"THE SIGN OF THE CROSS."

Wilson Barrett's Powerful Drama Will Appear in Baltimore Next Week.

All lovers of Bible history; all true and devout disciples of the Christian religion; all pious and sincere believers in the truth of the Redemption; may behold Wilson Barrett's great spectacle of the victories of the Christian faith as a study in history and a picture of the momentous event in the world's transpirings, and they may behold it next week, beginning Monday evening the 31st inst., at the Academy of Music in Balto., whither it is brought by the generous management of that house and where it will be presented with all the magnificence, accuracy and historical detail which characterized its original production in London, where it ran continuously for over two years, and where it exercised the strongest possible influence upon the good Christian people of England's capital.

Nor has the influence of "The Sign of the Cross" terminated with its British triumphs, for it has already toured our own country, disseminating its pure and lofty purpose, and unfolding its matchless pictures of ancient history, and its return this season after having submitted to the crucial examination and discussion of the clergy of all denominations, who concur with the scholarly judges of dramatic art, that it is one of the most elevating and ennobling plays that has ever been produced, and is worthy the studious attendance of religiously minded people everywhere.

The great role of Marcus Superbus will again be enacted by that great artist, Mr. Charles Dalton; Miss Irene Rooke will be again seen in the matchless character of the Christian Maiden, Mercia; while Miss Warrilow will enact the role of the boy Stephanus, and the part of Nero will be taken by Mr. W. E. Bonney who previously interpreted it with such marvelous reality.

The Academy of Music will stage "The Sign of the Cross" as only the Academy can stage such majestic pictures of realism and pomp. Messrs. Nixon & Zimmerman have instructed their artists to spare no labor nor expense in furnishing the most truthful pictures of the scenes of the play that it is possible for art to furnish; so that the presentation of "The Sign of the Cross" this season will excel all its previous representations. And those who appeared in it last season unanimously declared that in no house in the country were the opportunities for effectiveness so unparalleled as in the Academy of Music of Baltimore.

In order to afford those living throughout the state every opportunity to get into Baltimore during the week of the 31st, to behold "The Sign of the Cross" two afternoon performances will be given on Wednesday and Saturday; and the curtain will be rung up each night sufficiently early to terminate the play betimes so that out-of-town patrons can take late trains home. Seats may be secured by mail, telegraph or telephone and the management of the Academy of Music guarantee the same careful attention to such orders as if the parties called in person; and they will be reserved for any evening, or for Wednesday or Saturday matinee.

Beyond question a large party will be made up for "The Sign of the Cross" from this locality, and Messrs. Nixon and Zimmerman desire us to state that seats for any party, however large, (so that all may sit together and thus form a sort of family gathering, and feel infinitely more at home,) may be ordered in advance by mail, telegraph or telephone and we earnestly urge all church societies to deputize their pastor to make such arrangements and act as chaperon for the party, thereby permitting Bible students the privilege of a lifetime, the never-to-be-forgotten opportunity to witness "The Sign of the Cross."

How to Prevent Croup

We have two children who are subject to attacks of croup. Whenever an attack is coming on my wife gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it always prevents the attack. It is a household necessity in this county and no matter what else we run out of, it would not do to be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. More of it is sold here than of all other cough medicines combined.—J. M. NICKLE, of Nickle Bros., merchants, Nickleville, Pa. For sale by Harry Roberts.

F. A. SHANNAHAN,

The MASSACHUSETTS MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE Company, of Springfield, Mass.

The following letter from Mr. N. M. Tabor, the well known Colorado millionaire is well worth your consideration:

Denver, Col., January 28, 1890.

GENTLEMEN:

In reply to your favor of the 25th asking for my estimate of the value of life insurance, I beg to say that I carry a large line for two reasons:

First, No man is infallible. Some misfortune that he cannot ward off may take from him his accumulated fortune, whether it be large or small; and a policy, such as I have, would afford a competence for old age.

Second, I consider that one dollar of cash to an estate in event of death will usually save two dollars to the estate.

Yours truly,
N. M. TABER.
