WASHINGTON LETTER.

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, Nov. 28, 1892.

The President, like his great predecessor, Abraham Lincoln, never crosses a bridge before he gets to it, and never allows himself to be stampeded by what is printed in sensational newspapers. It may be true, as alleged, that the French Government is, through its agent in Central America, encroaching upon rights claimed by the United States under the Monroe Doctrine, which, as aptly stated by Attorney General Miller, means that "no foreign power has the right to interfere with the autonomy of any government upon the Western Hemisphere, nor to interfere with the safe conduct of these governments. Foreign powers have not the right, nor will they be allowed to assume posession of territory or to invoke the aid of arms," in interfering with the management of the Panama railroad, which was built by American capitalists; but this government has a Minister in Central America for the special purpose of looking after our interests and until his report is made no official notice will be taken of these allegations. By virtue of a treaty between the Republic of New Grenada and the United States, which is still enforced and which cannot be affected by any change of ownership in the trans-Isthmus Railroad, our citizens are given certain rights of traffic on that railroad and those rights will be maintained by this administration, by force if necessary. That's all there is to it.

Senator Chandler will head a crusade against immigration at the coming session of Congress, which has for its purpose the shutting out of all immigrants for a period of at least five years. The fight in Congress will be opened when the joint Senate and House immigration committee shall make its report, upon which it is now working, after spending many months investigating immigration. The national platform upon which Mr. Cleveland was elected is pledged against further restriction of immigration in these words, "We condemn and denounce any and all attempts to restrict the immigration of the industrious and worthy of foreign lands," but that does not prevent many prominent democrats agreeing with Senator Chandler that there is need for a temporary if not a permanent stoppage of immigration.

Death is again hovering over the White House. This time it is Dr. Scott, the aged father of the late Mrs. Harrison, who is awaiting the summons to join his beloved daughter who has so recently gone before. The physicians have informed the President that owing to Dr. Scott's age—he is past 93—there is little or no hope of his recovery from his present illness, which dates from his trip to Indianapolis to see Mrs. Harrison buried. He may go off any hour or he may linger for several weeks.

Who ought to know best the condition of Mr. Blaine's health, his family and his physician, or the newspaper men, who in obedience to orders from their editors are filling their papers with alarming and absurd stories about it? His family and his physician say that he is not seriously ill since his return to Washington, and I believe them. It is expected that Mr. Blaine will go to California in a few days to remain until spring.

General Rosecrans, who although a democrat, has remained Register of the Treasury ever since he was appointed to that position by Mr. Cleveland, has made himself very solid with the clamorous horde of democratic office seekers, which has already made its appearance in Washington, by including in his annual report a tirade against the working of the Civil Service examination. The democratic feeling against this law, which they regard as the only barrier between them and the offices, it is so strong that it will not be surprising if the democratic Congress makes the law a dead letter by intentionally failing to make an appropriation to carry it out. If they dared they would repeal it outright, but Mr. Cleveland has so often pledged himself in favor of the law that he could harly afford to approve its repeal, although there is reason to believe that he would not be excessively grieved to see Congress neglet to make an appropriation for it.

Present indications are that their will be as bitter a fight among the democrats as to whether an extra session of Congress shall be called to smash the tariff as there will be over the tariff itself when the democratic Congress does get together, whether in extra or regular session. Feeling on the subject is already running high among democratic Senators and Representatives, but it is safe to predict that Mr. Cleveland's opinion will be backed by a great majority of the party; the loaves and fishes which he has to distribute make him temporarily powerful in his party. H.

The Toledo Weekly Blade.

The most popular and best known weekly newspaper printed in this country is the Toledo Blade. For more than twenty years it has had a circulation of 100,000 to 200,000, going regularly into every state and territory of the Union. From fifteen to twenty-five tons of print paper is consumed in each week's edition, and it is regularly mailed to more than half the postoffices of the United States.—It is a peculiar fact that the Blade is the only weekly newspaper published that has regular subscribers in all parts of the United States. It is edited with special reference to the wants of all people in all sections. It is also made to interest every member of the family. Besides all the news of the world, it has serial and short stories, wit and humor, poetry, campfire, farm, Sunday school lessons, young folks, poultry, puzzles, household, answers to correspondents, etc. As a special feature for 1893, Mr. Robinson Locke, editor and proprietor of the Blade, has just sailed for Japan, and will contribute a series of illustrated letters on the manners and customs of that peculiar country and its people. These articles will be commenced sometime in Feburary or March, and will be worth to the readers of the Blade many times the subscription price. Every reader of this paper is invited to send for a specimen copy. The publishers of the Blade would be glad to send a specimen copy to every reader in this country. Subscription price, $1 a year. Five dollars in cash will be paid to any person sending in a small club of subscribers. Write for agents' terms, giving particulars. Address "The Blade, Toledo, Ohio."

A Sunset,

on Great Salt Lake is but one of the matchless spectacles to be seen in Utah. The new book "Utah, a peep into a mountain walled treasury of the Gods," is now issued an can be had postpaid by sending 25 cents to J. H. Bennett, Salt Lake City.

It is expected that the Knights Templar and others visiting Colorado the coming season will extend their trip to Utah via the Rio Grande Western Railway in both directions. That road affords choice of three distinct routes and the most magnificent scenery in the world. Equipment unequalled in the west. Two trains daily across the continent. 31dec

Winter Excursion Tickets on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has placed on sale at all its principal ticket offices excursion tickets to all the prominent winter resorts. This territory includes the resorts of New Jersey, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Florida and Cuba. The tickets are sold at the usual low rates, and the return coupons are valid until May 30th, 1893.

The magnificent facilities of the Pennsylvania Railroad, with its many connections, make this the favorite line for winter travel.

Uncle Mose's 'Possum Prayer.—Great consternation, followed by wild laughter, was an innovation of the chapel exercises at the penitentiary this morning. It was occasioned by a 'possum prayer from old Mose Allen, a South Carolina negro with one leg, who was dreaming of Thanksgiving Day in the near future. Chaplain Dudley opened the prayer meeting as usual and prisoners followed briefly. When all heads were bowed in reverence old Mose jumped at the opportunity and delivered the following prayer:

"Dear beloved brudderin and sister'n, I tank de Lord fer permittin' me to kum ter church dis yer beau'ful Sabbot morn. Ye all dun know dat Thanksgiving Day is near at han.' On dat day some folks will eat turkey, some eat chicken, some eat duck, some eat lamb, and some eat sheep. But us niggers would like dat good old 'poss. Koch 'im, bring 'im in, take all de haar of 'im, put 'im out two nights and let 'im fros. Bring 'im in. Parberl 'im. Put 'im in de pan. Put sweeten taters all roun' that 'poss. Put 'im in de stove and shet that stove doah. Go way tinkin bout Booregard, Jeff Davis, Lincoln, and Grant. Let 'im stay in dere awhile. Open dat stove doah. Ol' possy all turned brown and de gravy drippin in de pan declar dat 'poss am cooked. Bring dat 'poss out dat stove, put 'im on de table. Don't cut 'im while e's 'ot. For Christ's sake, amen."

Chaplain Dudley stood agast at the conclusion of the prayer. A moment afterward the chapel re-echoed the wild and wicked shouts of the prisoners. For nearly five minutes consternation reigned, at the end of which time prayers were resumed, with no further expressions from the colored brethren.—Cleveland Leader.

Soup a la Reine.—One fowl weighing five pounds, three quarts of cold water, one-half cup of rice, one half pint of good cream, one carrot, one onion, one bay leaf, four cloves, three tablespoonfuls of butter, two tablespoonfuls of flour, one blade of mace, one piece of cinnamon half an inch long, salt and pepper to taste. Clean the fowl, put it in the soup kettle with the water, rice, mace, cloves, cinnamon and bay leaf. Cover the kettle and simmer gently two hours. Clean the vegetables and cut them into squares. Put the butter in a frying pan; when hot, throw in the vegetables and stir until a nice brown; then skim them out, put them in the soup kettle, cover and simmer one hour longer. Now add the flour to the butter left in the frying-pan (if the butter is burned take fresh butter), mix and stir into the soup. Skim as it boils after adding the butter. Now take out the chicken; remove the white meat, chop it very fine and put it back into the soup. Remove the carrot and spices and press the rest through a sieve. Wash the kettle, return the soup, add the cream, salt and pepper; boil up once and serve. If you use wine, one gill at serving time.

Do You Know?—Do you know that you can drive nails into hard wood without bending them if you dip them first in lard?

That corks warmed in oil make excellent substitutes for glass stoppers?

That a lump of camphor in your clothes press will keep steel ornaments from tarnishing?

That stale bread will clean kid gloves?

That bread crumbs cleanse silk gowns?

That milk, applied once a week with a soft cloth, freshens and preserves boots and shoes?

That gloves can be cleaned at home by rubbing with gasoline?

That weak spots in a black silk waist may be strengthened by "sticking" court plaster underneath?

That tooth powder is an excellent cleanser for the filagree jewelry?

That a little vasaline, rubbed in once a day will keep the hands from chapping?

That gum arabic and gum tragacanth in equal parts dissolved in hot water makes the best and most convenient mucilage you can keep in the house?

Farm Notes.—Old straw is a good material for mulching.

Don't go into fruit growing on a large scale at first.

Poultry manure is a good fertilizer for strawberry plants.

An important point for stockmen to consider is early maturity.

It takes a good animal to make a good profit from winter feeding.

To keep an account of the cost of feeding everything fed should be weighed.

Everything else equal the better the grade of stock the better the profits.

When pigs are reasonably fat they should be sold if the market is satisfactory.

Increase profits by cutting down expenses and improving the quality of the stock.

The markets are suffering from the poor quality of range cattle that are being marketed.

In transplanting, prune liberally, lest the roots be unable to supply sufficient sap for the top.

Breed up the herd. The quality should be improved even if the numbers have to be reduced.

The Michigan experience station strongly urges the use of unleached ashes on the young orchard.

The silo does not add anything to the feeding value of fodder, but it preserves it in a succulent condition.

Turnips and a small grain ration will be found excellent to keep the brood sow in condition during the winter.

With animals as with people, what they digest and not what they eat makes the gain. To make food digest well fattening animals need a variety.

A fruit grower says a good way to kill a nice fruit tree is to let it overbear a few times He advises picking off the poorer fruit rather than propping up.

To know what to feed saves the pocketbook; how to feed saves the man; when to feed saves the pig, the combination makes a feeder and breeder, says a writer.

THE LAND OF SUNSHINE.

A Unique Country where the Skies are almost Never Clouded, while the air is Cool and Bracing, like Perpetual Spring.

As an anomalous southern resort, by reason of the fact that there one may escape summer heat no less than winter cold, New Mexico is rapidly becoming famous. Averaging through out the entire territory 5,600 feet in altitude above sea-level, and characterized by dry air which, unlike a humid atmosphere, is incapable of communicating heat, the temperature in midsummer remains at a delightfully comfortable degree through the day, and at night becomes invariably brisk and bracing. The sunshine is almost constant, yet the most violent out-of door exertion may be undertaken without fear of distressful consequences. Sunstroke or prostration are absolutely unknown there. It is an ideal land for a summer outing. Its climate is prescribed by reputable physicians as a specific for pulmonary complaints and the medicinal Hot Springs at Las Vegas are noted for their curative virtues. The most sumptuous hotel in the west the Montezuma, is located at these springs. Write to Jno. J. Byrne, 723 Monadnock Block, Chicago, for "The Land of Sunshine," an entertaining and profusely illustrated book descriptive of this region, the most picturesque and romantic in the United States.

Harper's Weekly!

ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S WEEKLY is acknowledged as standing first among illustrated weekly periodicals in America. It occupies a place between that of the hurried daily paper and that of the less timely monthly magazine. It includes both literature and news, and presents with equal force and felicity the real events of current history and the imaginative themes of fiction. On account of its very complete series of illustrations of the World's Fair, it will be not only the best guide to the great Exposition, but also its best souvenir. Every public event of general interest will be fully illustrated in its pages. Its contributions being from the best writers and artists in this country, it will continue to excel in literature, news, and illustrations, all other publications of its class.

ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S BAZAR is a journal for the home. It gives the fullest and latest information about Fashions, and its numerous illustrations, Paris designs, and pattern sheet supplements are indispensable alike to the home dress-maker and the professional modiste. No expense is spared to make its artistic attractiveness of the highest order. Its bright stories, amusing comedies, and thoughtful essays satisfy all tastes, and its last page is famous as a budget of wit and humor. In its weekly issues everything is included which is of interest to women. The Serials for 1893 will be written by WALTER BESANT and EDNA LYALL. CHRISTINE TERHUNE HERRICK will furnish a practical series, entitled "At the Toilet."—GRACE KING, OLIVE THORNE MILLER, and CANDACE WHEELER will be frequent contributors. The work of women in the Columbian Exposition will be fully represented with many illustrations. T. W. HIGGINSON, in "Women and Men," will please a cultivated audience.

WONDERFUL

The cures which are being effected by Drs. Starkey & Palen, 1529 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa., in Consumption, Catarrh, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, and all chronic diseases, by their Compound Oxygen Treatment, are indeed marvelous. ***

If you are a sufferer from any disease which your physician has failed to cure, write for information about this treatment, and their book of 200 pages, giving a history of Compound Oxygen, its nature and effects, with numerous testimonials from patients, to whom you may refer for still further information, will be promptly sent, without charge.

This book, aside from its great merit as a medical work, giving, as it does, the result of years of study and experience, you will find a very interesting one.

VALUABLE PRIZES, FREE.

We are just in receipt of a very attractive Almanac for 1893, which, while it contains some very instructive reading, and all the almanac information for 1893, also contains a very unique and interesting contest, in which the publishers propose to give 102 valuable and useful articles to the successful contestants. The plan of the contest is to find seven superfluous figures scattered through the almanac, and make up a number which is to be the same as the number which the publishers have adopted, and is made up from the seven figures above mentioned. Try it; you will find it very interesting. The publishers will furnish you with the rules and all necessary information. Address The Dr. H. S. Thacher Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn. A Great Woolen Industry

Started up again for the Winter.

All through Eastern Pennsylvania, South and Middle New Jersey, Delaware and the Maryland Peninsula, the demand for first-class All-Wool Clothing is larger than ever. We feel the pressure of it already. Good crops, the early laying in of winter supplies, the trading going on at local centres in our neighborhood all point in the same direction. There's a general feeling that the winter will be early and hard.

Under our standing compact—it has almost the force of a signed contract with the people—we have provided Clothing by the ton, Overcoats and Suits by the thousand.

There are too many for description. Under the old fashioned name—Beavers—are some of the nicest, dressiest Overcoats of the season. Kerseys and Venetions—their smooth, handsome finish you know. They are fixed in the likings of young men—the colors are so attractive; they line so elegantly. These Overcoats are $10, $15, $18 to $35 and $45.

Ten choices in the pattern of a Suit for one in Overcoats. Black Cheviots and Silk Mixtures, fancy check and plain colors from $10 to $25; in Dress Suits from $15 to $30.

The cloths are scientifically tested, the making is done under our own hands, the selling is direct from our workshops to your backs. The difference that makes to you is about 20 to 25 per cent.—the Clothing is that much better.

Above all—All-Wool. You'll not freeze in our Clothing.
