THE DEMOCRATS AT WAR.

TWO CONVENTIONS AT EASTON ON LAST TUESDAY.

The Gold Standard Men Won on Saturday, but the Free-Silverites Gave Them a Black Eye in Convention.

The Democratic primaries were held in Talbot county on Saturday last. Contests were made only in Easton and St. Michaels districts.

Five delegates were elected from each district to a County Convention to meet in Easton on Tuesday last to send four delegates to the State Convention, to be held in Baltimore on June 10th, and four delegates to the First District Congressional Convention, at Ocean City August 20th.

As announced in THE GAZETTE, the fight was between the advocates of the gold standard and the free-silver men. Everything looked rosy for the "gold" men on Saturday. "They routed the enemy, horse, foot and dragoon." The tide was so emphatically in their favor that many thought it useless to vote.

The goldites claimed that some of the delegates from Trappe, Chapel and Bay Hundred districts, who were run by the silver men, were really gold men. The silver men claimed that they were straight free coinage men, and therefore they could afford to lose Easton and St. Michaels.

The Convention met in the Court Room at noon Tuesday, and was called to order by Wilfred Bateman, Esq., chairman of the State Central Committee. Ex-Judge Jerome B. Bennett, of Easton, was made temporary chairman, and J. Hall Denny, of St. Michaels, and Jacob H. Gibson, of Bay Hundred, were made secretaries.

Then the fun began. The committee on credentials reported that Jerome B. Bennett and J. Harry Covington, who held proxies for George W. Mowbray and Courtland W. Roe, of Easton, were not entitled to seats in the Convention, whereupon the Easton and St. Michaels delegations left the room and held a meeting in the tax collector's office.

At this Convention Jerome B. Bennett presided, with J. Harry Covington as secretary. The following were elected delegates to the State Convention: George E. Haddaway, J. Harry Covington, Wm. D. J. Morris and J. Edward Mortimer. The Congressional delegation is Jerome B. Bennett, Dr. James M. H. Bateman, Courtland W. Roe, William T. H. Lee, J. Harry Radcliffe, T. Frank Haddaway and J. Hall Denny.

The resolutions denounced the McKinley tariff, the action of the late Legislature of Maryland in electing a Western Shoreman (Wellington) to the United States Senate, and commended the present National Administration. There was no mention of the financial question. Representative Miles was indorsed for renomination.

In the meantime the fifteen delegates from Trappe, Chapel and Bay Hundred districts [illegible] in session in the Court Room. B. [illegible]od presided, Jacob H. Gibson. The following were elected dele[illegible]State Convention: J. Frank [illegible]am E. Stewart, of Easton; Jas. [illegible]a. Leonard, Charles E. Scotten, Trappe; Frank M. Willis, Dr. Charles H. Rose, Chapel; Edward N. Lomax, Benjamin F. Sherwood, of Bay Hundred. Delegates were elected to the Congressional Convention as follows: Edward H. Roe, Prof. Alexander Chaplain, of Easton; William Willis, of St. Michaels; John K. Caulk, of Trappe; William B. Dulin and Joseph S. Callahan, of Chapel; Jacob H. Gibson and G. Alpheus Wrightson, of Bay Hundred.

The resolutions declared for the free coinage of gold and silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, and the delegates were instructed to vote for delegates to Chicago and for the House of Representatives in sympathy with these views. The ignoring of the Eastern Shore law by the late Republican Legislature was condemned. Major William E. Stewart was indorsed for Congress.

The silver men were delighted with the result. It is pretty certain that both their delegations will be admitted, as they had a clear majority of the Convention. A prominent leader said, "Silver is on top all the way from Talbot county to the National Convention at Chicago." Another said that on a fair vote of the Talbot Democracy free silver would win by 700 majority. It was predicted that a free silver man will be nominated at Ocean City.

The gold men were severe in condemnation of the action of the Convention in excluding Messrs. Bennett and Covington, claiming that the right of proxy was universally admitted. On the contrary, the silver men asserted that no injustice would have been done, as the report recommended that the remaining delegates from Easton district be empowered to cast her five votes.

The feeling between the two factions is very bitter, and there are ominous murmurs. With a good candidate the Republicans will carry Talbot by the largest plurality they have had since 1872.

HIS COMMISSION ARRIVED.

Thomas C. Nicols is Again a Justice of the Peace.

The long delayed commission of Thomas C. Nicols as Justice of the Peace arrived Saturday evening from Governor Lowndes, and on Monday he took the oath of office before the Clerk of the Court.

The delay in Mr. Nicols' receiving his commission has been already reported in these columns.

Dr. Isaac A. Barber, of Talbot, a member of the House of Delegates and a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the First district, writes that a recent published report to the effect that he objected to the appointment of Justice Nicols because the latter was an independent Democrat is erroneous. Dr. Barber says:

"As this statement does myself and others great injustice, you will no doubt give room in your columns to the following:

"First—Thomas C. Nicols was never known to be an independent Democrat at any time in his life, and last fall was a supporter of the Democratic ring at the primaries and an earnest supporter of the whole ring ticket at the polls.

"Second—The name of Joseph S. Robson, an independent Democrat of the highest character, who was an earnest supporter of the reform movement last fall, was presented by me and his name sent to the Senate Later the name of Robson was withdrawn and that of Nicols substituted by the executive.

"Third—The files of the executive department will also show that reasons other than political were the groundwork for the opposition alluded to."

A Lawn Party on Miles River.

A most enjoyable strawberry festival was given by Col. James C. Norris, of Hotel Avon, to a party of friends at his country home on Miles river on Decoration Day.

The "spread" was a most substantial one, and each one present greatly enjoyed it, while a rising vote of thanks was extended to the genial host and his hospitable wife, Mr. Will Norris coming in for a full share for his very courteous treatment of the guests.

After their kind reception those present all voiced the sentiment of Mr. Basil H. Betts that it would be a good thing if Col. Norris would only build a "summer annex" to the Hotel Avon, out on Miles river, and right here we will add, why do not some of our capitalists take the hint, for Easton is the very place to support a large hotel situated on the water, for half the watering places have little to offer in comparison to what Talbot county has.

The following were some of the guests present: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Betts, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Larrimore and daughters, Mrs. D. P. Price and Miss Bessie Price of Wilmington, Col. Prentiss Ingraham and daughters and Master Arleigh Ingraham, Mrs. L. B. Hayward, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Nichols, Misses Louise and Pauline Adams, Miss Sophie Denny, Mr. W. C. Dimmock of St. Louis, Mr. James Dixon, Mr. Will Norris.

Enlarging Its Plant.

Increase of business and consequent demand for larger storage capacity has caused the Standard Oil Comyany to enlarge its plant in Salisbury. These improvements consist of addition tanks for the storage of refined oil, which will increase the storage capacity to 50,000 gallons. Tanks are also being put in for the storage of gasoline in bulk, so that orders may be promptly filled whether large or small.

The Standard will also increase its number of distributing points on the lower peninsula. Storage tanks are to be built at Easton, Cambridge, Laurel, Crisfield, Pocomoke City and Snow Hill.

Mr. Jenkins Wins.

The case of George M. Jenkins, who was appointed last month assessor of Trappe District and afterwards removed, was heard last Monday by Judge Russum, who came to Easton for that purpose.

After hearing all testimony in case from Commissioner McNeal, Clerk Stewart and Mr. Jenkins, the Judge decided that Mr. Jenkins was entitled to the position he was appointed to, and ordered the madamus to be issued. The particulars on the case have been published in the GAZETTE before and require no repetition.

He Kept The Goods.

Constable Joseph T. White arrested a colored man named Wm. Bailey on Wednesday, charged with obtaining goods under false pretences. It seems that Bailey allowed his religious zeal to get him into trouble, for he has been soliciting goods of all kinds for the benefit, and in the name of one of the colored churches of the town. The amount of goods he collected which the church never received lead to suspicion, and the result was his arrest. The case was postponed until next week for trial.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

The Tax Assessors, Tax Collectors and Supervisors of Election before the Board — Delay to Assessors.

The Board of County Commissioners met on Tuesday and transacted much important business.

The recently appointed collectors of State and county taxes were before the Board and filed their bonds, as follows: R. F. Walker, A. M. C. Moore, Percival Mullikin, John L. Fisher, William S. Covington. All were approved.

Report of the grand jury for the May term of court, 1896, was received. The recommendations of that body that the commissioners make certain changes in the arrangement of the Court Room and the Jury Room were considered by the Board, but nothing was done The heavy additional expense of the new registration and assessment will most likely prevent any extensive changes in the Court House.

The Board of Election Supervisors, Dr. Buffett, president, John T. Trax and William Reddie, were before the commissioners asking for a room in the Court House for an office for their Board. The commissioners gave them permission to use the Grand Jury Room.

The assessors for Talbot county met as required by law. They were informed that, owing to some errors in the schedule, not to commence assessing until Tuesday, June 9. The errors in the instructions and schedules were due to a wrong construction of the law by the tax commissioner, which delayed the assessors one week.

A letter was received by the Board asking permission to erect telephone poles on the road near Queen Anne station, which was granted.

The receipts since the last meeting were as follows:

J. H. Holt, collector for	1894	$186 69
" " "	1895	588 31

IN HONOR OF THE BRAVE.

DECORATION DAY MORE LARGELY OBSERVED THAN EVER,

Address by Col. James McCarter—G. A. R. Lot Dedicated—Music by Wye Mills Band—Sermon by Mr. Poisal.

The memorial services by Hicks Post, No. 24, G. A. R., on Saturday, was, if possible, more largely attended than at any previous occasions. The number of persons at the cemetery was estimated to be at least 1500. The parade was formed on Market Space, right resting next the Opera House, and moved from the place of formation promptly at 3 o'clock, in the following order: Wye Mills Band, Talbot Guards (Co. F, 1st Regiment, M. N. G.), under command of Captain Charles W. Adams, Hicks Post, No. 24, Dept. Md. G. A. R., about 40 men, under command of Joseph H. White. Several members of the Sons of Veterans were also in line with the parade, the column being under command of Commander Thomas H. Coburn.

The route of parade was that published in our issue of the 16th ult. On the arrival of the column at the cemetery, where the stand had been erected, the usual memorial services were conducted by the officers of the Post, assisted by the Rev. Charles Hill, who officiated as chaplain. After the address by Col. James McCarter, the salute of three rounds was fired by the Guards, and the G. A. R. salute to the dead by raising the right hand to the front of the hat was given. The Adjutant of the Post then detailed a Decorating Squad from the members of the Post, who proceeded under his charge to decorate with flowers the graves of their dead comrades.

After this service had been performed Col. James C. Mullikin, Quartermaster of the Post, stepped to the front of the platform and addressed the audience in a few brief remarks, after which he presented the Commander with a deed for a burial lot in Spring Hill cemetery, purchased by subscriptions of comrades of the Post, and asked that the Commander dedicate it to the use of the Post for the burial of soldiers or sailors of the Union Army or Navy who may die in our midst and who may not be able to provide themselves with a burial place.

Commander Coburn, assisted by the officers of the Post and a Guard of Honor from the Talbot Guards, then dedicated the lot with G. A. R. services. At the conclusion of this service the column was re-formed and returned to the place of formation, where it was dismissed.

On Sunday morning, May 31st, the Post assembled at their Post Room and proceeded to Calvary M. P. Church, where the Pastor, Rev. W. M. Poisal, preached an appropriate sermon. The whole of the services, both on Saturday and Sunday, were very creditable and our citizens manifested a great interest in them.

The Chestertown Transcript says: Dean Sutton, assistant rector of Trinity Cathedral Easton, says in Church Affairs for June, in advising the brethren: "Chestertown is a most delightful town and its people the very flower of happiness, so that when they once get there they will not want to come away." Mr. Sutton served at St. Paul's and Shrewsbury and knows from practical experience of the splendid hospitality proverabially extended to visitors by the people of Chestertown and Kent county, and it is safely predicted that the friends who have come in our midst on their mission of peace and love will depart with a feeling that Dean Sutton spoke truer words than he knew. The citizens of Chestertown extended to their guests an unstinted hospitality, her fairest and best were at their disposal, and now, on the eve of their departure, they extend a sincere invitation to come again.

EAST END NOTES.

Interesting Budget From Our "East End" Correspondent.

A. N. Coale departed from the drug business last Sunday.

Benjamin Sheppard, of Greensborough, is assistant to N. E. Clark at the R. R. station.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sherman left this week for a two months' visit in New York State.

The town commissioners are having the trees trimmed along the sidewalks, much improving their appearance.

Mr. J. W. Bridges wants a reliable man to take charge of his drug business, one who will run the business in a legitimate manner.

A growing pineapple and banana stock recently brought from the West Indies by Capt. J. T. Todd will be seen at Garey & Bros.' store today.

Wm. Davidson, house painter, is bidding on work for the new Catholic parsonage at Cambridge. He is well recommended there by Rev. Father Waldron, of Easton.

It is rumored that another drug store, or "drunk store", is to be started on this end. If it is established, no doubt the people will have it "started." It will be a "Coale" day when our respectable citizens will have East End ruined in this manner.

While going up a loft of the barn this week Dr. E. M. Hardcastle, of South street, fell from the ladder, striking his head and cutting a small gash. He was senseless for quite a while, but walked to the house before he knew what happened. We hope it will cause him no trouble.
