INAUGURATION DAY.

It is a blessed good thing, and a lasting credit to the sense of the framers of the U. S. Constitution, that the initiation of the President is not characterized by making him climb the "greazy pole." What a spectatele it would present if Grover had that to do to-day! Block and tackleand blocks and falls would inevitably result.

If anyone wishes a truly elegant Monthly Magazine devoted to Southern Resources and Progress, beautiful print and handsomely illustrated, send 15 cents for a sample copy or $1.50 for a yearly subscription to the Manufacturers Record Magazine, Baltimore. The new magazine had its birth, Feb. 1893 and adorns our table. We bespeak for it a hearty and enthusiastic support.

SUBSCRIBERS are respectfully requested to examine their date slip and see that they get proper credit after having paid their subscription. The date shows the expiration. Bills will be mailed frequently and those who are in arrears are kindly asked to respond with something more than promises. And above all things do not attempt to stop the paper until it is paid up—that is neither business-like nor just. We are glad to serve our patrons and will treat them with utmost patience and liberality but we expect nothing short of fair treatment in return. Address all complaints to this office by letter, and not through your post-master or some other person, and we will give you courteous and respectful attention.

THE condition of Mr. Stevenson Archer shows no signs of improvement. His life is reported as slowly but surely ebbing away. He is confined to his bed, and is able to sit up only a few minutes at a time. The disease with which he is suffering is incurable, and it is believed to be only a question of time before the end comes. His mind is lucid at intervals and the spectacle he presents is deplorable. Mr. Archer's friends have not abandoned the idea of securing his pardon before he dies, and with that end in view, it is reported that Mr. Archer's bondsmen are willing to abandon the suits, which Gov. Brown insists are an insuperable obstacle to Executive clemency.—Harford Dem.

THERE is much uneasiness among would-be-office-holders at Washington at a general rumor that the old Cleveland officials who have been waiting around for the past four years to step into their old places under the new administration will be disappointed, as it is stated that Mr. Cleveland has recently remarked that if they could afford to remain idle for four years they could stand an additional four years more. It it is said further that the new President, in making whatever changes he decides upon, will arrange a "new deal," and that very few of his old office-holders will be re-appointed. These statements have been passed around among the colony of ex-officials in Washington and have caused great consternation in the ranks.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

Washington, Feb. 27, 1893.

The President is not losing any sleep because of the failure of the Senate to ratify the treaty providing for the annexation of Hawaii, and of the report that nearly one half of them—mostly republicans—because they doubt the wisdom of immediate annexation, believing a protectorate preferable; and quite a number of others,—mostly democrats—because they do not wish the credit of acquiring the islands to go to the Republican administration Mr. Harrison has done what he conceived to be his duty in negotiating the treaty and in sending a message to the Senate recommending that it be immediately ratified. When that was done the responsibility was transferred from him to the Senate, and there he is willing to leave it. Mr. Cleveland may not have taken a hand in this business, but the sudden change of mind among the democratic Senators, some of whom were only a few days ago clamoring for prompt action, is to say the least suspicious. Some people, but your correspondent is not one of them believe that Judge Gresham is responsible for the failure of the Senate act, and that he is opposed to annexation for no better reason than that it is favored by Mr. Harrison.

Unless there is a radical backdown on the part of the friends of the Sherman amendment to the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill, authorizing the Sec. of the Treasury to issue 3 per cent. bonds, if he considers it necessary, an extra session of congress will have to be called. This bill is now being considered by the House, and the ultra silver men are apparently determined to kill the whole bill by filibustering if the Sherman amendment cannot be defeated in any other way, and it cannot be, unless its friends—a majority of the House—will consent to its defeat, and there is no present indication that they will not do that. Republicans do not favor an extra session, because they do not believe that it will be advantageous to the business interests of the country, although from a strictly political standpoint it would be extremely advantageous to the republican party.

The President has issued the usual proclamation convening the Senate in extra session at noon on the 4th day of March. This extra session is called to act upon the nominations made by the new President, but it may in this case also act upon the Hawaiian annexation treaty, unless Mr. Cleveland withdraws it or it shall be acted upon before then.

Secretary Foster made on Saturday a supplementary report on the condition of the Treasury to the House Ways and Means committee, in which a reduction in his previous estimates was made. He said that when he made his previous estimate he had not made allowance for the payment of the Choc-ow Indian claim, which will take about $8,000,000, and that receipts from customs had already fallen below his estimate because of the expectation of early changes in the tariff law. He also told the committee that he thought it probable a deficit would exist in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1894, and that if we were to remain at the head of the Treasury Department he would like to have had an addition of $50,000,000 to the balance—$25,000,000 of which he would use to maintain the gold reserve The Secretary takes no stock in the wild talk about the danger of a panic either now or in the near future. Such talk has been persistently scarce and its consequent effect upon the commercial interests of the country. It is creditable to America that the most of these financial jackals and vultures are foreigners without interest in the United States, further than the money they can make.

Speaker Crisp was guilty of a bit of usurpation the other day that would have been cried from the democratic house-tops had he been a republican. It came about this way: The House committee of election decided by a party vote the contested election case of Miller vs. Elliott—in favor of the sitting democrat of course—and instructed Mr. Paynter, of Kentucky to prepare the majority report. Mr. Johnson, although sick in bed, prepared his report, and took it down to the House, although advised against leaving his room by his physician, only to be informed that the majority report had not been prepared and would not be until this week. Knowing that to mean that the majority report would probably never be made. Mr. Johnson presented his report to the House and it was by a vote ordered printed. He was surprised an hour later to be informed by the printing clerk that Speaker Crisp had issued an order forbidding the printing of the report until the majority report was presented. Mr Johnson was naturally indignant, and he went to Speaker Crisp and called his attention to the fact that the House had ordered his report printed, and the speaker had no authority to suppress it. All the same the speaker did suppress it. How is that for Czarism?

From the Douglass (Kan.) Tribune.

Hardly That Bad.

Kansas has made it possible for foreign powers to point the finger of scorn and reproach to our republican system of free thought and action.—Easton (Md.) Gazette.

Affairs in Kansas are hardly so bad as some of her distant friends might imagine them. There was no blood shed. That little demonstration of military power, or rather military weakness was as harmless as a French duel. Kansas is all right yet. Perhaps she is too much inclined to experiment, but she will "prove all things and hold fast to that which is good." In early days she solved the problem of human liberty, and the whole nation took patern. In these latter days Kansas has been inclined to experiment in a political way and see if a better organization can be devised for governing purposes than the Republican party. First the farmers took hold of the matter, and it took them a year or two to prove to their satisfaction that this new political experiment worked to their detriment and not to their benefit by any means. Then the Democratic party made a trial. It wanted something to beat the Republican party with.—It found it—but we judge it is not altogether satisfied with the result.—The Republican party has been defeated, but the Democratic party feels like the man who fell among skunks. It would have the country know, if it could, that the odor now emitted by the ruling party in Kansas is not the natural democratic scent, but comes from the party they used to drive the Republicans out of power.

When this unsatisfactory experiment is over, Kansas will show up all right again, and will porsess actual knowledge on political questions, that was merely guessed at in the past.

Jas. Caulk of this town was before 'Squire Gibson last Saturday night charged with violating the cull law. 'Squire G. thought that James was innocent of this grave offense and acquitted him.

Married at the M. P. parsonage by the Rev. Mr Dumm, J. Harper Blades and Miss Florence B. Blades. We extend our congratulations to this happy couple and wish them many happy years in the future.

We are sorry to learn that Rev. Mr. Dumm of the M. P. Church of this town expects at the next conference that soon meets to be transferred to another charge. Mr. Dumm has made many friends here who will sincerely regret his removal.

Four gentlemen passed through this town last Thursday on their way to Washing on. I asked one of them where they were journeying. He told me, on to see Old Grover inaugurated and we will get full—but it will be all right in the morning.

Robert D. Lambdin, whose fame as a canoe builder extends from north to south, has finished for the mayor of Baltimore a canoe complete in every detail, five and a half feet long, width in right proportion to its length. I saw this boat he has named it the Elsie and in my opinion it is a thing of beauty and will be a joy forever to its owner.

The people, that is the male portion who sign petitions, have a good thing now, or soon will have—the would-be postmasters it is said will soon offer from one to one and a-half dollars for their names on their petitions to be sent to Charlie G. to read. If Mr. Gibson will only give us as good postmaster as we have had the last four years, we will remember him in our prayers every time we pray for good people.

City Fathers met as usual at their regular meeting place, only two of the fathers being present, the junior member of the board being absent; but Bailiff Jones was there, he took his seat close to the coal bin, coal shovel in hand, ready at any moment to coal the furnace when he thought it needful; he was also ready to draw his salary for keeping order in this town. The usual routine of business was gone through, then there fell an awful silence—a fearful silence, that seemed to tell of something dreadful that might happen in the near future, ten or twenty years hence. There they sat, these men that hold the destinies of our fair town in their hands. After this silence had continued for a considerable time—say a minute and a half—one Father groaned—then came the question, "What is it, Ed, didn't you get all those herring bones down?, you should chew them hard, as I do." "No John, its not that—no bone, but I'm awfully worried, have been for a long time—all on account of our four hundred-dollar town pump—John, in case of fire it might work and supply water, but the probabilities are that it would'nt—froze hard all winter—then is machinery gets out of order so easily and so often—I'm worried, and I often wonder what we shall do with it." Then arose the one-armed John and spake: "I move that we advertise for a trade, trade that pump for a dog—we can we get the dog he will bite someone, then Bailiff Jones will get fifty cents for killing his brute—thus end all." It was seconded, put before the house and carried by a full vote. Bailiff Jones jammed the stove full of coal and moved to adjourn.

WYE MILLS.

Mr Noel Gibson shipped the first lambs last Tuesday, six weighing 200 lbs received 15 cts. per pound.

Mr. Joseph F. Mackabee from Baltimore is visiting some friends in Wye Mills.

There was a crowd of fox hunters out last week and the fox was seen crossing W. S. Hopkins' buck field.

A New Southern Magazine.—The South has another exponent in the Manufacturers' Record Magazine, the first issue of which bears date February, 1893. It issues from the publishing house as the Manufacturers' Record, of Baltimore, although it is an entirely separate and distinct publication. It deals with Southern resources and progress in a general and popular way, without technical details or burdensome statistics, aiming to present servicable inform ation to those who look to the south as a desirable field for investment The publishers of this magazine are undertaking to get up a well printed and well illustrated monthly publication for $1.00 per year, and if the current issue be a fair sample, there seems to be a good equivalent of information and interest for the price.

In the February issue of this magazine, R. E. Edmunds, whose ardent advocacy of the South is well known, writes about the present prosperity of the South, briefly summarizing the progress of ten years, and pointing out the favorable conditions that exist at the present time. John L. Williams, the Richmond banker, writes briefly of the Nicaragua Canal and the South, a subject in which he has manifested enthusiastic interest ever since the great inter-oceanic project was first broached. R. B. Sperry, a Baltimore financier, writes briefly but forcibly about investments in the south. There is an interesting illustrated article on the Kingdom of Cotton, by Harry S. Fleming, and D. A. Tompkins, a North Carolina cotton manufacturer, specifies the Advantages of the South in Cotton Manufacture to which a resume of census statistics of this industry adds point. Southern Buildings at the World's Fair forms the substance of one of the illustrated articles.

M. V. Richards land and immigration agent of the B. & O. Railroad, depicts in glowing terms the charms of the "Upper South," the Virginians and Maryland. The special feature of this magazine is an extended article about the city of Baltimore, which is of particular interest at this time, on account of the progressive movement now manifest in that conservative, substantial city.

Sixty Million Bushels of Wheat—A Bushel for Every Inhabitant of the United States. The Kansas Crop of '92

Never in the history of Kansas has that state had such bountiful crops as this year. The farmers cannot get enough hands to harvest the great crop, and the Santa Fe Railroad has made special rates from Kansas City and other Missouri River towns, to induce harvest hands to go into the state. The wheat crop of the state will be from sixty to sixty-five million bushels, and the quality is high. The grass crop is made and is a very large one; the early potatoes, rye, barley and oat crops are made, and are all large. The weather has been propitious for corn, and it is the earnest, best looking corn to be found in the country to-day. Cheap rates will be made from Chicago, St. Louis and all points on the Santa Fe east of the Missouri river to all Kansas points, on August 30 and September 27, and these excursions will give a chance for the eastern farmers to see what the great Sunflower State can do. A good map of Kansas will be mailed free upon application to Jno. J. Byrne, 723 Monadnock Block, Chicago Ill., together with reliable statistics and information about Kansas lands.

Worthington's Magazine for March is a royal number. Evidently this vigorous young magazine is growing and thriving, since, though exceptionally bright from the start, each number steadily gains in interest, attractiveness and value, and its success is catering to the varied tastes and requirements of the American family at home proves its ability to give valuable points to many an older and more experienced periodical.

The March number opens with a superbly illustrated upon "The Chicago Woman's Club," written by Sara A. Underwood, one of its prominent literary members. It is of timely interest to all progressive people in these close-of-the-century days, so vastly called by Victor Hugo, "The Woman's Era." Besides the history of the club and its various methods of work, educational, social, philanthropic and reformatory, many pleasant personal items are given concerning leading members and their special lines of activity and usefulness. The article is lavishly illustrated with views of rooms and buildings occupied by the club, the Woman's Temple, (W. C. T. U.) and portraits of members, which admirably reproduce, add greatly to the interest and value of the paper. The thousands of club women, the members of the W. C. T. U. all over the United States will find this an inspiring paper as depicting one of the most striking signs of the times, the active part that women are taking with courage, energy and wisdom, in the most important practical forms of the world's work.

Talbot's Teachers in Session.—The Teacher's Association and Reading Circle of Talbot county held the regular monthly session in Easton High School last Saturday. The meeting was well attended, there being about forty teachers present, and much interest was manifested in the subject under discussion. The officers of the Association are: Prof. Alex Chaplain, President; Prof. D. M. Long, Vice President; Miss Mary Gibson, secretary, Miss Maggie S. Wilson, treasurer. The subject, "The school room and its appliances," was discussed by Miss Mary Hardcastle, assisted by Messrs. Chaplain, Murdaugh, Long, Jump, Shehan, Misses Wilson, Nutz and Gibson. The discussion had reference to the note books and how teachers and pupils should use them, and the need of school libraries and museums. Miss J. N. Collins, assisted by Messrs Murdaugh, Crouse Long, Jump, McIntosh, Misses Wilson, Ewing, Richards, Anthony, Nutz and Dean, led in the subject "Discipline." The discussion had in view a constructive and descriptive presentation of the question. Prof. Long received the poem, "Out of the old home into the new." Prof. Murdaugh introduced the discussion of the value of arithmetic as taught in the public school. He quoted from President Chas. W. Eliot of Harvard: "There are four things in which the individual should be thorough y trained if his judgment and reason ing are to be systematically developed: 1st, observing accurately; 2nd, recording correctly; 3d, comparing and grouping; and 4th, inferring justly. This is far clear in teaching arithmetic." He called attention to the importance of form study and number work, and that therein the objection was in a measure met. Action was taken regarding the summer school, and the Association adjourned to meet Saturday, March 25th. The program will be as follows:

Primary Number Work—Prof. Chaplain, Mr. Pattison, Mr. Crouse.

Chap. V. Fitch's Lectures on Teaching—Miss L. H. Anthony.

A series of experiments in Elementary Physics—Miss Emily Nutz

Chap. VII. Fitch's Lectures on Teaching—Misses Mellier and Dean.
