

Navy's Muscle Man

Designed to make the American sailor the most physically perfect sea fighter in the world, the U. S. navy's physical education program got off to a fine start when Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox appointed Lieut. Commander Jas. J. Tunney, U. S. N. R., to be head man. Already the program is showing wonderful results. These pictures take you to the naval operating base at Norfolk, Va., when Tunney gave his personal attention to the program. Right—Lt. Tunney arrives at office.

The youngster standing in front of Tunney can now proudly boast he "put 'em up" to the undefeated heavyweight champion of the world.

Tunney (left) prescribes for the "buy window" acquired by a rookie sailor, who will soon become "streamlined."

Swimming is a required part of the curriculum meets with unanimous approval.

UPS AND DOWNS . . . Lt. Comdr. Tunney supervises one of the exercises of his program here. Instructors are college trained physical experts who will carry out the new program inaugurated by Tunney at the various naval training stations.

Leading the morning exercises which are part of the daily drill schedule, Tunney goes through all the exercises himself before asking his charges to do them.

Tunney watches Uncle Sam's new sailors turn out, make up their beds and put all their gear in order.

Star Dust

STAGE SCREEN-RADIO

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

JANE WYMAN and Regis Toomey have teamed to shatter all records for the screen's longest kiss — it lasted three minutes and five seconds, and you'll see it in Warner Bros.' "You're in the Army Now." The former record was held by Ann Sheridan and George Brent. Jane and Regis, seated on a hard piano bench, were told just to keep on kissing till told to stop, while Donald McBride, playing Jane's father (as well as an army colonel), discussed military problems. First thing they knew, they'd set a new record.

Old-timers may remember "Humoresque," which was filmed way back in 1920 with Alma Rubens, Vera Gordon and Gaston Glass. It's coming back to the screen, this time probably with John Garfield in the Gaston Glass role, that of a violinist whose career is cut short by military conscription.

Fred MacMurray was too young for the last war, so he didn't know what it feels like to crawl through barbed wire entanglements till just the other day. He had to plunge through chicken wire for a scene in "The Lady Is Willing," the new Columbia comedy he's making with Marlene Dietrich. The wire merely surrounded some rabbits, but when he got out he felt as if he'd been through several wars.

Margaret Hayes isn't wearing backless evening gowns just now; probably won't for some time. As the female spy in "The Lady Has Plans" she had to have the design of a radio-controlled torpedo drawn on her back. Theoretically, according to the script, the ink is removed with a chemical which makes the plans invisible till another chemical agent causes them to reappear. Margaret was told by the prop man that she needn't worry, but she has no faith in trick chemicals.

Of course you'll want to see "Mr. Bug Goes to Town," the feature-length cartoon on which Dave Fleisher and his staff of 700 animators and artists have been working for the past 10 months. Here's some inside information on it. Fleisher figures that an entire painting of a scene or character must be made for every one twenty-fourth of a second the feature is being projected on the screen. Breaking down his budget of $1,000,000 in terms of running time, that comes to $9 per frame, or picture. "Mr. Bug Goes to Town" is a drama of insect life.

Incidentally, Miss Dietrich would like to make it very clear that the jewelry she wears in that picture doesn't belong to her. The $500,000 worth of gems were shipped from New York, and half an hour after they were sent from a jewelry store to the studio the shop was robbed. So the glamorous Marlene hired a couple of body guards and let it be known that when it's not before the cameras it's in a bank.

Radio's Fibber McGee and Molly are about to lose their privacy. As Mr. and Mrs. J. Jordan they haven't got a single rise out of an autograph hound. But with millions of screen fans seeing them on the screen in "Look Who's Laughing," along with Edgar Bergen and Lucille Ball, they're sure to be recognized wherever they go.

Critics of dramatic schools say that they're no place to learn to act. Paramount's "Gun for Hire" has three answers to that. They are (1) Veronica Lake, (2) Robert Preston, (3) Alan Ladd. All three went to dramatic schools.

ODDS AND ENDS—Victor Mature will be seen as a gangster in Fox's "Highway in Hell," with Pat O'Brien . . . When George Brent was ill recently Ann Sheridan sent him roses frequently; he had them made into perfume, which he sent her . . . Harold Lloyd has picked Kay Kyser to star in "My Favorite Spy," his new production . . . Orson Welles has signed Dolores Costello for the leading role in "The Magnificent Ambersons" . . . Richard Barthelme, once a screen favorite, returns for an important role in RKO's "The Mayor of 44th Street" . . . Melvyn Douglas woos Garbo in "Two-Faced Women," and Norma Shearer in "We Were Dancing."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To clean fireplace bricks, cover them with a paste made of powdered pumice and household ammonia. Let dry for an hour, then scrub with warm soapy water.

A little black pepper will bring out the flavor of cantaloupes.

Scouring powder will remove stains from old dishes, such as tea and coffee cups, and make them like new.

To keep books on shelves or in cases in good condition sprinkle them occasionally with powdered camphor.

A few tablespoons of chopped sweet red and green peppers makes cole slaw and other salads attractive and adds much to their flavor.

Glycerin will remove tea and coffee stains from table linen. Rub spots with glycerin and let stand a few minutes, then wash linen in the usual way.

THE most practical kind of pinafore aprons may be quickly and easily made with today's pattern. This clever style buttons in back so that the shoulder straps stay firmly in place and never
