LITTLE NEWS NOTES.

Snap Shots by the Gazette's Reportorial Kodak.

The appearance and military deportment of the cadets of the Maryland Nautical Academy in the parade on Monday were much commented on, and in their white duck uniforms were very handsome.

Dr. Councell exhibited a beautiful lithograph, 4 feet by 18 inches, of the battleship Iowa in his pharmacy window this week.

The sale of excursion tickets on the steamers of the Choptank river line has been discontinued. First class fare to Baltimore is now 50 cents, and second class 30 cents.

An excursion will be run to Wilmington next Thursday from all points on the Delaware Division. Tickets will be sold at the rate of one fare for the round trip, good to return the day following.

A literary treat is in store for the citizens of Easton on June 16th. Jno. J. Cornell, of Baltimore, will be here on that date to address the public, in the Court House upon a subject that will be so beautifully and forcibly presented as to insure every person against leaving the room during its progress. If you have not heard Cornell, you have something to live for.

Mr. John W. Knotts, a prominent farmer, fruit grower and business man of Talbot, was stricken with paralysis on Saturday at his home near Hillsboro. He was at one time president of the Board of County Commissioners.

A. G. Schwab, a Baltimore drummer, lost a pocket book containing $400 on Wednesday on his way from St. Michaels. Ex-Commissioner, Sol. Thompson, found it and reported it by tetephone to Easton National Bank and it was returned to the owner.

Thanks to Prof. Goldey, of the Wilmington Commercial and Shorthand College for the beautiful engraved invitation to attend the Commencement exercises in that city on June 9.

The city of Trappe, Talbot county, holds an election this morning between the hours of 10 and 12, for the purpose of electing a Mayor and City Council.

The new form of oath prescribed by an act of the last General Assembly was put into practice in the courtroom Wednesday. The uplifted hand is substituted for the Bible. There was but little awkwardness noticeable in making the change.

It is reported that M. B. Nichols and Wm. J. Hartnett have both been robbed of considerable money from their office safes this week. The inner doors of the safes were said to have been forced with hatchets.

At this writing. Mr. Alexis A. Pascault is lying critially ill. with no hopes of recovering. Father Mc Veigh and Waldron have given the sufferer great spiritual consolation.

Important Wheat Case.

Quite an important case was concluded on Tuesday in the circuit court when William Hopps obtained a verdict of $500 damages against Charles S. Winder and his mother. It was alleged that Mr. Hopps bought from the Winders a lot of wheat, which on demand they failed to deliver to him, whereby he was damaged to the extent of $1,000. The jury gave him $500. The defense against Hopps was that he did not send a boat for the wheat at the time expected or promised, so that the Winders had to ship otherwise to a different purchaser.

Caused by a Printer's Error.

I. Freeman Rasin, of Baltimore, mortgagee, sold a farm on Kent Island to James B. Bright at auctioneer's sale at $19.50 an acre. The advertisement said it contained 388 acres. After complying with the terms of the sale, Mr. Bright had it surveyed and found it contained 288 acres. A comparison of papers in the case with the newspaper advertisment showed that 388 for 288 was a printer's error. The copy of the advertisement said 288. The questions involved were: Should the purchaser pay for the 288 acres at $19.50 an acre, or should the farm be properly advertised and resold?

Oxford's Town Election.

An exciting town election is promised for Oxford on Monday, being the first under its new charter.

A commissioner will be elected to succeed Samuel Bridges. There are two candidates for the position, viz: Thomas H. Anderson and Walter R. Moore. At the same time a bailiff will also be elected, and for this position, which pays $30 per month, there are six candidates, as follows: David A. Smith, Daniel Bridges, W. W. Williams, John Phillips, Robert Eason, and John Hill. The bailiff may also be appointed collector of town taxes.

In our advertising columns will be found an announcement of Ex-Senator John J. Ingalls' forthcoming book entitled "America's War For Humanity." Canvassing agents will find in it a book of remarkable interest, and certainly of extraordinary salability. The history of the war is told in picture and story, and in a way that always characterizes the brilliant pen of Senator Ingalls. In narrating the incidents of this war he finds grand scope for his superb descriptive and analytical powers. The theme is worthy of the author, and the author is worthy of the theme. It is published by N. D. Thompson Publishing Co., of St Louis, Mo. It will be a monumental work that will not only be everywhere read, but it will be a monument to his genius that will outlive in history his brilliant senatorial career. The subscription book trade and the canvassing agent are fortunate in the fact that an author of such rare ability has been enlisted in its interest.

A little boy asked for a bottle of 'get up in the morning as fast as you 'an," the druggist recognized a house-cold word and gave him a bottle of those famous little pills for constipation, sick headache, liver and stomach troubles. Harry Roberts.

Oxford Items.

Some of Talbot's teachers who spent the recent holidays in Oxford are Misses Nellie M. Jackson, of Tilghman's Island; Mary L. Norris, of Matthews and Wm. S. Jackson, of Cordova.

Mrs. Louis A. Leonard has returned to Oxford after a most enjoyable visit of ten days in New York.

Work is progressing rapidly upon the new telephone line, and it is now expected to be in working order in a very few days.

The final examination for the Senior Class of the Oxford High School was begun on Tuesday last. The Commencement Exercises will be held at Parsons' Hall on Wednesday evening, June 15th, at 8 o'clock. Examinations of the remaining classes will be begun on Monday next.

Memorial Services, in honor of the deceased members of Oxford Lodge, Knights of Honor, were held on Wednesday evening last at the M. P. Church.

Misses Sadie Seth and Virginia Bouldin visited Baltimore during the Whitsuntide holidays.

Mr. Wm. T. Stevenson, who for the past three years has held a position as clerk in the pharmacy of Mr. H. S. Matthews of this town, left for Baltimore on Tuesday night where he has accepted a similiar position on the corner of North and Linden Avenues.

Blockade Raised.

Yesterday orders were given to permit boats to enter Baltimore harbor at night. This made it possible for the Q. Anne's Line to change the tsme for leaving Queenstown back to 8 o'clock in the evening instead of 1.50 at night.

Bozman Items.

Maine Day was observed in Bozman School by patriotic singing by the school and addresses by the following gentlemen: Dr. Dodson and Mr. M. B. Nichols of the School Board and Mr. Jas. H. Sutton, trustee of the school.

Dr. Dodson spoke of the relation of the school to the state and said that the rights of the state are superior to even those of the parent as the state can protect a child from cruel treatment by the parents. He also spoke of the hardships of a soldier's life and mentioned his own army life during the Civil War.

Mr. Nichols spoke of the necessity of economy to make worthy citizens of our boys and girls. They must begin now to save up their pennies, if they would save dollars in later years.

Mr. Sutton explained in comprehensive and well chosen terms the object of Maine Day, making emphatic the thought that our government is not begging money from school children to erect this monument, for our country is able to pay for any number of such monuments, but that she has only accorded to the children this great privilege to teach them a lesson in patriotism. He reviewed the war from the beginning explaining in simple language many terms that were before not quite clear to them.

He also spoke at some length upon the great advantages which school children of the present day have over those of his own day, in the way of physical exercises as they develop not only the body but train in habits of promptness, obedience, etc, fitting our youth, when the time comes, for soldiers or useful citizens in whatever occupation he or she may engage.

Land of Legendary Lore.

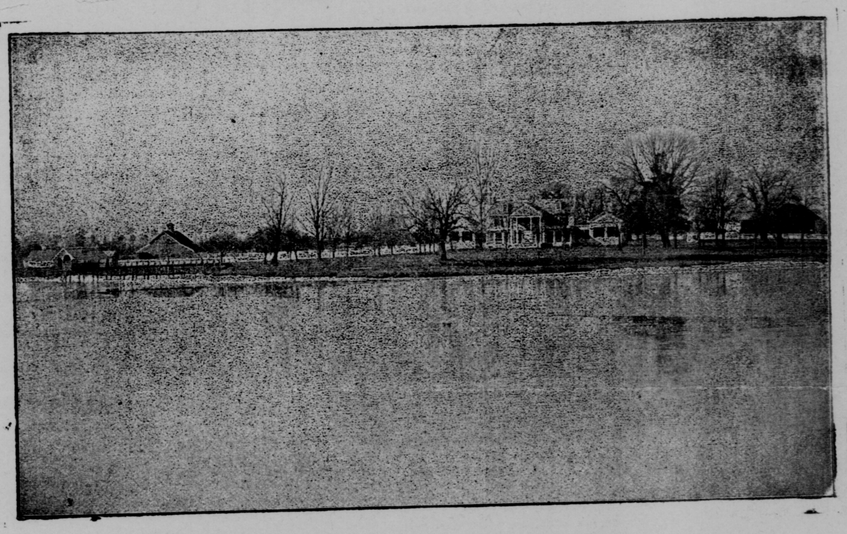

FROM this office there will soon be issued a book by the above title. It is written in flowing style, and portrays vividly the scenes in Talbot from its earliest settlement to the present day. There has been no work of the kind ever attempted before. It embraces biography, history, legends, manners, customs, and conduct of the people of Talbot. It is written by that man of many books, Col. Prentiss Ingraham, and will entertain every person who has ever known or heard of this part of Maryland. The chapters are numerous, nearly forty, and the illustrations are being made as rapidly as possible. The binding will be full cloth, library edition, handsomely engraved design on cover showing Wye House, the Lloyd Mansion, in the distance, the "canvas back," and Chesapeake Canoe in foreground. The book will be printed on handsome paper and may advance in price after publication. Cost of production already already warrants this assertion. The delay incident to getting out such a book is because of an endless amount of detail work in order that the book may not be slighted in the least degree. One of the most important requirements is "orders" and agents and solicitors are wanted. Liberal inducements made by writing to the publisher. Photographs of scenery, homes and historic places are also requested if sent immediately. Descriptive circulars sent on request. Specimen pictures are shown below.

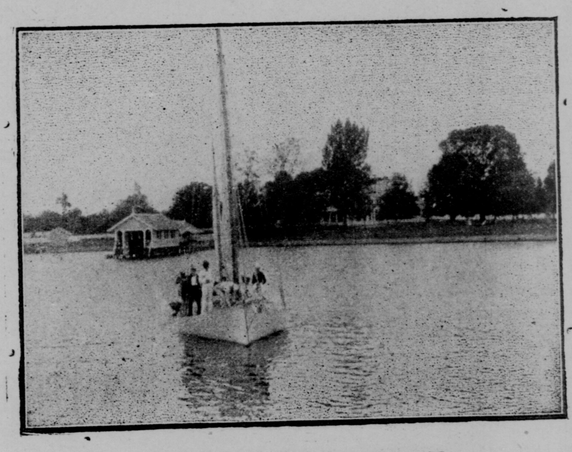

The chapters begin with engraved initial design as herewith shown and all illustrations to be of the finest half tone process.

PEACH BLOSSOM CREEK—A TYPICAL TALBOT LANDSCAPE.

"THE ANCHORAGE"—COL. C. A. CHIPLEY'S COUNTRY SEAT.

THE YACHTSMAN'S MECCA—MILES RIVER.

Please cut this out and return it properly filled and signed or be kind enough to hand to a neighbor:
