vs
Edward Nicholls

Debt
Edward Nicholls claiming certain discounts that ought to be allowed out of the amount of the sum awarded against him, and for which judgment is entered in this Case Viz: that he ought to have credit for a Bond heretofore passed by said E L Wailes to the said E Nicholls and also a claim for certain arrearages offered put into the hand of E. L Wailes for collection as Sheriff of Prince Georges County. Now it is hereby agreed that whatever sum or sums of money Samuel Heffner and James Alexander Magruder of Upper Marlborough shall under the hand on a before the 1.st of Sept.r next say ought to be discounted from the amount of the above award by reason of the two before mentioned claims, shall be allowed and credited thereon.

May 19.th 1796 Philip B Key for Plff Edw.d Nicholls

Benjamin Morton a subject of the King of Great Britain appears in open Court, and it appearing to the satisfaction of the court that he had resided within the limits and under the juris diction of the United States previous to the passage of the act of the congress of the United States of America passed at a second session of the third Congress began and held at the city of Philadelphia in the state of Pensylvania on Monday the third day of November seventeen hundred and ninety four entitled 'An act to establish an uniform rule of naturalization and to repeal the act heretofore passed on that subject' and that during the term of two years he has behaved as a man of good moral character, attached to the constitution of the United States and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same. The said Benjamin Morton is naturalized a citizen of the United States of America by taking the oath required by the said act, to wit: That he has resided two years at least within and under the Jurisdiction of the United States, and one year at least within the state of Maryland; that he will support the constitution of the United States; and that he doth absolutely and entirely renounce and abjure all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, state or sovereignty whatever, and particularly to the King of Great Britain, whereof he was before a subject. Whereupon the said Benjamin Morton is admitted by the court here to become a citizen of the United States and is hereafter to be deemed adjudged and taken for a natural born citizen of the United States of America, according to the provisions contained in the said act.

Louis Bouquet a native of Switzerland appears in open Court, and it appearing to the satisfaction of the court that he had resided within the limits and under the Jurisdiction of the United States, previous to the passage of the act of the congress of the United States of America passed at a second session of the third Congress began and held at the city of Philadelphia in the state of Pensylvania on Monday the third day of November seventeen hundred and ninety four, entitled 'an act to establish an uniform rule of naturalization; and to repeal the act heretofore passed on that subject' and that during the term of two years he has behaved as a man of good moral character, attached to the constitution of the United States and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same. The said Louis Bouquet is naturalized a citizen of the United States of America by taking the oath required by the said act, to wit: That he has resided two years at least within and under the jurisdiction of the United States and one year at least within the state of Maryland; that he will support the constitution of the United States; and that he doth absolutely and entirely renounce and abjure all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate state or sovereignty whatever, and particularly to the republic of Switzerland whereof he was before a citizen. Whereupon the said Louis Bouquet is admitted by the court here to become a citizen of the United States and is hereafter to be deemed, adjudged and taken for a natural born citizen of the United States of America, according to the provisions contained in the said act.
