THE EASTON GAZETTE.

VOL. LXXX, NO. 49. EASTON, MD., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1896. $1.50 PER YEAR.

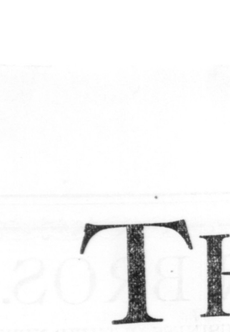

EVERY EVENT IS A GEM!

FIVE BRILLIANT ENTERTAINMENTS IN MUSIC HALL, EASTON.

Wednesday Evenings, Nov. 18, Dec. 16, Jan. 6 and 20 and Feb 24—Open and Close with Best Musical Talent,

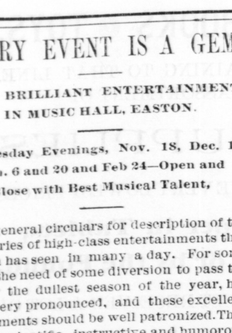

See general circulars for description of the best series of high-class entertainments that Easton has seen in many a day. For some years the need of some diversion to pass the winter the dullest season of the year, has been very pronounced, and these excellent amusements should be well patronized. They will be scientific, instructive and humorous.

The first performance will be given next Wednesday week by the Arion-Cooke Concert Company, whose likenesses we here reproduce. It will be FREE to all who purchase course tickets, either for reserved or general seats, before November 18, 1896.

HARRIET D. BEYNON, First Soprano.

Orders by mail filled by reserving the best seats unsold at time the order is received. All such communications should be accompanied by cash and addressed to W. M. Tylor, Easton, Md.

ADELE V. HOLMAN, Second Soprano.

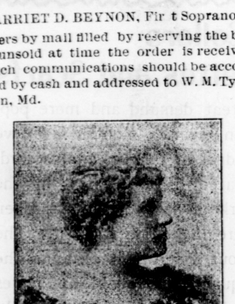

See what is thought of the troupe:

"It was with great pleasure that I listened to the singing of the Arion Lady Quartette. The selections were of a very difficult character, rendered in the most admirable way."—Julia Marlowe.

J. EUGENE V. COOKE.

"None of the younger poets and few of the older ones have touched my tough old heart and made me a better man as Mr. Cooke of Cleveland has done."—Bill Nye.

LILITH CASTLEBERRY, First Contralto.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "The Quartette singing was as accurate as it was soulful. Mr. Cooke's recitations were very effective."

IDA ARTIS POWELL, Second Contralto.

Bedford (Pa.) Gazette: "Seldom, if ever, has an entertainment in Bedford given such universal satisfaction. The Arions are, individually and collectively, artists of marked ability, and Mr. Cooke is master of his profession."

Kansas City Journal: "The third event in the Y. M. C. A. Star Course occurred last night. A most enjoyable programme was furnished by the Arion Lady Quartette and Edmund V. Cooke."

Seats now on sale at Hayward's drug store.

TEACHERS' MEETING.

An Interesting Session Held Last Friday at Easton High School.

The Talbot teachers met at the Easton High School last Friday. Among the discussions were "The Teaching and Learning of Arithmetic," Addison Mullikin, Professors Chaplain and Long "The Advantage and Requirements of Outlining," and Miss H. L. Mellier "Work in Paidology."

Prof. N. Price Turner read the report of the committee appointed to inquire into the new vertical system of writing, which recommended the adoption of the system in the schools of Talbot county. Children are naturally inclined to write a round upright hand, and are with difficulty forced into the angular, slanting style; and that whenever excellence in slant writing has been attained, it has been at a sacrifice of comfort on the part of the pupils and of time and strength on the part of the teacher.

In view of this, the committee made these recommendations:

That the formal introduction of the new system be confined to the grades below the fourth year.

That all pupils in writing be required to face the desk so that a line joining the shoulders shall be parallel with the front edge of the desk.

That in teaching penmanship to children of the first four year grades teachers call into play the fundamental muscles and nerve centres of the shoulders and gradually develope the necessary muscles and nerve centres of the forearm and fingers.

The report was discussed by a number of teachers and Col. J. C. Mullikin and Wilson M. Tylor. It was finally decided to adopt the report.

Col. J. C. Mullikin made several remarks relative to the Mercantile Library, urging the teachers to take an interest in the same, and requesting them to inspire their pupils in the same way.

HICKS ON NOVEMBER WEATHER.

The Prognosticator Says We Shall Have Much Cold and Strong Weather.

Hicks forecasts the weather for November as follows: Fair, cool weather is promised for most sections at the opening of November. From about the 4th to 7th prepare for much active violent perturbation. Rain and snow, attended and followed by stiff gales and very cold, may be counted on. The far south may expect thunder, rain, heavy winds and change at the close to much cooler. New moon and Perigee both fall in this period, which fact indicates much. The 11th and 12th bring renewed storm conditions and general storminess, ending in more cold. Sleet and snow will be general about this time as a Mercury disturbance is central on the 12th. The 16th to 18th is a regular storm period. Cold will follow. From this time on we enter a Venus, Mars, Mercury and Earth combination that will reach a crisis in December. From about 21st to 23rd look for reactionary storms, followed later by all changes that naturally follow at this season. The 27th to 30th is the closing storm period of the month. Look for hard winter storms ending in very cold weather. Prepare for a hard December.

A BRISK FALL TRADE.

The Easton Merchants Preparing for a Good Fall and Winter Business.

The Easton merchants are now daily receiving new goods for the remainder of the fall trade and for the winter trade.

The display windows are already beautifully arranged with an assortment of goods, which for excellence is seldom seen in a country town.

A mercantile traveler recently remarked in the hearing of a GAZETTE reporter that a better class of goods is sold to Easton merchants than in any town on the shore.

Robson Bros. are already receiving their Christmas goods, and a number of other merchants are also preparing for the Holiday trade.

Mr. M. B. Nichols has just closed his annual cloak opening, during which he had thousands of dollars worth of cloaks and coats on sale.

Talbot's Liquor Cases.

The Baltimore News says: The concerted efforts of the authorities and citizens of Talbot to break up speak-easies in Easton promises an abundant harvest. A score of cases are ready for presentation to the Grand Jury this month, and alleged violators are being now arrested, in order to get the evidence in proper shape and to put a stop to the surreptitious liquor traffic in the interval. The Easton example could be profitably followed in other sections of the State.

St. Michaels Diphtheria Scare.

The threatened epidemic of Diphtheria is now under control in St. Michaels and the few cases are improving rapidly under the care of the skilled physicians. The colored schools were also closed last week, and no services were held in the Methodist churches on Sunday. The suspected houses were quarantined by the Board of Health. No new cases have appeared and it is thought that the entire town will soon be free of the disease.

Death of Captain McPhail.

Mrs. Charles H. Gibson, wife of United States Senator Gibson, received news on Monday of the death in Richmond of her brother-in-law, Capt Clement C. McPhail. Mrs. Gibson left Easton on Monday night for Richmond to attend the funeral. Captain McPhail leaves a widow, who was Miss Melicat Powell, sister of Mrs. Gibson and a daughter of Mrs. James Armstrong Welsh, of Philadelphia, who was born at Ratcliffe Manor. Captain McPhail was a distinguished mining engineer.

Dancing School.

Prof. E. K. Morris, assisted by Mr. W. L. Hull, will have a dancing class at the armory room in Music Hall on every Thursday evening, beginning November 12. This will be an exceptional opportunity and terms will be made satisfactory upon application to Prof. Morris, who can be seen at his residence on Washington St., when not at his studio on Dover St.

IT WAS A DEMOCRATIC WATERLOO!!

Republicans Sweep Old Maryland By The Rousing Majority of Thirty Thousand.

DR. BARBER DEFEATS MILES IN THE FIRST DISTRICT.

Talbot Gives a Big Republican Majority. The New Election Law Gives Great Satisfaction. The County's Tabulated Vote.

The election in Talbot county passed off quietly and without any friction among the parties. The result of an earnest effort on the part of both old parties to get out their total voting strength was the very heaviest poll that was ever made for president before in this county. The weather was all that could be desired, the day being bright and mild. This was also the first election held under the new election law and the first for many years in which the Republican party has participated as the dominant party, vested with official authority in the execution of the election laws, so far as the law gives control to the majority party.

The practical operation of the new law proves its wiseness, and under it there will be little bribery or intrigue, which has so long characterized the old law. In Easton, the 1st, 2d and 3d precincts voted at the Court House, which, perhaps, is the only district in the whole country that has three voting places under one roof.

On the Court House fence large cards were hung on which were printed these words: "No electioneering between this point and the polls." These cards had a good effect, for it was apparent that the election officers meant business and the sign was obeyed. Heretofore electioneering in the Court House green has made it extremely difficult at times to get to the polls, owing to the large crowds which filled up the yard. The space was almost entirely clear on Tuesday, and consequently the confusion and jam were conspicuous by their absence.

Reports from other parts of the county indicated a very quiet election, without any disturbance. The first precinct to make its returns was the Third of Easton District. The ballots were all counted by 7.30 o'clock. The official vote for the county is as follows:

BARBER CARRIES THE FIRST DISTRICT.

The Democratic Boast of One Thousand Majority Proved To Be A Big Bluff.—Barber Proves an Easy Winner, and Snows Miles Under by Four Hundred Majority. Six Republican Congressmen Elected.

For the first time in its history Maryland is represented in the House of Representatives by a solid Republican delegation. While the Representatives who served in Congress from this State during and after the war were not members of the Democratic party, they belonged to what at that time was really called the Union party, which was disbanded soon after the rebellion was crushed, and the present Republican party in this State was formed.

The defeat of Mr. Joshua Miles in the First district was the greatest surprise of the election in this State, to the Democrats who had regarded this district as their stronghold, and is looked upon as the most gratifying result of the campaign of education, which began in this section immediately after the Chicago Convention. Up to that time Mr. Miles had been a persistent and almost belligerent advocate of the gold standard, and was even an opponent of bimetallism. In order to secure the nomination he changed his views and announced his conversion to free silver. His defeat is, therefore, on this account, hailed by the honest-money Democrats with peculiar satisfaction.

Dr. Isaac A. Barber, of Easton, who defeated Mr. Miles, and has, therefore, the honor of being the first member of his party to represent the district in Congress, is a man of ability and integrity, and stands high in the estimation of those who know him best. He is a native of New Jersey, where he was born in 1852. In 1873 he removed to Talbot county where he was engaged in the practice of medicine for several years. He engaged in the milling business and is president of the Farmers and Merchants National Bank and is owner of three large flouring mills.

He has for years been a member of County Committee of his party, and at present is chairman of that body. In 1891 he was a candidate for the House of Delegates, but was defeated. In 1893 he was a candidate for State Senator, but was defeated by Col. Oswald Tilghman, the Democratic nominee. In 1895 he was nominated and elected to the House of Delegates, and last winter at Annapolis was one of the ablest of the leaders of that body. He is a vigorous and forcible speaker, and keeps himself informed on all matters affecting the public interest.

It is particularly gratifying to the Republicans of this county that Dr. Barber, one of its most talented and appreciated members, should be the man to carry this old Democratic stronghold, the First District, over to the Republican side. The doctor has made an able campaign and a clean and honorable one. No taint or reproach can be accredited to him, and the fact that his worth and ability has been so appreciated is only another cause for gratification.

The majorities reported in the counties of the district are as follows: Barber—Kent, 460; Caroline, 44; Talbot, 353; Dorchester, 400; Somerset, 83. Miles—Queen Anne's, 611; Wicomico, 231; Worcester, 136.

The vote cast at the election Tuesday in Maryland was the largest in the history of the State. The majority for the republican presidential electors is 32,257. The total vote polled in the State, including the usual number of rejected ballots, was not far from 250,000. Of these 138,000 were cast for McKinley and Hobart. This is the greatest vote ever given to a candidate in the State, exceeding the vote for Governor Lowndes last year by about 13,000. The Bryan and Sewall electors got about 104,000, which is about 2,000 short of the vote given for Hurst last year, and 9,000 less than that cast for Cleveland in 1892. All six of the Republican candidates for Congress are elected by big majorities.

The most remarkable showing is that made in the First district, hitherto the banner district of Maryland Democracy. Dr. Barber made a magnificent fight, and his success insures to the Republicans a solid delegation in the next House of Representatives.

The pluralities in the various districts are as follows: First District—Dr. Isaac A. Barber, 417; Second District—William B. Baker, 5,388; Third District—William S. Booze, 6,795; Fourth District—William W. McIntire, 8,498; Fifth District—Sidney E. Mudd, 3,471; Sixth District—John MacDonald, 3,736.

THEY THOUGHT BRYAN WAS ELECTED.

Democrats in Easton go Crazy Over a Telegram Wednesday Which Said Bryan Was Elected.—They Enjoyed The Delusion Two Hours.—Like Scene in Baltimore.

The Democrats of Easton had Bryan elected on Wednesday afternoon for about two hours, and they enjoyed those two hours thoroughly. The way of it was this. About four o'clock in the afternoon a telegram was received which stated that Bryan had carried Illinois and was within seven votes of being elected President, with other doubtful states to hear from. That settled it. The local democrats elected him at once and began to shout themselves hoarse. They ran up and down the streets, blew horns and yelled until they could yell no more. Nothing could convince them that they were wrong. They would listen to no arguments and seemed lost to all common sense. The streets were soon crowded with people, some wondering if perchance a lunatic asylum had been turned loose on the streets.

When the more sensible democrats heard of the report they laughed at it, and refused to believe that Bryan had even a ghost of a show. The telegram had been sent from bulletins posted in front of a newspaper office in Baltimore, and when a reply was received at six o'clock in answer to a telegram to the Baltimore News if the report was true, it stated that McKinley had 271 electoral votes. This cooled the enthusiasm of the shouting democrats and it was not long before they returned to their usual gloom. No one begrudged them the two hours of delusive hope which they had entertained. But it's best not to fly off the handle too quick.

LITTLE NEWS NOTES.

The News of a Week Told in Brief Form. Local News Field.

More oysters are reported in the Choptank river this season than for ten years past.

The vote polled in Talbot last Tuesday was the largest ever taken, even exceeding that of 1895.

This year 720 oyster dredging licenses have been issued by the Comptroller's office. This is 150 more than were issued last year.

Tuesday night Joshua Larrimore caught an opossum robbing his hen roost in Easton. The oppossum was as big as a porcupine. He sold it to Silas Lane.

It may be that what is supposed to be the Indian summer haze is only smoke from the resuming factories.—Philadelphia Record (Sound Money Dem.)

The woman who reads the advertisements carefully can furnish her house and dress herself better on less money than the one who buys hap-hazard.

The silver flag is still flying over Washington street, but some one judiciously tore off the "Prosperity and Free Silver" sign which was tacked on the bottom of it.

The new election law is a great success. It is generally conceded that Tuesday's contest was the most fairly conducted that Maryland has seen in many years.

It is estimated that about $250 changed hands in bets on Wednesday in this county. Bryan people would not bet on Tuesday unless given odds of about 5 to 1.

It has often been noted that when election day falls on November 3d, Maryland always gives about 30,000 plurality. She did it this year—but it was 30,000 Republican.

Richard Coleman, of Royal Oak, Talbot county, has taken out an oyster tonging license. He is 87 years old, and is said to be the oldest active oysterman in the State.

Last Saturday was flag day and the National banner was displayed the country over. Both Republicans and Democrats floated the stars and stripes at their homes and places of business. Many hung out flags in Easton.

Charles Hubbard, who was to have been married last week, and who disappeared the morning fixed for the wedding, was seen at Ivytown on Saturday. He hid in a barn on the wedding day, and it was thought he went to Philadelphia.

W. T. H. Lee, Wm. H. Adkins, A. L. Tharp, A. G. Pascault and Wm. Goldsborough went to Baltimore Tuesday to hear the election returns. Col. Mullikin and J. Harry Covington went to Philadelphia for the same purpose.

Reports in a number of the prominent daily papers on Thursday stated that factories and mills which had been closed for months were starting up all over the country. The sound money victory caused the renewed activity.

We understand that large sums of gold have been put into circulation since Major McKinley's election. It is hoped that our delinquents will circulate some in this direction. We are, however, perfectly willing to take silver or paper.

Mr. Chambers Harden, a native of Talbot county and now residing in Baltimore was sued for divorce by his wife last Saturday in Baltimore. She alleges unfaithfulness. Mrs. Harden was a Miss Craddock and is well known in Easton.

Some confusion was caused by the pencils used to mark the ballots last Tuesday. The voters mistook them for the rubber stamp formerly used, and after several vigorous raps declared they would not mark. The judges explained the matter, and there was no further trouble.

Elijah B. Glenn, who celebrated his one hundredth birthday a few weeks ago in Newark, N. J., walked Tuesday morning from his home to the polling place and cast his vote. He is a native of Carpenter's Point, Md., and was born August 7th, 1796. Mr. Glenn cast his first vote for James Monroe in 1820.

Prof. E. K. Morris, of Easton, says that Mr. Stetson of Phila. gives to his employes, occasionally, entertainments consisting of the best talent procurable, and that he engaged the Arion-Cooke Concert Co., which gave unbounded pleasure. Prof. Morris says he has heard the company twice and would not miss the third time. He speaks most highly of it.

She's blushing furiously, dame Nature is, because Jack Frost is kissing her cheek and brow. To be sure they are both old enough to know better, but nature is the same in all ages. The landscape was never more beautiful than now; hillside and valley present the most artistic mingling of colors, and the soft haze of the October atmosphere makes the charm complete. Of all the year this is the time to woo nature.

The Kent News says: The new assessment has advanced far enough in Talbot to make it plain that there will be a decrease of 10 to 20 per cent. in the taxable basis of the county. The only benefit derived from the new valuations will be an equalization of farm assessments in the county. Taxes will be higher under the new system, but the relative amounts paid by individuals will correspond more nearly with the present prices of land and the profit in farming.

He Hasn't Made Mr. Pitt President.

Mr. Samuel A. Pitt, of Middletown, Delaware who is well known in Easton, having been in the insurance business here has been speaking for free silver in Kent says he was born on the adjoining farm to Senator Gorman, of Maryland and in speaking of the fact said: "I remember with great distinctness, the day young Gorman left the old public school house after having been made a page of the United States Senate. The embryo statesman threw up his hat and said 'Good bye, boys, I'll make all of you Presidents some day'."

A New Music Store.

Prof. J. W. Wheatley has moved his music store from Railroad avenue to Dover street in the Shanahan building, and is now prepared to conduct his business on a larger scale than ever. Many new musical instruments have been added to his stock, and everything pertaining to that line is complete. He will be glad to see you.

Serenaded Dr. Barber.

The colored band of Easton marched to the residence of Congressman Isaac A. Barber on Washington street Thursday evening and serenaded him. They played four or five selections, but the Doctor did not come out and make a speech. He had gone to Baltimore an hour before.

IN OUR CHURCH CIRCLES.

Items Of Interest Of The Doings In Our Churches.

Preaching at Baptist Chapel at 11 a. m. Sunday by Rev. A. M. Johnson; at Longwoods 3 p. m.

The annual meeting of the Easton Chapter Epworth League will be held next Tuesday evening to elect officers for the coming year.

There will be no service at SS. Peter and Paul's Church tomorrow, the pastor being absent on his monthly mission in Dorchester county.

Rev. Charles A. Hill held service at the jail last Sunday afternoon. He was assisted by eight or ten ladies and gentlemen. Another meeting will be held soon.

The Methodist churches of St. Michaels were all closed last Sunday in consequence of the diphtheria epidemic, and will not be reopened until the disease has passed.

The Peninsula Methodist announces in its last issue that the paper has been sold to a syndicate of preachers of the Wilmington Conference. No names are given.

Rev. Charles A. Hill, pastor, will preach at Ebenezer M. E. Church tomorrow at 11 a. m. and 7.30 p.m. Morning subject, "The Saints"; evening subject, "The Beginning, Progress and Consummation of Sin."

Rev. H. A. Cresser, rector of St. Michaels parish, has resigned to accept a place of importance in New York. He preached his farewell sermon in Christ church, St. Michaels, and Holy Innocents' chapel, Claiborne, last Sunday.

At All Saints' Protestant Episcopal Church, Rev. Wordsworth Young Beaven, rector, the festival of All Saints was celebrated Sunday with an elaborate morning service. A sumptuous dinner, as is the custom every All Saints' Day, was served at the parish house to the congregation and visitors.

Rev. C. F. Thomas, will succeed Bishop Alfred A. Curtis, who resigned July 23 last, at which time he wrote to Rome asking to be relieved of his diocese and the Pope granted his request. Bishop Curtis found the duties of the office too laborious. He was averse from the first to receiving a mitre, and it was said at that time that he would only retain the position ten years, when he would ask the Pope to relieve him in order that he might become again a parish priest. He has always had a strong love for the work of a priest, and while holding the more exalted office would frequently take the place of some priest in parish work. The Bishop will succeed Father Thomas as rector of the Cathedral. Bishop Curtis is well known in Easton, having preached here a number of times.

ON THE MOVE.

Visitors in Talbot Find it Pleasant. Others Go Elsewhere.

[Our readers are requested to send in items of personal interest.—ED.]

Mrs. Josephine P. Owings returned to her home in Baltimore on Monday.

Miss Mary Jenkins is visiting in Baltimore

Miss Bertie Barwick, of Easton, is visiting Mrs. Geohegan, Centreville.

Miss Mary Burnite, of Newark, N. J., is visiting her mother, in Easton.

Miss Carrie Kirk has returned to her home in Frederica, Delaware, after spending a month with her cousin, Miss Virgie, who accompanied her home.

Miss Fannie Barton is visiting friends in Baltimore.

DIDN'T GO TO OXFORD.

"Florida on Wheels" Was Notified that It Was Not Wanted.

"Florida on Wheels" exhibited in Easton last week, and during the day it was visited by a large number. The display of Florida fruits was very complete, and together with the wonders of a tropical clime, were beautifully and intelligently displayed to the entire satisfaction of all who visited them. The car is a handsome one, outside and inside.

The car was to go to Oxford also, but unfortunately it went to St. Michaels first, and the diphtheria scare there had made the Oxford people fearful that the car would bring the disease there.

Dr. Councell, health officer, notified them that they would be fined $100 if they went to Oxford, and so the car departed from Talbot without going to that town. The same car visited Easton several years ago.

Happenings at Tunis Mills.

Mrs. James Lleary of Cordova spent a few days of last week with her mother, Mrs. John S. Redman.

Mr. S. M. Tull spent a few days of last week in Baltimore.

Miss Anna A. Jackson has returned to her home in Laurel, Md., after visiting her sister, Mrs. C. F. Griffith.

The Loyal Legion was nicely entertained at a "donkey party" given by Miss Gussye Griffith Thursday night, October 29th.

Miss Daisy Marshall is visiting her uncle, Mr. S. E. Marshall, St. Michaels.

Mrs. M. Bennett, of Cordova, spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Favinger, last week.

Wellington Didn't Fall.

The Kent News of last Saturday says: "Boss" Wellington still claims Maryland for McKinley by 20,000 majority. He does not believe anything of the sort, but simply "claims" that as due the matchless Boss as a sort of first year's endorsement of his administration of State affairs! O, what a fall there will be next Tuesday!
