A LONG communication is received from Oxford giving full vent to the writer's feelings concerning the recent change made in the principal of the high school. The writer has much to learn himself in the common courtesy due the editor, for he refuses to sign any name other than "Subscriber," although he says "the citizens of Oxford and subscribers to your paper ask that this letter be published in your next issue." Not a single citizen's or subscriber's name is appended thereto.

What a beautiful class of people would editors be did they publish every harangue sent them without backing or even a shadow of responsibility. The press would soon be the dumping ground for all filth that could be scraped together, and the editor chief guardian and gullible goose over it all without visible company, for "Subscriber" would be hidden from view. We feel sorry that any fairly intelligent writer from Oxford should look upon the GAZETTE as a paper open to such communications.

He requested the article to be handed to another paper if we saw fit to omit it. This we did, and it was forthwith returned in disgust, as we knew it would be.

IN this issue will be found the advertisement of the Talbot County Fair which will be held on August 30, 31, and September 1 and 2. It is the desire of the management to make this fair surpass all others and a liberal response from the citizens of the county will bring the required result. The fair has been the greatest factor Talbot has had in educating the masses to an appreciation of the great resources and agricultural wealth of the county, and its citizens should never be willing to allow it to deteriorate.

August Brings the Furniture Sale

AWAY BACK in the spring of 1885 we talked of furniture—and furniture shortcomings—and the shortcomings of the then furniture sellers.

We promised better furniture and better methods. The methods were easier changed than the furniture, and we had a long up-hill siege to the plane of really dependable furniture. There was some elegantly made furniture, even years ago, but it was the high-priced exception. It is yet, with the general furniture store—though the better methods of making we have enforced have made it possible for any dealer to better his stock if he will.

In 1890 the August Trade Sale of Furniture was first held. Its planning had taken months of work beforehand.

The August Trade Sale had common sense for its basis. The furniture business here developed had called for large facilities, extending to separate delivery service. Mid-summer came, and furniture selling practically stopped. Re-furnishing was the work of mid-autumn—then came a great wave of business.

We knew the regular course of selling was more profitable to us and most convenient to you. But the summer sleepy-time to the manufacturers was bothersome. If they could only meet expenses!

Furniture makers hailed the scheme of a Trade Sale with delight—coupled with the fear of its failure. But we took thousands of dollars' worth at much under current prices.

And the sale was a success.

It is a success yet. And this ninth annual event brings another great stock here and makes the usual economy possible.

It has been our purpose—and achievement—to make $2 do the work of $3 in furniture buying in August. And standards never lower here.

Whether at home, or by seaside, or in mountain haunt, it is time to give a little attention to one's furniture needs—even the prospective ones—because it pays to do so.

If you are not ready for the goods purchased, we will hold them for September or October delivery.

THE interesting sketch upon the Easton National Bank prepared by Mr. Robt. B. Dixon and read before the Bankers' Convention at its recent meeting in Ocean City, will be found in another column and is well worth the perusal of those who wish to be informed upon the growth of that institution.

Mr. Dixon is a veteran banker and belongs to the most distinguished family of bankers the state has produced. We appreciate the opportunity to get hold of his paper for reproduction.

STRAWS show which way the wind blows and the following from the pen of a conservative, level-headed thinker who has not heretofore taken active part in political campaigns shows the tendency of sentiment. The article is more appreciated since it was not solicited, but sprang spontaneously from the writer, who, by the way, knows how to use his eyes and ears for himself and has observed closely Barber's course.

As the time draws near for the people of Talbot to vote in another Congressional election, to say who shall be their Representative at Washington, it is not amiss to ask who better can the y find for the important position than Hon. I. A. Barber, the man whom they put their confidence in two years ago.

Dr. Barber is a man with a clean record, none more so, and he has more than met the expectation of his constituents.

He was not blinded by the glare of Washington, was not forced into a back seat by the know-it-alls in Congress, spoke when he had something to say and spoke well and to the point.

He was ever watchful for the interests of the Eastern Shore, and of those who had sent him to Congress to aid in making laws for their good, and he was not spoilt by his exalted position, put on no airs and made no show for effect.

What there was to do he did, and few men have ever served in Congress with more sterling good sense, purity in politics and the desire to act conscientiously, being true to himself, hence true to his fellow man.

Dr. Barber is a young man, and in his short term in Congress he has not had time to develope all that he is capable of, and more years as an Representative will show that his party has chosen wisely and well.

Energetic, a man who puts his shoulder to the wheel, who is not afraid of work, of varied and wide experience, knowing thoroughly the needs of our district, fearless to a degree, resolute in action and withal a man respected and honored by his adversaries, as well as one who has been tried and not found wanting. I. A. Barber is the man to send back to be a Representative for he will overwhelm all opposition.

ONE of the handsomest Fair Catalogues yet received at the editor's desk is that from Secretary A. N Brown of the Delaware State Fair. This fair will be the Twenty-first Annual Exposition of Agricultural and Mechanical Arts and display of live stock, and will be held in Dover for a week beginning Sept. 12th. The management declare that this will surpass all previous efforts, and they promise the patrons something exceptional in the way of State Fairs. This can be relied upon, as such men as Geo. A. Millington, Manlove Hayes, Jabez Jenkins, J. F. Saulsbury, Wilbur H. Burnite, H.A. Richardson and a score of others are backing the assertion.

COMMISSIONER JOHN C. HENRY receiced a letter from Mr. Joseph Sprigg, Chairman of the Schley Testimonial Committee soliciting an interest from the citizens of Easton in the movement on the part of the people of Maryland to secure a substantial and enduring testimonial for Commodore Winfield Scott Schley as evidence of their appreciation of him as a son of Maryland.

Mr. Henry has given the matter favorable consideration and a subscription list ($1.00 limit) has been placed in the drugstore of Dawson & Jenkins. All patriotic citizens are requested to subscribe any amount not beyond the limit.

THE new board of Commissioners of Public Schools for Talbot county organized on Tuesday last. The retiring member, Dr. E. M. Hardcastle was succeeded by Mr. Jno. F. Mullikin at Trappe. Mr. M. B. Nichols, democrat insisted upon resigning the Presidency and nominated Dr. R. S. Dodson republican who declined and urged Mr. Nichols to continue. This was also the voice of Mr. Mullikin, republican. Mr. Nichols acquiesced and felt grateful for the compliment tendered.

The election of Prof. Alexander Chaplain again to the office of Examiner and Treasurer was a fitting compliment to his worth and record. Owing to the increased duties devolving upon the Examiner in connection with bringing the schools forward to date upon the all important feature of industrial training, the Board found it necessary to create a new Auxiliary and appointed Wilson M. Tylor, Supervising Principal of Industrial and Manual Training in the schools of Talbot. His duties begin Sept. 1st.

The board have so far eliminated all thought of favoritism from political stand points and seem to be determined to give an administration based solely upon the best course necessary to bring the schools of Talbot to greater perfection and to keep them from deterioration. The motto in substance is onward, upward and forward march.

The MASSACHUSETTS MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE Company, of Springfield, Mass.

The following lelter from Mr. N. M. Tabor, the well known Colorado millionaire is well worth your consideration:

Denver, Col., January 28, 1890.

GENTLEMEN:

In reply to your favor of the 25th asking for my estimate of the value of life insurance, I beg to say that I carry a large line for two reasons:

First, No man is infallible. Some misfortune that he cannot ward off may take from him his accumulated fortune, whether it be large or small; and a policy, such as I have, would afford a competence for old age.

Second, I consider that one dollar of cash to an estate in event of death will usually save two dollars to the estate.

Yours truly,

N. M. TABER.
