Bowman's Orchestra Will Give a Benefit for Town Clock.

The Gazette's Suggestion is Promptly Acted Upon.

Will Begin Immediate Preparations for the Entertainment to be Given Soon.

THE Town Clock Committee have secured the active co-operation of that popular organization—Bowman's Orchestra, and with the amonnt already subscribed, and the receipts from their entertainment the town clock is assured.

The matter of a benefit entertainment was mentioned by the GAZETTE to individual members of the orchestra last week, who promised to receive the Committee at their next meeting. Accordingly Mr. Hooper waited upon them Thursday evening and asked the co-operation of the orchestra, and it was decided by a unanimous vote to give an entertainment on or before Thanksgiving Day for the benefit of the town clock,

This is a magnanimous thing on the part of the orchestra as it will not only require considerable time in preparation but it will also conflict with plans mapped out for fall and winter entertainment, and besides, will mean a pecuniary loss to them.

This, however, will cause the public to appreciate the orchestra the more, and will be an additional incentive to patronize the orchestra on all occasions.

The contributions to the fund this week have been large, the total now amounting to $510.00. Contributions of any amount are solicited.

Grand Secretary Jones Warmly Commends the Odd Fellows' Banquet.

Mr. John M. Jones, for the past 30 years Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Maryland of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, who was a guest of Miller Lodge, Easton, at its reception last week, writes his appreciation to the lodge as follows:

MY DEAR BRO. NICOLS—I desire to tender you and the committee having in charge the celebration of Miller Lodge, No. 18, I. O. O. F., my sincere thanks for the cordial reception I received and the excellent manner in which the exercises were conducted. The programme was excellent, there being commendable dignity displayed upon the occasion. The assemblage was the finest I have ever witnessed in my whole experience of one-quarter of a century that I have been your Grand Secretary. I trust your lodge may realize much good from so magnificent a display of the talent employed upon the occasion. I thank you personally for your kind attention shown me while present with you. Trusting you are well and happy, I am, as ever, your friend and brother, JOHN M. JONES, G. S.

Funeral of Mr. Wm. Goldsborough.

The funeral services of William Goldsborough were held at Myrtle Grove, Saturday, in Goldsborough's Neck, on Miles river, where he and his father were born, and in which was the seat of his grandfather, Robt. H. Goldsborough, the United States Senator. The interment was in the family graveyard at Ashby, the residence of his uncle, Mr. George R. Goldsborough, which adjoins Myrtle Grove. The Rev. Wadsworth Young Beaven, rector of All Saints' parish, officiated, assisted by Rev. Edward M. Hardcastle. The pallbearers were Dr. Edward R. Trippe, Dr. Charles H. Tilghman, M. T. Goldsborough, F. C. Goldsborough, Matthew Tilghman Goldsborough Earl, Matthew Tilghman Johnston, H. H. Balch and Henry Hollyday. The large family connection of the deceased and his close personal friends made a large funeral procession. Of the friends were Rev. L. B. Baldwin, Col. Edward Lloyd, Capt. Hedge Thompson, J. Thomas Kirby, Thomas P. Trippe, John C. Henry, Wm. H. Adkins, George E. Haddaway, Dr. E. M. Hardcastle, Dr. J. M. H. Bateman, Dr. Julius A. Johnson, Dr. James A. Stevens, C. Howard Lloyd, Lambert Kirby, Leavenworth Holden, Frederick P. Dimpfel, Col. Prentiss Ingraham and Frank Mellie, of Baltimore.

Rescued from a Lightning Rod.

Late Wednesday evening Mr. Ben McHale noticed a small chimney swallow hanging several inches below the sharp point of the lightning rod at the top of the brick building cornor Harrison and Dover streets. Friday morning he saw the same bird in its unfortunate predicament and as it seemed to be living, decided to attempt a rescue of the little creature After some difficulty he scaled the roof of the building and reaching up some feet above the top of the chimney, took the little bird from the rod. It had pierced itself through the muscels of the leg and was firmly fastened until removed by the gentle hand of Mr. McHale. The rescue attracted much attention. The bird being too weak to fly, Mr. McHale took it home to feed and nourish back to health and strength.

Valuable Court Papers Destroyed.

Since the Court House has been undergoing repairs it was noticed that the rains had dampened the walls of the vaults to such an extent that the record books were becoming badly damaged with mould. To obviate this in the vault of the Orphans' Court and Register's office there was placed an oil stove to dry the atmosphere. On Thursday last the workmen saw smoke issuing therefrom and upon inspection discovered that the centre table and valuable papers of last Tnesday's meeting, unfiled and unrecorded, were charred and worthless. Not even a kuowledge of what they were remains. It is feared at least one unrecorded will is burned.

How to Prevent Croup

We have two children who are subject to attacks of croup. Whenever an attack is coming on my wife gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it always prevents the attack. It is a household necessity in this county and no matter what else we run out of, it would not do to be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. More of it is sold here than of all other cough medicines combined.—J. M. NICKLE, of Nickle Bros., merchants, Nickleville, Pa. For sale by Harry Roberts.

MAJOR JAMES C. MULLIKIN,

TALBOT'S MOST WIDELY KNOWN SOLDIER AT HOME.

He Relates Many Interesting Experiences of Army Life—Thinks Our Military Most Admirably Provided For.

MAJOR JAMES C. MULLIKIN, Commissary of the Second Division of the Third Army Corps, now stationed at Anniston, Ala., was home several days this week and returned last evening. The Major never looked better and graces his uniform admirably. He talked interestingly to the GAZETTE reporter of his experiences, and when asked as to discussions now in public print as to the conduct of the war he said he was amused and annoyed at some of the criticisms. In his opinion there has never been an army in the history of the world so well taken care of as our boys have been. Said he:

"I remember that it made a great impression on me when I went to Chickamauga and saw the privates there sleeping in wall tents with cots and board floors, and saw what they were given for rations. In the last war brigadier-generals even did not have wall tents frequently, and many and many a time have I seen a brigadier-general sleeping on the ground with nothing over him but a single blanket and his staff sleeping around him.

"War means privation and loss of the luxuries of life. I know that the men with whom I have been thrown into contact have had plenty of good food, and I don't mean only the men of my division, but of the whole Army corps. You know there are always kickers, and plenty of them, everywhere. A camp of volunteers is always full of them, and usually they are not the men who are more accustomed to the luxuries of life. It is always the fellow who has least cause for kicking who does most of it. Then, too, the men don't recognize that certain things are good for them while others are not.

They Would Kick Anyway.

Take a company of 100 volunteers for instance, and feed them with the most up-to-date army rations that money could buy and at least 25 per cent of them would kick like steers, for those rations would probably consist of fresh and salt meat on alternate days. Beans, rice, potatoes, cabbage and onions they would probaby consider not very tasty vegetables, but these are probably what would be ordered for them, with of course occasional tastes of something a little better.

"We are or were a nation almost totally unprepared for war. It was with the greatest difficulty that appropriations could be obtained from Congress for the bare necessities of the Army. We were not equipped with modern guns nor ammunition, nor could we get them as fast as we needed them; we did not have the proper kind of clothes for fighting and living in a tropical country; we had no experience in feeding equipping and moving a big army of 300,000 men, but we did the best we could and next time we will do better.

"There is still another reason why there has been more complaint from among the volunteers than I believe has been warranted by the occasion. The men have all been anxious to get to the front, and it has worn upon their good nature frightfully to be obliged to stay in camp and see the others getting all the glory and excitement and honor. Then there has been a great deal of sickness, especially malaria, which has made them petulant and complaining, and more likely to growl than they would have been had they been more actively at work.

The Major hopes to be in Easton again during the coming session of court, provided he is not in Porto Rico or Cuba at that time. His experience during the late war has been valuable to him in the performance of his present duties.

"The Devil at Work."

When the September term of the Cecil Court began on Monday, with Judges Pearce, Martin and Stump on the bench, the court appointed William Smithers foreman of the grand jury. Judge Stump, in his charge to the jury, said the devil had been at work for the past six months in Cecil county and while it was impossible to reach him directly, his agents could be reached. They are responsible, and he stated, he hoped the grand jury would give patient and careful investigation to all matters, as some action would have to be taken to put a stop to crime. He reviewed the passing of the anti-poolselling and gambling laws, but stated that his attention had been called to the running of a wheel of fortune in Port Deposit by a secret organization.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. 'Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. Thus writes W. C. Hamnick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at Dr. Councell's Pharmacy. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

EASTON THIRTY YEARS AGO.

INTERESTING EVENTS TRANSPIRING IN 1862.

Mr. Wm. Goldsborough's Noted Powers of Elocution—Sale of the "Villa"—Dr. Trippe Begins to Practice—Fire.

THE death of Wm. Goldsborough last week and his well-known abilities as an elocutionist will render the following item, taken from the GAZETTE of August 9th, 1862, of interest. It will be seen that even as a young schoolboy Mr. Goldsborough stood out among his fellows as an orator of abilty:

"An examination of the pupils of the Easton Academy took place on Thursday and Friday last, in the presence of the Board of Trustees, parents and visitors. The examination in both the English and Classical Department was very thorough and satisfactory, the boys evincing a masterly training in all the rudiments.

"On Thursday night the pupils of the English Department, under Wm. H. D. C. Harper, Esq., gave an exhibition in declamation at the Town Hall, which was largely attended and elicited the praise of the audience, the boys all doing themselves much credit in going through their various parts. This school has very much improved since it has been under the charge of Mr. Harper.

"On Friday afternoon the young gentlemen of the Classical Department, under the charge of M. Spencer, Esq., in the presence of a crowded house, read their original compositions and delivered the original speeches, prepared for the occasion. These efforts were highly creditable to the school. The oration on the character of Cæsar, by Master Richard Goldsborough, was well written and delivered with force, and would have done credit to a much older head. The valedictory, by Master Willie Goldsborough, was delivered so gracefully that he was solicited to recite a poem, the audience selecting 'The Ruins of Palmyra.' This he recited with peculiar grace, his fine musical voice, with felicitous enunciation, bringing out the finer parts of the poem in a manner to call forth the raptures of the audience.

"At the conclusion of the exhibitions on Thursday night and Friday afternoon, Col. Hambleton, on behalf of the Board of Trustees, expressed great satisfaction at the proficiency the scholars are making in their various studies, and the manner in which both departments of the institution are conducted.

Real Estate Transfers in 1862.

The extreme old age of the GAZETTE renders a perusal of its early files most interesting. An item in the issue of July 26, 1862, recites that "the beautiful 'Villa' built a few years since near Miles River bridge, in this county, by Col. Richard France, and purchased a year ago by Thomas P. Williams, Esq., has lately been sold by Mr. W. to the Hon. Henry May, of Baltimore, for the sum of $30,500 cash. Mr. May has moved over and intends becoming a citizen of Talbot county. We learn that he has also bought of Dr. Earle the Fausley Wood estate, located adjacent to the Villa, 350 acres, for $9,500. This addition to the Villa will make it one of the finest estates on the Eastern Shore."

A Rising Young Physician.

The issue of May 3, 1862, gives this notice, that "Dr. E. R. Trippe offers his professional services to the people of Easton and vicinity. Dr. Trippe is a young gentleman with many warm personal friends in the county, who will not fail to remember him when they wish the services of a physician. We wish him success and commend him to the favor of our readers."

Swept by the "Devouring Element."

Quite a large fire broke out during the latter part of May of the same year, and the issue of the 24th said:

"About 8 o'clock Sunday night the alarm of fire was given in town, when suddenly the churches were all emptied, and men, women and children, in great alarm, rushed to the fire, which originated in the stabling of I. C. W. Powell, Esq., on Harrison street. In a few minutes the whole of Mr. Powell's stabling was consumed. The adjoining stabling of Mr. G. C. Mackey, in the tenancy of Mr. Samuel T. Kennard, was the next building on fire, and in a short time it, too, was in ruins. The stabling of Charles Robinson, adjoining Mackey's, was on fire, but fortunately the flames were extinguished, before much damage was done. The wind being south at the time, it blew the sparks across the alley and set fire to the stabling of Mr. J. W. Cheezum, which was also consumed. At one time there were several dwellings on fire, but fortunately the flames were extinguished before any serious damage was done. The stabling of the Union Hotel was also on fire, but the prompt exertions of the proprietor and firemen saved it. There was considerable corn and provender consumed in the stabling of Messrs. Powell and Cheezum. We have not yet learned whether there is any insurance upon the property destroyed or not, but think it probable that there is on a part of it. The fire made a big hole on Harrison street, and at one time threatened to consume a large portion of the town. Had the wind been high at the time, there is no doubt that a large portion of the business part of the town would have been laid in ashes. The fire engines were all in good order, and everybody, black and white, appeared to exert themselves to the utmost to extinguish the flames and prevent the fire from spreading. We learn that several persons were quite exhausted from excessive labor, and that one negro boy was badly injured by a fall. The fire is believed to be the work of an incendiary, and as Court is in session, the Grand Jury will doubtless give the matter a sifting in order to bring the guilty to justice."

Oehm's Acme Hall.

Months ago we started planning and buying for this Fall. Skill, time, brains, capital, all have borne the burden together and the combination has worked wonders. Oehm's Acme Hall today is better, larger, brighter and more up to date than ever before. Every department has had a thorough going over. Old goods are gone, everything is new, clean and in the latest mode.

Fashion's newest fancies are mirrored here, and every best style is shown. Hats, Shoes, Furnishings, Clothing, Underwear, Shirts, Athletic Goods, everything in fact, that a man or boy needs or wants to wear is here and cannot be bought elsewhere for a cent less than Oehm's Acme Hall sells it for. The location at Baltimore and Charles streets makes Oehm's Acme Hall the most central store in Baltimore. Every car line passes the door. Retiring and Waiting Rooms, Lounging and Reading Rooms for Ladies, and the same with Smoking Room for men, are free to all who wish to use them.

PAID IN TALBOT $30,000 IN A MONTH.

The Great Record of the New York Life Insurance Company.

Mr. W. H. Gibson, General Agent New York Life Insurance Co., has received the following letter:

EASTON, MD., Sept. 15, 1898.
Mr. W. H. Gibson, General Agent New York Life Insurance Co., Centreville, Md.

MY DEAR SIR:—I beg to acknowledge this day receipt of check of New York Life Insurance Company in my favor for six thousand, six hundred and eleven 95 100 dollars, in settlement of a 15 year tontine policy on my life for $5000 that matured Sept. 10th, 1898. I am well satisfied with this investment, as I have been fully insured all these fifteen years, and now receive back all I have paid in and a reasonable interest besides. The prompt payment of this policy and the superior management of a Company to produce such favorable results must commend it to the public, and I advise all my friends to take a policy in this Company, believing they consult their own best interests by doing so. Very truly yours, ROBERT B. DIXON.

Another instance showing the benefit of insurance in the New York Life will be the payment by Mr. Gibson of a policy held by a gentleman in Talbot county. The policy in question was issued fifteen years ago for the sum of $15,000. At maturity the Company made the three following propositions: First, $15,000 in cash and an annuity of $300 during life; second, $19,465 in cash; third, a paid up policy of $41,000 payable at death. The second proposition was accepted. Upon the payment of this sum Mr. Gibson will have paid in cash for insurance within a month in Talbot over $30,000.

A CLEVER SCHEME.

The Plan Adopted by the Talbot Fair Approved.

The Horseman in a recent issue has the following interesting items of local importance:

One of the most clever schemes for advertising fairs is the Fair Supplement. The idea originated in the mind of M. M. Higgins, ex-secretary at Easton, Md., and the work was composed by C. W. Baker, a prominent attorney of that town. The Fair Supplement is arranged like a supplement to the ordinary local newspaper and is mailed with every copy in the section interesting to subscribers. The Fair Supplement is so arranged that every department is advertised with cuts and matter appropriate.

C. S. Dunham has some promising youngsters that are now being worked at Easton, Md., among them Linkwood Boy, a three-year-old pacer, by Linkwood Chief, 2:17¼—Lady Harrington, by Hannibal; second dam by Morgan Black Hawk. This colt is quite clever, has been worked but 30 days and is showing miles in 2:25. Another good one is Margaret C., by Silverman, son of Onward, dam Alice Oates. This filly promises to give some of the youngsters trouble before snow flies. He also has Watchman, by Direct, 2:05¼—Dexter Princess, 2:24½, by Dexter Prince.

FLAG PRESENTATION.

A Patriotic Order Donates the Stars and Stripes to Upper Tilghman School.

For the GAZETTE.

Friday, the 23rd inst., was a red letter day in the history of the Upper Tilghman School. On that day Tilghman Council, O. U. A. M., presented to the school a fine large flag, and whenever the school is in session that flag now flies above it. The presentation speech was made by Mr. Calvert Stein, of Baltimore, and was one of the best it has ever been the writer's good fortune to hear. It was both eloquent and patriotic and just suited the occasion. Although a very young man, Mr. Stein has great ability and is sure to make his mark. It fell to the lot of Mr. Charles G. Davis, to make the speech of acceptance, which was very brief. Then while the Glee Club sang the "Star-Spangled Banner" the flag was run up amid the applause of the people assembled to see the ceremonies. Mr. Charles H. Stein, of Baltimore, then made an address on the objects and aims of the O. U. A. M., plentifully interspersed with patriotic allusions, and was both entertaining and instructive. Then followed more patriotic songs, a recitation, "The American Flag," by Miss Elsie Lowery, more singing and a few well chosen remarks by Mr. E. R. Jump, principal of the school, after which we had a veritable feast of music. The attendance, both juvenile and adult, was large and enthusiastic. Too much credit cannot be given to those who arranged the programme, which was perfect in detail, nor to the young ladies and gentlemen who composed the Glee Club. We would like to have a flag presentation at least once a week.

It will not be amiss to state here that our teachers are overworked. The school house is only intended for eighty pupils, forty in each room, while the average since the school opened is above eighty and steadily increasing. We need another teacher and need one very much.
