State Raises $182,216.19 In Seal Sale

The first state-wide report on the 1954 Christmas Seal Sale reveals that $182,216.19 has been raised in Maryland for tuberculosis control work, since the campaign opened on November 22.

Dr. Russell A. Nelson, president of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, reported today that a total of $100,670.29 had been raised by the county associations as of December third, the last reporting date. In Baltimore City, as of December 9th, $81,545.91 had been returned to Christmas Seal Headquarters by more than 36,000 Baltimores, who had purchased Christmas Seals. These returns were slightly ahead of last year's campaign for the same date, according to Dr. Nelson, who expressed confidence that the record amount of last year's campaign will be reached this year, if generous public support of the Christmas Seal Sale continues.
