WANAMAKER'S.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, June 15, 1896.

THE MONTH OF ROSES AND BARGAINS

Column after column of the newspapers each day filled with news of "bargains." What's wrong? This: holders of large lots of goods, uneasy as to future market conditions and more uneasy as to their chances of marketing present holdings, are willing to make us liberal concessions if we will take lots in a lump. If the goods are altogether up to our standard we take them. If they fall below that standard they are hawked about until buyers are found. Such chances do not offer to small dealers, because it wastes money to subdivide lots and hunt a dozen or more purchasers. The one quick loss is best. From these opportunities, and from adjustments of our own stocks, come the bargains.

Echoes, empty echoes, from a score of imitators. Goods are not necessarily cheap because the prices are reduced—in the newspapers. We've told how bargains come—and where they come to.

CONTINENTAL BICYCLES

The world's a-wheel! Are you? Maybe it's our fault if you are not—for we haven't been able to get the wheels here fast enough. Continentals are the product of a factory famous the world over for the high-grade, handsome wheels it produces. The demand for them is great and growing—growing where the wheels are sold under the makers' name-plate at $75, $80 and $100. Growing here—where we sell them under our name-plate at $45, $50 and $55.

Plenty of all the styles today! And that is something to tell of—for likely by the week's end we'll be short of stock again.

Women's Continental Bicycles at $45 and $55.
Men's Continental Bicycles at $45, $50 and $55.

Bicycle Suits for Women—

Two—either at $5. One is of cotton covert cloth. Coat that has been so popular with the Duchess of Milford suit; divided skirt with over-lapping front that gives nothing of the appearance of a divided skirt; leggings, cap and chatelaine purse.

The other is of crash: Jacket, skirt, bloomers, leggings and cap.

COTTON DRESS STUFFS

A rose by any other name would be as sweet, but a substitute for a rose could hardly masquerade successfully. The town is full of dimities, but some of the goods that are offered as dimities are as though you substituted an eglantine rose for an American Beauty. But retailers are at their wits' ends. Lots of goods are selling for less than their worth at Wanamaker's, while these other dealers get no chance at the big fresh lots we take. This outlet is equal to all demands and lots of goods are taken here almost invariably if they are up to our standard and the prices are advantageous to Our Public. We regret that makers lose money, but our ready help saves them frequently from still greater losses.

No wonder that the yard-sticks keep flying over these pretty cotton stuffs—dimities and other weaves. Look at the prices!

Ginghams at 5c. Were 8c.
Ginghams at 6c. The wholesale price was 8½c.
Dimities at 8c. Finest American and were 10c.
Printed Ducks at 8c. Worth 12½c.
