

"THE COUNTRY NEWSPAPER"

"I am the country newspaper. I am the friend of the family, the bringer of tidings from other friends. I speak to the home in the evening, on a summer's vine clad porch, or in the glow of a winter's lamp. I help to make this evening hour. I record the great and the small, the varied acts of the days and weeks that go to make up life. I am for and of the home; I follow those who leave humble beginnings; whether they go to greatness or to the gutter, I take them the thrill of the old days, with wholesome messages. I speak the language of the common man. My words are fitted to his understanding. My congregations are larger than that of any church in my town. My readers are more than those of the school— young and old alike find in me, stimulation, solace, comfort. I am the chronicler of man's existence. I bring together buyer and seller to the benefit of both. I am part of the market place of the world. Into the home I carry word of the goods which feed and clothe and shelter and which minister comfort, health and happiness. I am the word of the week, the history of the year, the record of my community in the archives of the state and nation. I am the lives of my readers. I AM THE COUNTRY NEWSPAPER."

War is today's biggest consumer of alcohol.

It uses alcohol in every shell fired, every bomb dropped, every torpedo launched, in every one of the thousands of plastics that go into the construction of ships and planes.

Two hundred million gallons a year is a conservative estimate of our Government's alcohol needs at this time.

Of the thirty million gallons that Maryland will supply, the Distilling Industry will produce an important part.
