LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

—Pinafore, May 17 and 18.

—Fields and forests look beautifully green.

—The very wet weather has retarded the work of planting.

—Several new advertisements in this issue, as well as several that will be placed before our readers for the last time.

—The magnificent front of Mr. M. B. Nichols' store has attracted crowds of spectators. Fish and Anderson are the decorating artists and Flowers and Lachmar placed the substantial parts in position.

—The Caroliner has worn a broad grin on his placid countenance ever since the gutters and drains of Easton became phosphorescent with fish scales.

—While riding a bicycle out the Trappe road Saturday afternoon, Wallace Heathers was run into by a horse and knocked from his wheel into a deep ditch. The young man received a severe fracture of the knee and was struck heavily upon the head. He was brought to town in an almost unconscious condition, but at this writing is doing well.

Siegel & Co. are the original leaders of low prices. Call on them.

Personals.—Mr. Jas. H. Coulbourn of Philadelphia, whose card appears in the GAZETTE this week wishes to state for the benefit of shippers, that calves ought to weigh at least 120 pounds when placed on the cars here. They are liable to be confiscated by the inspector if they are put on the market in Philadelphia weighing less than a hundred, and the party offering them is liable to a fine of $500. The calves that only brought 3 cts. per pound last week, and reported in the GAZETTE, Mr. Coulbourn says aggregated only 237 pounds for the three, and they came near not being sold at all. Mr. Coulbourn is well known to shippers in this and adjoining counties, and will do as he always has done—the very best.

Prof. Chaplain exhibited to the editor of the GAZETTE, preparatory to shipping it to the World's Fair, the only work that he could get admitted to the Exhibit. And this is a magnificent volume compiled by him taken from the work of the children of the various schools of the county of the lower grades only. It consists of drawings and composition, and will be highly interesting to visitors from this county to the Fair. It will be found in No. 21 Liberal Arts Building.

Mr. Arthur F. Haddaway, who for two years has been connected with the political department of the Chicago Inter Ocean, has been made Assistant World's Fair editor of that paper, with headquarters at the exposition grounds.

Cards are out for the marriage of Mr. Harry C. Evans, the polite express agent in the GAZETTE building, to Miss Lola Leonard on next Wednesday at the residence of her parents.

Capt. C. R. Leonard has bought out the interest of Mr. Wm. T. Elbin in the Londonderry Roller grist mills.

Miss Maggie Waldron has been visiting her friends in Wilmington this week.

Ladies be sure to visit Siegel & Co's., and see the $2.00 Hand Sewed Shoes. They fit like a glove.

Public Business.—Orphans' Court met on Tuesday.

E. T. Roe, adm'r. Dan Cram, presented 2nd and final dividend distributing to general creditors at the rate of eleven cents on the dollar. Ratified.

Sarah E. Stevenson, guardian to Wm. T., Chas. E., Ida M. and Walter P. Stevenson, presented her 1st acct. with each, final as to Wm. T., passed, from whom a release to her was filed.

The accounts in the estate of Bayard H. Cahal, presented at last meeting by Geo. Onins and Rosa M. Cahal, adm'rs, were examined and passed. The administrators presented a distribution of the balance due on 1st and final acct. Passed.

Will of Mary D. Haskins was admitted to probate.

COUNTY COMMISIONERS.

County Commissioners met on Tuesday.

Receipts were:

Thos. A. Lloyd, collector, 1891,	$185.00
F. T. Gibson, J. P. fines,	3.00
do. oyster fines,	15.00

Harriet Wilson, colored, Easton, was placed on the out pension list at $10.

Charles Williams was before the board and agreed that the keeper of Tuckahoe bridge be permitted to place a house on the marsh near the left approach to the bridge.

The following order was passed:

Ordered, That the collectors of county taxes for 1891 be and are hereby required to settle their balances on or before the 23d of May, 1893, and that a copy of this order be mailed each collector.

John H. Holt and Wm. T. H. Lee presented their collectors' bonds for 1893. Approved.

A petition was presented signed by 225 citizens of the county asking that a new public road be laid down from the Bailey's Neck terminus of the Landaff new road to the Oxford neck road at or near Trappe station.

Permission was given Col F. C. Goldsborough to use the court room next Tuesday, for a farmer's meeting, to arrange for a combination stock sale at the Fair Grounds.

Upon application of Wilfred Bateman, counsel, the B. & E. S. Railroad Co. was given permission to remove the board crossings on the old public road near Dr. Seth's gate in Bay Hundred District.

A Musical Treat.—Our friend Abbott of the Annapolis Evening Capital assures us that the musical and literary entertainment to be given at Music Hall on Wednesday, May 3rd, 1893, is well worthy of the attention of our best people. The performers are the very best which can be found in the Ancient City and are liberally patronized whenever they exhibit there. The prices are 50 cts. for reserved seats. General admission 35 cts., children 25 cts. Reserved seat tickets are for sale at Hayward's Drug Store.

Go to Wilson's Roller Flouring Mills if you want bargains in Flour, I will guarantee you better flour for less money, than can be found at any other place. Our "Peerless" Fancy Patent flour, is acknowledged the leading flour on the market. Our "Favorite Flour" is the finest medium grade made. Especial attention paid to grist grinding. Your Trade is solicited. All kinds of feed kept on hand. Yours truly,
GEO. M. WILSON.

Donation Party.—Last Wednesday evening, the members of Calvary M. P. Church favored their excellent pastor, Rev. J. W. Sheridan, with a donation party. It was a complete surprise to the Pastor and his family, and therefore more enjoyable. The kind hearted people had a pleasant evening, whiling the hours with innocent games. The larder of the pastor was swelled to immense size through the generosity of his people, and the evening grew late. They took their departure, happy in heart at having made their good pastor and his family happy. Such Christian spirit will be rewarded in Heaven for the Lord hath said. "For as much as ye do it unto those, ye do it unto me." S. S.

Pound Party—Rev. W. E. Avery was was agreeably surprised one evening a week ago, by being tendered with a donation party by the member of his Church. The people recognize the work of this good man and are ever trying to make his pastorage among us pleasant. Mr. and Mrs. Avery are deeply touched at the kindness of the people and so expressed themselves. The donation was the most successful ever given by members of this Church and this act of kindness did much to show their appreciation of the earnest work of Mr. Avery.

AMONG OUR CHURCHES.

EASTON, THE CITY OF CHURCHES.

A few Brief Notes Regarding the doings in some of our Churches.

Easton may justly be called the Brooklyn of Maryland, wherein our many churches are steadily advancing, their circle of influence gradually widening year after year, the gratifying spiritual growth, the crowded edifices at all the services and many other facts go to place our beautiful town in an position that is by no means unenviable.

It has been a source of great pleasure to your correspondent to know that these feeble efforts at chronicling the doings of the Easton churches have been appreciated by many of the GAZETTE'S readers. I have ever sought to use this column to report such items as I deemed of interest. But these items have been purely local in tone, and with a view of extending the field, heretofore covered by this department, I would request the pastors of all denominations, from every part of the county to send in such items, concerning their churches, as would be of interest to the public. Those who will be kind enough to comply with this request will please have items at this office not later than Thursday morning. Address all communications to the undersigned, box 284, Easton, Md.

All young men, and especially those who are strangers in our town, are cordially invited to the meeting of the Epworth League at Ebenezer M. E. Church, held every Sunday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock. They are invited to bring their friends with them.—The young people of this hospitable church are glad to make new acquaintances, and the strong spirit of good fellowship and useful enterprise among them is especially appreciated by those who have not as yet formed ties that give them a home felling in a strange town. A cheerless room in a boarding house or hotel becomes very monotonous in the life of many young men in business, and to step into an inviting room even for a half hour and get acquainted with wide awake, active young people of good standing is much better than reading poor print by bad light or spending time in other ways that might be mentioned. Services as usual tomorrow, Mr. Avery will preach in the morning on "Conflict and Victory." Evening subject. "Present compensation.

Rev. C. D. Harris has been extremely fortunate in securing an able assistant in the person of Rev. J. D. Kesler, formerly of Union, Va. Mr. Kesler is a gentleman of pleasing appearance and address, energetic in all he undertakes and a speaker of rare and exceptional qualities. In preaching he has a peculiar manner of modulating his voice that is very pleasing to hear. His sermons are scholarly, made up of well selected phrases and of convincing power. Although he has been among us but a short time he has made himself very popular—and deservedly so.—He is welcome and I sincerely trust that his stay among us may be fraught with many pleasurable experiences and with great accomplishments in his work for God.

Owing to some very astonishing, and I might say ridiculous reason on the part of most of the members of the Catholic choir, it has been disbanded. The particulars will make interesting reading and I shall have more to say concerning it next week. Fr. Waldron has secured the services of a splendid choir from the Wilmington Cathedral to be present to morrow. Lovers of good music should be present. High Mass at 11 o'clock, and Vespers and Benediction at 7.30 P. M. All welcome.

Whatever form the church of the future may take it is very reasonable to suppose that the great working force of active young men and women known as the Christian Endeavor Society will have a great deal to do with it. Their great numbers and effective organization was hardly realized until last year, their representatives at the annual gathering could not find room all at the same time in the Madison Square Garden, New York city. The Easton organization under the auspices of the Calvary M. P. Church is in a splendid condition and constantly increasing in membership. You will feel profited by attending the Sunday evening meetings at 7 o'clock. Services at the usual hour tomorrow, morning subject "Early Piety." Evening subject, "Opportunity."

Fine Wheat.—If one wishes to see 110 acres of magnificent wheat, go view the field on Col. Joseph Bowdles farm, Timber Neck. He used 2000 lbs. to the acre of Nickerson's Easton Shore Domestic Guano and now has a field averaging 30 inches in height.

We desire to call the attention of our readers to the new advertisement of Geo. F. Sloan & Bro., 414 Light St. Wharf, Baltimore, Md. They are one of the oldest lumber firms in the City; have always paid special attention to Country business; know what is required, and propose to give good goods at very low prices. We suggest that you get their prices before buying.

Lane's Family Medicine Moves the Bowels each day. Most people need to use it.

The Safety Cycle Club of Easton was fully organized Thursday evening. The meeting was well attended by those interested in cicyling and from present indications the club will be a grand success. It has among its members some of Easton's most prominent business men. The membership is not restricted to wheelmen alone, but others who are non-wheelmen may join as an associate member and are entitled to the privileges of the club. A club house will be rented and splendidly furnished which will be the headquarters. The object of the club are many and will be stated upon application to the president, Frank A. White, or Saml. E. Shannahan; Secretary. The club will practice in fancy riding and give exhibitions, make tours around the peninsula and have races, etc. In fact this will prove a source of much enjoyment to both the active and associate members, and every young man should join. The initation fee is $1 and the dues 50 cents a quarter (three months). Application for membership must be made to the secretary. Further particulars will be published next week. Next meeting will be held Thursday evening, May 4 at 8 o'clock, at the G. A. R. room, Music Hall.

To Those Needing Treatment for the Eyes,—It is not known as well as it should be that Mr. E. P. Sangston, of Easton, is a graduate of the Chicago College of Ophthalmology, and is well qualified and equipped to treat imperfect vision, to give prescription and select the proper lenses. He has the best outfit for the work to be seen outside of the large cities and to go further than his store is to be unnecessarily extravagant, for his charges are moderate compared with the city specialist. A full line of diamonds, watches and jewelry constantly on hand.

A SOCIAL EVENT.

A PLEASURABLE EVENING SPENT

A social dance given by Miss Ella Williams to her many Friends —Those present.

Those who were so fortunate as to receive an invitation to the party given by Miss Ella Williams last Monday evening, will long look upon it as an evening where enjoyment and pleasure was most conspicuous. Everything possible was done to make the guests enjoy themselves, and every one testified that from the time of their arrival at the hospitable home of the hostess to their departure, every moment was one of pleasure and delight. The handsome parlors were hung in great profusion with various kinds of flowers and evergreens, which, with the soft, tinted lights of the chandalier, made a very charming effect, or as the immortal bard would have said, "It was a poem, a dream."

Only a limited number of invitations were issued, all of which, except in two cases where sickness prevented, were gladly accepted. The guests began to arrive at 8.30 p. m. and in half an hour later all who were expected were present. Dancing, of course, was one of the principal features of the evening's enjoyment. This began shortly after nine o'clock, with Mr. Frank A. White as master of the floor, and continued until 11.30 o'clock when the young hostess extended a most cordial invitation to all present to partake of refreshments, and herself led the way to the refreshment room, and there gracefully assigned all to seats around the tables which were loaded with many kinds of rare fruits and delicacies too numerous to mention. Ices and cream together with delicious cake was also served. The tables presented a beautiful appearance, their arrangement exhibited a refined taste and a master hand, flowers and evergreens were used in profusion and with lovely effect. After the guests had thoroughly refreshed themselves and made sad havoc upon the delicious edibles they again repaired to the drawing rooms—which I may state here are among the handsomest in Easton—and the happy couples again went through the dreamy mazes of the waltz.

During the evening, by unanimous request, Miss Ella Morgan, of Baltimore city, favored the company with a number of beautiful selections on the piano. Miss Morgan is, at present, a student of Peabody Institute, she is very accomplished and interprets some of the difficult compositions of Wagner, Strauss, Mendelsshon, with ease. The entire company was delighted with her playing.

At one o'clock the guests began to leave for their homes. On taking leave of the hostess and her mother, both of whom had so gracefully performed the honors of the evening, and done so much for the enjoyment of all, they expressed their pleasure and appreciation which they had experienced. The evening was such that it will long be remembered as one where enjoyment, hospitality and kindness reigned supreme.

Among the guests may be mentioned the following: Dr. and Mrs. Merritt, Mrs. J. Thompson, Misses Minnie Walker, Lelia Leonard, Della Harden, Lillie White, Maud Collins, Helen Covey, Ella Morgan, Mary Leonard, Cora Russell, Maud Shehan, May Shehan, Messrs. Jos. White, Frank White, Harry White, Saml. Shannahan, Wallace Heathers, Hambleton Roe, Howard Norris, Roger Covey, Leon Leonard, Baynard Nicols Herman Moore, Luther McNeal, Mason Shehan, Will Fleckenstine, John Wright, Percy Golt, Geo. Shehan, Wm. Wilson. S.S.

No. 80.—A Curious School.

In a certain part of the world not clearly stated on the map is a curious school, which, at the time I was fortunate enough to be enabled to visit it, had 21 pupils on the roll. One fine day I presented myself at the door and was ushered in by the author of "Hail Columbia" (5). The United States government (1), who sat at the teacher's desk, greeted me cordially and ordered the "Little Giant" (2) to hand me a chair. The class in history had just been called and was about to proceed when the "Wizard of the North" (17) came shuffling in and was sentenced to 10 minutes' standing on one foot for tardiness, as was also the "Iron Duke" (19), who followed close after.

"Who discovered America?" was asked.

The "King Maker" (6), who stood first, thought it might have been Davy Crockett, but was quickly told by the next pupil—the founder of the Grand Army of the Republic (3)—that George Washington did. The question was passed to the "Hero of the Dark Continent" (4), who had some idea that he had done the feat himself, and then to the "first postmaster general of the United States" (5), without being answered correctly. They were sent to their seats in disgrace.

The class in music was called, and the inventor of the Merrimac (8) caroled "Annie Rooney" very creditably, the author of "I came, I saw, I conquered" (9) and the "Master of the House of Gold" (20) coming in strong on the chorus. The "Heroine of Lucknow" (15) performed on the comb, while the "Finder of the True Cross" (15) hummed an alto. The "Father of History" (14) rose and sang "Home, Sweet Home," and the class in geography was called. The author of "One Tongue Enough For a Woman" (16) proceeded to talk for himself and all the rest about the earth's rotundity, and, time pressing, I took my departure, leaving him and the "Scourge of God" (18) in a hot debate with the "Sage of Monticello" (12), "Bluff Hal" (10) and the author of "Liberty and Union, now and forever one and inseparable" (11).

A Catholic Wedding.—On Tuesday of this week, at 10 a. m., the wedding of Mrs. Mary V. Cannon and Mr. Owen Lynch, of Ridgley, took place at the Catholic Church.—The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Waldron, and is known as the Nuptial Mass. This ceremony is new to the people of Easton, and consequently a large number was present. The bride and groom were met at the altar by the pastor and the ceremony began in the same manner as the marriage code of other churches, until that part relating to the ring, which is first sprinkled with holy water and then blessed. Most of this code is written in Latin and was therefore unintelligible to some, but it was, nevertheless, a beautiful ceremony where all the pomp of the church is fully exhibited. A little over a half hour was the time taken to perform the Nuptial Mass, which is unique but pretty, strange but interesting, and one is fascinated on witnessing it. At the conclusion instead of the bride and groom immediately leaving the church, they are invited to the pastor's study where they sign the marriage register and are given the marriage certificate, and then return to the church and walk down the center aisle to the entrance.—The chancel was beautifully decorated in a style which plainly exhibited the refined and cultivated taste of Father Waldron.

A GREAT EXPOSITION.

The great Columbian Exposition will open its doors on Tuesday, May 1st, and during the coming months millions of American Citizens as well as thousands of foreign visitors will inspect the wonders there displayed. It will be a notable exhibit and one well worthy the attention of the civilized world.

Of a different character, and yet possessing a great interest, is the Grand Exposition of Silks, Dress Goods and General Dry Goods now being displayed on our counters. Not only are the native productions shown in great variety, but goods drawn from the principal manufactories of the world are on display, and our spacious aisles crowded with eager and interested purchasers show the remarkable degree of interest awakened by this Exhibition.

To those who cannot avail themselves of a personal visit, we would say that our Mail Order Department is believed to be the best equipped and most efficiently organized of any in the country; and samples representing our goods will be sent to any address when desired. Upon request we will forward illustrated catalogues representing the goods on sale in the different Departments.
