the testator in his life time sealed, and as his Deed delivered, bearing date the day and year last aforesaid, for a just and true debt, had granted himself to be held and firmly bound, to a certain Charles Wallace in the sum of

to be paid to the said Charles Wallace, when he the said Archibald the testator, should be thereto required, with a Condition to the said writing obligatory underwritten, that if the said Archibald the testator his heirs executors or administrators should well and truly pay, or cause to be paid, unto the said Charles Wallace his certain attorney executors administrators or assigns the just and full sum of

with legal interest for the same; then the ~~obligation~~ writing obligatory to be void, else to remain in full force and virtue in law, and the said Sarah the executrix in fact saith, that the said Archibald the testator in his life time did not pay to the said Charles or to his certain attorney executors administrators or assigns, the said sum of

in the Condition aforesaid specified, with legal interest for the same, but that the said sum of and the legal interest thereon did remain due and unpaid to the said Charles, at the time of the death of the said Archibald the testator, and the said writing obligatory then was in its full force and effects, not satisfied discharged or cancelled, wherefore the said Charles for recovery of his debt aforesaid after the death of the said Archibald the testator, in the General Court of the Western Shore of the State of Maryland held at the city of Annapolis, on the second tuesday of in the year seventeen hundred and eighty before Robert Hanson Harrison Esquire and his companions, Justices of the same court, did implead the said Sarah the executrix, in due form of law upon the writing obligatory aforesaid, as executrix of the testament and last will of the said Archibald the testator, by the name of Sarah Buchanan late of Baltimore county executrix of the last will and testament of Archibald Buchanan late of the same county deceased, of a plea of debt, for the said sum of

in which same plea, it was so far proceeded in the same Court that afterwards to wit, on the second tuesday of May, in the year seventeen hundred and eighty six, the said Charles, in the said Western Shore General Court, and by Consideration of the same Court, did recover against the said Sarah the executrix as well the said debt of

as also the sum of pounds of tobacco, by the same Court unto the said Charles adjudged, as well for his damages sustained by means of detaining that debt as for his costs and charges by him about his suit in that part and behalf laid out and expended, to be levied of the goods and chattels were of the aforesaid Archibald the testator at the time of his death in the hands of the said Sarah the executrix remaining to be administered, if so much thereof in her hands she had, and if so much thereof in her hands she had not then the costs of suit aforesaid, to be levied of the proper goods and chattels of the said Sarah the executrix, whereof the said Sarah is convict, as by the records and process thereof in the same Western Shore General Court remaining, it doth fully appear; which same Judgment so as aforesaid had and obtained upon the said writing obligatory, doth still remain in its full force and effect, not reversed, annulled, discharged or satisfied: And the said Sarah the executrix further saith, that the aforesaid Archibald, the testator testator in his life time, to wit, on the day of in the year of our Lord seventeen hundred and at Baltimore county aforesaid by his certain writing obligatory, with the seal of the said Archibald the testator, in his life time sealed and as his deed delivered bearing date the day and year last aforesaid, for a just and true debt, had granted himself to be held to a certain Charles Wallace and John Muir in the sum of

to be paid to the said Charles Wallace and John Muir, when he the said Archibald the testator should be thereunto required, with a condition to the said writing obligatory under written, that if the said Archibald the testator, his heirs executors or administrators should well and truly pay, or cause to be paid unto the said Charles Wallace and John Muir their certain attorney executors administrators or assigns the just and full sum of

with legal interest for the same, then the said writing obligatory to be void, else to remain in full force and virtue in law; and the said Sarah the executrix in fact saith, that the said Archibald the testator in his life time did not pay to the said Charles and John or their certain attorney executors administrators or assigns the said sum of in the condition aforesaid specified, with legal interest for the same but that the said sum of

and the legal interest thereon, did remain due and unpaid to the said Charles and John at the time of the death of the said Archibald the testator, and the said writing obligatory then was in its full force and effect, not satisfied, discharged or cancelled; wherefore the said Charles and John, for recovery of their debt aforesaid after the death of the said Archibald, the testator, in the General Court of the Western Shore of the State of Maryland, held at the city of Annapolis on the second tuesday of in the year seventeen hundred and eighty before Robert Hanson Harrison Esquire and his companions Justices of the same Court, did implead the said Sarah the executrix in due form of law upon the writing obligatory aforesaid, as executrix of the testament and last will of the said Archibald the testator, by the name of Sarah Buchanan late of Baltimore county executrix of the last will and testament of Archibald Buchanan late of same county deceased of a plea of debt for the said sum of

in which same plea, it was so for proceeded, in the same Court, that afterwards to wit, on the second tuesday of May, in the year seventeen hundred and eighty six, the said Charles and John, in the said Western Shore General Court, and by consideration of the same Court, did recover, against the said Sarah the executrix as well the said debt of as also the sum of

of tobacco, by the same Court, unto the said Charles and John adjudged, as well for their damages sustained, by means of detaining that debt, as for their costs and charges by them about their suit in that part, and behalf laid out and expended, to be levied of the goods and chattels, which were of the aforesaid Archibald the testator, at the time of his death, in the hands of the said Sarah the executrix, remaining to be administered, if so much thereof, in her hands she had not then the costs of suit aforesaid to be levied of the proper goods and chattles of the said Sarah, the executrix, whereof the said Sarah is convict, as by the Record and process thereof in the same Western Shore General Court remaining, it doth fully appear, which same Judgment so as aforesaid had and obtained