Centreville Packet.

Captains James & Thomas Dawson,

RETURN their grateful acknowledgments to the public for the encouragement they have heretofore received in running their Packet between Centreville and Baltimore, and now inform them that they have ready for business, an elegant safe, and commodious new Schooner (called the CORSICA) built of the best materials, and fitted up in a superior stile for the accommodation of Passengers.—Capt. Nicholas Meeds having entered into partnership jointly with them, will command the Corsica, and commence running the latter part of this month, starting from Centreville landing on Wednesday at 9 o'clock, and will leave Baltimore at the same hour on Saturday in every week during the season.

They have also taken that large commodious granary at Corsica landing, formerly the property of Henry Pratt Esq. which is repaired and fitted up in the most substantial manner, for the reception and storage of grain, where the Schooner EXPEPIMENT, commanded by Captain Thomas Dawson, will attend for the conveyance of it to market—and will also attend at any place on Chester River or Corsica Creek, for the same purpose, at the shortest notice.

As the Packet will be furnished with the best Liquors and accommodations the market can afford, and every attention paid by Captain Meeds to render general satisfaction, they hope to obtain the patronage of a generous public.

NICHOLAS MEEDS,
THOMAS DAWSON.

GREAT REWARDS

For apprehending two runaway Negro Men, (VIZ.)

NEGRO ABRAM, who now calls himself Sam. Lloyd: Abram eloped in the Autumn of 1797, from the subscriber, living in Ann-Arundle county, State of Maryland, and crossed the Bay to the Eastern Shore, and has been seen frequently about Bridge-Town, at the head of Great Choptank River—He is a short thick fellow, and about fifty years of age—from his long absence, it is impossible to give a particular description of this fellow. I will give the half of what this fellow may sell for to any one who may apprehend and secure him so that I get him again.

LOUDON absconded sometime in the month of December last—he also crossed the Bay to Dorchester county, was taken up and committed to goal in the town of Cambridge—he together with some other prisoners eloped from goal about the 30th of January last, and went off. Loudon is very remarkable, there being not a whole finger on his right hand, which was caused by a burn when a boy, he is very black, bends forwards much in his knees, and is about twenty-seven years of age—He took away a variety of cloathing which cannot be particularly described. Fifty dollars will be paid to any person who will apprehend and secure Loudon in any goal, so that I get him again.

THOMAS TONGUE.

RUNAWAY NEGRO.

RANAWAY from the subscriber on the 25th January 1810, a dark mulatto man named George Haskins, sometimes calls himself George Lloyd—He is rather more than six feet high, has a small scar across his nose, one on his forehead between his eye-brow and hair, he has one on the back of his leg occasioned by the cut of a scythe: has holes in his ears for bobs, and when he absconded had oval gold bobs in them. His clothes was a light brown cloth coat, two striped linsey jackets, one red and white, and the other blue and white—deep blue stockings with red clocks: it is unnecessary to say more of his clothing, as he is a great trafficker and may change them; he is a tolerable good fiddler and took one with him, also a gun, which he may sell to purchase drink, as he is very fond of it, and when disguised with it, is very fond of talking, and a great laugher, and very noisey.—He is a very strait well made person, and thought handsome: he borrowed a pair of boots which he wore away—he is very artful and active, and unless sharply watched and well confined (if taken) will certainly get away. I will give 30 dollars if taken in this county, 40 dollars if taken in the next county, and 50 dollars if any further distance, and all reasonable charges I will pay if he is brought to Easton, and safely delivered to Captain John Meredith, or confined in goal.
