VOL. LXXXII. NO. 20. EASTON, MD., SATURDAY, APRIL 9, 1898. WHOLE NO. 4234.

Dyed, suddenly—Easter eggs.

Next Friday will be Arbor Day.

Spoiled in transit—the made-over bonnet.

Every dog has his day—so has the Easter rabbit.

Schools will not open until Wednesday morning.

Caroline has dressed its court house grounds with bone fertilizer.

Bicycling parties will be more prevalent this season than ever before.

Owing to the storm, the Easton schools had but one session on Tuesday.

Chestertown is having placed within its corporate limits an electric light plant and a few miles of wire.

The school children are happy in the reflection that yesterday was a holiday, and Monday and Tuesday will also be.

The white fence has been removed from around the Deanery and greatly improves the appearance of house and grounds.

Those who want to donate something for the success of the Confederate Bazaar will learn how by consulting Mr. Henry Holliyday at the bank.

Upwards of 1100 bills were introduced in both Houses of the Legislature during the recent session, of which about one-half will become laws.

Denton court, now in session, will have some sensational trials. One of the most conspicuous being the case of Madison W. Wright, formerly of Easton.

The Commissioners of Talbot county are to have a Secretary. This enabling act was among the very last ones passed at the closing hours of the Legislature.

A young married lady of Easton, says the latest war news is that the Government has ordered the libraries closed in order to keep cranks from blowing up the magazines.

An alarm of fire was sounded about 8 o'clock Sunday night, the chimney of a house on Point road being ablaze. The fire had burnt itself out before the engines could arrive. No loss.

A sudden and severe change of weather swept over this section on Tuesday, and the mercury dropped below the freezing point that night. Much damage was done to the fruit.

At the wedding service on Wednesday night in the M. E. Church, an enthusiastic rustic was heard to exclaim, "See them purty flowers—paams on one side and pawms on the other."

The Governor has appointed Mr. John F. Mullikin School Commissioner, the Senate having failed to ratify the nomination of Col. J. C. Mullikin. Mr. Mullikin will succeed Dr. E. M. Hardcastle.

The peaches are thought to be gone—at least but a very small crop will be matured. Mr. John W. Kerr, probably the most reliable expert, thinks one-fourth a crop possible up to the present time.

The board of directors of the Union Telephone Company met Monday night and organized by re-electing these officers: President, William Reddie; vice-president, M. B. Nichols; secretary-treasurer, A. G. Pascault.

The millinery openings of Annie E. Rathell & Co., Limited, and T. H. Hollingsworth & Co. last Saturday were very successful. All day both stores were crowded, and the attractive displays found ready purchasers.

Mr. Robert L. Kemp has bought the property where he resides, No. 113 Dover St., of the Workingmen's Permanent Building and Loan Association, paying the sum of $2,500 and will make several improvements upon it.

The "wild dog" of Kent county has been killed. This dog, says the Transcript, has probably done more injury to sheep in the past two years than any other one dog, and eluded all efforts to capture until Monday last.

A monster whale has been seen sporting in the Bay and drove several pungies unceremoniously into Annapolis. These captains are used to a whaling good time on shore, but do not seem to care for such on ship board.

The steamers of the Queen Anne's Railroad Company now leave from Pier 9½ Light Street Wharf, Baltimore, instead of Pier 7½, as heretofore, and their leaving time has been changed from 5.45 to 5.30 A. M. See notice and schedule.

"A word to the wise is sufficient." If you desire a good wheel at the right price, call at Fred. MacDonald's Bicycle Store, No. 13 S. Washington St., opposite Post Office. Agent for the Keating, Reading Standard and Hecla Bicycles. 4-9-2t

The election for Town Commissioner is just three weeks from next Monday. Mayor Clark, who retires, declines to be a candidate for re-election, and no aspirants have so far "loomed up." It is not likely that the exciting contests of the past five years will be repeated this time.

The Easton National Bank has just issued the handsomest little booklet setting forth its condition that has ever been issued by any bank on the Eastern Shore. The title is embossed in metallic lustre lettering on Oriental cover, and the leaves caught with a handsome bow of ribbon.

The Directors of the Easton Mercantile Library held their semi-annual meeting on Wednesday last. They report the Library to be in a flourishing condition for this time in the year. New books have been added and if subscribers in arrears would be prompt in settling, all outstanding debts could be paid.

Congressman Barber is a connoisseur on fine blooded horses, and he always drives the best. On last Tuesday he attended the celebrated Cloverdell sale in Philadelphia, which resulted in his bringing to his Talbot home seven fine animals, ranging as high as $360 for a colt one year old, which was among the number.

Mr. J. J. S. Nicholson has secured the agency for this county for the sale of the book entitled "The Story of Cuba," by Murat Halsted. It is a large and handsome volume of 550 pages, profusely illustrated with photographic views, and printed in large, clear type. It brings the facts down to date—even to the blowing up of the Maine—and should be in the hands of all who wish to know more of the Cuban question. Price, $2.00 and $2.75.

State's Attorney Clayland Mullikin covered himself with glory at Annapolis on Monday last in his timely and successful effort to have the Governor reconsider and sign the Easton, Trappe and Cambridge Railroad bill, which he had vetoed on constitutional grounds. Attorney Mullikin pointed out the error so clearly to attorney General Clabaugh. Judge Sloan and others that the Governor was glad to reconsider it. Trappe is proud of her son.

A young lady on Goldsborough St. is the happy possessor of a fledgling in the shape of a chicken which she has named after a friend. The bird is not a Spanish fowl; but a full-blooded American, and chirps heartily for its young mistress whenever she is out of sight. It has four handsome wing feathers and two tail pennants, which give it a very fascinating gait when it tries to steer adversely to the wind. May it live long enough to be present at a banquet at its own expense.

DEATH OF MRS. LOVEDAY.

The Oldest Member of Christ Church Has Passed Away.

Mrs. Elizabeth Loveday, widow of the late William Loveday, died at her late home, on South Washington Street, Easton, Tuesday morning. She was 84 years of age, and had been a widow more than 40 years. Her only child, a son, Wm. N. Loveday, went South at the beginning of the war and died in the Confederate army. The late Dr. Wm. G. G. Willson, surgeon U. S. N., was her brother, and two sisters survive her, Mrs. S. C. Bayne and Miss Annie Willson. She was the oldest member of Christ Church, where she had been a communicant longer than any person now living. Her father was Green bury Willson, many years a prominent merchant of Easton.

The funeral was held at 3 P. M. Thursday from Christ Church, Rev. L. B. Baldwin, rector, officiating. The pall bearers were Robert B. Dixon and Drs. T. J. Smithers, J. M. H. Bateman, James H. Anderson, Edward R. Trippe and J. A. Johnson. The interment was in Spring Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Loveday's death recalls many instances of business sagacity, one notably of having placed $1000 at 10% during life, with the stipulation that at her death the borrower should retain the principal. This was more than thirty years ago, and the interest has been faithfully paid annually, which went largely toward sustaining her.

Yellow Jaundice Cured.

Suffering humanity should be supplied with every means possible for its relief. It is with pleasure we publish the following: "This is to certify that I was a terrible sufferer from Yellow Jaundice for over six months, and was treated by some of the best physicians in our city and to no avail. Dr. Bell, our druggist, recommended Electric Bitters; and after taking two bottles, I was entirely cured. I now take great pleasure in recommending them to any person suffering from this terrible malady. I am gratefully yours, M. A. Hogarty Lexington, Ky." Sold at Dr. Councell's Pharmacy.

McClures Magazine For April.

In the way of personal memoirs of the Civil War, there has been nothing more interesting published than Chas. A. Dana's "Reminiscences," and much the most interesting of these thus far is the paper in McClure's Magazine for April, giving Mr. Dana's recollections of Lincoln and his Cabinet. Living in the closest official and social relations with Lincoln and the members of the Cabinet for a considerable time, Mr. Dana's opportunities for knowing them were perfect; and he has set forth his impressions of them with that perfect frankness and that sure sense of the central characteristic which make his portraitures so real and definite. The portraits from photographs in the Government Civil War Collection add to the interest of the paper.

OF RELIGIOUS INTEREST.

NUMEROUS CHURCH NOTES CAUGHT HERE AND THERE.

Holy Week and Easter Services—Reception to Dr. Adams—A Much Appreciated Gift—The M. P. Conference.

The Dean and congregation of the Cathedral extend their thanks to Father McVeigh for his kind gift of palms last Sunday.

There will be no service in Calvary M. P. Church to morrow, Rev. W. M. Poisal being in attendance upon the session of the Maryland Annual Conference.

A reception, under the auspices of the Epworth League, will be given Rev. Dr. Adams at the M. E. Church next Thursday night, 14th inst. Dr. Adams served a previous pastorate at Ebenezer Church, and his return is a compliment both to himself and his charge.

A union service of the congregations of Trinity Cathedral and Christ Church was held in the latter church last night (Good Friday), with sermon by Dean Rich. To-morrow (Easter) the two congregations will join in worship at the Cathedral, when the sermon will be preached by Rev. L. B. Baldwin. These united services were inaugurated by Dean Sutton, and their continuance is the best proof of their success.

Easter Day in the Episcopal Churches of Trappe and Oxford promises to be exceedingly interesting. At St. Paul's Church, Trappe, services will be conducted at 7.30 A. M., 9.30 A. M., 10.30 A. M., 8 P. M. At Holy Trinity, Oxford, at 4 P. M. on Easter Day, and children's festival Easter Monday at 8 P. M. At this church an an earnest desire expressed in hard work to pay off in full the last dollar of the church's debt, is most evident. Both old and young are engaged in trying to place on the Tilghman Memorial Altar $270. For years this church has engaged the interest of many people. Never before in its history has it had so many working for it. Easter promises to see it free. Its many friends are invited on Easter Day.

A FINANCIAL GIBRALTAR.

The Provident Life Insurance Company of New York.

There is no Insurance Company in the United States that holds a higher place in the confidence of the people than does the Provident Life of New York, and of which Mr. E. W. Scott is the President.

There may be several older and larger companies, but the Provident Life has a bed-rock foundation; and for over twenty years, has made a rapid advance in its business. Its methods are the newest and on the most attractive lines of Insurance "up-to-date", its progress and prosperity being strongly marked, as the people realize its full worth in its different forms of Insurance.

So great has been the growth of the Provident Life under the superior management of President Scott, and its most efficient corps of officers, that it has been found necessary to leave its present fine quarters at 29 Broadway New York City and remove on May 1st to a larger home, the handsome building at 346 Broadway, where all is arranged for its growing needs and comfort, the location supplying increased facilities for its volume of Metropolitan business and growing agencies throughout the U. S. and Canada.

The readers of this paper will appreciate the growth, worth and solid methods of the Provident Life by referring to the statement of the association in this issue, the General Agent of the Maryland Eastern Shore Counties being Col. Prentiss Ingraham of Easton.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

Mr. Samuel Elliott Shannahan and Miss Della May Harden Made One.

Samuel Elliott Shannahan, of the GAZETTE, and Miss Della May Harden, daughter of Mr. Bascomb Harden, near Easton, were married at 8 P. M. Wednesday at Ebenezer M. E. Church by the pastor, Rev. R. H. Adams, D. D. The church was handsomely decorated with potted plants and evergreens, and was filled to crowded aisles.

The bride wore a becoming gown of blue figured silk poplin, trimmed with white liberty silk and chiffon. She carried a boquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and maiden hair ferns. The groom wore the usual black.

J. Edward Dodson, of Baltimore, was at the organ and played Valenti's wedding march for the processional. The intermezzo was from Cavelaria Rusticana, while the retrocessional was Mendelssohn's march.

The ushers were W. Harry White, Edward B. Harden, John W. D. Jump, Alfred B. Mason, Martin M. Wright and John H. K. Shannahan, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Shannahan took the night boat for Baltimore, and are now in Fredericksburg, Va. They will return to Easton on Wednesday.

GOOD SUGGESTIONS.

Some Pertinent Observations by a Veteran of the War.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—As war appears now to be unavoidable, and the men of the country are preparing to answer the call of the President to stand ready to defend their flag and homes, would it not be well for us to show that Talbot is not behind in patriotism and a desire to lend aid in time of need?

Talbot county, and the rest of the Eastern Shore, can well be regarded as being upon the coast; open to attack should a Spanish fleet force an entrance into Chesapeake Bay, which would also mean the James River, Potomac and other tributaries, thus leaving at the mercy of a cruel foe, one more relentless and barbarous in warfare than the Turk, Norfolk and its Navy Yard, Newport News and its vast ship yards where are being built the Kentucky and Kersarge, Richmond, Baltimore, Annapolis and its Naval Academy, and our beautiful Capital, Washington, which it must not be forgotten was taken by the British in the war of 1812.

In addition to the cities and Navy Yards named our inner coast line of towns, villages and country homes could be devastated, and would be by such a foe as Spain.

To beat an invader back, he should be met at the out ports and there given a fatal blow; and, with men of other States hastening to the front to defend the Chesapeake and adjacent waters, we should also at least organize a command of Talbot's Defenders, those of the Blue and of the Gray, now under one flag, with all others ready to render service wherever duty calls.

Talbot's sons have enrolled their names high on the scroll of honor in war times, and those who follow them will do the same, for no better men ever stood at the guns, afloat and ashore, than the soldiers and sailors of Maryland, for not being a Marylander I can say as much without the charge of self praise being made.

Let the men of Talbot then rally before the call to battle comes, organize for service and stand at "attention" awaiting the command of the Governor to go to the front and meet the foe, fighting back from our threshold those who, if they had the power certainly have the will, to Cubanize our land and our people.

Let then some leading citizen of Talbot set the ball in motion for a military organization and quickly will volunteers place themselves upon the roll, one of whom will be

Sincerely yours,
PRENTISS INGRAHAM.

Americans are the most inventive people on earth. To them have been issued nearly 600,000 patents, or more than one-third of all the patents issued in the world. No discovery of modern years has been of greater benefit to mankind than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, or has done more to relieve pain and suffering. J. W. Vaughn, of Oakton, Ky., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in my family for several years, and find it to be the best medicine I ever used for cramps in the stomach and bowels. A Very Sudden Death.

At an early hour Sunday morning Dr. Lloyd H. Smith died suddenly of heart failure at the residence of R. T. Savage, on Hanson street, where he had boarded ever since he moved to Easton, in 1889. His age was 45, and he was unmarried. He was a son of Prof. Hamilton L. Smith, of Hobart College, Geneva, N. Y., to whom the body was sent. Dr. Smith had been an extensive traveler, and his fine education and affable manners had won him many warm friends. He was a devoted member of Christ Church.

For Sale or Exchange.

Will exchange for property in Easton a farm just over Dover Bridge. If not disposed of, will be for rent for balance of 1898.

BETTER THAN EVER.

Performance at the Academy of Music of Interest to Eastonians.

That most genial of all comedians, Sol Smith Russell, comes to the Academy of Music, Baltimore, for a week's engagement, beginning next Easter Monday evening, the 11th. He will be seen in his new play by Martha Morton, entitled "A Bachelor's Romance," for every night except Saturday night, and on that occasion Mr. Russell will put on a grand new production of Sheridan's greatest comedy, "The Rivals." Sol Smith Russell is known and loved for the purity and freshness of his characterizations, and for the delight he gives his audiences. There is not a place where the genial comedian is known that has not a warm friendship for him, and his annual appearance in this city is always heartily welcomed. There is no actor on the American stage just like him. The mere mention of his name suffices to evoke a smile of pleasant reminiscence, for no one remembers Sol Smith Russell in anything that was not wholesome and pleasant.

The names of Edith Crane, Margaret Robinson, Fanny Addison Pitt, William Sampson, Orrin Johnson and Nanette Comstock are well known to the stage, and it is reasonable to suppose that they will give an unusually efficient support to the star. Miss Comstock, the leading lady, will be remembered as a gentle-natured, girlish person, who stands near the head of the list of women playing emotional parts in comedy. "A Bachelor's Romance" will be the attraction for the entire week with the exception of Saturday evening, when a grand production of "The Rivals" will be given. New and complete scenery has been provided by Mr. Russell for this comedy. Mr. Russell will give two matinees, Wednesday and Saturday.

For the week of April 18th Messrs. Nixon & Zimmerman have booked Julia Marlowe in her new play, "The Countess Valeska," and on April 25th the new comic opera, "The Highwayman," will be seen at the Academy.

Queen Anne's Railroad.

Commencing April 8th, 1898, the Queen Anne's Railroad Company will transfer its business from Pier 7½ to Pier 9½ Light Street, Baltimore, Md., and will put in service the Steamer "Favorite" between Baltimore and Queenstown. On the same date the office of General Freight and Passenger Agent will be moved from Queenstown, Md., to Pier 9½ Light Street, Baltimore, Md. I. W. TROXEL,
March 28, 1898. General Manager.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking the first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hammick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at Dr. Councell's Pharmacy. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

Two Easton Newspapers.

The Easton Ledger has completed its 22d volume, and the GAZETTE of the same town has closed its 81st volume. The editors of the Ledger are Mr. George E. Haddaway and his son, Mr. Arthur F. Haddaway, and of the GAZETTE, Messrs. Wilson M. and J. Edward Tylor. The Ledger is flat-footedly Democratic, while the GAZETTE is hard-shell Republican. Both are lively and interesting papers. They are well patronized, and are kept fully abreast of the times. While their editors do not always dwell in brotherly unity—except outside of their offices—their controversies have their merit of being in good taste, and affording the delight that comes from the clash of intellect.—Baltimore News.

An Interesting Entertainment.

Upon the evening of April 12th, 1898, there will be given a literary treat at the Bard-Avon School of Elocution 2123 N. Charles St., Baltimore. The recital will be under the auspices of Miss Yetta Victoria Cramer and Miss Emily Katherine Hoover, a sure indication of its proving a success.

To Eastonians Miss Cramer is well and favorably known, from her charming personality as well as her pronounced talent as a recitationist, she having visited here as the guest of Miss Helen Pratt, her school-mate at the Bard-Avon School. The program arranged for the evening is an attractive one and will doubtless, when rendered by the Misses Cramer and Hoover, draw a large audience.

If Miss Cramer intends to adopt the stage as a profession, the GAZETTE predicts for her a decided success.

In their coming entertainment, the GAZETTE wishes the Misses Cramer and Hoover the success their talents deserve.
