M. M. HIGGINS,
H. C. DODSON,
GEO. H. TRAX,
R. E. WELSH,
Republican State Central Committee for Talbot County.

LET me go where'er I will, I hear a sky-born music still, it is not only in the rose, it is not only in the bird, not only where the rainbow glows, nor in the song of women heard; but in the darkest, meanest things, there's always, always something sings.

—EMMERSON.

THE Republican State Convention was held in Baltimore Wednesday.—Hon. Chas. T. Westcott, of Kent was made chairman. The convention was an interesting one and matters of party interest were discussed and considered. Joshua Horner, Jr., a well known banker of Baltimore was nominated by acclimation for Comptroller. Mr. Horner is regarded as a very strong candidate. The attendance at the convention was good, Talbot being represented by Messrs. A. L. Tharp, John Jump, James Valliant and Chas. T. Stewart.

THE Talbot democracy as represented by the Gibson wing at the Court House in Easton Tuesday of last week seemed to be in quite a "jubilee" state of mind, and "abided in the faith" that "these United States will by proper legislation soon recover from the wholesale depression—the panic—caused by the vile class legislation of the Republican party in control of the Government for the past thirty years."

Why, bless your souls, if it required thirty years for the Republican party to make the present panic, when we consider the marvelous growth of the country during that time in both commercial and agricultural pursuits was not this work on the "panic business, the job to be finished and delivered to the country in 1893, a rather slow affair?

If the country wants a "panic" and it requires thirty years for the Republican party through "vile legislation" to turn out a first class, far reaching, home destroying one, better indeed, give the contrast to the the Democrats. The panic of 1837, with others of Democratic manufacturer, were ready for "business" in the panicky line in much less time than thirty years.

But to fair minded people, if the country is indebted to the Republican party for the present dangerous and suffering condition of affairs, is it not strange or remarkable that this great panic of '93 did not make its appearance until after the presidentjal election of last fall?

Is it not strange that it must wait for Grover Cleveland and his Democratic Congress to have control, to proceed to strike the industries of the country like a cyclone of disaster, and wipe many out of existence?

Is it not strange that in delivering the "good times" the new administration in the first six months should witness the closing of over two hundred national banks and the stagnation of business generally?

If our Talbot friends of the late convention would solve the true cause of the present depression, they would find it in the one word distrust.

THE Pennsylvania Republicans in their State convention last week expressed the opinion that the present administration would not repeal the McKinley bill, but rather tamper with and amend the same. Those who are familiar with the past history of the Democratic party are compelled to form such conclusions. But it should not be forgotten that the Chicago platform declared protection to be unconstitutional, and the McKinley bill a robber and a fraud, and that the same must be repealed. The Democrats should keep that in mind and no tampering if you please. But pulverize protection! Then a distress, of which the present is but a shadow, will bring the country to its senses. The following plank in the platform adopted by the Pennsylvania Republicans last week is not based upon any imaginary condition, but upon living facts whereof each day's history bears evidence:

"Swiftly upon the heels of Democratic success in 1892 has followed unprecedented national distress. A ruinous fall in the price of farm and other products and manufactures; the closing of workshops, factories and mills; the reduction of the wages of labor, the discharge of workingmen from employment; the cessation of railroad extension, and diminution of traffic; bankruptcy, and the suspension of banks, are to-day the only monuments of their triumph. The present condition of the country is mainly due to the conviction that a vital attack will be made upon the American system of protection. We reiterate the belief we have often expressed, that the maintenance of an adequate and stable system of protective duties is essential to the well being of the nation, and the prosperity of labor and capitail."

THE New York Sun was too much engrossed with its own yarns about the so-called "force bill" during the Presidential campaign last fall to say a kind word in behalf of that patriot, the Hon. Patrick Egan, our Minister to Chili, who was at that time "copiously abused and lied about" by the Democratic press all over the country.

But recently, after the mischief has been done, Sun thinks it now a "good time" to proclaim that Mr. Egan was a "firm, patriotic, and worthy representative of the honor of his country."

If this is a time for leading Democratic papers to tell the truth, was it not a better time to do so when "firm patriotic and worthy" citizens were being lied about and scandalously abused while doing their duty in the public service?

It comes with no good grace for the New York Sun to say that this is a good time to state the truth in regard to Mr. Egan.

The people look for higher ideas as expressed by prominent journals that profess to lead or shape their convictions in regard to public men and public matters, and feel that this confidence is basely abused when such papers as the Sun connive with maligners and slanderers. For the Sun's course has been nothing short of that.

The following, under the head of "A Patriotic Citizen," is that paper's editorial vindication of Mr. Egan:

"The Hon. Patrick Egan, late Minister to Chili, has returned to the U. S, and this is a good time to say that his conduct in the very delicate and difficult complications between the two republics was that of a firm, patrictic, and worthy representative of the honor of his country. Aside from some injudicious partisan opposition to his course, the attacks upon him in this country came principally from those men Without a Country, the Mugwumps. It seems to grieve those these gentlemen every time the U. S. refuses to be kicked without resistance. Besides Mr. Egan was a friend of Mr. Blaine, and not a friend of England. So he was copiously abused and lied about.

That did not prevent his serving his country well, and deserves well of it.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

Washington, Sept. 4, 1893.

Ex-Speaker Reed has never displayed his ability as a ready debater and an able exponent of parliamentary law and precedent than during the debate on the new rules, now going on in the House. The kicking democrats have gladly followed his leadership in exposing the weak points in the proposed rules, which he has been merciless in doing. The ring democrats, as several of the kickers have called those who unquestionably follow Speaker Crisp, have no man to pit against the ex-Seaker in debate, and since the bitter experience of Speaker Crisp when he left the chair and attempted to combat Mr. Reed, they no longer try, contending themselves with out-voting him and his followers, and upon several occasions they have found that very difficult to do. The administration is in no hurry for the House to adopt its new rules, hence the adjournment from Saturday until Wednesday.

History is repeating itself in the silver fight in the Senate. The South-Senators who have been relied upon by the silver men from the Northwest to aid them in preventing a vote upon the unconditional repeal of the purchasing clause of the silver law are slowly but surely going over to the administration, and during the last two or three days the prospect for an early vote has very much improved, although the thick and thin silver men still say they will fight to the last, but it is plain to be seen that they are no longer confident of success, as they were but a few days ago. Space forbids mention of the numerous causes assigned for this change, although a vigorous wielding of the party whip by Senators Vorhees and Gorman and some judicious promises of patronage on the part of Mr. Cleveland cannot be overlooked as factors. The populist Senators are also regarded as doubtful by the silver men, Senator Peffer having publicly stated that while he would vote against unconditional repeal he would not take part in or aid in any effort to prevent a vote by fillibustering. The populists privately say that they expect the passing of the bill by the Senate to greatly increase their party in the South and Northwest, because of their belief that all of the free silver voters will join them.—Senator Hansborough, of North Dakota, has proposed an amendment, which he thinks would satisfy the silver men and not be vetoed by the President. It provides for the retirement of all paper money of a less denomination than $20 and of all gold coins less than $20, including national bank currency, and the issuing of silver certificates therefor, to be based upon silver purchased at the market price and coined into standard silver dollars as fast as the currency is retired. That amendment is now in hands of the Finance committee.

No more complete back-down was ever made by a member of any President's cabinet than that of Hoke Smith on the pension suspensions which have been such a marked feature of the democratic administration The public reason giveu for the back down is far from the real cause of it. It gradually entered the mind of Mr. Cleveland, who was the originator of the wholesale pension suspension system, that the statements of such democrats as Senators Gorman, Vorhees and Palmer, as to the certainty of the wreck of the democratic party if the administration policy was continued, were worth thinking about, and while he was thinking about it he heard from numerous other men who had been democrats but had forsworn the party on account of its bad treatment of the old soldiers.—Then he became panic stricken at the prospect and Hoke Smith was ordered to close the suspension factory, and issued an order telling the poor pensioners how sorry the administration was for them. It is a fact that the administration was sorry—sorry that it dare not keep on suspending pensioners.

One thing is already given out as certain by the democratic members of the House Ways and Means committee, and that is by no means reassuring to the poor man. It is stated that it has been informally decided that the sugar bounty shall be abolished and a duty put upon foreign sugar higher than that proposed in the Mills bill. That will be burning the candle at both ends sure enough, as far as the wage earners are concerned—lowering his earnings and increasing the price of his necessities.
