Death of Wm. E. Barton.—Mr. Wm. E. Barton, aged about sixty-three years, died at his residence in Talbot county, near Hillsborough, at an early hour on Sunday morning last. Apoplexy was the cause of death.

He returned from Hillsborough at a late hour Saturday night apparently in good health. In the night Mrs. Barton heard him struggling and hastened to his assistance, but he died without regaining consciousness.

Mr. Barton was quite prominent in public affairs, and took much interest in county matters. His wife, three sons—Wm., Batchelor and Edward Barton and one daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Morgan, survive him.

A Child's Romance.—The Baltimore American of Wednesday gives the following particulars which concern residents of this county.

"Judge Wickes, sitting as of the City Court, hear habeas corpus proceedings in Circuit Court No. 2, to determine the disposition of pretty Louisa Frederick, or Horner, aged 14 years, whose foster father, David Horner, sued out the writ to gain possession of the child. The writ was sued out through W. Baltzell Jenkins, attorney, and was directed against Mr. Geo. Tarr, of St. Michaels, Talbot county, in whose employ the girl now is."

"It was in evidence that Louisa Horner or Frederick was given to Mr. Horner in 1880 when she was not a year old. by her mother, who was at that time the Widow of George Frederick, for adoption. At that time Mr and Mrs. Horner resided in Baltimore, but a year ago they removed to St. Michaels and it was in this way the girl went to Mr. Tarr's. It was charged that the girl had been cruelly treated by her foster mother, and Justice Sparks, of Talbot county, testified that in July last he had imposed a fine on Mrs. Horner for beating the girl. The child testified that she had run away, because Mrs. Horner treated her badly. She said she liked the Tarr's, and did not want to leave them. The Horners and other witnesses said they had treated the child as a daughter, and, although it was admitted they had chastised her, they said it was never done, except when necessary.

"Judge Wickes committed the child into the custody of Mr. Tarr temporarily until an investigation into the entire merits of the case can be made. Henry J, Broening, appeared for Mr. Tarr, contented that the propper persons to have charge of the girl were Mr. and Mrs. Tarr, for her foster parents would not give her the right kind of treatment."

CAROLINE DEPARTMENT.

Edited by Edward E. Rogers.

Our canneries are in operation.

The Preston Canning Company have been packing peaches for a week or two.

Our fruit growers have been loading cars here and at Elwood for Philadelphia market. Notwithstanding the quality of the peaches is excellent, and great care is taken to pack the fruit, very low prices have prevailed.

The tomato crop is looking up.

Contractor Wm. E. Todd is building an addition to Mr. A. W. Sisk's residence.

The shirt factory at Choptank has shut down for an indefinite period.

Mr. Martin Wright of Easton, visited Caroline friends on Sunday last.

During the past two weeks many visitors have sojourned here, and considering the fact that nearly all of them were ladies their presence was very enjoyable.

The new cannery at Hurlock's will not be completed in time for this season's pack, The crop will be disposed of at the factory of B. W. Wright, Preston.

Mr. Ferd Dixon purposes on attending a business college in Philadelphia the coming fall and winter.

Mr. Clem Stack is confined to his house with some hip trouble. He cannot walk.

Mr. Claud Lednum is home from school.

Mrs, Geo. E, Davis and daughter Mary, who have been seriously ill, are improving.

Drs. W. T. and L. D. Kelley, and their father, Mr. Wm, T. Kelley, visited Ocean City last Sunday.

A basket factory is talked of as a '94 improvement in Preston. There is no good reason why we should not have such an enterprise, as good material is easily obtainable and labor plentiful. A little capital and a good deal of "back bone" are the elements not yet tangible.

Some of Caroline's luscious peaches float upon the murky surface of "The Basin."

We desire to call the attention of our readers to the new advertisement of George F. Sloan & Bro., 414 Light St. Wharf, Baltimore, Md. They are one of the oldest firms in the City; have always paid special attention to Country business; know what is required, and propose to give good goods at very low prices, We suggest that you get their prices before buying. 3sep13tf

He stepped on the porch, rang the bell but no one came to the door, After repeated efforts they gave up the idea of getting in. A little boy passing called to them saying, that the doctor and family have gone away. This seemed to give the couple a great deal to talk about, happening to pass just at that time and seeing them standing there I asked them if they were particular in seeing the Dr. The gentleman told me that they wanted to be joined in the bonds of matrimony. I suggested some other person to tie the knot but the lady declared that Dr. Morris and no other should perform that one great service I told them the doctor would be at home in about three weeks. The lady said that she could wait, the man said, "O Lord I feel sure that if the Doctor had known all this he would have waited a week before leaving." It may be all for the best who knows.

CHICAGO CORRESPONDENCE.

REGULAR WEEKLY LETTER FROM W. D. B. AT FAIR GROUNDS.

Members of the National commission were considerably disturbed Thursday over the report from Washington that Secretary Carlisle was dissatisfied with the extravagance of continuous sessions of the commission and of the board of lady managers. Conservative members recognized the justice of the criticism from Washington, but said the commission has fallen into the hands of irresponsible alternates, aided by a few regular members who enjoy spending the summer in Chicago at government expense. One of the leading men in the commission said it had done nothing during the last month that could not have been accomplished in two days of active work. He took the minutes for the last ten days and pointed out the fact that not one record of importance had been made to show for the $400 daily cost of the commission's sessions.

With the Thomas orchestra eliminated from the financial problem, the directory has turned its attention to the abolution of other expensive features of the administration. A member of the council said Friday that the departments of publicity and foreign affairs are to be abolished and their functions merged in those of the director-general's office. It is known that Maj. Handy has urged the director-general to accept his resignation.—When Maj. Handy was asked as to the accuracy of the news that his department was going to quit business, he smiled comfortably and said: "It is not altogether unlikely. I tendered my resignation to Col. Davis some days ago and offered to step out immediately. He thought it an inopportune time then because the second edition of the catalogue was in preparation for the press and there was a large amount of work to be done in connection with its publication. If the directors want to save the cost of the department I certainly shall not attempt to delay the move. I voluntarily relinquished part of my salary when the general reduction was proposed and the remainder is not worth fighting for."

Everybody traced some relationship to Louisiana Thursday. The citizens of the Pelican state came in squads and battalions to their home on the fair grounds. The doors were closed and the registers placed on the porch, where a man was stationed all day giving out red badges with Louisiana stamped in gold on them. The soldiery of the state gay in their uniforms and red plums, were conspicuous by their numbers on the ground. The ceremonies of the day began with a concert by Louisiana talent in the assembly hall of the woman's building at 12.30 o'clock. At 12.15 the doors were closed and the guards on duty refused to admit the hundreds who begged admittance. The hall was simply decorated with the stars and stripes. A large blue silken banner bearing the arms of the state stood out in the center of the eastern wall of the hall between the flag of the nation and the Spanish flag.

Antonin Dvorak, the famous Bohemian composer, made a trip to the fair Thursday, but it was not on pleaeure bent. He passed most of the afternoon in festival hall rehearsing the exposition orchestra for a concert to be given there Saturday afternoon as a climax to the celebration of Bohemian day, Aug. 12. The other events of the day include a parade of Bohemians through the principal streets, an address by Lieut.-Gov. Jonas of Wisconsin in festival hall and gymnastic exercises in the stock pavilion at 3 o'clock. But the event to which the patriotic Bohemians are looking forward with keenest anticipation is the appearance of their illustrious musician at festival hall to conduct the performance of some of his own works.

Grotesque figures in the dim light of sizzling red fire moved about in strange circles and stranger contortions on a float in the middle of south pond on Thursday night. It was the incarnation of weirdness. Dull sounding tom.toms, rattling tambourines and gutteral melodies formed the music, and as its cadence sounded slowly at first, then faster and faster the figures kept up with it now throwing themselves flat on the floor of the float, now leaping high in the air, as the music dictated until, utterly exhausted, they cease their exertions and left the stage to new performers.

It was the first open air dancing of Prof. Putman's Indians, and a crowd that lined the east bank of the pond for 100 yards in either directon witnessed the performance and cheered the particisants. The first Indians to be rowed out to the float were the Iroquois from New York, Their part of the program was a war dance. Twenty Indians, led by Chief No-Neck, took part. They were dressed in war regalia. Streaks of red, yellow and green paint, daubed in wavering lines, mark their faces, Down No-Neck's back was a string of turkey feathers. In his hair were more feathers and in his hand he carried a tomahawk. An old medicine man beat the tom-tom. With slow and dignified tread the Indians advanced to the center of the stage. A sharp blow on the tom-tom called them to attention and the dance began. At first it was only a series of convulsive jerks. Then as the medicine man hammered his instrument more rapidly the dancers caught the spirit and seemed to work themselvss into a frenzy. Hopping, skipping and jumping they flew across the stage, while the crowds cheers themselves hoarse. Wild yells now rose above the native music, Tomahawks were banished and it seemed as though the next minute would bring a msssacre. Just as the more nervous onlooker began to grow apprehensive the yells sunk to plaintiff wails, the music grew slower and the dance ceased. Then followed dances by other Indian tribes and a number of Esquimaux.

One thousand wheelmen raced about Jackson Park Thursday night. Four bands stationed at different parts of the grounds gave concerts. The northern end was brilliantly illumined. The League of American wheelmen sent its sturdy young men with their bicycles to make a parade on the grounds.—The members brought along a large number of women riders. It was the grand night parade of the fourteenth annual meet of the League of American Wheelmen, now in session in this city. The national association offered prizes for the best decorations. The Lincoln Cycling Club of the North Side showed up best in the line. John Bills of the Lincoln club brought a reproduction of the Ferris Wheel into line. The Angle brothers from Evanston had their tandem rigged up with two immense disks on which were painted the insigma of the League. In the parade the disks revolved in the opposite way to which the machine was going, while a huge Chinese parasol was kept whirling above the riders. R. B. Shorf of the Lincolns had covered his safety with dragoons, He carried an immense umbrella fringed with lanters.—Frank J. Moese, also of the Lincolns, with a bear sitting on the bars, appeared in a fanciful costume of a knight of the middle ages.—R. W. Slusser steered a massive ship constructed of lanterns upon a tricycle. Frank Waller and J. P. Walter were in Chinese style and rode a tandem "trike." The Æolus Cycling Club mounted band, with Leader Krinker resplendent in buttons and braid, made a good showing. J. H. Thiele also received applause with his big umbrella and fringe of lights. The cycle corps of the Second regiment band led the parade.

"American Week" grows daily nearer a reality. At a late meeting of the Associated American Exhibitors, representing 22,000 at the exposition, the directors submitted a plan for the proposed celebration, which was formally approved. It contemplates the giving up of a day to each of the great departments of industry and trade. They are to be classified as follows:

American Manufacturers Day—Manufacturers shoe and leather trade, merchant tailors

American Products Day—Agriculture, horticulture, mines and mining, fish and fishing, forestry, dairy and live stock.

American Arts Day—Fine arts, liberal arts, anthropology.

American Women's Day—Woman's Department.

American Machinery Day—Transportation machinery, electricity,

American Government Day—To be devoted to the glorification and the principles of the government and the advancement of patriotic feelings.

The celebration, which will probably be held during September, the Associated American Exhibitors will work to make the most memorable of the exposition.

Thursday and Saturday afternoons from now until the close of the fair was given Tuesday at 2 o'clock in the scenic theater in the southeast corner of electricity building. C. P. Frey of New York lectured on "Electricity and Electrical Instruments."

The national commission occupied its time Tuesday discussing a resolution to cut salaries of Commissioners Massey and St. Clair from $5,000 to $2 500 a year for their services on the council of administration. The resolution was introduced by Commissioner Goodell of Colorado, and on his motion was referred to a special committee of four.

The paid attendance is now very encouraging. The number of such admissions shows an average of over 100,000 for several days in the week beginning Aug. 7. Hundreds of excursion are being arranged in all parts of the country, at one half railroad fare, and there is no doubt that the magnificent exposition will boom from now until its close at the end of October. The increased attendance has made everybody more cheerful at the fair.

THREE DOLLARS a WEEK for LIFE

Here is a Snap for Brainy People—The Latest Thing Out.

In order to introduce The Canadian Agriculturist into New homes, the publishers have decided to present an unusal reward list for their Great Eighth Half Yearly Literary Attraction for the summer of 1893, which closes Oct. 1. They have entered into a written agreement to pay through the Judges all all the rewards offered below.

How to Secure a Reward—Those who become subscribers can compete free of charge. All that is necessary is to take a few sheets of paper and make all the words you can out of the letters in the three words, "World's Columbian Exposition," and send them to us, inclosing $1 for six months subscription to either The Canadian Agriculturist or The Ladies Home Magazine, two of the choicest illustrated periodicals of the day.

The sender of the largest list will receive $3 per week for life: 2nd, $1,000 in gold: 3rd, $500; 4th, $250; 5 th. $100; 6 th, Ticket to World's Fair and ten days expenses; pianos, organs, ladies and gents' gold and silver watches, silver tea services, diamond rings, and over 10,000 other rewards, making altogether the most valuable prize list ever offered by any publisher. Send for printed list of former prize-winners.

Rules.—1: Foreign or obsolete words not counted. 2. Letters cannot be used oftener than they appear in the words "World's Columbian Exposition"—that is, the word "riddle" for instance, could not be used because there is but one "d" in the three words, etc. 3. Names of persons and places barred. 4. No charge for packing or shipping, but all prize winners are expected to help us to extend our circulation. 5. All lists containing over 100 correct words will receive a special reward.

Judges.—The following well known gentlemen have consented to act as judges and will see that the prizes are fairly awarded—Commodore Calcutt, (Proprietor Calcutt's Line of Steamers). Peterborough, and Mr. W. Robertson, President Times Printing Co. Peterborough.

Agents Wanted—We pay $1 to $5 per day salary (no commision) to men, women, boys and girls. Write for particu'ars. Register all money letters. Address, Agriculturist Pub, Co., (L'td). Peterborough, Canada. tf

We want a boy in every town in the United States to sell single copies of the SATURDAY BLADE and CHICAGO LEDGER. The papers are readily sold in every shop, store, factory, on the street, to farmers, at home, and to strangers who are in town. Any hustling boy can start out and sell these bright illustrated papers to almost any one, and can get regular customers to buy every number as fast as it is received. They are the easiest selling papers published, as agents testify.

The papers sell for 5 cents a copy. The boy sends us 3 cents for each copy he sells, and keeps the other 2 cents for himself. It costs nothing for the boy to start in business, and he runs no risk of having papers left on his hands, as we take back all unsold copies. Not only boys make good agents, but girls, and invalids, or those who cannot do hard work — Every one who wishes to make money should apply for an agency. To any one who will secure us an agent to handle the papers regularly, we will give a copy free as long as the agent thus obtained sells the paper in the town for which he was appointed There is a boy in every town who would be glad of the opportunity to make money in this way, and we ask those interested in boys to send in the name of some bright hustling lad who will agree to take hold of the business. The Saturday Blade is dated and sold on SATURDAY, and the Chicago Ledger on Wednesday. The Blade is a newspaper, fully illustrated. The Ledger is a family story paper, also fully illustrated by our own artists. The great popularity of these papers is fully attested by their immense circulation. The average weekly circulation of the Saturday Blade is 275,000 copies, and that of the Chicago Ledger 140,000 copies. Certainly no stronger proof of their selling qualities could be asked; and nearly all these hundreds of thousands of copies are sold by boys. The Blade is the wonder of the newspaper world, and the Ledger is close after it.
