THE weather wept after the election.

WILD-CAT currency would like official recognition now.

RESURRECT the Southern war claims.

PATRIOTISM is one thing and Patriot-ism is another.

Now for a pure and economical administration.

LET us shake hands and wish the dominant party God speed.

LOOK out for the poultry exhibit in next Tuesday's paper.

WHAT a glorious country we may look forward to now. We ought not to have one delinquent subscriber this time next year.

TALBOT stood by Russum so did Dorchester, the former giving him a plurality of 161, the latter 351, and Somerset 49. The democratic majority of the First Congressional District was reduced to 1745, a decrease of 635 on the result of 1890, when Russum and Page ran for Congress.

WE are like our fellow Republicans—we are not in it. We have played and lost; but all honor to the victors. If their principles are as foreign to our best government as we think they are, time will prove it, and we will once more be reinstated after four years of innocuous desuetude.

IT is time now to drop all such synonyms as "Stuffed Prophet," "Buffalo Hangsman," "Vetoer," "Fisherman Grover" and the like, and remember that Grover Cleveland is our NATION'S PRESIDENT. If we love our country and our republican form of government, we will honor and respect its supreme head, made so by the franchise of a free people.

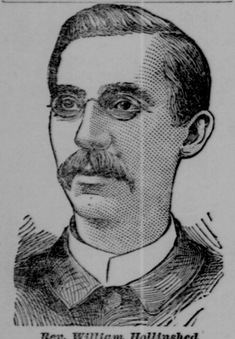

THE Special Court held last week to investigate certain cases of registration, Judge Stump presiding, resulted in the dismissal of the petitions upon the grounds of non-conformity—a technical point being raised. The republicans were represented by Tharp and Mullikin, and the registrars by Gibson and Carrington.—There had been flagrant abuse of the registration law, either the result of the improper construction of it, or undue respect for it. Certain it is that hardly two registrars in the county understood the law the same and it was hoped this court would instruct the registrars, but it looks now as though there would be further trouble at the next registration.

THE gist of an article written by one of the leading thinkers of the day and published in one of the leading periodicals of the continent, is to awaken proper thought on the important questions of the times, notwithstanding the result of election shows a determination to experiment with unpracticed theories. The writer says:

"The country is prosperous. Factories are running on full time and overtime. No man need be without employment. This is the condition of labor in the United States, while the telegraph reported that 40,000 unemployed and starving workmen are about to walk the streets of London, thousands of them barefooted, demanding food, shelter, rainment and fire.

It is amazing, with such a condition of things in protected America—with our iron works that were built up by protection leading the world in their output; the knit goods factories, fostered by the McKinley bill, running day and night; the farmers, relieved from Canadian competition, receiving better prices for their products than prevail in Canada and elsewhere; the silk and woolen mills and all our vast industries running at full blast, and newly created ones, like tin plate, pearl buttons, silk materials and lace factories, rising in different parts of the Union—that any sensible voter can want to change all this and try the untried experiment of free trade or tariff reform.

We say "untried" experiment because nowhere, by no speaker in all this campaign, has there been a single definite statement made as to what the tariff reformer proposes to do with our protected industries and our protected working classes, except to experiment with them and see how his theories work."

having 30 on her limbs, and being unable to walk. I had heard of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and bought a bottle, half of which cured entirely. Two years after, another child was afflicted as badly. I used the other half bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla with like results. About four years after, the child first afflicted was again tormented like Job, and I bought a bottle (on Sunday at that) and again a cure. I gave some of the medicine to a poor woman and two children; they were helped as were mine. Through a testimonial sent to C. I. Hood & Co., inquiries came from all the country, asking if it was a 'bona fide' testimonial, and of course I wrote all that it was, and have the knowledge of

A Splendid Record.

Defeat cannot dim the splendid record of President Harrison. Now that the election is over, his political opponents candidly concede his patriotism and statesmanship. When he entered upon his duties as president, he was scarcely known to the great body of the American people, except as a skillful debater in the Senate, in which he had served one term. His military record was admirable, but there are a large number of good soldiers in this country, so that it did not make General Harrison conspicuous. He was confronted with serious international controversies, which his predecessor had failed to arrange satisfactorily, and the other parties to these controversies soon discovered that they were dealing with a man who both understood and had the courage to maintain the interests and dignity of the nation. Foreign power promptly assumed a tone of respectful consideration for the U. S. which has not characterized their previous negotiations, and the most vexatious disputes were quickly settled without friction.

Subsequently, a number of international incidents occurred requiring the exercise of the most delicate and skillful diplomacy in their adjustment; but the President's firmness and statesmanship was in every instance equal to the emergency, and there is not in American history a brighter diplomatic period than that which has been covered by his administration. But it has not been in foreign affairs only that he has exhibited exalted ability and patriotism. The domestic affairs of the nation have been administered with such obvious honesty and intelligence that not a serious charge could be urged against President Harrison by his political opponents during the excitement of a long and arduous campaign.

He is a thoroughly clean public man, and he has stamped this character on his administration. It has appeared in his appointments, his messages, his speeches, and his instructions to his subordinates. No American statesman has done less for display, and yet none has more fully filled the requirements of his position, no matter what might be the gravity of the situation or the suddenness of its occurrence. The President has proved himself to be a man among men, a statesman of extraordinary breadth and character, in a party which is singularly well supplied with great men, and one of those true patriots upon whom alone the people can rely for the maintenance of the institutions which make this the freest and best government on earth. Defeat under such circumstances is a greater misfortune to the party and the country than to President Harrison. —Balto. American.

The October Home-Maker.—The Home-Maker magazine for October, Vol. ix., No. 1, appears as a brand new magazine from cover to cover. It is much larger and greatly improved in every respect, although the price remains at $2 a year and 20 cents a copy.

The contributors in the October number rank high.

Mayo W. Hazeltine has an article on the Federal Elections or Force Bill, and gives both the Republican extreme view and the Democratic extreme view.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox has a poem on Columbus.

Helen Leah Reed contributes a paper on experimental education, which is illustrated.

Miss Frances Smith tells all about Rev. Dr. Parkhurst, with three beautiful half tone pictures of the eminent divine from his boyhood days to the present time.

The life and works of Jenny June (Mrs. Croly), by J. Martin Miller, appear in this number.

Charles Dickens' Works Free.—In 15 volumes, complete set; also Scott's Waverley Novels in 12 volumes, or George Eliot in 6 volumes, or Webster's Unabridged Dictionary will be sent free to every person (we pay delivery charges to your town) sending a trial subscription for The Home Maker magazine for one year. Understand, any person will get their choice of either of the above sets, free of any charge, by sending $2 for THE HOME-MAKER magazine one year. 36 Union Square, New York.

From the Cecil Democrat, Elkton, Md.

Elkton has been humbugged so much in the way of entertainments that the announcement that the Noss Family were again to visit us came as a positive relief. Several days before the arrival of the family the reserved seat chart had been so well patronized that few seats were left for sale, and when the curtain went up for the performance; the house was literally filled, not even standing room was to be obtained. This shows that Elktonians know a good thing when they see or hear it, and they had "been there before." The entertainment was first class in every respect, and as the various Nosses, with their various tuneful noises, grow older, they improve, although they must certainly have reached the limit now. We will not attempt to compliment the members of the family individually, and will simply say that each one seems to so excel in his or her especial part, that they together make a most delightful musical family.

3 VALUABLE FARMS,

ALL SITUATED ON THE SALT WATER OF PICTURESQUE TRED AVON, IN TALBOT COUNTY.

By virtue of competent authority, the undersigned, trustee of M. T. Goldsborough, will sell in front of the Court House door, in the town of Easton, on TUESDAY, November 22, 1892,

AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M.,

All that valuable Real Estate included in the three farms of M. T. Goldsborough.

FARM NO. 1. "IDAHO."

Whereon Mr. Goldsborough now resides in Bailey's Neck, about 5½ miles from Easton containing the quantity of

168 ACRES OF LAND,

More or less. This farm is in a high state of cultivation and is all arable. Contains a Comfortable Frame Dwelling, Two Good Tenement Houses, a large Frame Barn, and all necessary outbuildings. The residence is beautifully situated fronting the water, lawn and shade trees adorning. The water front is imposing and a fine shore makes Pleasure Boating, Bathing, Fishing or Oystering some of the many attractions of the place. Immediately opposite is Double Mills, where the steamer to and from Baltimore stops daily.

This farm is located in Bailey's Neck, which contains some of the most fertile and highly improved farms in the State.

FARM NO. 2. OTWELL.

Situated in Oxford Neck but a short drive from the flourishing village of Oxford, a noted summer resort. Has a beautiful water front and contains more or less and mostly arable. There are large barns dwelling, tenement house and all necessary out buildings. This farm is known by as being one of the most productive—having yielded 60 bushels of wheat to the acre and is still regarded about the finest wheat farm in Talbot county. The land is especially adapted to all cereals and grass.

357 ACRES OF LAND,

FISHING AND OYSTERING can be profitably or pleasurably indulged in from an extensive and beautiful shore line on the Tred Avon River.

FARM NO. 3. EAST OTWELL,

Adjoining the farm just described, and containing more or less. Chiefly arable, and contains a good two-story house, corn house and other buildings. Like the farm adjoining, it is situated on the River Tred Avon, and has all the advantages included in these delightful situations. Both these tracts have for years been in the Goldsborough family and are in an exceptionally high state of cultivation.

They are convenient to Churches, Schools, Railroad and Steamboat Wharves and other attractions to home buyers or land speculators not usually found. These two farms will be offered separately and together. The Trustee reserving the right to accept the more desirable bid.

TERMS OF SALE.

The terms of sale are, one-fourth cash, one-fourth in twelve months, one-fourth in twenty four months, and one-fourth in thirty-six months, with interest from day of sale, or all Cash at option of purchaser. Title papers at expense of purchaser.

BETWEEN THE HOURS OF 2 AND 4 O'CLOCK P. M. THIS ESTATE CONTAINS about 275 of which are in cultivation. The character of the land is gently rolling, finely watered, alluvial soil with red clay sub soil, and well adapted to the growth of all grains and fruits. It is a fine wheat farm and one of the best for peach culture on the peninsula.—The estate is divided by a public road, making it susceptible of being used as two farms, each portion of which would have orchards and buildings.

407 1-2 ACRES,

THE IMPROVEMENTS

ARE TWO

GOOD RESIDENCES,

Barns with storage for 60 tons of hay, and good stabling and granary.

THRICE

TENEMENT HOUSES,

AND GOOD CHESTNUT FENCING.

Produce from the farm can be shipped by vessels from the wharf on the premises and as the farm is less than 60 miles from Baltimore by water, and less than 100 miles to Philadelphia by rail, it is convenient to our best markets. Much of the timber is valuable chestnut. Springs of water abound and a good quality of marl on the premises. The climate is mild, winters comparatively short and the springs and autumns long. Society is good, churches and schools convenient—Fish, oysters and water-fowl abound, and it is seldom a farm is offered for sale possessing so many advantages.

This is located 8 miles from Easton and 2 miles from Longwood, in Talbot county, Md. and will be sold subject to a mortgage incumberance of $11,000, with interest at 6 per cent. since March 1st of this year, and the taxes for 1891 and 1892, amounting to about $270. Woodland station on the D. & C. R. R. is within three miles of the premises.

TERMS.—$100 to be paid at time of sale, and the balance when the title papers are delivered.

WONDERFUL

The cures which are being effected by Drs. Starkey & Palen, 1529 Arch st., Philadelphia, Pa., in Consumption, Catarrh, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, and all chronic diseases, by their Compound Oxygen Treatment, are indeed marvelous.

If you are a sufferer from any disease which your physician has failed to cure, write for information about this treatment, and their book of 200 pages, giving a history of Compound Oxygen, its nature and effects, with numerous testimonials from patients, to whom you may refer for still further information, will be promptly sent, without charge.

This book, aside from its great merit as a medical work, giving, as it does, the result of years of study and experience, you will find a very interesting one.
