REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR COMPTROLLER:
JOSHUA HORNER, JR.,
of Baltimore.

FOR STATE SENATOR:
ISAAC A. BARBER.

FOR HOUSE OF DELEGATES:
HENRY CLAY DODSON,
CHARLES F. STEWART,
HIRMAN S. HALL.

FOR SHERIFF:
CLIFFORD P. HAND.

THE features come insensibly to be formed and assume their shape from the frequent and habitual expression of certain affections of the soul.—These affections are marked on the countenance; nothing is more certain than this, and when they turn into habits, they must leave on it durable impressions. —ROUSSEAU.

THE several delegates to the Republican County Convention met as called on last Tuesday and nominated the ticket which is placed at the head of this column. The resolutions adopted by the convention will appear in print next week. The personel of the ticket is conceeded to be a good one and it is generally avered that a harder one to beat could not have been chosen.

Dr. Isaac A. Barber is well known throughout the county: He appeared before the voters on the legislative ticket two years ago and made a vigorous campaign and polled a heavy vote but the odds were against the whole ticket owing to dishonorable methods not necessary to enumerate. Dr. Barber is a man of highest integrity, sterling business worth and of uncommon good sense and judgment.

Henry Clay Dodson has served two terms in the State Legislature and held other offices of importance. He is too well known to need introduction again through these columns.—His integrity has never been questioned and his political strength is considered hard to find an equal.

Charles F. Stewart, of Oxford, is a business man of means in that place. He has been before the public in many positions of trust and responsibily and has an unapproachable record. A man of keen judgment and highest sense of duty. He will present the strongest claims for recognition at the polls in November.

Hirman S. Hall, of Bay Hundred is for the first time before the voters of Talbot. He is a farmer of highest standing in the community where he has resided for fifteen years. Mr. Hall is spoken of as being not only very intelligent but a man that knows what to say and how to say it. One of the best public speakers we have. With his high moral worth coupled with ability to act Mr. Hall will add luster to the already strong legislative ticket.

Clifford P. Hand is the son of Ex-Judge J. L. Hand. He has been the postmaster at Cordova for the past four years and stands very high with members of all parties who know him. Not having been before the voters in the past, it is well to remark that in point of physique a better man than Mr. Hand could not be found, while in point of character and trust he has none who can say aught against him.

So voters of Talbot these are the gentlemen you will be asked to support at the coming election and for clean politics and honest discharge of duty you can support none bette .

BUSINESS men should observe that by a new ruling of the postoffice department undelivered letters are now held thirty days instead of ten, as formerly, unless the number of days the letter is to be held is stated on the envelope. As a rule a letter that can't be delivered in three days can't be delivered at all, and envelope should be printed accordingly.

THERE is not one-tenth of the national perturbation over the fact that there have been deaths from cholera on board steamers on their way to this country this year that was worked up last year over similiar facts.—Six deaths from well-defined cholera have occurred in New York city proper; and yet there has been little alarm manifiested.

IT is proposed to build an immense bridge over the Mersey river in England, connecting the cities of Liverpool and Birkenhead. According to descriptions in the Liverpool newspapers the bridge will be of the arched suspension type, in three spans, the roadway being suspended from an arch instead of the usual chain.

IN a recent issue of the Baltimore Argus, accusation was made that funds were furnished Mr. Turner by Mr. Rowlenson, Gov. Brown's private secretary for use in the recent democratic primaries in this county. Since then the Argus man has found out his error as to which side got it as the following clipping will show.

"We have a letter from Talbot county which says: "The Argus is all wrong as to who will be responsible for the defeat of the democratic ticket. You don't seem to be posted. Had away Rowlenson brought over, it is said, $5,000. Turner did not get it." Another letter says: "Rowlenson came to my house with $1,500. I told him to go away at once, as I knew his presence on my porch would do me with my fellow citizens if they should see him there." Gov. Frank Brown denies that Rowlenson had his money or went to Talbot county with Turner's connivance. Well! we suppose Rowlenson had his own money, but it is the first time we ever knew him to have any in all his life. Anyhow, Rowlenson was in Talbot county, had plenty of money, which he was willing to spend for candidates opposed to a reassessment law and pledged to vote for Frank Brown for United States Senator. Now, whose money did Rowlenson have, and what became of it? It is the privilege of every countrymen to ask and think over these points. Study them out for yourselves."

Mr. Turner's known sentiments upon the question of taxation precluded Governor Brown from sending him any money. Every body knows Gov. Brown's opposition to equalization in taxation and of course he put the money with those who would sustain him in his views.

How is this farmers of Talbot County? The Governor of your state using money to defeat you in your effort to protect your interests.

AN immense amount of money has been expended in apparatus designed to supply Congress with an abundance of fresh air. As that body is about to make the greatest effort of its life in the matter of "raising the wind" by the expenditure of "wind," nobody will begrudge the outlay provided the returns are satisfactory.

WE have again returned from the World's Fair city after spending a full week on the grounds. The immense crowds that are in attendance, the special attractions scheduled for each succeeding day of the fair, the thousands of wonderful exhibits, besides the thing as a whole with its illuminated domes and columns and fountains at night, all conspire to make any attempt at a description in anything short of a volume too futile for consideration Again it is too late in the season to now talk of what there is to be seen. Those who have been know it better than any words can describe. Those who will not go and who wish to read of it can pick up any country paper and get a column or more of illustrated description from special correspondents.—Those who expect to go want to know more how to manage about board and lodging than anything else, That was part of our business and we come home prepared to recommend and request the people of Talbot to seek quarters at the Isabella Hotel. This is a quiet homelike house, very convenient to two or more entrances to the grounds and the terms are moderate. For $1.50 and upward according to room and number of people, one can have as desirable accommodations as can be found anywhere.—The cafe is on the European plan and guests are not compelled to eat in the house if they prefer to go elsewhere. There are numerous places in the vicinity for eating and the party has an opportunity to test them all. But the beds and rooms of the Isabella with the very polite and efficient proprietoress and attendants will all contribute to one's comfort and happiness while the arduous work of sight-seeing is in progress.

To reach the Isabella most easily, get off at the station nearest the grounds (Englewood, if on the Pennsylvania road) and go to 61st street and Oglesby Avenue. This hotel is conducted by Miss E. M. Meredith, who will be especially pleased to make it desirable for the readers of this paper to stop with her. Telegraph in anvance as her large house is mostly filled and guests are often turned away. See advertisement in another column.

The Outlook for the Future.

The business of the country has a right to know as soon as may be what condition its enterprises for the future must conform to.—N. Y. World, Nov. 18, 1892.

This expression of opinion given by the World shortly after the last Presidential election is one that we heartily indorse, and it is in touch with remarks made by the American Economist last week when referring to Ohio's great opportunity.

Had the suggestion made by the World nine months ago been officially and authoritatively acted upon by the President and his party in March we venture to assert that the country would never have witnessed such scenes of commercial and financial disaster and distrust, so many failures of banks and business houses, such a hoarding of money or so unsettled, suspicious and wearisome a period as we have since gone through. The tension has been long and serious, widespread in its effects, damaging to the best interests of the county, and hurtful to labor.

The election of a free trade Congress and a free trade President was an event unknown in the history of the country during a third of a century. When the democratic or free trade party last held the reins of government their actions were by no means calculated to inspire a feeling of confidence at this time. The older and more conservative business element now naturalized among us, neither of whom had experienced the previous maladministration of a free trade party.

The present Congress was elected upon a distinct pledge to reform the tariff. The issue could not have been clearer. The business of the country is based upon its tariff, hence a distinct economic change of conditions appeared imminent and positive.—The business of the country had the "right to know as soon as may be to what conditions its enterprises for the future must conform." It would have been wiser for the President to have at once called a special session of Congress to enable the democratic party to carry out its "promise" of tariff "repeal."

But what was done? Nothing.—Business continued apparently in its normal channel, though there was an undercurrent of caution and retrenchment which did not appear at first upon the surface. There were those among the free trade party anxious for the opportunity to at once "repeal" the tariff, that "culminating atrocity of class legislation." They were anxious to keep the "promise" of their party and immediately show one of the beneficent result that will follow the action of the people in intrusting power to the democratic party."

These steadfast adherents to the policy got bravely together to abolish this "robbery of the great majority of the American people for the benefit of the few." To their credit be it said that they did not wish to see the "great majority" having their pockets picked by "the few." They labored hard and brought forth a new tariff bill which, in their opinion, was not the "culminating atrocity of class legislation" Their action was praise worthy from their view of patriotism. Naturally it had the effect of putting a very different complexion upon business conditions as they then existed. So great were these proposed changes in the existing tariff that in many conservative minds it was feared that business would be revolutionized. This proposed Tariff struck home to all, showing clearly and forcibly what people had voted for.

The new duties, as proposed, range from 10 to 78 per cent. less than the existing duties. In other words, our present industries would be protected from 10 to 78 per cent. less than they are now protected, so that the profits of manufacturerers or wages of labor or both, must suffer to that extent.

Under these proposed new duties it is expected that the imports will amount to $999,000,000 within a year from the time they become law. This means increased purchases of $135,000,000 of foreign goods and decreased manufactures of $135,000,000 of domestic goods.

This is what the people have before them. The President in his message to Congress this month referred to the pledge given by the free trade party, a pledge that it had been his intention to redeem by summoning Congress in special session in September. Thus "the business of the country" is assured of economic changes, and it is only right that business should know promptly and speedily, "to what condition its enterprises for the future must conform."

There will be no return to prosperity, or even a semi-satisfactory condition, till this tariff question is settled. The proposed tariff set before the people, giving reductions of 10 to nearly 80 per cent., has done incalculably more harm than anything else. It showed what were the ideas of the free traders and to what terrible lengths they would go in order to have foreign goods sold largely in our markets. As the Sun said in June of last year: "Is there not any way of shutting up these Reform Club idiots? Has no one the power to gag them?"—Economist.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

Washington, Sept. 11, 1893.

Mr. Cleveland has it in his power to end the silver debate in the Senate in twenty-four hours, but he so far has positively refused to do it. Perhaps now that Mrs. Cleveland has given birth to another girl and that mother and daughter are doing well, he may be sufficiently molified to consent to what will close the debate, which is admitted by all, silver and anti-silver men alike, to be doing more harm than good. His latest ultimatum, given to an administration Senator who had called on him to suggest that the compromise proposed by Senator Faulkner, of West Virginia or a similiar one be adopted, was that the Vorhees repeal bill must be passed without any condition whatever. If he still maintains that attitude he may, indeed, probably will in the end see the Vorhees bill passed, but it will only be after a long and bitter struggle that will almost certainly disrupt the democratic party. The compromise suggested is that two or three million of silver dollars be coined each month until the total shall reach $8,000,000. The suggestion is personally approved by many administration Senators, but, of course, they will not vote for it unless Mr. Cleveland says so.

The House is dragging along in a manner that indicates to all the world that it has received its orders to kill time until further orders. It is understood that an attempt is to made in the House to stir up a bitter partisan debate over the bill to repeal the Federal election laws, the idea of the democratic leaders being that such a debate will draw party lines, solidify the democrats in the House, and stop the threatened stampede of Southern democrats to the People's party on account of the silver question. The republicans in the House will neither seek nor avoid such a debate, but they will certainly oppose, by every means at their command, the repeal of these laws, the only restraint now left upon the democrats of the South and of the large cities.

The position taken on the Chinese question by the administration is certainly a little odd. After waiting many months it now officially announces that all Chinese convicted under the Geary law will forthwith be deported, although it is perfectly well known that the funds at the disposal of the Treasury department for this purpose are not sufficient to pay for the deportation of one per cent. of the Chinese who have made themselves liable to the law by neglecting or refusing to register. The Senators and Representatives from the Pacific coast have been constantly urging Secretary Carlisle to enforce the law, and at first they were disposed to think that it was their argument which had brought about the change. It has, however, been unofficially announced that it was because the new Chinese minister had made no move towards securing a new treaty between the two countries that the law is to be enforced. If that isn't an odd reason to publicly give for enforcing a law, one was never before given. It is as if the administration had said to the new Chinese minister: "We shall now begin the deportation of your countrymen, unless you at once submit propositions for a new treaty." Surely the ambitious composers of comic opera will not overlook such promising material.

If ex-Speaker Reed continues to cross-question and make fools of the paid attorneys of the free-traders who appear before the committee, notwithstanding the uncenealed efforts of chairman Wilson and his democratic colleagues on the committee to protect and aid them, the democrats will be glad when the public hearings before the House Ways and Means committee come to an end. As at present conducted, they are a farce; the committee was organized to report a free-trade tariff bill and it will do it, unless the order is countermanded from its original source—the White House.

Senator Teller made one of the bitterest attacks ever made upon the press of the country, in connection with the silver question. He charged the newspapers with being mendacious in dealing with the silver question and with constantly circulating false statements, and denied that they represent the sentiment of the country on this question. He said there are no longer any great newspapers or great editors, such as Horace Greely and Henry Raymond, in this country, and the newspapers are now run like manufactories, for money only. The tone of the speech was entirely unexpected, and made a sensation which has not died out yet, and is not likely to very soon, as the press of the country will probably have considerable to say in defense.

It will be sometime before the hard feeling stirred up by the angry passage of words between Senators Hale and Vorhees dies out. The words of Senator Hale, which left the sharpest sting, were the following, which contain an unmistakable intimation not at all creditable to Mr. Vorhees: "I spoke not only for myself but for other republican Senators, and no such attack shall prevent us, whenever we see fit, from speaking freely without being subjected to retors of the kind which the Senator from Indiana has made, and which he will not be proud of tomorrow."

To World's Fair via B. & O.

The B. & O. R. R. offers a more complete and varied train service to Chicago than is offered by any other line. It has two daily express trains running via Cumberland and Pittsburg, two running via Deer Park, Oakland and Bellaire and two running via Cincinnati and Indianapolis. Round trip excursion tickets at $26 are sold for all these trains, and passengers can go one way and return the other. Tickets at the same rate are good going via Niagara Falls.—These excursion tickets will be honored on all B. & O. trains, without exception and without extra fare, until the close of the Exposition and they are good for stop over privileges at Deer Park, Oakland, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Niagara Falls.

ATTENTION FARMERS.

WE ARE IN THE FIELD THIS SEASON with the best and most complete assortment of Implements and Machinery ever offered on the Eastern Shore. First come Plows, and the "Bissell" leads them all in lightness of draft and best work in all conditions of land. Next comes the "Oliver" pattern plow manufactured by Bissell, which is, we claim, superior to any Oliver sold; this plow we have sold a great many of during the past and pre-ent seasons and can give a host of references supporting our claim. Lastly comes the "Advance," which is too well known to need any comments. Of the Harrows we are selling the complete line made by D. M. Osborne & Co., including Spring Tooth, Spike Tooth, and Disc—the Spring Tooth especially being the grandest thing of its kind ever put on the market. One of them last winter sold at a sale for $16 which was within $2 of what it cost originally, the bidding having commenced at $10.

In Corn Planters we have the U. S. Combined Check Row Corn Planter. This Planter uses a plunger direct from the check row rod to the rotary seed plates and does away with all the shaker and center irons between the seed boxes. A single pin spring anchor is furnished with the U. S. and with their use the wire can be drawn the same tension at each end of the field, thereby insuring great accuracy in planting.

Our Sulky Cultivator is the "Akron," which is already at the top of the heap both as a cultivator and as a fallow worker.

We are still selling the Osborne Binders and Mowers, which are most reliable, and also the Empire Binders and Mowers, which are new to this section, but have more good points than any machine ever sold.

Farm Wagons—We are handling the "Jackson" and "Auburn." The Jackson is the old Webster ver much improved and no one should think of buying a wagon without seeing them. To continue to enumerate all the good things that we have would take up so much of your time that we will cease with the assurance that no matter what you may want we believe we can suit you from a shoe peg to a traction engine.

P. S.—Barb Wire is lower than ever before. Do you need some? We have a large supply
