MEINTZER'S.

A Box of Meintzers

confectionary makes an acceptible gift at any time. When you offer a friend a box of our candy you feel sure of its quality; that it contains in store no disappointment for its recipient. It's the quality, the wholesomeness, the freshness that makes them so popular. Try "Our Own Make" of candies and be pleased.

A box of our assorted cakes are still beyond competition. They are in a class by themselves. From our own ovens every day,—that's what made them so.

The Long and Short of successful advertising now adays are the willingness and ability of the merchant to sell some things for less than his competitors, and ALL things as cheap as they can be bought elsewhere. There must be a "leader." The victim which we have marked this week for slaughter is our Queensware. We have some dainty odds and ends which we would like to show to bargain hunting heads of families.

Beautiful tea sets, decorated and graceful in design are the rage now. We'd like to show them to you whether or not you want to buy just now. You may want some later on. Old fashioned china has no place in our store. We aim to keep everything strictly up to date, and a little beyond when possible.

WYE RIVER OYSTERS.

Dispute Over a Boundary Line in The Waters of Queen Anne's and Talbot.

Captains Lou Tarr and Myer Fairbank, oystermen, who were arrested for illicit tonging in Wye river some time ago, by Captain Bryan, of the police schooner Frolic, waived a hearing and took the case to court. The tonging took place in Wye river. For some years there has been serious contention as to the jurisdiction of Queen Anne's and Talbot counties over the waters of the Wye river. The general law in regard to oystering in this river states that the main channel shall be the dividing line between the two counties. But through the efforts of Senator Dodson, during the last session of the Legislature, a local law was enacted which runs the dividing line between the two counties from a point on Paca's Island, in Queen Anne's county, directly to a point called Shipping Hole, in about the centre of Bennett Point, which is also in Queen Anne's county; thence in a line to a point on the southern end of Parson's Island, in Eastern bay. The waters included within this territory are considered the richest oystering grounds in this section of country.

Captain Bryan, of the Frolic, claims that Tarr and Fairbank were oystering in Queen Anne's waters, when they hold licences to oyster only in Talbot county waters. The oystermen holding that the local law is the law governing this section, claim they were in Talbot county waters, and were, therefore, not violating the law. The case was brought to test the validity of the local law. If the general law takes precedence of the local law, then the oystermen of Talbot county will be deprived of about 500 acres of the best oystering grounds in the State.

It is a case of great importance to the tongers of both counties and the sooner it is settled the better it will be, for arrests are constantly being made for what the tongers say is a great injustice.

Oystermen of this section are complaining greatly of the scarcity of oysters. The catch thus far has been small, and the oysters are of an inferior quality. The reason for this, they say, is that the finest grounds in the Miles river have been depleted in order to stock the grounds of the Delaware bay. Some time before the close of the last season one vessel carried as many as 16,000 bushels of oysters from Miles river to the Delaware bay. This means much to the town of St. Michaels, because the chief occupation of the greater part of the population is oystering. There are over 300 boats in the business there, that means an output of about $1,600 a week to the oystermen there. But if the oyster beds are to be exhausted entirely the people will be compelled to go to planting or seek some other means of livelihood. As things stand, our natural beds are depleted to build up plantations in other States, while our own oystermen set their faces against planting in Maryland.

William Willis For Congress.

Mr. Wm. Willis of St. Michaels, was nominated for Congress by the Silver Convention held in Baltimore on Thursday. Mr. Willis accepted the nomination in a graceful speech. Among the delegates from Easton and Talbot were:

Death of Mr. Wm. Goldsborough.

Mr. William Goldsborough, of Easton, dropped dead last Wednesday on Cortland street, near Washington street, New York city. Cerebral appoplexy was the cause of death. Mr. Charles Goldsborough a brother of the deceased, went to New York to take charge of the body, and accompany it to its final resting place in Easton, where the interment will be made this afternoon. About ten days ago Mr. Goldsborough left Baltimore to visit friends in Boston, and was on his way home when he died.

Mr, Goldsborough was fifty-five years of age, and was a son of the late Mr. William Goldsborough, who was a prominent and prosperous farmer of Talbot county. He was a nephew of Mr. George R. Goldsborough of Easton. Mr. Goldsborough was unmarried, and is survived by one brother—Mr. Charles Goldsborough, of Baltimore.

His death has spread another pall of grief over the community. Mr. Goldsborough was well known for his affability and sauvity of manner, his sincere friendship and his brilliancy of mind. He was polished in the art of elocution and could entertain an audienee by the hour.

MUSIC HALL THIS WINTER.

Plenty of First Class Amusments in Store for Us.

Mr. M. M. Higgins, Secretary of the Town Hall Association, told the GAZETTE reporter that on October 10th the now well known play "Back on the Farm" will be presented in Easton. The play is founded somewhat on the plan of the "Old Homestead," as it depicts the life on the farm with all its simplicity and homeliness. It introduces the ways of the bunco man and how an old farmer who thinks he is so smart and shrewd that he cannot be swindled by the sharpers, can be very easily taken in and robbed. There is a love romance wound into the plot, and the whole makes an interesting play. During the performance a number of clever specialties are introduced.

Most Complete Department Store in Easton.

We have just unpacked one of the largest assortments, as well as the most complete and latest styles of Men's Hats, direct from one of the largest hat manufacturers of New York. Among the lot we notice the

"Carroll" Hat,

$1.98. A most stylish and quick filling one that we sell for less that its worth. The

"Walbrook" Hat,

$1.48, and it would take an expert to detect its little difference from two dollar hats sold elsewhere. The

"Pemberton" Hat,

$1.50, and its equal we defy being sold for less anywhere. The latest style make. The

"Beaver" Hat

$1.50, just one of the finest looking in all the state, and quality is sure to satisfy. A fine

Doeskin Felt Derby

its equal can't be found for $1.25. Boy's Felt Derby, special, 98c. The International

Quaker Hat

$2.00, with broad brim, and black. A special size brim and crown so often sought for. Another Quaker Hat $1.35 one that's a little smaller brim and crown than the above, and the quality and appearance is the cause of us selling great quantities of them.
