Easton, Maryland, June 25th, 1898.

NOW that the warm weather is at hand would it not be well for the City Fathers to have the gutters flushed at least once a week, as some of them suffer with the hue of envy, and the sight of them leaves a "dark, red taste in one's mouth" not to speak of their lack of fragrance which fills the air.

NEWSPAPER comment is easily made. It is not hard for an intelligent writer to put his opinions upon paper.

Opinions may be well founded, or they may be put forth as straws simply to test which way the wind is blowing.

Among the papers of the Eastern Shore which has well-settled and grounded ideas upon the subjects it discusses, is the Kent News; but that paper was never more mistaken than when, in speaking of Talbot politics, it says Dr. Barber will not get a delegation from his own county for his re-nomination to Congress, and that his opponents here will support Hon. H. C. Dodson.

The Doctor's chances for a solid delegation were never better, and they are strengthening every day. Furthermore, Mr. Dodson would never consent to having his name used in opposition to the interests of the Doctor.

Such idle comment has its origin in the brain of Democratc correspondents to the city press at so much per line who delight in stirring up strife among Republicans whenever they can get in a word which can be distorted as a possible truth.

The political course of Hon. I. A. Barber as a republican, is beyond adverse criticism. His only crime seems to have been that of success. He was the first Republican Congressman ever elected from this district. He went into the fight to win, as he has done in everything he has undertaken, and did win.

Prior to the time of Dr. Barber's election, the office went begging as it was considered an empty honor to be named as a Republican candidate for Congress from the First District; and whether or not the Doctor was caught in the tidal wave of Republicanism that spread over the State, it is not ours to question. The fact remains, he was ardent, true and loyal to the principles he maintained which were the principles of the Republican party, and he has never compromised himself by making deals or combinations to sell his party to gratify personal spleen.

He has had opportunity to prevent the appointment to office of those who have been most open and vindictive against him, but magnanimity and honor which lifted him above the dictates of that lowest of dominating principles in the human breast, retaliation, caused him to acquiesce.

We hope the Republicans of Talbot county will look close to the interests of the party and not be misguided by those who have no higher aim than to drag down the more successful.

The GAZETTE cannot be a party to such actions. It will stand in the future, as it has in the past, the exponent of true Republicanism in this County, District, State and Nation.

M. L. Yocum, Cameron, Pa., says: 'I was a sufferer for ten years, trying 'all kinds of pile remedies, but with out success. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has no equal. Harry Roberts.

THINGS have come to a beautiful pass in Talbot County politics, when discord in the Republican party appears to be furnishing all the capital for Democratic comment.

Nothing is more agreeable to the Democratic politician than to see a pen of Kilkenny cats among the Republicans. While wranglings and disputes are incident to all political and business corporations, they are to be condoned in the Republican party when they arise from motives no higher than jealousy and revenge.

Should differences occur along the lines of reform and upon methods employed to secure the greatest good to the greatest number, and these differences sprang from motives beyond selfish interests, then there might be some excuse. But when the men who have been looked upon for years as leaders of their party, apparently set aside the true principles upon which the party is founded and grovel in the slums of personal revenge, then it becomes the duty of every loyal Republican to repudiate such actions and be more firmly united in their denunciation of the same.

Men who have nothing to lose, but who, on the contrary, feast upon the glory gained by combativeness and their ability to play the role of the "bull in the china shop," are not the men the Republican party are bound to respect.

Our principles are greater, our integrity deeper, our philanthropy broader and our perception keener, than to be caught in any whirlpool of dissension agitated alone by jealousy.

The disease of "swell head" is common to humanity and it seems easy for some to assume an importance they were never given, and in this assumption, to retaliate by biting and kicking at every little breath of opposition they might meet, however well founded that opposition, or however honest and sincere for the best interests of the party such opposition may be tendered.

It is the duty of all true Republicans to uphold the honest hands of honest men who have been lifted by an honest ballot to positions of honor so long as their acts are worthy of the name of the principles they maintain. This we would say of any one, personal friend or personal foe, so long as the best interests of the party were not jeopardized.

The MASSACHUSETTS MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE Company, of Springfield, Mass.

The following lelter from Mr. N. M. Tabor, the well known Colorado millionaire is well worth your consideration:

Denver, Col., January 28, 1890.

GENTLEMEN:

In reply to your favor of the 25th asking for my estimate of the value of life insurance, I beg to say that I carry a large line for two reasons:

First, No man is infallible. Some misfortune that he cannot ward off may take from him his accumulated fortune, whether it be large or small; and a policy, such as I have, would afford a competence for old age.

Second, I consider that one dollar of cash to an estate in event of death will usually save two dollars to the estate.

Yours truly,

N. M. TABER.
