LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

—Rain or Shine, the Garden Party will be held. Don't fail to come.

—We will be pleased to see our friends here from a distance who are attending Court next week, our doors are open to the public.

—The many Easton friends of the Rev. W. K. Gallaway, the evangelist, will be pleased to learn that he is rapidly recovering from injuries received from falling down stairs at his home in Pottsville, Pa., and that he expects to resume his work on the Peninsula in the near future.

—A Wisconsin paper, after describing a farm which the advertiser wants to sell, adds: "The surrounding country is the most beautiful the God of nature ever made. The scenery is celestial—divine; also two wagons to sell, and a yoke of steers."

—The conversation turned upon a certain gentleman who is not what you may call a brilliant speaker. "He has only three faults" a friend apologetically remarked; "1, he reads his speeches; 2, reads them badly; 3d, they are not worth reading."

—Bicycle parade before the Garden party Wednesday night.

—"We are all worms," explained the preacher in his sermon. And little Bobby, who was following the discourse attentively, whispered to his mother: "Then that's the reason the great big fish swallowed Jonah, isn't it, mamma?"

—Tramp—No sugar nor milk in my coffee, mum. Sugar is bad for the kidneys, and milk gives me dyspepsia. Lady—You are very careful about your health. Tramp—It is very necessary, mum. If I didn't keep my health I couldn't travel as a sick man.

—Attend the Garden Party at the Market House next Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

—It is interesting to trace the evolution of words and expression. Cultivated people say "How do you do?" Those who are less precise say "Howdy do?" In the backwoods of Tennessee they say "Howdy?" The noble red man of the west says "How?" While the cat on the fence says "Ow."

—"Geo. Dear," said the girl; "Do you ever drink any thing?" "Yes, occasionaly." "But dear, what do you suppose papa would say if he should discover that the future husband of his only daughter drank?" "He discovered it this morning." Oh, George; and what did he say?" "He said; Well, George, my boy, I don't care if I do."

—Hen eggs are legal tender with the grocers of Easton and the patriotic American hen—who is a better bird of liberty than the proudest eagle that ever coursed the blue ether or picked out the eyes of a helpless lamb—is doing her duty in supplying a circulating medium.

—The following from a Missouri exchange: I was always teached to be honest, an' most always have been, but when I seed that calf I caved. I never wanted a calf so bad in my life, an' you all know that when a man wants him. The jury returned the following verdict: "We, this jury, air satisfied that Steve stole that calf, but, as the feller that owned the animal is a considerable of a slouch, we agree to clear Steve an' make the owner pay the costs."

—Come to the Garden Party Wednesday and Thursday nights.

The New M. E. Church, South.—The building committee who have in charge the erection of a new church for the above denomination in Easton report that they have decided upon the plans and are now upon the point of beginning active operations. The necessary money has nearly all been subscribed and a few short weeks will see the old church building torn down. The plans are excellent and provide for a church of great architectual beauty and comfortable and commodious interior. This will be a building of which Easton may well feel proud and when completed will be the representative church of this denomination on the peninsula. The committee will gladly receive all contributions at any time and for any amount.

Decoration Day will be observed in Easton this year in grand style. The ceremonies will be in charge of Commander T. H. Coburn, assisted by several visiting comrades. The committee who have the arrangements in charge is making every effort to make this the grandest decoration day ever held in Easton. A parade will take place in the afternoon headed by the Easton band and will march through the principal streets to the cemetery where the graves of our fallen heroes will be strewn with flowers. It is also being arranged to have several speakers of note present to make appropriate addresses.

At the White House.—A party of Maryland editors on the way to the World's Fair stopped over in Washington one day this week and called upon Senator Gorman and President Cleveland. Among the party were Geo. E. Haddaway and wife of Easton. Mr. Gorman received the party in one of the committee rooms of the Senate side of the Capitol. The visitors, after a pleasant talk with the Senator, proceed to the Executive Mansion and filed into the East Room, where they found the President shaking hands with several persons. The President was gracious in his reception and chatted pleasantly with all and particularly with the ladies. The ladies inquired for Mrs. Cleveland, and were informed that she had gone to her country residence. The interview lasted nearly half an hour.

THE PINAFORE.

A GRAND PRESENTATION OF THE POPULAR OPERA

H. M. S. Pinafore, or the Lass that Loved a Sailor. Crowded house at both performances.

For the first time Grand Opera was presented in such a magnificent style at Music Hall this week that it almost seems, as we look back upon it, as a dream. The people of Easton have had to put up with entertainments of a second-class character so long, that the arrival of the "Pinafore" was greeted with manifestations of great joy. On both evenings, Wednesday and Thursday the Hall was packed and jammed until it seemed almost impossible to get another person within the door. The music was of a very high order, and established the long-asserted fact, that under competent leadership, our musical talent can creditably acquit themselves in all the features of æsthetic music.

Special praise is due to the management for the beautiful stage settings and arrangements. It is seldom that such magnificent scenery can be found at amature operas, and indeed nothing professional could have excelled it on this stage. Everything exhibited a most refined and artistic taste. The audience had filled the Hall with the expectation of hearing something remarkably fine and long before the time for the curtain to rise applause was frequent, but when the curtain at last rose the audience gave vent to enthusiastic applause, loud and long. The opening chorus was one of great power, and the voices all blended together most harmonously. The voices were happily blended throughout, and fairly well balanced, and the tone was admirable.

As has been already stated, the entire production was excellent throughout. The volume of tone was great and without particularizing every participant it may be said that the soloists did their part well, Mrs. Tharp and Mrs. Aldridge being especially effective. The splendid singing of Messrs. Henry Hollyday and Harry Patchet needs no commendation, and Mr. A. L. Tharp as "Dick Deadeye" was grand and carried his part in a splendid manner which itself proved a most delightful treat. Miss Annie Rathell, as Cousin Hebe sang most effectually and beautifully. Her introduction of Hebe's song, not in the score, but especially written for the original Hebe (Miss Belle McKenzie) was very effective and added a great deal to the enjoyment of the performance and occasioned great applause, her acting was perfect and could not be improved upon.

But without seeming partial, it can truthfully be stated that Josephine, as represented by Mrs. A. L. Tharp, was as perfect as it could be made. Her voice full of rich full notes of exquisite sweetness was displayed to great advantage in "Sorry her Lot," and in the trying number "The Hours creep on Apace." The compass, power and effect of her voice was fully shown and the audience gave evidence of its appreciation and delight by repeated rounds of applause. The rendition of this was decidedly from an artistic standpoint, the gem of the evening. Although the duet between Josephine and Rackstraw, beautiful in the extreme, may in some respects claim to rival it.

Joseph Wright, the Boatswain, had a fine opportunity to display the compass and power of his baritone voice in the boatswain's song "He is an Englishman." It was delightfully rendered and deserved the encores he received.

Mr. Harry Patchett and Mr. Henry Hollyday both did themselves credid, and performed their parts with ease and grace. Their solos were sung sweetly and perfectly, and proved that they were blessed with the best tenor voices in Easton. Col. Tilghman as the high and mighty Sir Joseph Porter played his part equally as well as any professional could have done. His manner without being comical, as is so often the case, was dignified in the extreme. "The Bell" trio is particularly to be remarked, in which his acting with Mrs. Tharp and Mr. Patchett called for his very best efforts. Colonel Tilghman won the admiration of the large audience in a very short time and took to himself a portion of the laurels of the evening. Miss Nellie M. McKnight, of Baltimore, niece of Mrs. E. S. Zell, delighted all with several exhibitions of fancy dancing. She danced splendidly and was frequently called before the audience. The tall Sergeant of Marines, Col. Roberts, kept the people continually laughing with his ludicrous actions.

The orchestra was from Baltimore city and the Peabody Institue and is said to rank among the highest in musical circles there.—The orchestra was in charge of Mr. Leutbecher of Baltimore and was composed of five instruments all of which were played admirably. Indeed so well did the orchestra do its work that often the audience was held spellbound, Mrs. Lachmar was at the piano and played with more than her accustomed skill and beauty. The crew of the Pinafore have good reasons to be proud of the success they achieved. It was probably the most ambitious attempt ever made by our local musical talent, but the result fully justified Mr. Tharp's confidence in their power and showed what can be done by them with earnest, conscientious work under competent leadership. To Mr. A. L. Tharp can be attributed the honor and credit of drilling and preparing the crew of the Pinafore, and it must surely be said that he did his work perfectly, and the people of Easton can extend their thanks to the entire company and especially Mr. Tharp for presenting an opera of such excellence as was the Pinafore. This makes another important epoch in the history of Easton's advancement toward the realm of fine art.

The following were principal characters:—

Josephine,	Mrs A. L. Tharp
Buttercup,	Mrs N. T. Aldridge

Another Industry for Easton.—At a meeting of the Board of Trade held last Monday evening, a proposition was read to the effect that a large concern in Michigan manufacturing farm wagons and threshers would like to locate in Easton and have communicated to the Board for information and encouragement. The secretary was requested to communicate with the company and ascertain their terms. This is a grand opportunity for the increase in the industries of Easton and it should not be allowed to pass, as has been the case in several instances recently. The company desiring to locate here is a large one, and manufactures a product of reputation and great worth, employs over a hundred men and occupies a large space of ground. We have several desirable sites for such an industry and it needs only a little encouragement on the part of our Board of Trade to bring this factory here. The benefits that such an industry would bring to our community are numerous and it is really of great importance to the town that our Board of Trade should wake from its slough of despondency and shake off the air of indifference which has so long pervaded it. Only a few members were present at the meeting Monday night and these few are really the life of the Board, and but for them it would have disbanded long ago. Our merchants must come to the realization that they can profit themselves more ways than standing behind their counters and common sense should teach them that industry or two such as the proposed wagon and thresher factory would not only bring trade to them, but prosperity to the whole community. Gentlemen heed this appeal and attend to the meetings of the Board of Trade.

A Garden Party will be held in the Market House, Easton, on the evenings of May 24th and 25th, under the management of the Safety Cycle Club of Easton. The house will be beautifully arranged with any number of large and small tables, trimmed in the club colors and intermingled with flowers. The young ladies of Easton will be present in all their beauty and attractiveness to attract to the tables young and old, who will assist in swelling the club treasury by patronizing the garden party. The committee who have the arrangements in charge are all active young men who will see that everything possible to add to the enjoyment of patrons will be done. The encouragement of the young men by our citizens should be given, as their needs are many and the club is fully deserving of the support of our people. Come out and help the boys, you will feel better for having done so. The Easton band will furnish music. Of course ice cream will be served and we are told that it will be the best ever in Easton. Cake, lemonade, etc. and home-made candies will be found there and—some very pretty young ladies.

Rev. W. W. W. Wilson was in Easton last Sunday and preached two sermons of great power at the M. E. Church. Mr. Wilson was a very popular man while he was pastor of the above church and his former parishioners were very glad to see him again. He had to leave for Baltimore Sunday night that he might be present at the hospital where his wife is critically ill. The operation upon Mrs. Wilson proved very successful, and it will be a source of great pleasure to her many friends in Easton and elsewhere to know that she is on the road to recovery.

Prohibition Conference.—W. Frank Tucker and I. W. Wheatley will both be at the Prohibition Conference on Tuesday 23d. Meetings at 11 a. m., and 1.30 p. m. in the W. C. T. U. rooms. They will also be at the Demorest Prize Contest of the Loyal Legion to be held in the Court room at 8 p. m. Miss K. Yeo has charge of this juvenile work and a grand work it is, showing the young the evils of intemperance. May the Lord bless her and help the mothers to come and give a helping hand. All come to these meetings and hear truths that will profit you, and help to save your boys and girls from the terrible curse of rum.

THE PUZZLER

No. 101.—Transposition.

An old log cabin, long forsaken,
By wind and weather rudely shaken;
A rusty ONE upon the door,
A broken padlock on the floor.
The bracted bindweed mantles all
The sagging roof and leaning wall;
Its snowy bells, with just a dream
Of TWO blush, through the foliage gleam.
Over the footpath, grassy grown,
The wild rose THREE come drifting down;
Rare cups and FOUR to gather dew
For moonlight feast of elfin crew.
The wren builds in the window ledge,
The rabbit peers from out the hedge.
Were I an artist now in FIVE!
But as it is, I must contrive
In "frame of mind" to place it all
And hang it up on "Memory's wall."

But this is a water that surely

There are steamers that plunge through the water
Like flame breathing dragons of old.
There are battleships fashioned for slaughter,
And yachts for their swiftness extolled.

A Relic from the Past.—Through the kindness of Mr. J. H. K. Shannahan we have been enabled to review an old number of the GAZETTE, dated Monday evening, July 13, 1818. The paper was loaned Mr. Shannahan by a gentleman in Crisfield. The name of the journal at that time was "The Easton Gazette and Eastern Shore Intelligencer."—Its pages are small, having but five short columns to a page. The issue in question is in a fair state of preservation, and its contents, of a varied nature, are quite interesting. Subscription price $2.50 per year. Among its contents is an article on the Sea Serpent, the perusal of which causes a smile of incredulity to pass over our features. It is bad enough for people of this enlightened age to believe in the existence of such a monster, but we do not doubt that the article referred to created quite a sensation among the 400 or more inhabitants of Easton at that time. The length of the serpent was described as 360 feet. An act to prevent the unlawful exportation of negroes is also to be found in its columns.—Jesse Sheffer announces that he is prepared to entertain "ye weary travelers" at the Easton Hotel, while President Monroe publishes a proclamation to the effect that he recognizes Laurence Thomsen as Vice Consul for his Danish Majesty for the Port of Baltimore.—The sloop "Edward Lloyd" advertises to make trips to Baltimore. These and many other interesting things may be found in this old and valuable relic.

Religious Notices.—Calvary M. P. Church, J. M. Sheridan, Pastor, Preaching Sunday, 11 A. M. Subject—Wrong Estimate of True Christianity. 7 P. M. Christian Endeavor Leader, Mr. Chas. Eastman. 8 P. M. Preaching by Rev. A. H. Green of Trappe, Cordial invitation extended to all.

Ebenezer Church. Morning Subject:—The Parable of the Pounds.

Evening Subject:—A heroic Queen, first of a series of sermons on the Women of the Bible.

ATTENTION FARMERS.

WE ARE IN THE FIELD THIS SEASON with the best and most complete assortment of Implements and Machinery ever offered on the Eastern Shore. First come Plows, and the "Bissell" leads them all in lightness of draft and best work in all conditions of land. Next comes the "Oliver" pattern plow manufactured by Bissell, which is, we claim, superior to any Oliver sold; this plow we have sold a great many of during the past and present seasons and can give a host of references supporting our claim. Lastly comes the "Advance," which is too well known to need any comments. Of the Harrows we are selling the complete line made by D. M. Osborne & Co., including Spring Tooth, Spike Tooth; and Disc—the Spring Tooth especially being the grandest thing of its kind ever put on the market. One of them last winter sold at a sale for $16 which was within $2 of what it cost originally, the bidding having commenced at $10.

In Corn Planters we have the U. S. Combined Check Row Corn Planter. This Planter uses a plunger direct from the check row rod to the rotary seed plates and does away with all the shakebar and center irons between the seed boxes. A single pin spring anchor is furnished with the U. S. and with their use the wire can be drawn the same tension at each end of the field, thereby insuring great accuracy in planting.

Our Sulky Cultivator is the "Akron," which is already at the top of the heap both as a cultivator and as a fallow worker.

We are still selling the Osborne Binders and Mowers, which are most reliable, and also the Empire Binders and Mowers, which are new to this section, but have more good points than any machine ever sold.

Farm Wagons—We are handling the "Jackson" and "Auburn." The Jackson is the old Webster very much improved and no one should think of buying a wagon without seeing them. To continue to enumerate all the good things that we have would take up so much of your time that we will cease with the assurance that no matter what you may want we believe we can suit you from a shoe peg to a traction engine.

P. S.—Barb Wire is lower than ever before. Do you need some? We have a large supply.

"Those Horrid Bicycles" is the manner in which some of the female element of Easton speak of our enterprising wheelmen as they skim around the streets at night in a body ringing bells and blowing horns. There was as many as thirty in a line one night this week, which certainly proves that the craze has invaded. Every one has the disease and it is quite incurable, and in so far as it is reconstructive and developmental instead of degenerative, it is not an undesirable malady. It is with pleasure that we observe the constant growth of the bicycle in desirable qualities until it seems hardly possible that anything could be added to make it more perfect.

THE TITAN OF CHASMS.

A Mile Deep 13 Miles Wide, 217 Miles Long, and Painted Like a Flower.

The Grand Canon of the Colorado River, in Arizona, is now for the first time easily accessible to tourists. A regular stage line has been establisdhe from Flagstaff, Arizona, on the Atlantic & Pacific Railroad, making the trip from Flagstaff to the most imposing part of the Canon in less than 12 hours. The stage fare for the round trip is only $20.00, and meals and comfortable lodgings are provided throughout the trip at a reasonable price. The view of the Grand Canon afforded at the terminus of the stage route is the most stupendous panorama known in nature. There is also a trail at this point leading down the Canon wall, more than 6,000 feet vertically, to the river below. The descent of the trail is a grander experience than climbing the Alps, for in the bottom of this terrific and sublime chasm are hundreds of mountains greater than any of the Alpine range.

A book describing the trip to the Grand Canon, illustrated by many full-page engravings from special photographs, and furnishing all needful information, may be obtained free upon application to Jno. J. Byrne, 723 Monadnock Block, Chicago, Ill.
