Temperance Cause has done for John and me.

The pail that holds the butter, John used to fill with beer;
But he hasn't spent a cent for drink for two months and a year;
He pays his debts, is strong and well as any man can be;
And that is what the Temperance Cause has done for John and me.

He used to sneak along the street feeling so mean and low,
And he didn't like to meet the folks he used to know;
But now he looks them in the face and steps off bold and free;
And that is what the Temperance Cause has done for John and me.

A year ago those little boys went strolling through the streets,
With scarcely clothing on their backs, and nothing on their feet;
But now they've shoes and stockings and garments as you see;
And that is what the Temperance Cause has done for John and me.

The children were afraid of him—his coming stopped their play;
But now when supper time is o'er, and the table cleared away,
The boys all frolic around his chair, the baby
 climbs his knee;
And that is what the Temperance Cause has done for John and me.

Ah, those sad days are o'er of sorrow and of pain;
The children have their father back, and I my John again!
I pray excuse my weeping, marm—they're tears of joy, to see
How much the Temperance Cause has done
 for my dear John and me.

Each morning when he goes to work, I upward look and say:
"O, Heavenly Father help dear John to keep his pledge to-day!"
And every night, before I sleep, thank God on bended knee
For what the Temperance Cause has done for my dear John and me.

CLOSING HYMN SUNG AT NATIONAL CONVENTION.

The Lord be with thee in the flush of morn,
When life springs new, and holiest thoughts are born,
When earth would draw thee, may the heav'nly way
Shine more and more unto the perfect day.
 "The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil.
He shall preserve thy soul. The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth even forever more."

The Lord be with thee in the height of noon,
When hours of action vanish all too soon,
Through all the heat and burden of the strife,
The Lord refresh thee with eternal life.
 "The Lord that made heaven and earth bless thee out of Zion. The Lord is thy keeper. The Lord is thy shade upon thy right hand. The sun shall not smite thee by day, nor the moon by night."

The Lord be with thee in the twilight dim,
The sweet home-coming and the ev'ning
 hymn;
His dews upon thy thirsty soul descend,
His peace abide with thee unto the end.
 "The Lord bless thee and keep thee; the Lord make His face to shine upon thee and be gracious unto thee; the Lord lift up His countenance upon thee, and give thee peace."

The Lord be with thee through the silent night,
His army to refuge, and His face thy light;
When foes arise, the Lord thy keeper be Until the day dawn and the shadows flee.
 "The Lord Jesus Christ be with thy spirit.
Behold he that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep. The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms, and He shall thrust out the enemy before thee, and shall say, 'Destroy them.'"

St. Michaels Items.—From our regular correspondent.—Rev. S. J. Morris, of the M. E. Church of this town, preached at the First M. E. Church of Baltimore, last Sunday evening. His pulpit was filled morning and evening by Rev. Mr. Collins of Broad Creek Station.

Revival services commenced at the M. P. Church last Sunday evening, Rev. Mr. Dum in charge.

Mrs. Edward Willey, who has been seriously ill the past few weeks, spent last Wednesday with her son S. H. Willey, editor of the Comet.

Capt. William Burns, an aged and much respected citizen of this town, is at this writing very sick. The doctors have but little hope of his recovery.

Harmon K. George, Esq., left here last Wednesday for Washington, I suppose for the purpose of paying his respects to our next President, James G. Blaine.

We learn with much regret that our roller mill will soon cease to roll out the good flour that it has done in the past. Mr. Dewees, the present manager or renter of the mill, finds that there is no money in the milling business in St. Michaels, and Dr. Barber, the owner of the mill, has consented to take the mill off his hands, and in the future, so far as we can learn, will make the mill a storehouse for flour that is manufactured in Easton to be delivered at St. M. and all points below. We also learn that Mr. Dewees will shortly remove to the city. This we, as a town, will regret, as Mr. Dewees has made many friends and he is a good citizen.

The bombardment of the castle on Tilton street has ceased. It is supposed that the parties who were doing this one piece of deviltry were afraid of being caught, so they stopped short never to go again.

Professor Tonry, of Baltimore, was in town last week—brought portions of Tom Smith's liver with him and proved to the satisfaction of the jury of inquest that Tom did not die from grip, old age or bilious fever, but from a certain poison called Rough on Rats, or rough on anything that chooses to monkey with it.

The people of this part of the Lord's vineyard were sorry to hear of Judge Stump's sickness last Monday and hope that ere this his usual health and strength has returned.

Sorry to know that the Ledger man has had the grip—we remember in the olden times, when he taught the young idea how to shoot, the kind of "grip" he had as he stood over us with a rod in hand, that grip was not pleasant to the taste or feeling. Uncle George has the grip on the affections of a great many people here, and we hope that he may stay in the land of the living many long years to come.

Thos. Kirby & Sons are building a large bugeye—this gives employment to the ship carpenters of St. Michaels.

Oyster market very slow this past ten days.

Professor John Valliant and orchestra furnished music at a dance in Bay Hundred one evening last week.

There are two petitions being circulated through the town—one for a license, doing away with local option, and allowing certain parties, who are willing to pay a stiff price, the right to sell whiskey, beer and anything else that will intoxicate; the other petition is entirely opposed to everything of the kind, and asks that our laws may stand as they are at present. I do not know what success either petition is having, but I know that if the first petition is granted our quiet streets will be quiet no longer, particularly Saturday nights. We know this from experience of the past, and though the present law is evaded and worked around in some mysterious manner, yet we do know that it is a thousand times better than high or low license can ever be.

Anna Sold.—On last Tuesday Deputy U. S Marshal Thos. H. Coburn, sold under an order of U. S. Court on libel for wages, the schooner "Anna" lying at Oxford. She brought $180 00 and the purchaser was J. Thos Gibbons of Baltimore.

"La Grippe,"

Persons suffering from "La Grippe" are speedily and premanently cured by HUMPHREYS' SPECIFICS NOS. ONE and SEVEN. NUMBER ONE allays the fever, pain and inflammation, while NO. SEVEN cures the Cough, Hoarseness and Sore Throat.

How The Foxhound Gets His Name.—The foxhound was so named because it was originally kept as an addition to every pack of hounds. It was always noted for being up within a few minutes of running to ground and aiding very materially in the capture of reynards.—Detroit Free Press.

He Resumed His Reading.—"They have a curious cat in one of the bar rooms down town," he said, looking up from his paper; "it drinks and chews tobacco."

"Dear me," she said; "if it could swear, too; it would rise almost as high in the animal creation as a man."

Caroline County's Railroad.—Wednesday Senator Dawson introduced a bill to ratify, confirm and approve the act passed by the General Assembly in 1886, authorizing and enabling the county commissioners of Caroline county to aid the Deleware and Chesepeake Railroad Company in the construction of a branch railroad from Greensborough to Federalsburg, in that county, by the grant of $60,000 to be raised by an issue of bonds, and to levy a tax on the taxable property of the county to pay the interest on the principal of the bond. The grant was authorized by the vote of the people at the last election, and Senator Dawson only asks for the enabling act. This branch will run through Greensborough on the Deleware and Chesapeake Railroad, through the most fertile section of Caroline county, touch at Denton and connect with the Cambridge and Seaford Railroad at Federalsburg. When completed the county will have as good railroad accommodations as any in the state.

Cheese Poisoning.—The wholesale poisoning of a family by eating cheese and their narrow escape from death, and other incidents of like nature quite recently, calls for more than passing remark. Some analytical work has been done by experts to determine the character of the poison, and have been quite successful, so that Prof. Vaughn has given the poison a name and description. The cause of the formation of the tyrotoxicon crystals is supposed to originate from the putrefaction of animal tissues, and also of the growth of minute organisms in the milk, that trace their source to improper cleaning of milk utensils. Milk may adhere to the sides of pails and cans in the little dents and bruises, notably the seams, and in a short time this old milk gives off a swarm of putrefactive germs that work the danger in the cheese, as they are not killed in the making, or curing process, the heat and other conditions making a cheese the natural home for them. The reason why they are present in cheese and not in butter is from two causess, they are not active in fats or oils, and butter making deals with the fats by gravity, or centrifugal separation from the milk, but in cheese curd they find congenial homes and multiply to the extent that the ptomains or poison elements form, and by a certain chemical process may be recovered in the form of crystals, that if given as medicine, act exactly as does the poisoned cheese. What remedy? Absolute cleanliness in stable and dairy house, and knowing that the utensils about the milk are kept bright and shining. The factory management where the cheese is made is not exempt from this law of care and cleanliness; and to be on guard in this matter may save a visit from the health officer and its consequent responsibility.—Ohio Farmer.

A Delicate Coin-Tester.—"As fine as a hair" could well be the praise accorded the wonderfully delicate weight tester for coins at the Mint. As the coins run down into it through the long spout, the tester needs to balance them but for an instant, immediately shooting those that are not found wanting in the expectant and open-mouthed sack at the end of a lower spout. If too light, they are tossed out through another spout, and if too heavy through a third one. Not long ago an astonishing large number of coins were tossed into the "too-heavy" spout. Surprised at this unusual rejection of so great a load of the silver pieces, a careful investigation was instituted; when, lo! it was found that a single tiny hair caught in the scales had made overweight for every coin passed through.—Philadelphia Record.

Use More Onions.—It is related of a country physician that as he passed by a farmhouse he remarked:

"I shall not have many calls from here this year. The reason for this remark was a thrifty onion patch which he saw in the side yard.

It is true that onions are about the most healthful vegetable that the housewife can use. If it were not for tainting the breath they would be much more generally used than they are. They are exceedingly easy of digestion and to this fact part of their medicinal virtue is due. They give the general overtaxed stomach a rest digesting themselves and absorbing offensive matters that previous ill health has left, which the digestive organs were unable to dispose of. A friend who has had long experience tells us that he cured a cold by eating a very light dinner on onions cooked as soft as they can be. Then going to bed he begins to prespire, sleeps soundly till morning, and is then a well man with not a trace of the cold that uncared for might have developed into dangerous disease.—American Cultivator.

What Mrs. Grundy Says.—That the degeneracy of social news ought to be a subject for debating classes.

That it does not console society people to be told a good name is better than riches.

That there ought to be a great deal of facetiousness current with so many living by their wits.

That symptoms of a social war are the parties of the dearest friends on the same night.

That fashionable people misapply big words as often and ridiculously as colored people.

That there is as much sincerity in the "gushing woman" as there is in an ordinary cat.

That the domestic economy in some fashionable families is carried on to a distressing degree.

That doctors ought not encourage the nonsense of dignifying every little cold as the "grip."

That strangers may be welcome at some churches, but they are not given evidence of it.

That there are too many women writing for the periodicals on the threadbare 'society' subject.

That Congressmen's wives are the subject of a great deal of amusing Washington gossip.

That animal pets in the house, physicians say, account for much unexplained illness.

That if pride goeth before a fall, there will be some awful tumbles before slippery days are gone.

That if all women knew how to manage servants, there would not be so much trouble among them.

That sometimes it is a great deal better to be the executor of a rich man's will than an heir.

That it is a great deal better to walk than to ride in carriages which you cannot pay for.

Home Hints.—It is best to buy hominy, beans, rice, etc., in quantities.

A well animal needs no medicine and there is no economy in continual dosing.

A better showing could be made if farmers would keep less stock, but keep them better.

Never set aside a bottle dirty. Wash, clean and turn with neck down that it may dry, and no dust be in it when you want it.

In hauling in part of a rick of hay, use a hay knife and cut down a section as large as you can haul in at one time; this lessens the waste.

Half a teaspoonful of sugar will nearly always revive a dying fire, and, unlike the few drops of coal oil which servants are so fond of using and which causes so many accidents, is perfectly safe.

Red table-cloths and napkins lose their fresh red color soon unless carefully handled. They should be soaked for half an hour in cold water, then put quickly through lukewarm suds, rinsed in salt water and hung up immediately.

A brass kettle can be cleaned, if discolored by cooking in it, by scouring it well with soap and ashes first, then put in half a pint of vinegar and a handful of salt and let them boil on the stove a short time; then wash and rinse it out in hot water.

To tie a bow knot that will not come loose of itself, proceed exactly as if you were about to tie an ordinary bow knot, but before you draw it up pass the right hand loop through the knot: give a steady and stmulaneous pull on both loops and the thing is done. In untying, be sure to pull the right hand line and the string will readily loosen.

One of the most popular ways of buying nuts is in five pound cartoons, provided you get the best quality of nuts. The ordinary mixed nuts of commerce are undesirable, and which could be sold at a very low price if offered by themselves. But some enterprising dealers make an assortment or mixture of the finest nuts they can get, and when this is done the purchaser generally finds a five pound package of this grade to be a very desirable one.

Toddlers Whose Outfits are Worth Several Hundreds of Dollars.—Those sweet little pink and white epitomes of womanhood that you see all muffled up riding in the Park these days, or walking demurely besides their white capped "maids" along the sunny sides of the avenue, are many of them intrinsically very valuable small bundles. In the first place all their underclothing is frilled and ruffled and laced, some of the small petticoats often costing as high as $20 apiece. Then the outside wraps are no longer made at home. The children have their own dressmakers just like everybody else. There are several of these establishments on Fifth avenue and in the shopping sections of the city. A pretty cloak costs $50 and from this they run up to any amount, according to the work upon them and the location of the place where they are bought.

Bonnets also are no small items in the cost price of these little American princesses, and they range up to fabulous prices. Then there are lace pins and neckerchief pins and garter buckles, and gold beads, and fine shoes and stockings especially made, and silk knit leggins, and the hundred and one other things which will immediately suggest themselves to the heart of a fond mother. Five hundred dollars would not be an exaggerated estimate of the cost of the adornments of some of the tittle toddlers. Still, a child may be dressed very prettily for much less. At present beavers and white Mongolian are the favorite furs for trimming children's costumes.

A sweetly pretty coat for a little maid of 4 or 5 is of white diagonal serge, with a white fur cape tied with white ribbons and fur trimmed bonnet to match, of white velvet with a puckered brim. Pretty children never look so pretty as when they are dressed all in white. Serviceable coats for everyday wear are of lamb's wool cloth in pale blue, gray and scarlet. They are cozy and beautifully warm. A dressy costume for quite a tiny girl is made of fawn-colored camel's hair cloth, with a cape prettily trimmed around the shoulders and edged with silver fox. The bonnet intended to be worn with it is of beaver felt trimmed with feathers.—N. Y. Mail.

HE Missed his Opportunity! DON'T Miss Yours, Reader. The majority neglect their opportunities, and from that cause live in poverty and die in obscurity! Harrowing despair is the lot of many, as they look back on lost, forever lost, opportunity. Life is passing! Reach out. Be up and doing. Improve your opportunity, and secure prosperity, prominence, peace. It was said by a philosopher, that "the Goddess of Fortune offers a golden opportunity to each person at some period of life; embrace the chance, and she pours out her riches; fail to do so and she departs, never to return." How shall you find the GOLDEN opportunity? Investigate every chance that appears worthy, and of fair promise; that is what all successful men do. Here is an opportunity, such as is not often within the reach of laboring people. Improved, it will give, at least, a grand start in life. The GOLDEN opportunity for many is here. Money to be made rapidly and honorably by any industrious person of either sex. All ages. You can do the work and live at home, wherever you are. Even beginners are easily earning from $5 to $10 per day. You can do as well if you will work, not too hard, but industriously; and you can increase your income as you go on. You can give spare time only, or all your time to the work. Easy to learn. Capital not required. We start you. All is comparatively new and really wonderful. We instruct and show you how, free. Failure unknown among our workers. No room to explain here. Write and learn all free, by return mail. Unwise to delay. Address at once, H. Hallett & Co., Box 880, Portland, Maine.
