RELIGIOUS READING.

Jesus Christ preached his own life and lived his own doctrine.—Chubb.

Be of good cheer about death, and know this of a truth,—that no evil can happen to a good man, either in life or after death.—Socrates.

"Do the duty which lies nearest thee," which thou knowest to be a duty. Thy second duty will already have become clearer.—T. Carlyle.

All these longings and doubts, and this inward distress, are the voice of the good Shepherd in your heart seeking to call you out of all that is contrary to His will. Oh, let me entreat of you not to turn away from His gentle pleadings.—H. W. S.

All intolerance, of whatever degree, comes from a too great assurance that one is in the right, and all who differ in the wrong, coupled with a desire to force one's views upon others, or ostracize and punish them. It is the self in us, not the Christ, that says, Destroy evil by destroying the evil-doer; destroy error by destroying him who proclaims it.

Saul, before he was converted, put to death and persecuted those who did not hold the orthodox belief of the Jews, but having put on the Spirit of Christ, he wrote, "Him that is weak in the faith receive ye, but not to doubtful disputations. For one believeth that he may eat all things: another, who is weak, eateth herbs. Let not him that eateth despise him that eateth not; and let not him that eateth not judge him that eateth; for God hath received him. Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? To his own master he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him stand." "The Kingdom of God is not meat and drink;" (that is, it does not consist of whether this belief or that is the right or wrong one,) "but righteousness"—which is faithfulness to the Divine command revealed in the individual soul,—"and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost. Let us not, therefore, judge one another any more; but judge this rather, that no man put a stumbling-block or an occasion to fall in his brother's way."

Let all then, who have been in the habit of making themselves and their griefs and troubles the uppermost consideration in their minds learn to think more of others and less of themselves. It is one of the surest antidotes for this sort of mental disease, and when one has learned the great lesson of effacing himself he has gone far along the road to happiness and added much to the pleasure of others. Any one who is ever on the alert for some insult to his sensitive spirit is no satisfaction to himself or anyone else.—Christian Banner.

Only in the sacredness of inward silence does the soul truly meet the secret, hiding God, The strength of resolve, which afterwards shapes life and mixes itself with action, is the fruit of those sacred, solitary moments when we meet God alone,—F. W. Robertson.

There are no disappointments to those whose wills are buried in the will of God.—F. W. Faber.

One great characteristic of holiness is never to be exacting, never to complain. Each complaint drags us down a degree in our upward course. If you would discern in whom God's spirit dwells, watch that person and notice whether you ever hear him murmur.—Gold Dust.

He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much.—Luke xvi: 10.

Exactness in little duties is a wonderful source of cheerfulness.—F. W. Faber.

We shall not come in America to the Christian principle and the Christian spirit until the day has fully dawned, which it seems to me within the last few years has been dawning, when men will count it a disgrace for one to own a fortune and not be doing something with it for the community in which he lives while he is living. The time to build a monument is while you are on earth, and the best monument that ever was built is built of human benedictions.—Lyman Abbott.

"Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise enter therein." The revelation of God's love and power reaches us in many ways and through many channels. To the simple and unlearned it is not denied, it comes as the light which lighteth every man. Yet inasmuch as every good gift is from above, we may not depreciate the aid of a quickened intellect, a healthy and well disciplined mind in grasping a realization of our Father's wonder-working power; provided it be always associated with the teachable spirit of the little child. Says J. Rendel Harris: "Having received the kingdom of heaven as a little child, he may, as a little child, fearlessly ask questions about even the most sacred things. He may have unexpected lessons to learn. He may have to learn that not all of that which was for centuries received as truth will pass the test; but he will not learn in vain if, amid all, he preserves unsullied the heart of the little child. Modern thought will clear away only the human error that has grown up around divine truth; but that which is divine truth modern thought will leave wholly untouched, or will touch but to confirm. The kingdom of God cometh not by observation, neither will it depart by observation; the kingdom of God is within you."

Mothers will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy especially valuable for croup and whooping cough. It will give prompt relief and is safe and pleasant. We have sold it for several years and it has never failed to give themost perfect satisfaction. G. W. Richards, Duquesne, Pa. Sold by Harry Roberts, Easton; A. D. Harrison, St. Michaels; J. F. Sisk, Cordova.

Oxford Items.

Mr. Howard R. Gorsuch, who is with the firm of John E. Hurst & Co., Baltimore, came home on Sunday morning in order to spend a ten days' vacation with his parents and friends in Oxford.

Messrs. Wm. T. Stevenson and Howard Newnam spent Friday and Saturday of the past week in Baltimore.

The members and friends of the M. E. Church neld a strawberry and ice cream festival in the church yard on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week. The proceeds are to be utilized for the benefit of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Gallus, who have been absent for two weeks visiting friends in Harford county and the city of Baltimore, have returned home.

Rev. J. Gibson Gantt, who has entered upon his rector of White Marsh Parish, is attracting large congregations to his Oxford Church. He is deservedly popular with all and his parishoners feel confident that he is "the right man in the right place."

Miss Ivy Ingraham, of Easton, spent a few hours in town on Sunday last.

Decoration Day passed off very quietly. Flags were flying from a number of places, but with the exception of this and the decoration of some of the graves at the cemetery there was no formal demonstration.

Capt. Henry Haddaway and wife, accompanied by Miss Florence Bergman, attended the commencement exercises of the State Normal School in Baltimore on Thursday evening of last week. Capt. Haddaway's daughter, Miss Sue Haddaway, was a member of the graduating class, and acquitted herself with honors, having made a general average of 93.

Miss H. Lena Mellier, of Easton, spent Sunday in town as the guest of Miss Mollie Stewart.

Dr. J. A. Stevens has been in Chestertown this week as lay representative of the Oxford P. E. Church, at the convention was held there this week.

Rev. Alfred Smith, D. D., has returned home from Cleveland, Ohio, where he was sent by the Wilmington Conference as delegate to the General Conference of the M. E. Church.

Dr. E. M. Hardcastle, jr., principal of the Easton High School, paid our town a flying visit on Saturday.

The annual election for town commissioners of Oxford was held on Monday last. There were two vacancies in the Board, one caused by the expiration of the term of John Parris, Esq., the other by the removal of Mr. George R. Gorsuch, whose term would have expired two years hence. A vote of 223 was polled, which is considered unusually large for such an election. Mr. H. Spencer Matthews was elected for the full term. He had no opposing candidate. Capt. Samuel Bridges was elected to fill out the unexpired term, he having received 106 votes. His most formidable opponent was Mr. J. Valliant who received 99 votes.

Mr. Peter Stevens, of Baltimore, visited his old home in Oxford on Saturday and Sunday last.

Mr. Thomas F. Shortall, who for the past four years has been operator at the Railroad station in Oxford, left on Saturday last for Providence, Rhode Island, at which place he has obtained a lucrative position as operator in the office of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. Mr. Shortall is a most upright and meritorious young man, and he carries to his new post the most flattering recommendations from the various railroad officials by whom he has been employed and with whom he has been thrown in contact. His departure is regretted by a large circle of friends, who nevertheless are glad to learn of his success.

A cycling party from Easton, with which were several ladies, visited our town on Tuesday afternoon.

One by one the cycling army of Oxford is growing but surely being augmented. Nearly every week marks the arrival of some new wheel.

Do not fail to attend the Concert at Music Hall, Tuesday, June 9th.

If it required an annual outlay of $100.00 to insure a family against any serious consequences from an attack of bowel complaint during the year there are many who would feel it their duty to pay it; that they could not afford to risk their lives and those of their family for such an amount. Any one can get this insurance for 25 cents, that being the price of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In almost every neighborhood some one has died from an attack of bowel complaint before medicine could be procured and a physician summoned. One or two doses of this remedy will cure any ordinary case. It never fails. Can you afford to take the risk for so small amount? For sale by Harry Roberts, Easton; A. D. Harrison, St. Michaels; J. F. Sisk, Cordova.

One of the musical instruments which has suddenly grown very popular in this country is the mandolin. You will be entertained Tues. June 9th at the town hall by a mandolin guitar and autoharps quartet. Reserved seats at Haywards, 2t.

REDUCED RATES TO WASHINGTON.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, June 1, 1896.

TIME IS THE DEAREST THING WE HAVE

Not a moment is wasted. A buyer just home from the Antipodes; another strapping his trunk to leave; another but fairly started on his transatlantic travels; two more almost ready to take their homeward voyage — more than twenty crossing the ocean each half year to gather whatever is best suited to the wants of Our Public. Busy all day with thousands of helpers; busy after store-closing time making the store new for tomorrow. Any wonder that interest is always at concert pitch here?

STORM SERGES

As hurt-proof as are a bird's feathers, Storm Serges are a necessary fabric for women's wear. Navy blue and black, 60c to $1.50 a yard. The higher priced grades are 60 inches wide. Separate skirt—Storm Serge—you think them at a thought, for what gives such service as a serge skirt that can be worn with any pretty waist?

GINGHAMS

Cotton goodness with the beauty woven through and through. Ginghams grow in favor each season; ginghams grow prettier and daintier as the seasons roll on.

A section of the dress goods store is filled with Ginghams—mostly Scotch made, though the Yankee ginghams, with their streaks of silken beauty, have a showing. And every one of the Ginghams listed below is nipped in price—just so much ballast off to make the tradeship swifter. Losses fall here and there—helpful losses that unlock imprisoned dollars for new ventures.

20c Scotch Ginghams at 16c.
25c Silk-striped Zephyrs at 18c.
25c Hawthorn Tissue at 18c.
25c Corded Scotch Ginghams at 20c.
37½c Grenadine Fancies at 25c.
37½c Damasse Linens at 30c.
37½c Scotch Plaid Ginghams at 31c.
50c Printed-warp Ginghams at 37½c.

Some of these Ginghams are in tiny linen-like checks, especially charming for children's wear.

HAMMOCKS

Restful, luxurious Summer comfort—the wherewithal a Hammock and some friendly trees. The latter are easily findable; the Hammocks easily bought—at Wanamaker's.

Woven Hammocks, 50c and $1.
Genuine Mexican Hammocks, $7.50 to $20.
Woven Hammocks, finely colored; with pillow, spreader and valance—$1.75, $2.75, $3.50, $3.75 and $4.25

Spreaders, ropes, thimbles, hooks—all proper sorts, of course.
