The Old Homestead—Is the title of the handsome oil painting now on exhibition at the Clothing store of Wanamaker & Brown in Philadelphia. This picture is by one of the country's most eminent artists in rural scenery and is attracting crowds of spectators. It illuminates a very large portion of the space in the lower floor of the immense establishment and ladies do not have to climb the steps to behold it. Copies of this magnificent painting are distributed free to all customers, and it must be remembered that where the purchaser within a hundred miles of the city buys forty dollars' worth of clothing that his carfare will be returned to him. Why not take a trip to the city and get a chance at some of the good things that are being distributed?

Arbor Day Observed.—According to the custom introduced in this State to observe in each year a day for tree-planting, Wednesday was devoted to Arbor Day exercises by many of the public schools in the State. The program for the Easton High School was by far the most elaborate of any of the previous ones. The entire school marched to the Court House at 2 o'clock where the literary portion of the exercises was held. The program began by scriptural reading by Prof. Murdaugh, followed by a chant "The Lord's Prayer" by the school which was beautifully rendered. Invocation by the school consisted of a quotation. Prof. Chaplain next delivered an interesting and instructive address on Arbor Day, why, when, and where it was first observed. The Professor's remarks were listened to with marked attention, at the conclusion of which the school sang "Chants the Robin" which was delightfully rendered. Dr. Lewis Buffett spoke a few minutes on Trees and their uses. Some of his remarks were quite humorous which, of course, pleased the pupils. "America" was next sung by the entire audience.—Ten pupils gave quotations appropriate to the day, followed by an address from Mr. Wm. Adkins who spoke of the public school system in relation to politics. Music by the school, "Arbor Day" concluded the literary features of the program at the Court House. The school then adjourned to the school building followed by a large attendance of citizens where the tree was planted. Prof. Savage in behalf of a committee of citizens delivered an address presenting the tree, which had been named Henry P. Hopkins, to the Easton High School. Prof. Savage's remarks were listened to most attentively, while he spoke feelingly of Mr. Hopkins and gave the tree into the care and keeping of the school. Prof. Murdaugh, in behalf of his pupils, accepted the tree with a few well chosen words. The scholars then recited "He who Plants a Tree," which concluded the exercises. Much credit is due Prof. Murdaugh and his able assistants for the excellent program and the orderly manner in which everything passed off, while the children seemed to thoroughly enjoy the work of the day.

At Trappe, all the students of the Primary and High school met at the latter named school at 9 o'clock on Wednesday morning to celebrate Arbor Day. The literary and musical exercises began with the song "Chants the Robin," followed by a prayer by Rev. B. S. Highley. Mr. Farring read a scripture selection. Several other songs were sung, interspersed with recitations. Trees were planted named after R. E. Lee, Washington, Lord Byron, Lord Baltimore, Gov. Brown, The Talbot Times and Prof. D. M. Long.—Two special trees were made sacred to the memory of Henry P. Hopkins and Samuel B. Merrick.

Miss Willie Hardcastle, at Hambleton, gave a pleasant Arbor Day entertainment consisting of recitations and songs relative to the occasion. The best features of the afternoon were calisthenic and flag drills. The pupils were well drilled and in this, the teacher is quite a success. Tress were planted in honor of Stonewall Jackson, O. W. Holmes, Dr. E. M. Hardcastle and Henry P. Hopkins.

—It is now time to think of carpets, light-weight merinos, dress goods and clothing, and the place to do the most acting after deliberate thinking is at the store of B. P. Cox.

The public road near McDanieltown will be straightened where the B. & E. S. R. R. crosses the public road twice in a short distance.

The following petition was presented:

TO THE HONORABLE, THE BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS, FOR TALBOT COUNTY.

Gentlemen:

WHEREAS a certain bill authorized your Board to issue bonds for the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars the proceeds of which are to be used to pay certain creditors of the Baltimore and Eastern Shore Railroad Company (as the undersigned are informed though having been unable to obtain a copy of said bill) has passed both houses of the General Assembly of Maryland and been signed by the Governor:

AND WHEREAS the issuing of said bonds will in the opinion of the undersigned be invalid and subject the county to unnecessary expense, if not the County Commissioners to personal responsibility, if the said Act should be declared invalid by the Courts;

AND WHEREAS the validity of said Act of Assembly is about to be speedily tested.

You are therefore respectfully requested to postpone the issuing of said bonds or taking any action in the premises pending a decision of the question as to the validity of said Act of Assembly.

Latest Spring Styles for Ladies.—'Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy: rich, not gaudy." So advises Shakespeare, and his words still furnish the best possible rule in matters of dress. "Well-dressed women" select such styles as combine neatness with richness, and are at the same time in accordance with the prevailing fashion. The styles adopted in the Parisian Fashion Journals, published by A. McDowell & Co., 4 West 14th Street, New York, are always neat, rich and correct. It is because of this fact that these publications have become so popular that they continue to make such rapid headway in the favor of American women. "La Mode de Paris" contains the latest and best French styles. "Album des Modes" gives the styles which are most popular in Paris. Each is 35 cents per copy, or $3.50 per year. Yearly subscribers to either of these journals are entitled to a Premium Book on 'Dress-making Simplified," valued at $5.00, which book is not sold, but is GIVEN AWAY as here indicated. "La Mode,' is sold for 15 cents a copy, or $1.50 per annum. Do not allow your newsdealer to substitute any other journals for these. If necessary you can be supplied with them direct from the house in New York. 1t

"How to Cure All Skin Diseases."

Simply apply "SWAYNE'S OINTMENT." No internal medicine required. Cures tetter, eczema, itch, all eruptions on the face, hands, nose, etc., leaving the skin clear, white and healthy. Its great healing and curative powers are possessed by no other remedy. Ask your druggist for SWAYNE'S OINTMENT. e7

A Reliable Nursery Represented.—We were glad to receive a pleasant call from Mr. G. W. Boyd, who is representing the old and reliable firm of R. G. Chase & Co (nursery men) and is now working up a delivery of stock from that firm for next fall's delivery. We believe any one ordering stock through him will be honestly and intelligently delt with, as Mr. Boyd has had years of experience. The aboved named firm are in want of a few honest and industrious agents to solicit orders for which good salaries or a per cent will be paid and constant employment given. For further particulars enquire of Mr. Boyd at Miss Julia Kennard's Boarding house, R. R. Avenue, Easton, or address R. G. Chase & Co, 1430 S. Penn. Square, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Spring,

Of all seasons in the year, is the one for making radical changes in regard to health. During the winter, the system becomes to a certain extent clogged with waste, and the blood loaded with impurities, owing to lack of exercise, close confinement in poorly ventilated shops and homes, and other causes. This is the cause of the dull, sluggish, tired feeling so general at this season, and which must be overcome, or the health may be entirely broken down. Hood's Sarsaparilla has attained the greatest popularity all over the country as the favorite Spring Medicine. It expels the accumulation of impurities through the bowels, kidneys, liver, lungs and skin, gives to the blood the purity and quality necessary to good health and overcomes that tired feeling.

W. C. T. U.

Women's Christian Temperance Union meets every Sabbath afternoon at 3.30 o'clock in its hall (second floor) corner of Washington and Dover streets; entrance on Dover St. An invitation is extended to all who wish to attend these meetings.

Wednesday, April 14th, is our regular business meeting.

——:o:——

Under the supervision of the W. C. T. U., Gospel Temperance Meetings were opened to be held each Sabbath afternoon and a cordial invidation extended to all, to be present in these meetings and assist in being helpful, and to be helped. The word ALL strikes out all denominationilism, takes in the brotherhood of mankind and makes all feel that they are a part of this circle, which is composed of the rescuing and rescued. In the early efforts it was mainly attended by the sisters of the Union, and the Honorory members, the ladies always being in the majority. It was with fear and trembling that they presided over the meeting, but each renewed effort found them stronger than before, and with an impulse to go on and do the Master's bidding as he opened the way. The list of leaders of the early meetings were few in number, but they have increased as the master's "Go thou and do likewise," fell inwardly upon them, until a long list is engraved upon the tablet of self-sacrifice and leadership.

Much is due the leader of our Evangelistic work, who has been untiring in her efforts amid all the discouragements to lead on in this noble work. The awakened has taken a deeper interest in the cause of temperance, which long ago has been placed in the line of church work, and to day the sin of intemperance is conceived to be the greatest master evil within the pale of the Church, and though it must come, the crushing blade, which christianity alone can give it. Cramped and dwarfed indeed must be the Church of to-day that closes its doors to its needs.

Within the past year quite an army of the rescued have found a loving Savior, and the poisonous drought is no longer a pleasure to them, God's appartment needs no such furnishings, they naturally turn their feet towards these quiet gatherings, where the tempter is abolished and the needed helpful words, earnest progress and Gospel songs are uttered to give them strength and courage to go out and be separated from the sin and vice that confronts them. The atmosphere of this house meeting should prove a "Mecca" to these waiting souls, whose feet have been taken out of the mire and clay and placed upon the solid rock. With the untiring effort and earnest zeal that comes with all good work, there often comes a reaction or a lull in the effort put forth and a sense of loss, a lack of earnestness is apparent to those whose presence is a fixedness that knows no turning away. It is as much the steady swelling of the tide as of the steady stream, that keeps the waters pure and an overflow meeting is a great inspiration to every individual worker. Let us have more of them. In attendance upon one of these meetings, the leader, (an honorary member) made a few remarks in regard to the absence of ladies in the meeting and he could not understand why it was so. A painful consciousness came to us and a murmured wish that it could have reached the ear of all earnest hearted women, and touched the heart to such an extent that there would need be no repetition of the appeal.

The story of the previous midnight scene, and the knowledge of the different places in the town where liquor is being sold, was an illustration to us that tired hearts and weary feet must keep pursuing, for in the devil's workshop not a moment is wasted, and while we think we have built a secure wall around our loved ones, the "trap door" reveals a new victim. It may be a choice selection or an unsightly object, but in either case it is the price of blood. We have our various excuses and a plea that would seem to justify the human in our nature, but as we being the soul thought into action, placing all in our line of hinderences before our Heavenly Father, He will settle the matter for us satisfactorily; He makes no mistakes, and the soul restfulness and awakening that we get from such an examination, will outweigh all human objections, and we will find ourselves doing more than we ever thought it possible to do.

Let us nobly toil for God. The conquering host is marching on.

—In these hard times its your duty to save all the money you can. It is'nt often you can buy the best for the least money but when you purchase the L. & M. paints you pay less money than for any other and get the best goods. They are insured and if they don't cost you less you don't have to pay for them, You can find out all about them by calling on J. C. Henry & Bro. 3t

The Baltimore News.—The Baltimore News, under its new management, is one of the best afternoon papers in the country. It has discarded the antiqued folio form and adopted the more modern and convenient size During the week it prints six pages and on Sunday from twelve to eighteen. It is preeminently a newspaper, and full of interest throughout.

It pays special interest to politics, State and national. It had a special bureau at Washington in charge of an able and experienced correspondent and its reports of the proceedings of the Legislature at Annapolis are full, interesting and accurate. It prints full Associated Press reports and has special correspondents throughout Maryland. Its market reports are particularly of value, being many hours in advance of the morning papers, and its local news is a full and accurate of Baltimore happenings immediately after their occurrence.

Baseball, racing and other sporting news receives proper attention, and during the Presidential campaign the Association Press reports, it is announced, will be supplimented by special dispatches from all important points in Maryland and Virginia, written by correspondents thoroughly familiar with the political situation.

The Sunday morning issue, in addition to all the news, is a veritable magazine. It has from six to twelve pages of intereiting special matter, gossip, stories etc., and among its contributors are Mark Twain, Edwin Arnold, Zola, Opie Read, M. E. W. Sherwood and F Carpenter.

If you want a bright, interesting paper, you will certainly get it in The Baltimore News.

It Should Be in Every House.

J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpsburg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with Pneumonia after an attack of "La Grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Cooksport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for Lung Trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free trial bottles at J. C. Henry & Bro.'s Drug Store. Large bottles 50c. and $1.00.

And it was Very Late when He Did Go.

'Twas 11 o'clock. He had started to go,
And his hat he nervously fingered,
And they stoood in the hall—Mary Jane and her beau,
And he lingered, and lingered, and lingered.

And he lingered, and lingered, and lingered, and lingered,
And lingered, and lingered, and lingered,
And lingered, and lingered, and lingered, and lingered,
While his hat he nervously fingered.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by his motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. NOYES, 820 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. 25july

CABBAGE FOR HENS.

These Hens Eat a Hundred Heads in Winter and Jump Up to Get at It.

We have a small stock of poultry, but we have never suffered from chicken cholera or other diseases that we often read of. We feed whole corn evenings and wheat screenings from the mill mornings. We have to buy nearly all of our feed from the town grist mill. We pay thirty-five cents a bushel for screenings and ninety cents a bushel for new corn or eighty cents for old. We have a common poultry house 3 by 16 with plenty of glass on south and west sides. We prefer the ground for a ground floor. Give the fowls fresh water every day, all the oyster shells they can eat and have a yard 30 by 50 inclosed with chicken wire. I planted some fruit trees so as to give partial shade in summer. I find my flock of twenty-five head will eat a good sized head of cabbage per day. I hang the cabbage up so they will have to crane their necks a little to get it. I have over 100 cabbages buried in a trench on purpose for my poultry. As soon as the hens see me with a cabbage they all come on a run, and as soon as it is hung up they are hard at work upon it. We always have eggs. Eggs have been worth for a long time twenty-five cents per dozen and upward. Our breed is Plymouth Rocks and Leghorn, mixed with a little Langshan, splendid layers. For only one day in four years have we been without a fresh egg. I believe in feeding whole wheat, some corn in real cold weather and plenty of green grass and cabbage. Once in awhile I spade up the roost floor and also the inclosure. This gives them fresh earth to wallow in. We also give them coal ashes and some other things, but the above treatment is our general diet and has proved a great success. In four years we have lost three grown hens from broken eggs within them.—T. H. Capern in St. Louis Journal of Agriculture.

Pulse of Animals.

The pulse of the horse can be most easily detected upon the lower jaw just forward of the curved portion, where the artery crosses the cord and bone at the same time, it may also be felt, and often its pulsations seen, upon the long ridge above the eye, or may be found inside the elbow. In health it beats forty times a minute and when more rapid it denotes fever or excitement. If slower weakness. In cattle it may be found over the middle of the first rib, or in the artery upon the ankle joint and should have from fifty to fifty-five beats a minute.

In sheep it is easiest found near the middle of the inside of the thigh and should beat seventy-five to eighty times per minute. Although not included in the query, we add that the rapidity of breathing is often as indicative of disease as the pulse, and while the horse naturally breathes nine to twelve times per minute, cattle vary from eleven to fifteen times, and faster or slower indicates nearly the same thing as it does in the pulse, unless it results from overexertion.—American Cultivator.

Live Stock Points.

Every farmer can do perhaps half a dozen things well but he cannot do a dozen. Look carefully about and see what branch of the live stock business will pay best in your neighborhood—whether hogs, horses, sheep, poultry beef cattle or dairying. Then settle down to work with might and main for the success of that which you can do best. You may have other branches as a sort of side issue, to rest yourself with, but the man who succeeds thoroughly is bound to confine his labor to a few things. This is the age of specialization.

Hear what L. S. Coffin says in The Breeder's Gazette: "I know (make that 'know' very emphatic) that running on the same pasture in summer, on the same feed in winter, a high grade Shorthorn steer will bring me from 50 to 100 per cent. more net profit than the common native scrub."

Words of equal length.

1. Covered with a fine plaster. 2. Changeable. 3. A man of courtly manners. 4. Rejects. 5. Victories. 6. Avowed. 7. Cutting. 8. Concerns. 9. In a proper manner. Fourth row To disseminate. Fifth row A kind of vessel.

No. 95.—Enigma.

A word of nine letters, the chief town of one of the British isles. The same letter is used more than once in the same word:

7, 1, 2—A brilliant color.
8, 7, 1, 1, 4—A softer color.
2, 1, 4—The home of a wild animal.
7, 6, 3, 4—What careless people bring on themselves and others.
2, 3, 4, 4, 1, 7—The principal meal of the day.
5, 3, 7, 2—A biped, but not a human being.
5, 7, 6, 3, 4—A name for a grizzly savage animal.
9, 3, 4, 2—An animal; a rustic person.

No. 96.—A Chessboard Puzzle.

A chessboard has sixty four squares, half white and half black. When our game began the other night at 6 p. m. half the board was taken up with an equal number of white and red chessmen. At half past 6 red had lost three-eighths of his men and white had lost five-eighths. At a quarter to 7 red had lost three fifths of his remainder and white had lost all his remaining pieces except one third. When 8 o'clock strikes red takes half white's remaining men, losing none himself, and wins. How many squares have pieces on them at the end of the game?

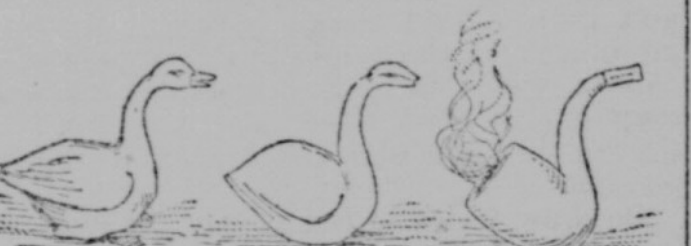
No. 97.—Word Making.

Make five words out of the following letters, using all for each word: E. A. S. P. R.

No. 98.—Crossword Enigma.

In champion, not in foe;
In Adriatic, not in Po;
In dungeon, not in cell;
In everglades, not in dell;
In tormenting, not in kind,
A troublesome pest you'll find.

No. 99.—Pictorial Transformation.



This is what may be said of the small boy who smokes, "A goose at one end and smoke at the other."—Golden Days.

No. 100.—A Heartless Husband.

"What do you suppose I found in the little room where we keep our clothes?" asked Mr. Jones of his wife one morning "Mercy, not a mouse, I hope," she cried skipping into a chair at the bare thought of it. "No, not that," he answered, "but I found one of the young animals that belong in the barn, the bottom of a shoe, a cabbage, some of the old inhabitants of Gaul, a suggestion of robbery"—Mr. Jones went no further, for Mrs. J. at this point gave a loud shriek and fainted away and Mr. J. learned that there is point where a joke ceases to be a joke.

No. 101.—A Curious Clock.

A foreign clock of peculiar make strikes the hours from one to twenty four. Now how many more strokes will this clock give in the course of twenty-four hours than a clock of ordinary make?

Riddles.

What is the best way to hide a bear, it doesn't matter how big he is—bigger the better? Skin him!

When is sugar like a pig's tooth? When in a hog's head.

What is it which if you name it even you break it? Silence!

What is that which you can keep even after giving it to somebody else? Your word.

What is that which is put on the table and cut, but never eaten? A pack of cards.

What is the difference between a milk maid and a swallow? One skims the milk and the other skims the water.

Why was Hamlet so courageous in addressing his father's ghost? Because he was not particular to a shade.

Why is a pig with a curly continuation like the ghost of Hamlet's father? Because "he could a tale unfold."

What moral lesson does a weathercock teach? It is vane to a-spire.

CONCERNING PRINTED COTTON GOODS.

We call attention to some of the newest things in Printed Cotton Goods, the designers and printers of which have this season fairly outdone themselves. Never have we shown an assortment so large and varied, and never have the makers of the world produced as fine designs or exquisite colorings as for the present season.

We name as the most prominent cotton of the year.

French Printed Broche, at 37 1-2 cents per Yard.

This fabric, practically controlled by us, is a cotton texture, with a silky surface, brocaded in self colors, with dots, cubes, flowers, scrolls, rings, etc., and then printed with skill and taste in designs, representing feathers, flowers, ferns, stripes, scrolls and graceful broche effects.

Near by will be found the Cotton Crepons, at 37 1-2, 45 and 60 cents per yard, which are entirely new. These goods resemble and exquisite silk crepe of the most dainty sheerness. The colorings of the grounds are finely chosen, and covered with handsome figures in bow knots, odd designs and small flowers.

Another material is the Bedford Cord Gingham, at 37 1-2 cents per yard.

These closely resemble the woolen Bedfords in weave, but the beautiful summer colors, uniquely woven, give them a style of their own. We show these in strips, plaids and bias effects that make up an almost endless assortment in styles and coloring, all of which are perfectly fast.

Tiji Cloth, at 12 1-2 cents per yard, is a sheer cotton dress fabric in black, white and medium grounds, having an unusually clear printing of single colored and jardiniere designs in sprays, large and small flowers, ribbon lines, feathers, scrolls, etc.

The fabric is 41 inches wide and is sold at 12 1-2 cents per yard, making a cool and charming gown at a very small outlay. There are over three hundred designs, and the entire production is confined to us. Tiji closely resembles printed India Silk, but is of a more seer texture.

Highland Zephyrs at 18 cents per yard, in a full line of Plaids and Strips in all the new colorings.

Idealean, at 18 cents per yard, is one of the most beautiful new cotton fabrics, closely resembling a woolen fabric. The material is thin, cool and durable, and is shown in striking floral and odd designs, on the very latest colored grounds.

Samples of the above goods will be furnished upon Application. Address
