east eighty two perches to the beginning tree of said resurvey on Smiths Hills then by and with the gwein line of said resurvey on Smiths Hills reversed north eighty eight degrees west sixty three perches to the end of the twenty eighth and last course of said resurvey on Smiths Hills then by and with the said course reversed north ten degrees east fifty perches then north sixty three degrees west one hundred and thirty five perches to the end of sixty eight perches on the third line of thirty five acres of land part of a tract of land called Abstons Forest conveyed by Joseph Chapline to John Reynolds on or about the thirteenth day of April seventeen hundred and sixty five then by and with said third line south eighty two degrees west eighty two perches to the end of the said third line then by and with the fourth line thereof north thirteen degrees west thirty three perches to the fourth line of a tract of land called Andersons Delight then by and with said fourth line south eighty two degrees west forty eight perches to the thirty third line of The Resurvey on The Addition to Piles Delight then by and with said thirty third line south forty three degrees east ninety four perches to the end of said thirty third line then by and with the out lines of said resurvey on The Addition to Piles Delight the five following courses viz. south nine degrees west one hundred and forty perches south thirteen degrees east forty perches south fifty four degrees east one hundred and twenty perches south seventeen degrees east twenty eight perches south forty degrees west eighteen perches to the gwein line of a tract of land called Abstons Forest granted Francis Abston on or about the twenty ninth day of November seventeen hundred and forty two then by and with said gwein line north seventy three and a quarter degrees west fifty five perches to the bounded tree of said Abstons Forest then by and with the first line of said land south forty eight degrees west six perches to the forty first line of the aforesaid resurvey on Addition to Piles Delight then by and with said line north fifty five degrees west eleven perches to the gwein line of a tract of land called Hickory Tavern then by and with said gwein line north east thirty six perches to the bounded tree of said Hickory Tavern then by and with the out lines of said Hickory Tavern the two following courses viz. north west two hundred perches south west fifty perches to the forty fourth line of the aforesaid resurvey on The Addition to Piles Delight then by and with said forty fourth line north sixty six degrees west seventeen perches to the end of said line where a stone is now planted then by and with the forty fifth line of said Resurvey on The Addition to Piles Delight south twenty three perches to the second line of the aforesaid Hickory Tavern then by and with said second line south west five perches to the forty sixth line of the aforesaid resurvey on the Addition to Piles Delight then by and with said line north sixty five degrees west one hundred and fifty one perches to the end of the said forty sixth line where a stone is now planted it being the end of the second line of part of the resurvey on the Addition to Piles Delight one of the originals then by and with said original the two following courses north sixty three and a half degrees west one hundred and forty perches south fifty eight and a half degrees west twenty nine perches to the end of the seventh line of the aforesaid Resurvey on the Addition to Piles Delight then by and with the eighth line of said resurvey on the Addition to Piles Delight north nineteen degrees west three hundred and ninety one perches to the twentieth line of a tract of land called Piles Delight granted Richard Sprigg on or about the fourteenth day of December seventeen hundred and forty two then by and with said line reversed south forty eight degrees west four perches to the end of the nineteenth line of said Piles Delight then by and with said nineteenth line reversed south nineteen degrees east three hundred and ninety perches to a bound stone the beginning of part of Piles Delight one of the originals then by and with the first line of said original north seventy nine and a quarter degrees west two hundred and thirty seven perches to a stone now planted by a marked poplar and dogwood the beginning of thirty seven acres of land part of a tract of land called The Addition to Piles Delight conveyed by Joseph Chapline to Joseph Norris on or about the eighteenth day of August seventeen hundred and sixty two which said stone poplar and dogwood stand at the end of fifty four perches on the eleventh line of the aforesaid Piles Delight then by and with the gwein line of said thirty seven acres south eighteen and a half degrees west twenty six perches to Potomak River then down by and with said River the seven following courses south sixty nine degrees east seventy six perches south five degrees east thirty four perches south fifty seven degrees east thirty eight perches south forty four and a half degrees east twenty perches south twenty five and a half degrees east thirty perches south five degrees east thirty two perches south twenty one degrees west thirty five perches to the seventy first line of the aforesaid resurvey on The Addition to Piles Delight then by and with said line reversed south thirty six degrees east forty five perches to a stone standing at the end of the seventieth line of said resurvey on the Addition to Piles Delight it being the beginning of the aforesaid part of The Resurvey on the Addition to Piles Delight one of the originals then by and with the first line of said original south seventy three degrees and three quarters east one hundred and eighteen perches to a stone now planted at the end of the forty seventh line of the aforesaid Resurvey on the Addition to Piles Delight then by and with the out lines of the said resurvey on the Addition to Piles Delight the nine following courses viz. South eight degrees