

THE YOUNGER SET

Why do most boys wait until after the lights go out, in the movies, and then make a dash to sit beside the girl? Why not come out in the open, boys?

You should hear some of the parents discussing some of the movies they go to. They don't entirely disown the picture—it's the couple who sit in front of them—as kiddie do your "loving somewhere else" instead of the movie.

Boy, boys, why not buy a spot light they use in the lobby. Especially when it comes to parked cars. Honey!

Did you know some adagio girls have to ask a fellow to take them out and they have nerve enough to refuse. Also some, how just some, of the boys don't ask a girl to dance and only dance when a girl asks them. What's the world coming to?

That reminds me why it is most couples meet all of them out in the open at school dances. Thought you paid 25 cents to dance?

A certain female from Baltimore will always go to the school dances alone. Why can't he give in and learn to dance. It should learn to play music.

Everybody is wondering if a certain "Reddy" from Cheshire was vaccinated with a talking machine needle. He sure does sound like it.

Really jumping around in different subjects this week, but have you?

Quite a few people would like to know if Madame Tsvet's really put that dead in her father's box. What's the matter, Madame. Did a telephone pole walk out in front of you?

What happened in the big wedding that was to come off in December and didn't? It was between two such people from Cheshire. The big question is coming now—When is it coming up? Boy! Boy! Boy! Boy!

Changing the subject again, would like to know where a fellow from Queenstown gets all his news in relation to a fellow from Baltimore? It's beyond realization! He can't be everywhere at once.

Well, it looks like Edward Thompson was in cutting out Charles Thomas! E. T. isn't even leaving an evening for Charles to find her name. What happened to the night school teacher, E. T. Also why are you giving M. L. O. the word knows knock off? That's not nice!

Don't you wish you had a twenty three year old cousin like a certain person in Silverdale says she has?

E. M. who is that fellow you're getting mail from in Queenstown? Is it your cousin??

I wonder who this certain "Gee" is that calls Betty up twice a day while she is in school.

E. P. what is that tale that they are talking about you and your cousin with bones on it?

A certain fellow girl has a habit of sitting in the line. Don't you think that that is hard?

E. R. what is that we hear about you getting married in that certain fellow who is on his way home from the South Pacific?

W. H. M. hope there's no hard feeling about "The pronger" but only a teasing you!

Bye Bye!

F. &amp; S.'s BIRTHDAY

Today is his birthday. This has to be.

His influence guided the world's foremost powers; His wisdom and courage, his love and kind heart, will live down through the ages. 'Til all men depart.

Today is his birthday, and somehow we know

That he is aware, we have conquered the foe. He longed for peace, and died for it too.

He gave his all, to America and the world.

Today is his birthday, and some everywhere. Remember this man, whom they'll always hold dear. Remember what he gave, to the children of men. Today is his birthday. God bless him again. Devlin, Wrightman, Foster

IN MEMORIAM

LITTLETON—Just one year ago today, January 26, 1945, our dear father, John L. Littleton, passed away. No one knows how much we miss you.

Although it is only one year today but it seems centuries or ages. Since you left us to go away.

But you memory is just as dear as it was that mid-February day. It was early in the morning. When the angels came to say: You have done your best. John now it is time to rest.

You looked around the room. And then you looked at mother. And a light shone in your eyes. I like it this way, I wouldn't have it otherwise.

By his five daughters, three sons and grandchildren, Mrs. George Littleton.

DON'T BE ADVERTISED
TAX
DELINQUENT

All those who haven't paid their 1945 State, County and School taxes will be advertised in the newspapers as tax delinquents. The law requires the County Treasurer of Queen Anne's County to publish the names of all delinquent taxpayers.

Friday, February 8, 1946

is the deadline, and all taxpayers who have not paid their taxes will be advertised as tax delinquents, and new penalties and interest are added.

No one ever saves money by not paying taxes promptly. Your tax bill grows bigger every day it remains unpaid. If we can help you with information, call on us. We'll co-operate all we can. Remember, it is easier to keep up with taxes than catch up with them. Try your utmost to prevent being advertised a tax delinquent.
