RELIGIOUS READING.

Life is too short to nurse one's misery. Hurry across the lowlands, that you may spend more time on the mountain tops.—Phillips Brooks.

Modern heroism does not consist of throwing away our lives on some fanciful field of honor, but in enduring successfully the little trials and temptations of every day life.—Religious Herald.

Forget yourself. People cannot be happy who are constantly dwelling in thought upon themselves, their own perfections, their own short comings, what people thinks of them and so on. The heaviest burden of life is often ourselves.—M. P. Wells.

To be religious is not to be a seer of visions and a dreamer of dreams. It is not to be a dweller on the Mount of Transfiguration. It is not to be rapt in sweet and serene meditation. It is to be yourself, and, being yourself to take the nature which God has given you, and use in his service by using it for your fellow men.—Lyman Abbott.

To feel a conviction of immortality we must live for it. Let anyone firmly believe that the soul is permanent, and live from that belief, and soon existence will seem permament too; the world becomes the veil of a brighter glory that lies behind it; the condemnation of unbelief is lifted off, since the mind, conscious of its own rooted being, does not wait for immortality, "but is passed from death unto life."—Thos. S. King.

If we work upon marble, it will perish; if we work upon brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples, they will crumble into dust; but if we work upon immortal minds, if we imbue them with principles, with the just fear of God and love of our fellow men, we engrave on those tablets something which will brighten to all eternity.—Daniel Webster.

In what little, low, dark cells of care and prejudice, without one soaring thought or melodious fancy, do poor mortals forever creep! And yet the sun sets today as gloriously bright as it ever did on the temples of Athens, and the evening star rises as heavenly pure as it rose on the eye of Dante.—Margaret Fuller.

Build thee more stately mansions
O, my soul,
As the swift seasons roll!
Leave thy low-vaulted past!
Let each new temple, nobler than the last,
Shut thee from Heaven with a dome more vast,
Till thou at length art free,
Leaving thine outgrown shell by life's unresting sea.
—Holmes.

I do not ask my cross to understand.
My way to see;
Better in darkness just to feel thy hand.
And follow Thee.
—A. A. Procter.

Mr. D.P.Davis, a prominent liveryman and merchant of Goshen, Va., has this to say on the subject of rheumatism: "I take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism.as I know from personal experience that it will do all that is claimed for it. A year ago this spring my brother was laid up with inflammatory rheumatism and suffered intensely. The first application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm eased the pain and the use of one bottle completely cured him. For sale by H. Roberts, Easton; A. D. Harrison, St. Michaels; J. F. Sisk, Cordova.

When Will Brown Be Tried.

The public is now conjecturing as to whether Thomas R. Brown's case will be called for re-trial at the special term in June of Queen Anne's County. There is no certainty that it will be. The counsel for the defense so wish it, and will so insist. No one can fortell, however, the degree of success they will enjoy. It has been intimated that the court is adverse to the case being tried before the regular term in November. Brown's counsel, at the same time, are determined to demand for him a speedy trial, Should this be done, unless there be some very urgent reason to the contrary, the court will probably acquiesce in that demand. The matter cannot be accounted as actually settled, therefore, until the case is called and the questions involved argued in open court.

When Wye Camp will Commence.

The services at Wye camp will begin somewhat earlier than usual this year. It has been the custom heretofore to open the camp during the month of August. However, Tuesday, the twenty-eighth day of July will mark its commencement for the year 1896. This is a week or two in advance of the average former dates. Why this change we have not learned. Whether it has been done out of respect for the moon we have not been informed. It is true the moon will be full on the twenty-fourth of July, but its beauties will be enjoyed by visitors to the camp ground only during the first few days of its session. On the first night of camp the moon will rise at 9.26 p. m. Its appearance each night thereafter will be some minutes later. During the latter days of camp, therefore, the gates will be closed and all will have departed long before Diana has consented to even peep above the eastern horizon.

How to Treat a Wife.

(From Pacific Health Journal.)

First, get a wife: second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not therefore, carry to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom.—To this we would add always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best and is sure to be needed sooner or later. Your wife will then know that you really care for her and wish to protect her health. For sale by H. Roberts, Easton: A. D. Harrison, St. Michaels; J. F. Sisk, Cordova.

Reduced Rates to St. Louis.

The Republican National Convention will meet in St. Louis June 16th. For this occasion the B. & O. R. R. Co. will sell Excursion Tickets from all stations on its line East of the Ohio River for all trains June 12 to 15 inclusive, valid for return passage until June 21, at one fare for the round trip.

The Baltimore & Ohio is a direct line to St. Louis, running two solid vestibuled fast express trains with through Pullman Sleeping Cars attached every day in the year.

For rates and other information apply to nearest B. & O. Ticket Agent. jl3

Piles: Itching Piles!

Symptoms—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. Swayne's Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At all druggists, or by mail for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. 6-22-1y

WANAMAKER'S.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, May 25, 1896.

FOR POLITE CORRESPONDENCE

The Rue de la Paix or Regent Street do not show a handsomer correspondence paper than this London Club Vellum in its tints of azure or cream. The favorite sizes are known as "Mignon" and "Frances." Surmounted by a tiny French monogram in harmonious tint or illumined colors, the effect is charming.

For every-day use—

Okeden Linen, ¼ ream for 30c.
Quaker City Linen, ¼ ream for 25c.

We've sold more than fifty tons of these and the Wanamaker Linen since their introduction.

Three hundred styles, shades and sizes of correspondence paper to choose, including Laid Bond, Bond Repp, Pirie's Blue Laid and Joynson's Hand-made.

French Monogram engraved for $1, with equally fair prices for its use.

WOMEN'S OXFORDS

We've told the story of the changing of the price on thousands of pairs of new Oxfords from $2.50 to $2. A word of four of the styles.

All of black kidskin, chrome-tanned, all lace; all stylish and right—

With narrow round toe, patent leather tipped.
With medium round toe, patent leather tipped.
With wide toe, patent leather tipped.
With wide toe, plain.

Such shoe selling is worth coming miles to share.

DRESS LINENS

Snap shots at the most comprehensive showing of Dress Linens to be found in this country. To be sure, Dress Linens are not always all-linen, simply because linen is used to produce effects of style and not to make the fabrics better. So while silks here are of pure silk and woolen goods of pure wool, and housekeeping linens are devoid of a trace of cotton or tow, in dress linens Dame

WANAMAKER'S.

Fashion has striven solely for effects. And charming they are. We've managed to make prices easier, here and there.

A TALE OF TEXTILES

Are you interested in pretty Dimities? In Ginghams? In Flannel? In Flannelette?

A bunch of each at less than their fair worth—ever so much less. Clear-ups from worthy makers who choose to have us turn their products into cash rather than let the wholesalers get them to spoil the market with.

Wanamaker's is a law unto itself. Prices are fixed here with small regard for market conditions, and wholesalers, being unable to get the rare-ripe lots that we tell of, can simply advise their trade that they cannot compete with Wanamaker's—and the market is saved!

Here are the lots we hinted of—

At 8c—Dimities of fine fabric and dainty colorings. Every style is entirely new. A few surplus cases came to us from Yankee Land. It's simply a question of touch and go. Will you be here to share them?

10c Ginghams at 6c.
25c Ginghams at 12½c.

Checks, stripes, plaids—in almost any color you can think of. Values are unchanged and orders for next season's supplies will only be booked by the makers at full prices.

White Flannels, 12½c—An old friend, for this brand has been continued without change for fifty years. Cotton and wool mixed — shrink-proof, hurt-proof. And at half the prices you used to pay. For all usual Summer flannel uses—yes, and for dresses.

Flannelette, 4c—but not 4c flannelettes. This is a short-time price drop; turning cotton into less money than was required to buy it.
