IN OUR CHURCH CIRCLES.

Items Of Interest Of The Doings In Our Churches.

This is what Rev. Francis Burgette Short, pastor of one of the churches at Wilmington, in reference to the attack candidate Wm. J. Bryan made in his Wilmington speech on the ministers of the gospel says:

"I regard the attack made by Mr. Bryan on the ministers as brutal, cowardly and unwarranted. Any man who will attack the ministers of the gospel, as Mr. Bryan did at the auditorium on Monday night, is doing something totally uncalled for by anything the ministers of this city may have said or done. It was also to my mind ungentlemanly and un-Christian-like.

"He is not worthy to be elected to the high office of President of the United States. His delivery of the passage I allude to showed plainly his spleen. The way a man says some things will have a deeper impression than when the words are read in type.

"True, the members of my church, as others do, pay their pastor to preach the gospel, the greatest honor conferred upon man, but they do not buy—nor try to, nor want to buy our manhood. We sell neither our bodies, nor our political ideas: but guard and try to preserve them with all the sacredness and purity with which they were handed down to us.

"I repudiate the fact that some ministers have felt disposed to discuss political questions and issues from their pulpits. Such is wrong, hence unbecoming any minister of the gospel and should not be tolerated by the layman of any church.

"Such a thing has never taken place in my pulpit unless as a moral issue, and I have surely a right to protest against such an all-inclusive statement as was made by the candidate on Monday night last, when he attacked the whole class of clergymen.

"I, however, can survive the shock, I liken it to the kick of an ass, and in doing so consider the source.

"I do not desire, even though I might receive such, an apology from Mr. Bryan. His rebuke in November next will be sufficiently keen and humiliating to him. Let him spread himself like a green bay tree and let his discouragements be as few as possible, for very soon, like Jonah's gourd-vine, he will wither and be forgotten.

"And, in conclusion, permit me to say that though I am a minister I have my country's interests at heart and have a right as a citizen to promulgate and to defend my honest convictions, not in the pulpit, but in private or on the platform.

It is not unusual for druggists to recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their customers. Many of them have used it themselves, or in their families and know from personal experience its great value in the treatment of coughs, colds and croup. They know too that their customers are their best friends and naturally wish to give them the most reliable medicine they have for those ailments. Messrs. Daugherty Bros., prominent druggists of Indiana, Pa., say, "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than of any other cough syrup, and always take pleasure in recommending it to our customers." Mr. H. M. Urey, the popular druggist at Fredonia, Pa., for several years, says: "I can truly say that it is the best cough medicine on the market." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Harry Roberts, Easton; P. INDUSTRY OF THE SHERIFF.

How the Democratic Promise of 1892 Appears From Actual Results.

THE DENUNCIATION.

We denounce a policy which fosters no industry so much as it does that of the sheriff.—Democratic Platform of 1892.

DENOUNCED DOWN TO DATE.

In July there were 271 failures of manufacturers, with liabilities of $7,568,940, as against 168 failures, with liabilities of only $2,866,517 in 1895. The largest failures this year have been in the lumber and woolen trades, both of which have suffered from Democracy's gift of free raw material.

West Virginia's Chance.

Free Trader Bryan's conviction that "the tariff on coal is indefensible" ought to switch West Virginia solidly and permanently into the protectionist column. Mr. Wilson believed, with Mr. Bryan, that the tariff on coal was "indefensible," and he owes it solely to the present tariff reform administration that he was rescued from the private life to which his West Virginia constituents relegated him. There will be no friendly tariff reform, industry destroying, debt creating administration to save Mr. Bryan from the oblivion into which the votes of West Virginia will help to send him next November.

Idle Railroad Hands.

No less than 1,800 cars are standing idle on the middle division of the Pennsylvania railroad. Other divisions report a similar condition.—Wall Street Daily News.

How is this, President Roberts? Is it not a fact that your 1,800 cars are idle because our people are idle and that our people are idle because we have a tariff in force that has admitted large quantities of foreign goods made by foreign labor, and that the enforced idleness of our people has checked their ability to buy goods, hence there is no demand for your 1,800 idle cars to haul goods to nonconsumers?

American Sentiment.

I would secure the American market to the American producer, and I would not hesitate to raise the duties whenever necessary to secure this patriotic end. I would not have an idle man or an idle mill or an idle spindle in this country if, by holding exclusively the American market, we could keep them employed and running. Every yard of cloth imported here makes a demand for one yard less of American fabrication.—Hon. William McKinley.

Bryan For Free Wool.

When the free trade presidential candidate of the Democratic party, Hon. William J. Bryan, was a member of congress, he voted for the free wool of the Wilson bill. "I am for free wool," he openly boasted, and he aided in reducing the value of American sheep and the price of American wool to our sheep farmers. Every western state and every western voter should be against "Free Wool" Bryan.

Long, Loud and Strong.

The arguments for protection must be vigorous and loud enough to be heard plainly in Nebraska during this campaign, because Mr. Bryan finds that "arguments in traveling that long distance become somewhat diluted and often polluted." So let us have them strong and healthy, that they may withstand his Nebraska dilution and pollution.

Bryan Would Destroy It.

Because the wool growing industry is small in comparison with other agricultural interests Free Trader Bryan favors free wool. Why not give it protection and a chance to grow again?

His "Vicious" Idea.

If protection be "vicious in practice," as Mr. Free Trader Bryan says, then to operate our factories, to employ American labor and to pay wages to Americans is "vicious in practice."

Trouble For Bryan.

That "crown of thorns" is likely yet, with pain and anguish, to wring the brow of Free Trader Bryan.

Never.

A man with "polluted" ideas should never be chosen president of the United States.

Bicycle Statistics.

We knew it would come. The statistically minded individual was sure to start on bicycles sooner or later, and now we have some of his figures.

A cycling journal estimates that there are at least 10,000,000 of cycles in use in the various countries of the world. On a fine holiday it is fair to assume that quite half that number of cyclists will mount their machines and go for a spin of 20 miles. The 5,000,000 cyclists consequently traverse a total distance of 100,000,000 of miles—more than 4,000 times round the world—in one day!

The two wheels of the machine make about 1,200 revolutions per mile; consequently the 10,000,000 wheels have put in a total of 240,000,000,000 revolutions.—London Tit-Bits.

WANAMAKER'S.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, Sept. 21, 1896.

A HEARTY WANAMAKER INVITATION

To view the Dress Stuffs for Autumn and Winter—for to see the textiles gathered at Wanamaker's is to have seen all that is best in the loom products of France, Germany, England and America; to have seen not only a comprehensive gathering of what the leading stores of the world shall have to offer during the season, but hundreds of exclusive elegances designed for us and controlled by us.

Dress Goods supremacy! Years of study by a college of experts among the fashion fixers of the world and among the loom-men who turn their taste and tact to textiles, a comprehensive knowledge of the wants and tastes of Philadelphia shoppers have brought us leadership in Dress Goods selling. That's why we gather and distribute more Dress Goods than does any other retail store in the word—and an exclusive retail store can alone serve you perfectly. Tastes in American cities differ—the most exacting shoppers are Philadelphia shoppers—resident and visiting. To gather for wholesale selling necessitates a catering to many standards; wholesale stocks are prone to get a showing at retail counters. Discrimination then must rest with you—and you've only the guide of experience to help you avoid mistakes. Experts conduct the business at Wanamaker's. Novelties are safely bought here, because your choosing is from selections made by artists in dress.

The Dress Goods Salon is the court of honor. Crystal cases hold pleasing and correct combinations of fabrics. The store helpfulness is always yours to command; the store's style-hints yours to enjoy.

The world of dress wearers is invited; the army of dressmakers and designers is asked to be a part of the company to enjoy this—the fullest, richest display ever made.

Twenty-one sections of the store are devoted to Dress Stuffs—groups of textiles; special collections; black goods; cloths; fancy fabrics; stuffs for every day; stuffs for rich costumes. The enjoyment of a visit to Wanamaker's should be only bounded by the time you may devote to it.

A WORD OF THE DRESS STUFFS

Quieter effects prevail this season—not an absence of color, by any means, but an absence of large designs. The whole gamut of rough stuffs is run—the weaver showing his deference to the tailor by producing fabrics that will closely follow the contours of the wearer. This is noticeable in the great family of cheviots, the cheviot beauty left, but the hummocky thickness reduced. Sac de Rasin and the Potato-bag weaves exemplify this. Broadcloths and the smooth surface covert cloths and serges fully hold their own—the coverts showing new beauty. A brief list of the stuffs in the Dress Goods Salon would read like this—using the every-day names—

Cheviots	Bourette
Zebelines	Diagonals
Camel's-hair	Brocades
Boucle	Epingles

and the army of Plaids.

The mails make the whole land a neighborhood. If you cannot give yourself the pleasure of a visit, write to us and we'll send hints and samples—of course, you'll guide us by giving an idea of price limitations and whether black or colored stuffs are wanted. We don't believe careful folks ever foget to help us by this much.

JOHN WANAMAKER.

Don't Stop Tobacco

HOW TO CURE YOURSELF WHILE USING IT.

The tobacco habit grows on a man until his nervous system is seriously affected, impairing health, comfort and happiness. To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the nervous system, as tobacco to an inveterate user becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. "Baco-Curo" is a scientific cure for the tobacco habit, in all its forms, carefully compounded after the formula of an eminent Berlin physician who has used it in his private practice since 1872, without a failure. It is purely vegetable and guaranteed perfectly harmless. You can use all the tobacco you want while taking "Baco-Curo." It will notify you when to stop. We give a written guarantee to cure permanently any case with three boxes, or refund the money with ten per cent. interest. 'Baco Curo" is not a substitute, but a scientific cure, that cures without the aid of will power and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine as the day you took your first chew or smoke

Cured by Bacco-Curo and Gained Thirty Pounds.

From hundreds of testimonials, the originals of which are on file open to inspection the following is presented:

Clayton, Nevada Co., Ark., Jan. 29, 1895

Eureka Chemical & Mfg. Co., La Crosse, Wis.—Gentlemen: For forty years I used tobacco in all its forms. For twenty-five years of that time I was a great sufferer from general debility and heart disease. For fifteen years I tried to quit but couldn't. I took various remedies, among others "No-To-Bac," "The Indian Tobacco antidote," "Double Chloride of Gold," etc., but none of them did me the least bit of good. Finally, however, I purchased a box of your "Baco Curo" and it has entirely cured me of the habit in all its forms, and I have increased thirty pounds in weight and am relieved from all the numerous aches and pains of body and mind. I could write a quire of paper upon my changed feelings and condition.

Yours respectfully, P. H. MARBURY, Pastor C. P. Church, Clayton, Ark
